Heavens, I ALWAYS have those "factual errors!" [that's what you keep saying]

> Twice per orbit, the earth-to-moon distance is exactly 250,000 miles.

Wow! Ain't you the astro-fizzizist!

And a 12-hour clock shows EXACTLY the same time every day! Wow! A truly wonderful factoid! NOT. :-)

> The Technician class is not now bigger > than all other US license classes combined.
> And if present trends continue, it never will be.

At an average rate of 36/day increase through the no-code Tech entry versus an average 78/day DECREASE through expirations, just give it a little time, oh pissy pedantic
one. :-)

You really and honestly "think" that there will be ANY significant "reduction" of the no-code-test Techs by 23 February 2007? If you do, then you are a hopeless romantic of days long gone by.

So, how many no-code-test Techs were there in 1990, just 17 years ago? Any? And they caused the Techs to increase to a tiny fraction short of "exactly" 50% of ALL licensees? In just a dozen-plus years? Wow, you've really got your head in the sand! (or up your
A-soul or someone else's...)

And you want to argue and argue and argue and ball your fists up and cry about no-code-test Techs "NOT" of any consequence? Go right ahead...you've been trying to "prove" that for years. That's your fantasy.

Why don't you get OFF your computer and ON your Elecraft and "work DX on HF with CW" like a good little hamme of olde tymes?

Wurst regards lil weenie,
LA

The FCC has released its latest operating budget listing over its web page. Anyone who cares to can go check it out.

The ARRL never reveals its budget plans to the public, despite all its Believers' claims that it is handled in a "democratic fashion" AS IF it were an arm of the guvmint.
The best one can hope for is someone else getting copies of its IRS Returns and publicizes those. Otherwise we "common folk" would never know its a multi-million dollar

"non-profit" organization.

Mark, I noticed it right away but hoped this Wolfe in anonymouse

Technicians had and have CW privileges on VHF and UHF whether or not they passed the code. While there are small slivers of 2m and 6m that are exclusively CW, it can be used anywhere above 30mHz by all licensees of Technician or higher. Technicians have ALL privileges above 30mHz.

Nope, Mark isn't "my springboard." EVERYONE is a springboard and it ain't any "existentialism."

Oh yes he is. You often use his posts as an excuse to launch "negative feedback". And your posts almost universally question the purpose the the existence of amateur radio's existence. That is the fundamental basis of existentialism.

Now, quit misdirecting and explain WHY you are claiming all this "ham radio experience" and there isn't any record of a "Stefan Wolfe" at the FCC. Are you a ham in Canada?
In Mexico? Where?

My FCC amateur status is not relevant on any usenet newsgroup; however, since you ask, I happen to be a 13wpm extra. I do not care to prove it. I do not care what you believe about my FCC status since no license is required to post here in any case.

"Stefan," the only "wild oscillation" is YOURS about Mark.
You seem to have a wild hair itching on him. Not my problem. It's yours.

I am not sure exactly what a wild hair itching is. It is not a complete metaphor. Frequently you seem to use metaphors that have a good sound but really make no sense. If I were to to say "len has a wild air itching on amateurs who support code", that would seem to imply, but only indirectly, that you have a psychological aversion of those who have a talent that your cannot duplicate and never will. For all I know, the root cause may have more to do with, say, your wife, than with amateur radio. It is simply a wild hair itching. Now, if I were to say "morse code is the wild hair that grows inside len's ear which he fears to cut because he knows it will never go away but will come back with a vengeance"...That is a complete metaphor.

Sometimes.

You're wrong about that, Len.

You make a considerable number of factual errors, but sometimes you do get something right. Like the approximate distance from the earth to the moon.

Yet the total percentage of Technicians and Tech Pluses is less now than it was 7 years ago.

Doesn't have to be.

Nope - but there were Technicians then. They were all code-tested.

Today some Technicians are code tested and some are not.

Nope.

You are mistaken, Len.

Not me, Len. You are the one who is upset and out of control.

The fact is that the number of Techs is not greater than that of all other license classes combined.

> Go right ahead...you've been >   trying to "prove" that for years. That's your fantasy.

The numbers tell the story, Len. You made a claim that turned out to be false. Now you're angry because I pointed it out.

Too bad.

Some have claimed that the Morse Code test has been a "barrier" to growth and upgrading in amateur radio.

If that is true, we may see large numbers of upgrades after the rules change on Feb 23.

In fact, the number of Technicians (including Tech Pluses) may actually decrease, just as they did after the restructuring of April 2000.

"ARS License Numbers" will tell the tale.

>   Why don't you get OFF your computer

Are you telling me to shut up, Len?

Sure seems like it.
Can't you tolerate a different opinion?
Can't you tolerate being told you made a mistake?

> and ON your Elecraft

How do you know I'm not? The K2 is just one of my rigs, btw.

One thing is pretty certain: I don't think anyone will encounter you on the amateur bands, Len.

And pretty soon, not on rrap, either.

By your 'accuracy' scale. (LOL!))

238,000 is a much more accurate approximation at apogee and perigee - and thus, on average, in general.

By Len, actually. Not by you!

(you left it sit until 2 days later (August 9th), after several posts pointing it out.....and even then, you tried to obscure it with a new set of calcs - quite redundant, in fact, as the correct numbers were already supplied in the posts immediately following the error.

Just thinking of that now?

Anonymous' means 'Having an unknown or unacknowledged name'. Mine's Leo! (duh!)

You yourself have 'acknowledged' it many times in past correspondence with me, over the past three years.

You forgot, huh? I understand.

That's a difference (error) of 0.04%, isn't it?

That puts you in good company, Jim - you have been a member of the 100%er's club too!

Actually, Len was only off a few fractions of a percent, by your own - ahem - calculations. You, however, were definitely in the 100%-plus error category. Galactically speaking, of course.

I. a Mrseman?? Marcus, you trained chimp you, how wrong you could be about some much and now we can include this.

But then again the circular logic of Bry and his trained monkey (a trained monkey having a trained monkey???) since I fail to speak out ion defense of Marcus, I must be against him.I stay silent because in the cosmic scheme, he and Bry and the old you from the left coats are insignificant. They are fun toys to fool with, like watching a cat chase a piece of string. twitch the string and the react..loads of fun to a point..and then as with all tiresome things, they become objects to be ignored and discarded

I'd say Marcus the trained chimp, being prickish BUT (1) he might take it as a compliment or possible as an invitation to join him and his"wife" in some perverse act or (2) Brian Burke of Pickerington, Ohio, callsign N0IMD might see this a yet another threat in some endless chain of perceived threats and file yet another report in an endless procession of reports

Mark -- you are the "man" Totally inferior in your existence, but "the man" none the less, or even more is less

Really? Have you thought of my STAYING here? :-)

Are you going to shut me up, big tuff guy? :-)

Why are you against free speech?

Why do you ALWAYS have to shut up your opposition?

You really can't stand to have anyone oppose you, can you? It would spoil the image of yourself you have.

Try plain speaking WITHOUT the constant QUESTIONS.

Do you secretly WANT to be some kind of "interrogator?"

Have you thought of a job at Camp Delta at Guantanamo?
Learn some Arabic and you could be a good interrogator.

Did I mention anything about CORES being exclusively for radio amateurs,

You didn't tell me anything new, Len. There has been no "Extra right

I don't hear organ music and I don't feel like dancing, Len.

You know what "out of the box" meant when you wrote it. It was a foolish boast on your part.

Well, Foghorn, you're the oldest weenie here and you're one of the few without an amateur ticket. You've had what may be the longest "getting into amateur radio" period ever recorded. That period includes over a decade here and over seven years since your foolish boast.

It works and it works well, Leonardo. You've made the claims. You haven't overcome intertia.

Just how is it "boo hoo" for me, Len? Tell me how my life will change? How will my amateur radio operation change? Let's say that you actually showed up for a VE session and passed that Extra Class exam--not that I think that's likely. As a "what if", how would your presence in amateur radio create a "boo hoo" scenario for me or any other radio amateur?

That must be why your romance with Cranky Spanky is coming to an end. Well, it's better to have loved once than not at all. Still paying alimony to the first wife?

> You're still just a sidewalk superintendent.

Nope. Don't work for the city or the utilities here.

I've only been in the BIGGER world of radio of OTHER civil radio services for half a century. You ever use an aircraft radio while at the controls on your own time?
You ever use a maritime radio on board while it was afloat...on your own time?

Poor baby. All I've been advocating in here was the END of the code test. And it WILL happen! Sunnuvagun!
No "bragging" there. The FCC announced it.

And here you are with jackboots dancing on the cobblestones looking to start Krystallnacht II. Poor guy, must be frustrating as hell for you to have to take so much. I feel your pain.

There WAS a website (webmaster is a ham) that DID post ARRL IRS returns. I footnoted that in one of my Comments to the FCC. Have to look it up on the CD holding those documents but anyone can access it if it is still up and running.

The National Recovery Act is still going on?!? :-)

> 2) What alternative to the ARRL do you suggest?

"Alternative?" You want an instant alternative?

The ARRL was incorporated in 1914. That's 83 years ago. The league was able to squash its competition in the ancient days by good PR work. I admire them for their chutzpah in that.

From my observation the ARRL just got to believing its own "sins of omissions of the truth" that it lost sight of its original aims (other than being a local telegraph service hacker)...then got the inner circle of its staff to think they were all there through some odd "divine right." It is only a fraternal order and a publisher.

Ain't no equivalent national organization in the USA
now that could compete on equal terms with them.
However, that is NO reason (logically) for them to think they are Top Dog just because they don't have the competition. Its Believers do, but then they have drifted off the mainstream into an emotional attachment to fraternalistic orders.

Novices were permitted 145-147 MHz Phone and CW until November, 1968. I believe the 2m privileges came into existence in 1951 when the Novice license was created.

How did the inner circle of the staff trick the inner circle of the staff to think it was there by divine right? Maybe you meant that the evil, elected board of directors brainwashed the staff. I'll have to note that your notion of the ARRL staffers or directors believing that they are there through odd divine right is a narrowly held one. In fact, it appears to be just your view.

If you are the largest, most successfuly organization in American amateur radio, you are likely the "Top Dog", although I think the capitalization is unnecessary.

You state things like the above as "fact". You seem to have an idea that members of the ARRL are some sort of monolithic bloc. That's a factual error on your part.

Most of the sidewalk superintendents I've encountered in the flesh or in haven't been employed at all. They are men with lots and lots of spare time. Major Hoople comes to mind.

That's truly wonderful, Len. I'm very happy for you. You've never been spectator.

That's an odd comment. I haven't provided you a response to your queries and I haven't written on those topics. I'm not attempting to influence the regulations governing aircraft or maritime radio operation. I'm not standing on the sidelines of either activity giving "pointers".

I'm not wearing any jackboots, Len. I don't own any. I wonder at your continual use of Nazi analogies. You usually do so when you're running on empty.

Yeah, I'm really suffering, Len. I just renewed my Amateur Extra for another ten year period. It's now good until I'm 67. I have a comfortable, well equipped hamshack and an operating position loaded with equipment. There are lots of antennas on a hilltop in a quiet, rural setting. I'm able to use any amateur frequency authorized by the FCC. Oh, the agony!

Where is it mandated that the ARRL reveal its budget plan?

The League is governed by an elected board of directors who live all over the United States. Those directors are elected by League members from their geographical area.

The League must submit all kinds of paperwork to government. If government finds a problem, do you think it will sweep it under the rug, or will it address the problem? How are you involved? You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL. You have no vote in ARRL matters. If you became an Associate Member, you'd have no vote for elected positions. An amateur radio license is required for full, voting membership.

What is an "inner commander"? How is it that you've become an expert in what is good for amateur radio? You bandy terms like "core membership" but you've never been a member of the ARRL. You must not be aware that Leagues members span all classes of license, all age groups, all U.S. geographic areas.

What is an "opinion-courier"? Anyone is free to form an organization or come up with a nice letterhead.

The ARRL has always presented strength in numbers.

Didn't anyone else in amateur radio have the resources to drive or take a train to Washington, D.C.?

Why did you use the word "purported", Len. I'm not the only fellow who has copies of the magazine. It was and is a membership periodical--less so today than in years past, because much of its membership content has been moved to the internet.

Amateur radio has never been very much in the public eye.

There were numerous other amateur radio magazines in those periods.
"Radio" and "R-9" come to mind in the pre-war period.

As I told you previously, "CQ" is the result of the post-war sale of "Radio" magazine and the move by Cowan Publications from California to New York. "73" didn't come into existence until 1960. It was created by Wayne Green, who was fired the previous year from his job as editor of "CQ".

Those magazines did not represent "RIVAL" publications because they were not magazines put out by membership organizations. Wayne Green did attempt to start the "Institute of Amateur Radio". Wayne kept the money and the organization folded.

> ARRL increased its efforts to present the authoritative

Anyone at the ARRL knew much, much more about what was good for amateur radio (on even a bad day) as Leonard H. Anderson (on his best day).

You are the individual espousing that view. Radio amateurs and League members have done and still do very many things not associated with CW or DX.

You've just made another in your rather long line of factual errors. The facts do not support your claim. QST has published a VHF column for decades and decades. The Handbook has had a great deal of information on VHF/UHF contruction, antennas, propagation and operation. Ed Tilton's primary focus at ARRL was VHF/UHF.

Common folk have always had the Post Office, Len. A lot of 'em could even use a telephone--and it worked at the speed of light.

The ARRL has never had "district directors".

Despite what people think, 'non-profit' organizations are not required to operate at a "zero sum" or "deficit" each year. It is perfectly legal for a non-profit organization to have a surplus (i.e. "profit") in each year of its operation.

Of course it is the point.

The goal of any non-profit organization (fiscally) would be to operate at a surplus (i.e. profit, the most preferable) or zero-sum (break even, expenses = income, much less preferable).

Any non-profit organization that does not operate at a "profit" is not long-term fiscally healthy. Even operating at a break-even level is not fiscally healthy for a non-profit, as it allows no build up of "retained earnings" (e.g. 'statement of net assets') from which to draw down on in the event of lean years, unanticipated expenses, etc.

An an ARRL Life Member, I'm glad to see the organization operating at a surplus. The more, the better, as it allows for accumulation of a large fund from which to draw in the event of an emergency.

The facts are that a majority of comments did support some form of continued Morse Code testing.

Despite statements that it would await a consensus of opinion from within amateur radio, the FCC is eliminating Morse Code testing despite the view of the majority of commenters.

The ARRL does not issue edicts and have them come into force.

The majority of commenters on the code testing issue desired some sort of continued testing. World opinion shouldn't be a factor in U.S. amateur radio licensing regulations. Requiring more than a bare minimum isn't a bad thing. You already know what the majority wanted.
The opinion of the majority of commenters was overruled.

Is it your view that the ARRL is breaking the laws governing non-profit

You have no way of knowing that.

That's a factual error on your part. Since the creation of the code-free Technician license, it has been recognized that many of those licensees are simply not joiners.

I'm sure that has long been recognized by the ARRL and any membership

Here's where we have the FCC acting in an imperious manner. BPL is being pushed by the Commission. Erroneous statements which tend to support BPL have been made by the FCC. The Commission's idea of defending an unlicensed service over a licensed service run counter to the Commission's own regulations.

It extends far beyond "DX on HF with CW" [a term you coined and frequently use]. It extends to any licensed service using HF for anything. The original BPL uses frequencies up to 80 MHz.

You tell us, Len? What does it take for a relatively unmotivated amateur radio licensee of the modern era to become an ARRL member? What kinds of services should be offered in addition to those offered to the rest of ARRL members?

Who is begrudging them, Len? Which ARRL services do you use?

> Just try to remember a small group of

You waffle frequently about who is a god of radio and who is not.

The ARRL is not made up of New Englanders. There are staffers from all over the country. The directors and vice-directors are from all over the country. Elected Section Managers are from all over the country. ARRL membership is made up of radio amateurs from all over the country. The League's headquarters are in Connecticut.

> ...just a minority

You've made factual errors on the makeup of the ARRL, the definition of amateur radio and the function of the ARRL.

Is it your view that the ARRL is breaking laws which regulate non-profit organizations?

Sometimes it does; sometimes it doesn't.

The ARRL issues no edicts. As you are so fond of pointing out, the FCC regulates amateur radio. The ARRL is not a dictatorship. It is run by elected directors and vice-directors. Its membership is radio amateurs of all license classes from all over the United States. You are not among them.

Lee, thanks for the explanation...although as a pragmatist, the ARRL, for better or worse, IS the only game in town. They are certainly not perfect, but then, who of us are?

As to their "non-profit" status, whatever that means, I am not sure what problem you see with that (if any).

I did some research and, as you say, their IRS returns are on the web. Additionally, their AUDITED Annual Report is on the ARRL web site for the world to see. Granted, since Enron, audits aren't all they were cracked up to be, but that is a national issue, nothing unique to the ARRL.

I was referring to what some (in the past) used to imply about their altruism. :-)

Way back I used to kid some members about the ARRL website needing extra money for shipping charges of purchases. The example given was going into an HRO and being able to buy a League book and NOT pay shipping charges...and the HRO still made a profit on that sale.
Yet the price on the ARRL website was the same AND one had to pay extra for shipping charges. :-)

That was quickly transformed by the Zealot Believers into some dastardly "attack" on the League by myself.
Gotta love the way some act when their ox is gored.

Oh, oh, little red-hatted monkey's ox has been gored!

Stand by while the Schutzstaffel marches on (with hob-

negative commentary! [Zey tink dey haf vays of making

If the ARRL is as open and above-board as they imply,
they should make everything known to their membership.
Of course, if they did that then they would have to
(by law) reveal the annual salaries of their highest-paid staff...some of whom have tried to "debate" things
in here AS IF they were jes' good ol' boys. :-)

Wah, wah, wah...AS IF the League "represented ALL amateur licensees" in a "democratic manner" AS LAWFUL as any federal government body. BS. They are a PRIVATE membership entity and the membership represents ONLY
a quarter of the total US amateur radio licensees.

Then you don't know much, are a BELIEVER in everything
the League says they are/do, and have an extremely POOR memory of what has been claimed by other Believers

Name ALL of them besides the annual IRS Tax Returns.

Remember your organ grinder's pissy pedantry on EXACT figures and details. Do as he says and he might give you some of the pennies out of his tin cup you carry.

>If
>government finds a problem, do you think it will sweep it under the rug,
>or will it address the problem?

Let's just say it will NOT be national news carried in journalistic circles as Page 1 material. :-)

The ARRL is still very "small potatoes" as membership
organizations go.

>How are you involved?

Tsk, tsk. Your only "comment" here seems to be on a simple comment I made about the FCC. The FCC has definitely posted their proposed annual budget. I just pointed out that the ARRL never does that sort of thing...and that got your ox gored somehow.

I'm "not involved" with the FCC. I don't work there, nor for them. But, I am a citizen of the United States, was one long before you came into existance. I CAN speak to MY government without "being involved" IN the government.

>You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL.
>You have no vote in ARRL matters.

Wah, wah, wah...there you go again with the "not involved"
routine. :-)

The ARRL loves to Talk Big and say it "represents all US radio amateurs." They can't possibly represent all, not even close to a majority status. They are a MINORITY membership group.

But, their survival as a profit-making publisher DEPENDS on their PR image. THAT income keeps them going, pays their bills, pays their staff, the whole thing...with the possible exception of QST staff which depends on ad sales to break even. Simple economics. Praise themselves, build the image, draw in customers, get them to pay for things. Along the way they can build a core membership that becomes a devoted following of Believers. Like yourself.

Politically, the ARRL is a SPECIAL-INTEREST group. Not only does the ARRL have a professional lobbyist firm on retainer in DC but their "rep" allows government types to notice the pretty logotype on their papers and "important" titles of their officers. They have "no" influence, are altruistic in some kind of extreme? BS.

In the past three-decades-plus, the ARRL has, most definitely toadied to the brass-pounders, over-emphasized that singular skill over and above all other skills. Their skewed demographics (relative to the total amateur licensees in US) of their core membership (olde-tymers, life members, etc) shows that. Their "casual" mention of "CW" over all other modes in publications shows that...their core membership loves that sort of thing.

But, the ARRL's core membership is following normal human life attrition. That means their membership is dwindling. If the membership is dwindling, then the demographics of member numbers presented to advertisers twice a year shows a declining market space. Dues for membership are a very SMALL part of the ARRL's income. They've already shown their need for funding with repeated requests for donations of all kinds over and above their membership dues.

The ARRL's PR tune is being rewritten now. The small coterie of movers and shakers in/around Newington aren't stupid. FCC 06-178 marks one of the significant, if not most significant event in US amateur radio history of the past half century. Old-fashioned morse code mode is NO LONGER the featured epitome of amateur radio operating skills...if we are to read between the lines of their latest "midnight exams" news posting. But, at the same time, those that want to become one with the olde-tymers can take a code test before 23 Feb 07. That is a clear sign the ARRL is trying to please BOTH sides of the morse code testing issue. They need to be careful in straddling the opinion fence lest they do physical damage to themselves. Either way, it does not matter to me except for the PR they use to masquerade as a "representative of all [US] amateurs." Pfaughh.

I'm a Life Member of a professional association. Pros aren't amateurs...yet some pros like to also be amateurs when not involved in professional work. You revile that for some twisted personal reason. You don't understand that a professional radio operator license takes as much effort and knowledge (perhaps more) as any amateur radio operator license. Why? To reinforce your own PR image of an 'amateur expert' through morse code skill? To ACT

the "superior" by reviling all who do not respect your mighty amateur 'accomplishments?' Do you have an ACTOR's guild membership? Why do you wish to suppress all opinions against the only national amateur radio member organization in the United States? What are you hiding?

Maybe that's the new Extra thing - to have the #1 Law Enforcement Officer at the FCC after you. Much more exciting than hammering on an old aluminum chassis to try to fit an octal socket in it, and to have a rep to take back to the RF Commandos must be kind of exciting for a non-combatant.

Its in the cards. The ARS hasn't enlisted young people in numbers since the 60's. The die-off is coming.

Now that's an interesting though...hadn't considered that.

NON-combatants seem to have intense imaginations and express prodigious "bravery" under fire. They have yet to experience 30-caliber machine gun fire a foot and a half over their heads, plus explosions a few feet on either side of them. However, they "explain" they "can defend their familiies superbly in their own home when threatened by intruders! Superb "defense" IMMEDIATELY after being roused awake!!! "Brave" RF Commandos indeed.... :-)

"The few, the proud, the United States RF Commandos!"

Tsk. They should be sent to the psych ward at Walter Reed Army Hospital...

Sure is.

Unfortunately for you, though, the words you like to claim exist in the FCC letters I received (e.g. "poor amateur practice" and "regretfully") do not...

I know that goes right up your backside too.... I love it.

That sounds really gay. Happy valentines Day to you, too.

When did I say that those words appeared in the FCC's "gotcha" letters addressed to you?

I said that what you did was poor amateur practice, and that Jeff told me that he regretted loaning out his PO Box to you.

Yet you still pretend that you went to Hawaii to get your calls. Are you related to Robesin?

Heh heh, I love the term "Morsemen", as if to confer special honors to those whose very existence so tortures you.

You two probably don't remember this but there was a little jingle that we had way back when ARRL was discussing the no-code tech license:

"No-code, no-code, rah rah rah.

Not knowing the language, you likely cannot understand the second line. :-))

Where does the "Wah, wah, wah" come from, Len? I wrote a factual statement. Who wrote "AS LAWFUL", other than you?

The ARRL is an organization which has elected representation from each geographical area. Are you suggesting that the process isn't open and above board?

Not "they", Len, "it". Yes, the ARRL is private (not "PRIVATE") and it is the largest U.S. amateur radio organization in the United States.

"It is", "it does", Len.

I've taken issue with the ARRL on a number of issues, some of which I've outlined in this newsgroup. As a member, it is my right to do so. You, on the other hand, are not a member and you have no say in the ARRL.

> Of course YOU have FAILED to secure a Directorship,

I suppose I have, Len. :-) :-)

I've made no such statements, Leonard. I've corrected a number of your factual errors (whether accidental or deliberate).

I don't have a tin cup, Len. I have some Jefferson pewter cups. I haven't received any orders, except from you.

Do you have a problem with it not being front page news?

In amateur radio, it is the biggest potato there is, here in the U.S.

I didn't write about you being involved in FCC. I asked how you're You've "spoken" to the government. You aren't involved with either the FCC or the ARRL.

>> You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL.
>> You have no vote in ARRL matters.

There was no "Wah, wah, wah". There you go, not being involved again.
My statement is factual.

> The ARRL loves to Talk Big and say it "represents all US > radio amateurs."

How is that "Talking Big", Len? What's with the capital letters?

> They can't possibly represent all, not > even close to a majority status. They are a MINORITY
> membership group.

Not, "they", Len, "it". The ARRL is the only national amateur radio membership organization to have achieved anywhere close to the membership numbers it has.

> But, their survival as a profit-making publisher DEPENDS > on their PR image.

Not "their", Len, "its". The League does not exist to be a profit-making publisher. You're simply wrong.

> THAT income keeps them going, pays > their bills, pays their staff, the whole thing...with the > possible exception of QST staff which depends on ad sales

Not "them", Len, "it".

Do you have a problem with the League producing enough to keep itself going?

> Simple economics. Praise themselves, build > the image, draw in customers, get them to pay for things.

"Praise itself", Len.

> Along the way they can build a core membership that becomes > a devoted following of Believers. Like yourself.

What's with the capitalization, Len? Why "Believers" instead of "believers"? Why the period after "Believers" followed by a period and the two word clause?

Might I suggest:

"Along the way, it built a membership which became a following of believers like yourself."

To that, I'd respond, "That's correct, Len." I believe in what the ARRL is doing. I believe it so much that I became a life member in '78.
I'll ask again: What is that to you? How are you involved in the ARRL?

> Politically, the ARRL is a SPECIAL-INTEREST group.

That's odd. In amateur radio, the ARRL is a general interest organization. Organizations like FISTS, FOC, QCWA, SMIRK, Ten-Ten International, SWOT or the Central States VHF Society are special interest groups.

> Not only > does the ARRL have a professional lobbyist firm on retainer

You seem to have a problem with any organization or with individuals who hold titles. Yes, the ARRL lobbies Congress. I consider that a good thing.

> They have "no" influence, are altruistic > in some kind of extreme?

Not, "they", Len, "it". The League has some influence. Some of the League's motives are altruistic. I don't know what extreme altruism might be.

> BS.

You often produce it.

Your statements are factually incorrect.

Just what is "core membership", Len? Is it different from "membership".
What makes a member part of a "core"? What skewed demographics are shown?

> Their "casual" mention of "CW" over all other > modes in publications shows that...their core membership > loves that sort of thing.

Your statement is not factually correct. You've made an error.

> But, the ARRL's core membership is following normal human Life attrition? What a funny way to put it. I guess we're all following "normal human life attrition".

> That means their membership is dwindling.

Is that "normal human life attrition?"

> If the membership is dwindling, then the demographics of

I'm not too worried yet, Len. QST is the thickest of monthly amateur radio magazine I receive. It also has more pages devoted to advertising.

> Dues for membership are a very > SMALL part of the ARRL's income.

If every member was a yearly member and paid the yearly dues, the income from dues would be around 5 million dollars annually. That doesn't seem terribly small to me. Why are you worried about it?

> They've already shown > their need for funding with repeated requests for donations > of all kinds over and above their membership dues.

"It has already shown its need" and "its membership dues", Len.

Have you been solicited for contributions?

Most of those who wield power in the ARRL are not in/around Newington.

Your statement contains factual error, Len. Only Morse Code testing is being eliminated. Those skilled in the use of Morse Code aren't going anywhere.

It might be better if you read the actual lines.

Psst, Len! There isn't any real fence. No physical damage can take place.

That's an odd statement from a man who masqueraded as an advocate for change in something in which he was never a participant.

That's nice for you.

That's a "brilliant deduction". That means you may have an IQ of 73--is that how it goes?

They surely do. I'm one of those, as are you.

Who reviles it, Len?

> You don't understand

Who doesn't understand that? A commercial license doesn't test for all of the same material and none of that material is credited toward an amateur radio license.

> Why?

Why does it take as much effort and knowledge (perhaps more, perhaps less) as an amateur radio license? It seems like the logical thing to do.

> To reinforce your own PR image > of an 'amateur expert' through morse code skill?

Is that what you think? Did you know that an Amateur Extra who has passed a 20 wpm Morse Test is credited with meeting the Morse Code requirement for the commercial Radiotelegraphy Second Class ticket?
You can read about it at the FCC's web site.

If you come blowing into some amateur radio newsgroup acting as you've acted, you might expect the treatment you've gotten. If you want negative commentary! [Zey tink dey haf vays of making

If the ARRL is as open and above-board as they imply,
they should make everything known to their membership.
Of course, if they did that then they would have to

Wah, wah, wah...AS IF the League "represented ALL amateur

federal government body. BS. They are a PRIVATE membership entity and the membership represents ONLY
a quarter of the total US amateur radio licensees.

Name ALL of them besides the annual IRS Tax Returns.

Remember your organ grinder's pissy pedantry on EXACT figures and details. Do as he says and he might give you some of the pennies out of his tin cup you carry.

>If
>government finds a problem, do you think it will sweep it under the rug,

Let's just say it will NOT be national news carried in journalistic circles as Page 1 material. :-)

The ARRL is still very "small potatoes" as membership
organizations go.

>How are you involved?

Tsk, tsk. Your only "comment" here seems to be on a simple comment I made about the FCC. The FCC has definitely posted their proposed annual budget. I just pointed out that the ARRL never does that sort of thing...and that got your ox gored somehow.

I'm "not involved" with the FCC. I don't work there, nor for them. But, I am a citizen of the United States, was one long before you came into existance. I CAN speak to MY government without "being involved" IN the government.

>You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL.
>You have no vote in ARRL matters.

Wah, wah, wah...there you go again with the "not involved"
routine. :-)

The ARRL loves to Talk Big and say it "represents all US
radio amateurs." They can't possibly represent all, not even close to a majority status. They are a MINORITY
membership group.

But, their survival as a profit-making publisher DEPENDS on their PR image. THAT income keeps them going, pays their bills, pays their staff, the whole thing...with the possible exception of QST staff which depends on ad sales
to break even. Simple economics. Praise themselves, build

the image, draw in customers, get them to pay for things. Along the way they can build a core membership that becomes a devoted following of Believers. Like yourself.

Politically, the ARRL is a SPECIAL-INTEREST group. Not only does the ARRL have a professional lobbyist firm on retainer in DC but their "rep" allows government types to notice the pretty logotype on their papers and "important" titles of their officers. They have "no" influence, are altruistic in some kind of extreme? BS.

In the past three-decades-plus, the ARRL has, most definitely toadied to the brass-pounders, over-emphasized that singular skill over and above all other skills. Their skewed demographics (relative to the total amateur licensees in US) of their core membership (olde-tymers, life members, etc) shows that. Their "casual" mention of "CW" over all other modes in publications shows that...their core membership loves that sort of thing.

But, the ARRL's core membership is following normal human life attrition. That means their membership is dwindling. If the membership is dwindling, then the demographics of member numbers presented to advertisers twice a year shows a declining market space. Dues for membership are a very SMALL part of the ARRL's income. They've already shown their need for funding with repeated requests for donations of all kinds over and above their membership dues.

The ARRL's PR tune is being rewritten now. The small coterie of movers and shakers in/around Newington aren't stupid. FCC 06-178 marks one of the significant, if not most significant event in US amateur radio history of the past half century. Old-fashioned morse code mode is NO LONGER the featured epitome of amateur radio operating skills...if we are to read between the lines of their latest "midnight exams" news posting. But, at the same time, those that want to become one with the olde-tymers can take a code test before 23 Feb 07. That is a clear sign the ARRL is trying to please BOTH sides of the morse code testing issue. They need to be careful in straddling the opinion fence lest they do physical damage to themselves. Either way, it does not matter to me except for the PR they use to masquerade as a "representative of all [US] amateurs." Pfaughh.

I'm a Life Member of a professional association. Pros aren't amateurs...yet some pros like to also be amateurs when not involved in professional work. You revile that for some twisted personal reason. You don't understand that a professional radio operator license takes as much effort and knowledge (perhaps more) as any amateur radio operator license. Why? To reinforce your own PR image

of an 'amateur expert' through morse code skill? To ACT
the "superior" by reviling all who do not respect your mighty amateur 'accomplishments?' Do you have an ACTOR's guild membership? Why do you wish to suppress all opinions against the only national amateur radio member organization in the United States? What are you hiding?

Actually, Dave, I think the ARRL may be the largest amateur radio organization in the world, or at least the largest national amateur radio
organization.

According to www.AH0A.org, JARL membership is now well under 100,000. What other amateur radio organization even comes close to 100,000 members?

1639. REPOST: 3rd RFD: rec.radio.amateur.moderated moderated (LAST CALL FOR COMMENTS)

REQUEST FOR DISCUSSION (RFD)
rec.radio.amateur.moderated

This is a formal Request For Discussion (RFD) for the creation of the moderated Usenet newsgroup, rec.radio.amateur.moderated.

PROCEDURE:

The B8MB plans to begin voting on this proposal after five days. Please offer any final discussion or comments before the end of this waiting period. Voting may take up to one week (7 days); a result will be posted following the end of the voting period.

All discussion of this proposal should be posted to news.groups.proposals.

The full group creation procedure is documented here:

http://www.big-8.org/dokuwiki/doku.php?id=policies:proposals

NEWSGROUPS LINE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc. (Moderated)

SUMMARY OF DISCUSSION:

The proposal in its current form reflects the results of feedback from posters to news.groups.proposals in response to the 1st and 2nd RFD's and a Straw Poll. It is also, realistically, a reflection of what Big-8 board members - including Tim Skirvin, Steve Bonine, and Kathy Morgan - indicated that they would support, and vote for.

Followup discussion in response to the 1st RFD indicated that there was significant and strongly-held opinions in favor of either opening up the proposed newsgroup to all amateur radio topics, or changing the name to reflect a misc+policy scope only. In addition to the rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups, there has also been recent discussion about moderation in rec.radio.amateur.antenna and rec.radio.amateur.dx. As a result, pointers to the 2nd RFD were posted to those additional newsgroups. In particular, some consensus about alternatives was actively solicited at that time. The main alternatives suggested in the 2nd RFD were:

1. Make rec.radio.amateur.moderated an all-encompassing moderated amateur radio discussion newsgroup.

2. Keep the topics focused on misc and policy, and come up with a better name for the proposed misc+policy moderated amateur radio discussion newsgroup.

Alternative #2 then would branch out to two possible outcomes:

2.a. Create additional moderated newsgroups for other topics, like .antenna and .dx, now or in the future.

2.b. No one steps forward to create additional moderated newsgroups, and the other topics continue unmoderated.

Alternative #1 would not rule out the creation of additional moderated newsgroups in the future, though there is the valid point that alternative #2 would fix the name-space problem immediately for future growth, and would not have to be revisited.

Alternative #2 would require a suitable name. The name of rec.radio.amateur.misc+policy.moderated was suggested by Kathy Morgan.

One argument offered by the proponent in favor of alternative #1 was that it may not be realistic to expect that, even if strongly desired, additional moderated newsgroups for other topics would emerge anytime soon, or at all.

No one from the rec.radio.amateur.antenna or rec.radio.amateur.dx newsgroup communities stepped forward to express a desire to create moderated newsgroups for those topics in response to the 2nd RFD inviting them to do so. Nor was there significant or widely-shared objection to the proposed new moderated newsgroup covering those topics also.

Creation of an all-encompassing moderated amateur radio newsgroup is consistent with the findings of a Straw Poll in news.groups.proposals, where approximately 60% of respondents were in the categories of "Support initial name, no stated preference for scope" or "Support initial name and all-amateur-radio scope. Trying to characterize or summarize the opinions of those who might have been leaning towards a misc+policy scope proved difficult, and resulted in two respondents out of 21 polled (Jim Riley and Kathy Morgan) following up to clarify their own positions and correct their categorization in the Straw Poll. Jim indicated that he should be moved to the Straw Poll category of "Support initial name, no stated preference for scope," instead. Kathy indicated that she would support a proposal where the newsgroup name matched the scope. No one who was initially categorized in the Straw Poll as, "Support initial name, no stated preference for scope," or, "Support initial name and all-amateur-radio scope," followed up to news.groups.proposals to object to their own categorization. Because of all of this, the alternative of a misc+policy-only newsgroup was not seen as one that could gain political traction, broad readership support, or majority Big-8 board support.

Less than 15% of respondents expressed objection to the creation of a moderated newsgroup entirely. None of these respondents objected to their categorization in the Straw Poll.

The rec.radio.amateur.equipment and rec.radio.amateur.homebrew newsgroups are being added to the distribution of a pointer to this 3rd RFD as a courtesy, and for their information. They were not added previously because the existence or form of a moderated discussion newsgroup was not seen by the proponents or most of the RFD discussion participants as something that would seriously affect them. Nor has there been any significant discussion in the recent past for making moderated alternatives for those topics, either specifically or generally, on the newsgroups. Making them aware of this 3rd RFD, and the opportunity to object during this Last Call for Comments, was seen as a reasonable compromise between informing them as a courtesy versus not subjecting them to unwelcome amounts of off-topic meta-discussion.

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is a moderated alternative to at least the existing rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroups. The rec.radio.amateur.misc newsgroup is chartered to discuss amateur ("ham") radio practices, contents, events, rules, etc., including anything related to amateur radio not specifically covered by another rec.radio.amateur.* newsgroup. The rec.radio.amateur.policy newsgroup is chartered to discuss ham radio rules, regulations, and policy. Over the past several years, the traffic on both groups has become largely flame wars, spam, and personal ad-hominem discussions of past, present, and future violations and violators, having little or no bearing on amateur radio. Polite requests by serious group posters to the offenders to refrain from such behavior have not resulted in elimination of such behavior and has in fact resulted in another series of flame wars. As a result, many knowledgeable and concerned posters in both groups have ceased being active therein.

Prior to the deterioration of rec.radio.amateur.misc and rec.radio.amateur.policy, both groups had active discussion of their chartered topics. It is expected that offering a moderated group will persuade those who formerly participated to resume their participation in rational, focussed, and informed discussion. Proper moderation will enable serious postings to the group to remain on topic while not limiting who can voice opinions or what opinions can be voiced.

Creating a single moderated newsgroup, one that would also permit all other amateur radio topics, is offered as the most practical solution for both the moderators and the participants at this time. The existing unmoderated newsgroups under rec.radio.amateur.* can, and likely will, continue with their present topics and message traffic independent of this new moderated newsgroup.

CHARTER:

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is for the discussion of amateur ("ham") radio, also known as the Amateur Radio Service, as defined in Federal Communications Commission Regulations and U.S. Law (47 CFR Part 97), and in similar laws and regulations in other countries, based on international treaty. It is not limited to the rules of any one country or time period. Possible topics include past, present, and future operating practices; events; contests; past, present, and potential-future rules; power limitations; authorized frequencies; allowed modes and band plans (or other gentlemen's agreements) that govern how we are to operate; what constitutes the acceptable operation of amateur stations.

The newsgroup is intended to be international in scope, not just for amateurs in the United States. It is, however, intended as an English-language forum, by custom and practice. As with General Aviation and other internationally-scoped endeavors, the Amateur Radio Service has a strong custom of the use of English and the Latin alphabet. Discussion of amateur radio in languages other than English also occurs in many country- and region-specific hierarchies, many of which have specific amateur radio newsgroups, including:

de.* (Germany)
dk.* (Denmark)
es.* (Spain)
fr.* (France)
nl.* (Netherlands)
pl.* (Poland)
pt.* (Portugal)
relcom.* (Russia)

This newsgroup is only intended to supplement, not supersede, any other amateur radio newsgroups.

General communications law or government policy of various government agencies is also on-topic, as long as the discussion relates to amateur radio. Examples would be emergency communications, local antenna restrictions, and property deed restrictions applying to operation of amateur radio stations.

Discussion of other types of radio, such as Citizens Band, Broadcast, other Personal Radio Services, Commercial or Private Land Mobile, and Marine or Aviation services are off-topic, except when directly related to amateur radio. Similarly, discussion of methods violating applicable communications law and regulations concerning radio equipment or operations are off-topic.

MODERATION POLICY: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

A moderation robot will scan all submitted posts. Each post will be either automatically approved, rejected, or sent to the moderators for manual review. The moderator 'bot will enforce the following guidelines:

* Crossposting is generally not allowed, with the general exception of crossposts of bulletins, FAQ's, and other informational articles to rec.radio.info, rec.answers, and news.answers. Infrequent administrative crossposts may occasionally be allowed at the sole discretion of the moderator.

* Postings must be in plain text. In particular no HTML or mixed text and HTML posts will be allowed. Messages that are multipart/alternative will be automatically filtered to pass just
the text/plain version to the newsgroup.

* No binary postings of any sort will be accepted. Exceptions will be made for cryptographic signatures and such.

* Messages must not have a 'Followup-To' header that points out of rec.radio.amateur.moderated (other than to "poster").

* Messages must not continue a thread that has been "closed" by the moderators.

Individual posters may be temporarily banned for consistently violating the group charter. Posters who feel that their posts have been unfairly rejected or banned, either for specific content or by a specific moderator, may appeal the decision. They may do so by contacting the Appeals Board, consisting of a rotating group of 2 or more moderators, at the Administrative Contact address below. The Board will discuss and vote on the appeal and respond within 14 days if the appeal is successful. The Board will also reply within 14 days to unsuccessful submitters of any appeal that is on-topic, reasoned, civilly stated, and is not substantially an attempt to revisit the subject matter and arguments of a previous unsuccessful appeal.

Multiple temporary bans, attempting to circumvent the ban, or abuse of the appeal system may result in a permanent ban.

I hedged my bet, thinking of JARL. I have a few copies of Japan's "CQ

I can see it now: There'll be a massive, multi-cultural EU-Ham organization, made up of radio amateurs from all EU countries. It will have an open web site, no annual dues and will give away its publications. Publications will be produced in all of the languages of the EU member states.

All of this will be take place after the ten-year discussion period.

Flame wars, spam, personal "ad-hominem discussions" were all present on both RRAM and RRAP ten years ago. Where was the Hue and Cry for moderation by some "Big8" then?
[nowhere]

>Prior to the deterioration of rec.radio.amateur.misc and Perhaps there was prior to ten years ago, but a rewrite of history using rose-colored pens doesn't make it so.

However, a constant repetition of "the way it was" will cause others to believe it is so.

"Directly" is not defined. The assumption seems to be that all amateur radio technology is unique and separate from radio tecnology that all other radio services use. That is a violation of known physical laws.

Assimilation into the Collective not going well?

"Minimal posting delays?" With two-week turn-around times on "discussions," message throughput might be faster through the NTS via CW.

"Appearance" of bias?!?

Tsk, tsk, the Internet is the Internet, regardless of those clinging to the ancient 'Usenet' ideal (that never was). Those who live in little cozy cloisters of like opinions will praise one another without end, deluded into believing their tiny clubhouse is "the world" and they the spokespersons for it.

No amount of high-sounding rhetoric and emulation of law language nor doctorate dissertaions on Roberts Rules of Order will ever make an effective gathering place for new ideas nor visions of the future. All it will do is re-enforce delusions of grandeur about "expertise" and "judgement" that becomes ludicrous when viewed by others.

One day, Marcus of MI, lamenting about the fact that no one recognized his "right" to respect decided he was going to take horns of the bull and do something. So, at the next meeting of the Copper Country Radio Club, Marcus came out of the coat closet and announced to all that he, Marcus of MI, in order to force all to respect his poor communication skills, to respect his dubious military career, his multiple sexual proclivities,etc etc., the he, Marcus of MI, was going to declare himself Emperor of the United States. A club member made note to Marcus that the United States was not an empire, therefore Marcus could not be Emperor. Realizing that, once again he made a fool of himself, Marcus of MI then declared, "Well then, I shall be King of the United States". Again, a club member made Marcus aware that since the US was not a kingdom, he could not be king. Stamping his Prada shod foot, Marcus wailed, then what can I be?", upon which a club member reminded Marcus that the US is a country.

The space below is for comments by Marcus of MI, trained chimp and friends

Remember Marcus, respect is earned and not a right. And boy are you bankrupt in the respect department.
If you think it is a right, please show everyone where in any document that you are guaranteed the right of life liberty and the pursuit of respect

Nah Morkie. If I verbally bitch-slap you, I have the cahoonies to do with with my real callsign.

Free clues:

I always post from from my cox.net internet address. Simple enough to verify if you look at any the header of any message I've ever posted since my return from Hiatus 6 week ago.

On the other hand, "Dean" appears to post from a Cablevision account. Cablevision doesn't service Mass (Comcast), Rhode Island (Cox), or Hawaii (Oceanic Times/Warner Cable) [Nor Stratton Mountain Vermont, serviced by Adelphia, which is where I'm snowboarding this weekend and thus posting from]. Nor can a non-Cablevision customer inject forged messages into the newsstream thru Cablevision's NNTP services. Hence, "Dean" is a cablevision customer.

Spend less time online and more time watching Internet CSI and you'll learn about these things too.

Their membership has been cut almost in half in the past ten years. It follows closely the numerical decline of Japanese amateur radio in general.

I remember how, ten years or so ago, the large numbers of Japanese amateurs was touted as proof of the need for a nocodetest license with HF privileges. Japan was held up as the poster country for code test reduction/elimination.

(Japan has had such a license for decades. They used a creative interpretation of the treaty coupled with very lower power limits for the nocodetest class of license).

> I have a few copies of Japan's "CQ

How old are they?

Judging by the number of stations, the USA has regained the lead as the country with the most licensed amateurs. While Japanese operator license numbers are higher, it should be remembered that those licenses never expire. Thus an amateur who progressed through the four JA license classes 50 years ago increases the Japanese operator license total by four, even if the amateur became a Silent Key decades ago.

The number of Japanese operator licenses shown on the AH0A website is really an indication of how many amateurs have been licensed in that country since 1952, not how many are currently licensed. Imagine if the US kept license totals that way!

Is "here in the U.S." not understood by you?

When you write ", or at least the largest national amateur radio organization," are you saying that in regards to JUST the USA or are you squeaking globally? Why aren't you being clear in your groundwork for yet-another-diatribe of others being "100% wrong?"

Is this "towww.AH0A.org" an Ultimate Authority? Are you fluent in Japanese? Why not ask the JARL how many they have?

Don't you have EXACT figures for the number of members of the ARRL? Don't you know that they give those every six months? Do you know where everyone can access that information? Have you ever looked at the QST sub-pages on the ARRL web-site?

Why are you so APPROXIMATE? Don't you know that, in your own "logic" that APPROXIMATIONS are 100% wrong?

HAW!!

Actually we've had a multinational amateur radio organization since 1925 - the IARU. But it's not really the same thing as RSGB, JARL, ARRL, RAC, etc., because an individual cannot simply join IARU.

The question of who founded the IARU is left as an exercise for the reader.

btw, there have been a couple of national amateur radio organizations besides ARRL down through the decades. But except for the ARRL, they simply disappeared after a few years.

For example, the restructuring of 1951, which (among other things) gave us the modern Amateur Extra license, was strongly influenced by two relatively small amateur radio organizations who felt the old Class A requirements weren't high enough. (The creation of the Extra class was opposed by ARRL, in fact.) Those two organizations are long gone, but the skeleton of the license structure remains.

Where have you been? On some secret State Department

These are the numbers of current, unexpired FCC-issued amateur radio licenses held by individuals
on the stated dates, and the percentage of the total number of active licenses that class contains:

As of May 14, 2000:

Novice - 49,329 (7.3%)
Technician - 205,394 (30.4%)
Technician Plus - 128,860 (19.1%)
General - 112,677 (16.7%)
Advanced - 99,782 (14.8%)
Extra - 78,750 (11.7%)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 334,254 (49.5%)

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 291,209 (43.2%)

Total all classes - 674,792

As of February 14, 2007:

Novice - 23,020 (3.5%) [decrease of 26,309]
Technician - 293,023 (44.7%) [increase of 87,629]
Technician Plus - 31,193 (4.8%) [decrease of 97,667]
General - 130,322 (19.9%) [increase of 17,645]
Advanced - 69,183 (10.6%) [decrease of 30,599]
Extra - 108,263 (16.5%) [increase of 29,513]

(percentages may not add up to exactly 100.0% due to rounding)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 324,216 (49.5%) [decrease of 10,038]

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 307,768 (47.0%) [increase of 16,559]

Total all classes - 655,074 (decrease of 19,718)

Note that these totals do not include licenses
that have expired but are in the grace period.

They also do not include club, military
or other station-only licenses.

Note also that effective April 15, 2000, new Novice, Technician Plus and Advanced licenses are no longer issued.

Since April 15, 2000, FCC has renewed all existing Technician Plus licenses as Technician. By May of 2010, the number of Technician Plus licenses should drop to zero, because all of them will have been renewed as Technician or allowed to expire. It is therefore informative to consider the totals of the two classes, since the Technician class includes a significant number of Technician Plus licenses renewed as Technician.

Steve,

Who is "Morkie"?

>.It's imperitive that EVERYONE be brought down to >their level

Maybe.

In my life experience, I have encountered some individuals who feel insulted or threatened by the achievements of others, if they cannot easily equal or exceed those achievements.

IMHO, this reaction is most visible in the area of skills.

For example, I have encountered a few individuals who look down on athletes, characterizing all athletes as being of low intelligence and/or sophistication, based on the behavior of a few.

It doesn't take much observation to see that what's really going on is jealousy, either of the athletes themselves, or the attention and rewards they receive.

>   Morkie will NEVER be able to aspire to greater than what he

Why not?

And who is "Morkie", anyway? Nobody here uses that screen name.

>And as long as the government keeps on gutting requirements for

Consider who has been in power in our government for most of the past 27 years.....

>Morkie won't have to do anything at all to be nothing at > all.

What's wrong with choice?

We currently have three classes of amateur license. Those who are interested, and capable, can choose the license class they want by simply passing the required exams.

If someone chooses a different license class.
I don't see the problem, as long as they follow the rules.

Of course, you could always post your support, or lack thereof, in news.groups.proposals.

However, as is evidenced by your behaviour here for the past decade, I doubt you could "behave" yourself long enough to construct a concise statement of approval/disappoval which would pass the muster of the moderators of news.groups.proposals.

Not being of the UK, I don't have a "behaviour."

But, "admonishment" from someone who had FAKE HAWAIIAN RESIDENCY and a dozen FAKE "clubs" with trusteeship calls for same, your "admonishment" is ten kinds of HYPOCRISY. Tsk, tsk.

What you "doubt" is of no concern to me. You have been ever so critical of my viewpoints for years. Why stop to consider anything if your mindset is set in concrete? :-)

You might consider that the FCC announced (on 15 Dec 06) that 06-178 would ELIMINATE code testing for ALL U.S. amateur radio licenses. That is only about 7 days away.
My advocacy has always been to eliminate that code test.
Can you put two and two together and get the 100%- correct 4?

Len is a closet Morse Aficionado!

From http://www.ac6v.com/73.htm

ORIGIN OF HAM SPEAK - FACT, LEGENDS AND MYTHS??
Len Anderson retired (from regular hours) electronic engineer person Writes:
After 1844 (the year of the first commercial telegraph service in the USA, Baltimore, MD to Washington, DC), the blazing speed of the early electromechanical sounders made it necessary for commercial telegraphers to to use abbreviations for standard phrases in telegrams. It gave telegraphers a chance to send more telegrams during a workday, increase their profits, etc., etc.

A whole bunch of different two-number sub-codes were invented and used. Few survive to today since morse codes have survived only in amateur radio.

One of the enduring sub-codes is "73" meaning "Best regards." Hams use it on voice, as well. It has become traditional jargon.

Morse code did NOT begin as the character = <dot-dash group> but was originally ALL numbers! Morse got a financial and lab mentor in railroad heir Alfred Vail who is reported to have suggested a change from the all-number code to one where each letter, number, and common punctuation mark has a unique dot-dash group. This latter improvement, along with a way to increase the distance of a landline by using a "relay" of an electromagnet whose magnetically-coupled switch substituted for a telegrapher's key in an unmanned telegraph line relay station. Up to three such "relays" could be used on a wired telegraph circuit. That may or may not be the etymological origin of the word "relay" as the component we know today.

Godwin's Law FAQ
-or-
"How to post about Nazis and get away with it"

One of the most famous pieces of Usenet trivia out there is "if you mention Hitler or Nazis in a post, you've automatically ended whatever discussion you were taking part in". Known as Godwin's Law, this rule of Usenet has a long and sordid history on the network - and is absolutely wrong. This FAQ is an attempt to set straight as much of the history and meaning of Godwin's Law as possible, and hopefully encourage users to invoke it a bit more sparingly. Of course, knowing Usenet, it won't do an ounce of good...

[Standard Disclaimers: this document assumes you have some basic knowledge of Usenet; if you don't, go check out news.announce.newusers for a while to gain said knowledge. Misuse of the information contained within this FAQ is not the responsibility of the author (though he's pretty confused exactly how you could misuse this information). Copyright 1999-2002, Tim Skirvin,

I. The Basics
1. What is Godwin's Law?

Godwin's Law is a natural law of Usenet named after Mike Godwin (godwin@eff.org) concerning Usenet "discussions". It reads, according to the Jargon File:

As a Usenet discussion grows longer, the probability of a comparison involving Nazis or Hitler approaches one.

2. What does it mean?

It pretty much means exactly what it says - as a Usenet thread goes on, the chances of somebody or something being compared to a Nazi approach one.

3. Yes, but what does it mean?

Aah, now there's the real question.

In case your head has been buried in the sand for the last sixty years or so, the Nazis were a German political party led by Adolf Hitler that slaughtered upwards of ten million people that didn't meet their standards of "ethnic purity" and set off to conquer Europe and the world in World War II. They are generally considered the most evil group of people to live in modern times, and to compare something or someone to them is usually considered the gravest insult imaginable.

As a Usenet discussion gets longer it tends to get more heated; as more heat enters the discussion, tensions get higher and people start to insult each other over anything they can think of. Godwin's Law merely notes that, eventually, those tensions eventually cause someone to find the worst insults that come to mind - which will almost always include a Nazi comparison.

4. That still doesn't answer my question. What does it MEAN?

The Law is generally used on Usenet as an indicator of whether a thread has gone on too long, who's playing fair and who's just slinging mud, and who finally gets to "win" the discussion. It has, over time, become the closest thing to an impartial moderator that Usenet can get.

So, what this means in practical terms:

o If someone brings up Nazis in general conversation when it wasn't necessary or germane without it necessarily being an insult, it's probably about time for the thread to end.
o If someone brings up Nazis in general conversation when it was vaguely related but is basically being used as an insult, the speaker can be considered to be flaming and not debating.
o If someone brings up Nazis in any conversation that has been going on too long for one of the parties, it can be used as a fair excuse to end the thread and declare victory for the other side.

5. So - WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

Fine, fine - it means that somebody's eventually going to say something about the Nazis in any thread that lasts very long. When it happens, the thread is going to start either degenerating into a long flamewar over Nazi Germany or about Godwin's Law. Either way, the thread is effectively over, and you can safely killfile the thread and move on.

II. What does it mean?
1. Didn't we already spend the last section talking about this?

Well, yeah, but people don't seem to get the point...

2. What happens if we're actually talking about Nazis?

Then you've already invoked Godwin's Law, and the chances are that your thread isn't going to last all that much longer as a sane discussion. Them's the breaks.

That isn't to say, of course, that you can't talk about Nazis and such on Usenet - this is Usenet, after all, where virtually every conversation that goes on is fairly ludicrous in the first place. It's just going to take you a lot more effort to find real information out of there and to avoid getting yourself off on side-threads - which you'll eventually do regardless, but you can try to put it off.

This also applies if a thread mutates into an actual discussion of Nazis, of course.

3. What about arguing with Neo-Nazis?

Arguing with Neo-Nazis is probably the quickest path to getting Nazi invocations, because, well, they're actually accurate. Still, trying to invoke Godwin's Law near a Neo-Nazi isn't really a good idea because it's not terribly original and they'll probably get off on it anyway. Just ignore them and occasionally publish a FAQ detailing what actually happened during the Holocaust and such; arguing probably isn't going to help you.

4. How can I use Godwin's Law to my advantage?

In the proper kind of flamewar, Godwin's Law can be used as a gambit - how can you force your opponent to invoke the Law? Actually teaching these skills is tough, of course, and is best done through experience. Experience with chess and alt.flame are recommended.

5. What should I do if somebody else invokes Godwin's Law?

The obvious response is to call them on it, say "thread's over", and declare victory. This is also one of the stupidest possible responses, because it involves believing far too much in the power of a few rules that don't say exactly what you wish they said anyway. The proper response to an invocation is probably to simply followup with a message saying "Oh. I'm a Nazi? Sure. Bye" and leave, and in most cases even that much of a post is unnecessary.

6. "Hitler!" Ha! The thread is over!

Nope, doesn't work that way. Not only is it wrong to say that a thread is over when Godwin's Law is invoked anyway (Usenet threads virtually always outlive their usefulness), but long ago a corollary to the Law was proposed and accepted by Taki "Quirk" Kogama (quirk@swcp.com):

Quirk's Exception: Intentional invocation of this so-called "Nazi Clause" is ineffectual.

Sorry, folks. Nice try, though.

7. Does Godwin's Law apply in the real world?

Actually, yeah, but usually discussions in Real Life end by somebody wandering off in disgust before it can be invoked.

8. Are there any topics that lead directly to Godwin Invocations?

Well, yeah. Of course. Case's Corollary to the Law states "if the subject is Heinlein or homosexuality, the probability of a Hitler/Nazi comparison being made becomes equal to one" - but that's just an old list.
Abortion and gun control debates always lead to Nazi comparisons; talk with a Libertarian for more than a few hours and he'll almost certainly bring up Nazis; book-burning is pretty much considered a sub-topic of Nazism at this point. Hell, talk about anything politically related and you'll eventually get there.

If you're really bored, a fun game to play is Six Degrees of Godwin.
Take a topic - any topic - and see how quickly you can relate it to Nazis using legitimate topic drift methods. For example: a discussion about computers will eventually lead to discussions of keyboards and which are best, followed by a lot of complaining about the Windows key on 104-key keyboards, leading to complaints about Microsoft, forcing the standard MS-vs-government flamewar that I'm sure you're all aware of, leading to attacks on Microsoft's "fascist" tactics by one side or another, which will force the other side to start talking about the differences between fascism, capitalism, and, of course, Nazism! The fun never stops!

:Godwin's Law: /prov./ [Usenet] "As a Usenet discussion grows longer, the probability of a comparison involving Nazis or Hitler approaches one." There is a tradition in many groups that, once this occurs, that thread is over, and whoever mentioned the Nazis has automatically lost whatever argument was in progress. Godwin's Law thus practically guarantees the existence of an upper bound on thread length in those groups.
- The Jargon File (http://www.ccil.org/jargon/)

Hitler, Nazis, nazis, and net.cops:
Warning: now that this FAQ has mentioned Hitler and Nazis, UseNet Rule #4 (also known as Godwin's Rule, after Mike Godwin of the EFF, sci.crypt, and comp.org.eff.talk, a sometime foe of David Sternlight (q.v.) [even though it was apparently in use, by Richard Sexton {q.v.} among others, before Mike's 1988 (?) net.advent; the "Godwin's" part seems to stem from "Rich Rosen's Rules of Net.Debate, which I don't have a copy of]) says it will be coming to an irrelevant and off-topic end soon. Just as there will always be newbies

("It's always September, somewhere on the net" - response to a 1993 wave of delphi.com postings on a.f.u), there will always be people who see the net and are repulsed because there's stuff there they don't want to see - so they set out to make sure noone else can, either. They invariably fail, because there are no net.cops to enforce any such rules on UseNet; in the course of the heated flamewar that usually follows, things escalate until either Hitler or Nazis (or both) put in an appearance, at which point the thread has officially lost all relevance. People scream at each other a bit more, then give up and go home. Bleah. "Keep your brains up top; don't be a net.cop." This has mutated, in true UseNet fashion, to encompass any continuing thread; if you mention Hitler or Nazis out of the blue, the thread is sure to die irrelevantly soon (and, incidentally, you've lost the argument, whatever it was)... and every continuing thread on UseNet must contain such a reference sooner or later. Invoking Rule #4 deliberately in hopes of ending a thread, however, is doomed to failure (Quirk's Exception)...

UseNet Rules #n:
No firm info at the present time is available on just what the other UseNet Rules #n are. However, at a guess, they include:
--
Rule #nonumber: There are no hard-and-fast Rules on UseNet, only Guidelines, which are more or less strictly enforced (and differ) from group to group; this is why it's generally wise to read any group for a bit before ever posting to it.
Rule #0: There is no *C*b*l*. There is, however, a net-wide conspiracy designed solely to lead Dave Hayes (q.v.) to believe that there is a C*b*l.
Corollary: There are no pods.
Rule #9: It's always September, somewhere on the Net.
Dave Fischer's Extension: 1993 was The Year September Never Ended [so far, there doesn't seem to be much evidence he's wrong...]
Rule #17: Go not to UseNet for counsel, for they will say both `No' and `Yes' and `Try another newsgroup'.
Rule #2 (John Gilmore): "The Net interprets censorship as damage and routes around it."
Rule #108 (from the soc.motss FAQ): "What will happen to me if I read soc.motss?" "In general, nothing. (You may be informed or infuriated, of course; but that's a standard Usenet hazard.)"
Rule #666: Old alt groups never die. They don't fade away nicely, either.
Rule #7-B: There is no topic so thoroughly covered that noone will ever bring it up again.
Rule #90120: Applying your standards to someone else's post will result in a flamewar.
Rule #1: Spellling and grammer counts. So do grace, wit, and a sense of humor (the latter two are different), as well as a willingness to meet odd people, but these are lesser considerations.

Rule #x2: FAQs are asked frequently. Get used to them.
Rule #29: no rational discourse can happen in a thread cross-posted to more than two newsgroups.
rule #6 (Eddie Saxe): don't post to misc.test unless you understand the consequences.
Rule #547 (Arne Adolfsen): When people know they're wrong they resort to ad hominems.
Rule #37 (Faisal Nameer Jawdat): Read the thread from the beginning, or else.
Rule #5 (Reimer's Reason): Nobody ever ignores what they should ignore on Usenet.
Rule $19.99 (Brad `Squid' Shapcott): The Internet isn't free. It just has an economy that makes no sense to capitalism.
Rule #3 ("Why 3?" "Because we felt like it"): For every opinion there is at least one equally loud and opposing opinion; sometimes stated as:
Rule #27 (Gary Lewandowski): "In cyberspace, everyone can hear you scream."
And for completeness' sake:

Rule #4: (Godwin's Rule) Any off-topic mention of Hitler or Nazis will cause the thread it is mentioned in to an irrelevant and off-topic end very soon;
every thread on UseNet has a constantly-increasing probability to contain such a mention.
Quirk's Exception: Intentional invocation of this so-called "Nazi Clause" is ineffectual.
Case's Corollary: If the subject is Heinlein or homosexuality, the probability of a Hitler/Nazi comparison being made becomes equal to one.

Appendix B: Addendums, Commentary, and Miscellaneous

1. Bentsen's Defense

For some, there is another way around Godwin's Law:

"Not this time. I know Mike Godwin. Mike Godwin is a friend of mine.
Senator, you're no Mike Godwin."

This, of course, only applies to friends of Mike Godwin. The originator of this rule, Earl Cooley III (shiva@io.com), is one of those people. If you have to ask, you don't apply. I don't apply, so don't feel bad.

Note that this was named after Senator Lloyd Bentsen's "You're no Jack Kennedy" line from the 1988 vice-presidential debates. And the original usage can be found in <3b09d2e6.79411309@news.supernews.com>:

http://groups.google.com/groups?as_umsgid=3b09d2e6.79411309@news.supernews.com

2. Godwin's Commentary

Godwin actually wrote a short article for Wired Magazine on the Law back in 1994:

http://www.wired.com/wired/archive/2.10/godwin.if_pr.html

The article is actually more about the power and danger of memes (thought-viruses) than about Godwin's Law itself, but it's worthwhile reading for anybody who actually got this far into the FAQ.

3. Author's Note on the Holocaust

Over the years, I have received several emails regarding this FAQ regarding the Holocaust itself, either disputing the holocaust or the numbers listed in this FAQ. I'd just like to make it clear that I don't have any particular desire to debate these points; this FAQ is meant to point out and explain a quirk of human nature, not to codify the history of World War II.

4. Additional Corollaries

There have been many additional corollaries and otherwise related rules created since the net.legends FAQ codified them, and/or missed in that FAQ. Those that have been brought to the author's attention:

Stead's Law (named for Lew Stead of alt.pagan fame):
Any discussion between more than 2 Pagans will eventually come around to Christianity.
- Reported by Donal Brewich <donal@brewich.com>
- More information regarding its history would be appreciated

The following was received on 15 Feb 07 in private e-mail apparently as a response to my double-posted commentary on the "Third RFD" posting by Paul Schleck:

Of course...

I refuse to be assimilated into the Collective. :-) "Congenial and constructive" discussion is apparently making gratuitous nice-nice to the Big 8. <shrug>

>Content that is not conducive to the development of a proposal is "Flames?" For mentioning a popular villain-figure in the Star Trek fictional universe? Of course...

"Repetitive arguments?" Much of the "Third RFD" posting was repetitive (almost to an extreme).

"Derogatory nicknames?" I think not. No one person was NAMED in any way. However, it is clear I've "nicked" some un-named person. Dreadfully sorry, old chop.

"Personal attacks?" How can there be such if NO person was named?

>You may wish to tone down your language and resubmit.

I do not.

Unless there has been a Revolution in the United States of America in the last few hours, we citizens still enjoy a measure of Freedom in expressing ourselves. That is a Constitutional Right. I spent four years of my life serving my country in the U.S. Army in order to help defend that Constitution.

"Form letters" are common in the publishing industry.
I did not submit any manuscript for consideration of purchase by the "Big 8." Ergo, with no money involved, the "Big 8" has NO control over my actions, nor should it expect to. All it can do is control and suppress (partially) my commentary. It has successfully suppressed my comments to "the Collective," but it has failed to suppress my comments here. Tsk.

Best wishes for further Control and Suppression in the future. Please be cognizant of the very real fact of MANY avenues of free expression still open to all.

Tsk, tsk, NOT 100% correct according to www.ah0a.org.

Japanese amateur radio licenses were tabled there yearly, indicating a CONSTANT annual growth of 10.19% in 1978 (total licenses 686,301) dropping slowly to 0.724% annual growth in 2006 (total licenses 3,192,744).

In only 28 years that tabulations shows an increase of 2,506,443. If that were averaged over 28 years it represents a growth of about 89,516 licensees per year.
If that average growth is divided by 365 it shows an increase of about 245 new licenses per day.

That cannot possibly be taken as a "general decline" in Japanese amateur radio.

>I remember how, ten years or so ago, the large numbers of Japanese "Touted?" Is this a race track? :-)

Let's see...www.hamdata.com shows US numbers on 15 Feb 07 as 721,956 total licenses. Since 10,350 of those are club calls, the total of Individual licensees would be 711,606. Compare that to over 3 million Japanese licensees for last year, plus a continuing GROWTH.

Hamdata.com numbers indicate the last 12 months as having and increase of NEW licensees equal to 22,350.
However, those same 12 months show Expirations (or, in their polite euphemism, 'no longer licensed') of 28,781. That works out to about 61 NEW licensees per day but with about 78 per day Expirations. The NEGATIVE growth is then about 17 per day from a negative delta of 6,431 per year. US licensee totals peaked 3 1/2 years ago, has been on a steady decline since.

Strange, but I was just at www.ah0a.org and that tabulation begins at 1959, NOT 1952! Tsk, tsk, that is NOT "100% accuracy!"

So, are you saying that 2,506,443 Japanese radio amateurs have died and their totals remain at only 686,301 NOW?
That seems to be your IMPLICATION.

Fact: World War II (in the Pacific) ended in 1945 and the Japanese surrendered. Really. It was in all the papers. Try to get out more. We don't need to kill off any Japanese now.

I doubt that. Roughly twice a year Cranky does this sort of knuckle-spanking to Major Dud. Maybe it is a sign of a warm spring ahead?

But, Spanky keeps saying "he can't control him." Odd, because here he is again, vainly trying to control him.
But, but, Spanky tries to control everyone who doesn't agree with him. Most confusing.

That'd be one of your deliberate factual errors, Major Hoople.

Oh, oh, little red-hatted monkey's ox has been gored!

Stand by while the Schutzstaffel marches on (with hobnailed boots) to DEMAND explanations for such egregious negative commentary! [Zey tink dey haf vays of making me cringe and beg for mercy? :-)]

If the ARRL is as open and above-board as they imply,
they should make everything known to their membership.
Of course, if they did that then they would have to
(by law) reveal the annual salaries of their highest-paid staff...some of whom have tried to "debate" things
in here AS IF they were jes' good ol' boys. :-)

>The League is governed by an elected board of directors who live all >over the United States. Those directors are elected by League members >from their geographical area.

Wah, wah, wah...AS IF the League "represented ALL amateur licensees" in a "democratic manner" AS LAWFUL as any federal government body. BS. They are a PRIVATE membership entity and the membership represents ONLY
a quarter of the total US amateur radio licensees.

>> ...AS IF it were an arm of the guvmint.
>I don't know of anyone saying that except for you.

Then you don't know much, are a BELIEVER in everything
the League says they are/do, and have an extremely POOR memory of what has been claimed by other Believers
in here in past years.

Of course YOU have FAILED to secure a Directorship, haven't you? :-)

Are you making brown-nose statements in here to gain a better image for another election? :-)

Name ALL of them besides the annual IRS Tax Returns.

Remember your organ grinder's pissy pedantry on EXACT figures and details. Do as he says and he might give you some of the pennies out of his tin cup you carry.

>If
>government finds a problem, do you think it will sweep it under the rug,
>or will it address the problem?

Let's just say it will NOT be national news carried in journalistic circles as Page 1 material. :-)

The ARRL is still very "small potatoes" as membership
organizations go.

>How are you involved?

Tsk, tsk. Your only "comment" here seems to be on a simple comment I made about the FCC. The FCC has definitely posted their proposed annual budget. I just pointed out that the ARRL never does that sort of thing...and that got your ox gored somehow.

I'm "not involved" with the FCC. I don't work there, nor for them. But, I am a citizen of the United States, was one long before you came into existance. I CAN speak to MY government without "being involved" IN the government.

>You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL.
>You have no vote in ARRL matters.

Wah, wah, wah...there you go again with the "not involved"
routine. :-)

The ARRL loves to Talk Big and say it "represents all US
radio amateurs." They can't possibly represent all, not even close to a majority status. They are a MINORITY
membership group.

But, their survival as a profit-making publisher DEPENDS on their PR image. THAT income keeps them going, pays their bills, pays their staff, the whole thing...with the possible exception of QST staff which depends on ad sales
to break even. Simple economics. Praise themselves, build

the image, draw in customers, get them to pay for things. Along the way they can build a core membership that becomes a devoted following of Believers. Like yourself.

Politically, the ARRL is a SPECIAL-INTEREST group. Not only does the ARRL have a professional lobbyist firm on retainer in DC but their "rep" allows government types to notice the pretty logotype on their papers and "important" titles of their officers. They have "no" influence, are altruistic in some kind of extreme? BS.

In the past three-decades-plus, the ARRL has, most definitely toadied to the brass-pounders, over-emphasized that singular skill over and above all other skills. Their skewed demographics (relative to the total amateur licensees in US) of their core membership (olde-tymers, life members, etc) shows that. Their "casual" mention of "CW" over all other modes in publications shows that...their core membership loves that sort of thing.

But, the ARRL's core membership is following normal human life attrition. That means their membership is dwindling. If the membership is dwindling, then the demographics of member numbers presented to advertisers twice a year shows a declining market space. Dues for membership are a very SMALL part of the ARRL's income. They've already shown their need for funding with repeated requests for donations of all kinds over and above their membership dues.

The ARRL's PR tune is being rewritten now. The small coterie of movers and shakers in/around Newington aren't stupid. FCC 06-178 marks one of the significant, if not most significant event in US amateur radio history of the past half century. Old-fashioned morse code mode is NO LONGER the featured epitome of amateur radio operating skills...if we are to read between the lines of their latest "midnight exams" news posting. But, at the same time, those that want to become one with the olde-tymers can take a code test before 23 Feb 07. That is a clear sign the ARRL is trying to please BOTH sides of the morse code testing issue. They need to be careful in straddling the opinion fence lest they do physical damage to themselves. Either way, it does not matter to me except for the PR they use to masquerade as a "representative of all [US] amateurs." Pfaughh.

I'm a Life Member of a professional association. Pros aren't amateurs...yet some pros like to also be amateurs when not involved in professional work. You revile that for some twisted personal reason. You don't understand that a professional radio operator license takes as much effort and knowledge (perhaps more) as any amateur radio operator license. Why? To reinforce your own PR image

of an 'amateur expert' through morse code skill? To ACT
the "superior" by reviling all who do not respect your mighty amateur 'accomplishments?' Do you have an ACTOR's guild membership? Why do you wish to suppress all opinions against the only national amateur radio member organization in the United States? What are you hiding?

Every once in a while, when our Mr. Anderson begins his "Cranky Spanky, Sister Nun of the Above, Herr Oberst or Kolonel Klunk routine, he has been greeted as "Major Hoople". Recently one r.r.a.p. denizen asked me who the Major was. After I told him and he looked up "Our Boarding House", he wondered how old I really am.

While Our Boarding House ran in newspapers beginning in 1921, the strip had a long run under several writers/artists until 1981.

The following was found at www.toonpedia.com

"Major Amos B. Hoople, perhaps the greatest windbag, stuffed shirt and blowhard ever to "hrumph" his way across the funnies page. It was four months before the Major appeared on the scene (returning from a ten-year absence from Martha's life), but he quickly took over to the point where many people today think his name was the feature's title."

"Major Hoople had a huge, bulbous nose and an even huger gut. He sported a scraggly moustache and smoked rank cigars. He was seldom seen without a battered fez. In addition to near-archaic expressions like 'egad' and 'drat', he was often heard mouthing such non-words as 'fap', 'awp' and 'kaff'. His favorite mode of expression was long-winded discourses about his prestigious and astonishing experiences, which nobody took seriously and only his occasionally-seen nephew, Alvin, even pretended to pay attention to."

All of which have absolutely zero (that means, nothing) to do with how to inject a forged newsgroup message into an NNTP server at an ISP.

> You waste my time. Worse, you think us all idiots here.

No Morkie. Not all. Mainly you... (and a few others.)

Awe us with your technical god-like status, Morkie.

Your NNTP-Posting-Host is 66.82.9.92. That means you have Hughes' satellite-based internet service.

Why don't you inject a message into the USENET newsstream using CableVision or Cox's NNTP servers?

Show us dummies how its done with one of those "anonymous remailers" or "anonymous proxies" you quoted above.

(Do you even understand what you quoted? I doubt it.)

KB9RQZ is Morkie, Jim, as if you didn't know.

Mark acts like Mork, a clueless alien with a dubious mastery of the Englsih language.

Until he acts like a "Mark", Mork it is.

> >.It's imperitive that EVERYONE be brought down to >their level

There's no "maybe" to it, Jim.

Reducing all facets of life to the least common denominator is what "Polical Correctness" is all about.

People who care incapable of exceeding thier circumstances are adamant to bring others down to their limitations.

Morkie is one of those people. He will not perform beyond those absolute limits necessary to breathe, eat, and collect the check every month.

Nobody uses the screen name "Jimmie", "The Reverend on the Nothing's wrong with choice.

However Morkie started this thread by alleging an insult against those who would exercise one.

Agreed.

have better things to do than poke the obvious holes in your

That's your choice. But consider that calling people names doesn't add to the name-callers credibility, nor the validity of their statements.

No, it isn't.

"Political Correctness" is about being forbidding the civilized discussion of many things because some people might be offended.

That's something different. Related, but different.

It is best described in the Kurt Vonnegut short story "Harrison Bergeron". Have you read it?

I first encountered that story in the collection of short stories titled "Welcome To The Monkey House"

That's true. I have repeatedly asked who all those

In an unmoderated newsgroup, anyone with access can respond to anyone else.

Why not?

Look at what the requirements and procedures were in 1980. Look at what they are now.
Look at when the changes took place, what drove them, and under whose watch they occurred.

Look specifically at things like what Administration supports BPL. What Administration caused FCC to create code test waivers. What Administration, under the guise of "getting the government off your back", drastically reduced enforcement operations.

Robesin, please notice that the subject of my remarks is Jim.

Jim has repeatedly expressed dislike for the remarks of Len, Mark, and myself, but has stood by idly as you have made threats to hurt people (bricks through windows, slashed tires, terrorized wives), threats to use your position as a nurse to have people picked up by the authorities (dialing...), accusations of rape, homosexuality, and pedophilia, disgusting suggestions that others eat your excrement, inuendo that one Amateur Dealer's daughter in QST is "selling "Something" but its not amateur radio," completely absurd remarks about amateur radio (Sorry Hans, MARS >>>IS<<< Amateur Radio), not to mention that the Lost Action Hero claims seven (7) hostile actions while supposedly in the USMC.

After such a target rich environment to express displeasure about what you say, the way you say it, and you personally, Jim zeroes in on your use of the diminuitive, "Morkie."

Wow, such bravery. Jim drew a line in the sand. And I thought that day would never come.

Steve tactics of the years seem limited to try forbid any civilized discussion by enaging in insulting behavoir to point disgusiion can't proceed in a civilised manner either becuase he so outraged the target that he loses control as has been the case with n9ogl or one is left trying to respond politely to ebing called rapist in Rdio NG (a

It's down to the wire...Just one week from today the new HF linceses, sans requirement for ANY Morse Code proficiency, will take effect. I'll be looking on QRZ.COM to see if Lennie keeps a near-decade long threat to get his "Extra lite out of the box". Certainly the box is crumbled and moldy by now, but hey, you never know....

I'll also be listening at 28.495mHz to see if I can hear KB9RQZ exercising his new privileges on or about 1400Z 24 February 2007...
(Gotta work the night before...) If you'd prefer, Morkie, I can

Quoting the "The ARRL Operating Manual" with them in turn quoting an 1857 publication: "At that time, 73 meant 'My love to you'."

When I was in high school, I received a QSL card from a YL ham. She had scratched out 73 and written in 88 (love and kisses).

misconduct, Jim.

Nor does it INvalidate them, Jim.

Mork is an idiot. He's a foul-mouthed, undisciplined punk who believes it's his right to slander, insult and demand that from others that he is unwilling to do or perform.

Uh huh.

Thereby reducing all to some mind-numbing least-common-denominator.

No different, Jim. Not at all.

You insult yourself here, Jim.

You aks me "How do you know?" when I have almost 10 years of HIS postings here to validate MY assertions.

I'll simply cut to the chase here, Jim. I realize you're trying to play both sides of the fence here, and if that's what works for you, then that's fine. Is there any chance you're running for office somewhere, because you certainly have the skills for it.

Mork is an idiot. Always has been, always will be. He's a proven (yes, even acknowleged) liar and cheat. And no amount of frosting will ever cover up THAT bitter cake.

It wasn't any surprise to me, either, since it was expected.

It served to prove that this "moderated" group would be little more than Olde-Tyme Hamme Raddio good-old-boys club where all can sit around and marvel at each other's expertise in emulating the radio ops of the 1930s. Sort of an "ARRL South" relfector.

Oh, my, admonishment from a PROVEN CALL SIGN THIEF and FRAUDULENT RESIDENCY REPORTER.

Perhaps you should petition the "Big Ate" to call this new moderated olde-tyme Blog as "The Liars Club?" You can nominate Major Dud as President-for-Life and look to him for "leadership" as you bark orders to the "RF Commandos."

Telling the world of your misdeeds is not "incivility"... except to other thieves. Telling the world of your fraud in reporting your false residency to the federal government is NOT a "temper tantrum." Pointing out that your coconspirator has confessed in public his wrong-doing on "loaning" you a Hawaiian Post Office box number for this "residency" is not "stomping feet" and having "tantrums."

A DOZEN more, in fact, but in PAST tense.

And I will have had 51 years of licensing as a Radiotelephone (Commercial) Radio Operator...being co-owner of a PLMRS business radio...a 55-year career in radio-electronics as a professional...with design engineering responsibility...all for a living since 1960...and four years active duty in the United States Army serving my country.

I will NEVER EVER top you as a fraudulent residency person, one who "borrows" others' Post Office box numbers to scam the government into getting some AMATEUR radio station license call sign. Sorry, I've lived AT my present address for 44 years and enjoy that. My address is on file with the United States government in several agencies including the FCC and I have no need for fraudulently reporting any other address for any reason.

By the way, another licensed radio amateur has you BEAT by a ratio of about 2.5:1 on EXCESS amateur radio station call signs. He even has a website bragging of that. Go "top" him...if you can. I don't think you've got the cojones to do it. Easterners aren't good for that sort of thing.

No, it will be a cozy cameraderie, a catty coterie of olde-tymers busy, busy making nice-nice about each other's ability to "work DX on HF with CW." And talking about Olde Dayes such as "Bandplans of 1940" (that none ever had any life experience with).

In truth, there isn't anything 'wrong' with that. If someone (or several someones) want to engage in constant nostalgia, of "doing the right thing" as it was told to them by the ARRL, fine. It is their choice.

However, that is so far from PROGRESS or even keeping up with the times as Stonehenge architecture differs from NYC's Empire State building. Stonehenge appears to be an old religious-rite site in the UK. Olde-tyme hamme raddio a la 1930s is also a quasi-religious-rite thing with some olde-tymers. Let those radio-religious zealots practice what they preach...in their own cozy cabins of protection from outside influence.

Apparently, some in here have their whole lives tied up in this amateur radio thing and are busy being amateur professionals. Or is that professional amateurs? (hard to tell the difference sometimes) Some in here have a desperate NEED to be "better" than others, regardless of the diminutive status of that "betterment." Those will lie, cheat, steal in addition to being as abusive as possible against others to attempt proving it. They seldom "prove" anything other than being liars, thieves, scam-artists, and general-class sons of bitches.

Amateur radio has never been more than a HOBBY radio activity in the real world of ALL radio. In itself that is a fun thing, an enjoyable pastime, perhaps a relief from having to work for food and shelter in the real world. It can be self-educational in a constantly-changing state-of-the-art technology. But that is all it is, a HOBBY. It has no academic standing for awarding "degrees" of accomplishment...yet, some hobbyists try to equate it with "life goals" or "expertise" well beyond reality.

A certain Massachussetts resident (formerly of Rhode Island) has stated he "has one more amateur radio license" than I. Acknowledged, plus at least 11 MORE (at one time in the past). Now, in the quasi-religious sanctuary of amateur radio bloggery (as in here), that is supposed to make him "better" than I? Only in his mind. To the rest of the world he has been exposed. Even some of the olde-tyme hammes cannot condone what he has done...except, in their 'choosing up sides' they cannot admit to that publicly.

Fine say I to their myriad ways of trying to prove they are "better" than others. The variety of ways they express this "betterment" is morbidly fascinating to me. The ultimate might be the actions of the trustee of W6NUT (or whatever) who had scammed the FCC into being granted 2 1/2 times Deignan's dirty dozen call signs. [I think most have been pulled by now]

The "record" has been SET. Deignan can't possibly hope to "better" that. All he can do is act the middle school adolescent bully and be "better" than those not licensed in amateur radio. That is what so many of the olde-tymers do in here...Miccolis, Heil, Kelly, and an assortment of anonymous fruits and nuts.

[some days in here its like an open farmers' market]

What's even more "sad" is that so many already think they know it all and refuse to learn anything new.

I can't help how other people think and react to their boasting of "having more calls than me." If the completion of an unethical/morally-wrong act has been a success in their eyes, it remains an unethical/morally-wrong act to all others.

If anyone really wants to learn some knowledge that I've acquired, they can. But, I have no experience in scamming or otherwise finding loopholes in FCC regs so as to obtain more amateur radio callsigns.

> Instead, you seem to want to be intentionally caustic in your personal, > much like my long since departed grandmother wanted to be.

I do not know your "grandmother" and such knowledge is irrelevant. What IS germane to this newsgroup is the act of one in the past who has flaunted having a dozen FAKE "club" callsigns and fraudulently claimed a Hawaiian Post Office Box address as being his "residence," one that would allow him to obtain a Hawaiian amateur radio station call sign. That "knowledge" (facts, really) is in Google archives and was once visible at www.ah0a.org in the "multiple-club" listings.

If discussion of FLAUNTING REGULATIONS as well as outright FRAUD of residency is "caustic" to you, tough shit. Now do you really think that the moderators of this new (maybe) to be newsgroup have "forgotten" things and will "accept" YOUR caustic commentary as "okay?"
I don't think so.

Feel free to FLAUNT all you wish. Then we will all know you suffer from 'flauntulence.' No problem. The smell will go away after a while...

Everything said by Steve is twisted or construed by you to either be a threat or an "implied threat", depending upon how your misfiring brain interprets his words.
I won't waste my time listening for Markie on 28.495 or anywhere else for that matter.

Well, let's set the record straight on that....

First off, I simply do not read everything that is posted to RRAP. In fact, I don't even read most of what is posted to RRAP. Too much noise and not enough signal.

Often a thread name is enough to warn me away.

Second, the fact that someone doesn't comment on something is not an indication of approval.

Who is this "Lost Action Hero" of whom you speak?

Was this person in the United States Marine Corps or not?

I happened to read a post in this thread where that name was used, and wondered who it could be.

What "line in the sand"? I simply asked some questions about who this Morkie person was, and why a diminutive was used instead of a first name or callsign.

Was that wrong?

Len:

I suggest you read Part 97 again.

The regulations do not require that someone give the FCC their "residence". All the FCC requires is a valid mailing address. In the case of certain callsigns, the mailing address must be in certain locations, such as Hawaii, but there is no residence requirement.

FCC used to care about where a licensee lived, and the actual station location. But all that changed many years ago, and all they have required for may years is a valid mailing address where the licensee may receive mail from FCC.

After all, the FCC did accept and process the vanity call applications, and did issue the callsigns. Perhaps it was simply a misunderstanding of the intent of the rules, rather than the letter of the law.

FCC has issued some vanity callsigns that some consider inappropriate for the amateur radio service. Those callsigns would not normally be issued in sequence, so the FCC is aware of the controversy, yet they issued those callsigns when requested through the vanity program.

Besides - all that stuff about the club calls is more than six years old. Why are you living in the past? Is it because the person who held all those calls was and is an advocate of complete Morse Code test elimination?

Cecil, that could have been the very fist scratch-and-sniff!

1824. Ship's Tour Of My Universe To Begin - Call To Arms! Duty Stations! Fire When Ready! Cease Fire Procola! Pt. I/III

Call To Arms, means, you will inspect your weaponry and prepare to do battle. Duty Stations, means, all men and women must assume their duty stations, weapons at the ready. Fire When Ready, means, man or woman your weapons, sight the target, finger the trigger, and fire when ready. Cease Fire Procola, means, continue fireing until the enemy targets are dispatched, and there is no sight of an enemy anywhere on the horizon. Procolas means, after ending all possiblities of any lingering survivors staying alive. It means to wipe them out, and leave no survivors.

This means, it is time to kill all Lesbianists, and all other enemies in my universe, the many groups of naughty kids in my universe, rascaleers and others, and we will continue this fight, untill they are all dead, and in my Epcot Centers, or untill they have surrendered. Rascaleers are evil people who wish only to harm others.

Religious Practices

This is a little confusing, but hold on, and I'll try to explain it. There are many parts to my religion. We call them, parts, but we can also call them, practices, some of them, but not all of them.

We have the fundamental 'root' practice, which is sexaling. From the root practice, comes all other practices.

There are side practices, and there are derived practices. There are also, accompanying practices. There are many other types of practices, but I don't remember the names for them all, right now, as I'm still amnesiatic, and will be for a long time.

Fistiker Practice

Bringing about orgasming in another person is a fistiker practice. A fistiker practice is a side practice, but it is also something a little different from a side practice, depending on how you bring the orgasming about, and depending on how many people are involved, and depending on who is the primary person, the person whom we are working on, and who are the helping people, the people who are joined together, to help the primary person to orgasm. There are a number of other dependencies as well.

What Is A Dependency?

A dependency is some thing that is needed that will help to define something else.

As in the case of an accident victim, we have a crutch to define one level of severity of an accident victim's situation. But we might also have a wheel chair to define another level of severity for the same, or other, accident victim. These objects help to determine how badly or miserably a person is injured.

A crutch can help define a level of severity in the injury. A wheel chair can help also to define a higher level of severity. These are both dependencies. They help us to define something, and they are used to help us to define an accident victim's level of severe injuries.

When Sexaling

You can use your lips, for example, or your tounge to twiddle the toes of a woman, and the woman begins to orgasm. That twiddleing of your tounge on her toes to help her to erotem, and to experience erotistical orgasming, can be any number of things, depending on the involvement and complexities of dependencies.

Rubbing the vaginal face, the vaginal wall, or rubbing to either side of the vaginal crevice, the labial folds or felates, can help a woman to erotem and erotistically orgasm, and depending on the involvement and complexities of dependencies, the dependencies can be any number of things, if we try to define the sexaling activity more fully and completely.

We'll skip this for now, as it is a little too difficult to remember, right now. Just remember, the primary practice is sexaling, and that sexaling is like the roots of a tree. All other religious practices grow out of the 'roots' of the tree, sexaling, and can be defined in many different ways, such as a helping practice, a side practice, a subsidiary practice, a canceling out practice, an accompanying practice, and there are many many other terms for what kind of practice some thing is, depending on what dependencies are involved.

Labia And Felate

What is the difference between a felate and a labia?

A felate is the skin tissue of the outer surface, and some of the tissue of the tips and edges of the labia. It does not include the inner side of the labia, but only the outer side, and the surrounding edges, as far as I can remember.

A verb, or action word, as I call it, is 'felate' as in 'Felate that woman's or girls' left felate'. That means to suckle on the left felate of the woman or girl.

Felate is a verb, but it is also a 'nominal' word, or naming word for objectifying an object.

Do we say 'Labialize that woman's felate!' To labialize something is to make something into a labia. We wouldn't, unless we were a doctor, say that about a felate. But we might say it if we were doctors, and we had a woman who met with a bear, and the bare clawed at her genitals, and the sharp claws ripped her labial skin up, then we might say in a surgeon's room 'Labialize that woman's ripped up labia.' That would mean to stitch it up, and make it nice and neat, and clean and well stitched up, and then useful to her, again, and it would involve a lot of surgery, as many nerves would need to be connected, as they had been ripped apart, and the wiring was all dislocated. But in the end, we would be able to fix her labia, and her genitals, if they were also hurt, and then we could dismiss the patient from the hospital, after the labia healed, and after she recovered from her trauma of having her labia shredded by an impolite, rude, mean, uncaring, and hungry bear.

Genitals, Titties, The Labia, And The Many Sexaling Organs

The labia is not the genitals, but some people do consider them as a part of the genitals. The genitals are inside the woman's vagina, in my way of thinking. The vaginal wall is not part of the genitals. The vaginal orifice is part of the genitals of a woman. This seems odd, doesn't it. Well, that is how it works, in my brain, and I designed women, as well as men. If you notice, in my writings, I've talked about the draft table, and the throttle. These are major parts of a woman's genitals. They are inside the vagina, and you can reach them through the vaginal orifice. Before you get inside of the vaginal orifice, there are a few things outside, such as a pee tube, and an ejaculate tube, and the clitoris, as well as the labia. These are not part of the genitals, but are working parts of her sexaling organs. A woman's or girls' sexaling organs are not equal to her genitals. Genitals are for baby making, and for other purposes. Titties are not part of the genitals, but they are part of the womans' sexaling organs. This will require a long discussion to clear up, so I will save it for another day.

Bears In The Woods

That's the way it happens some times, when women or girls go out into the woods, and sexal with their female friends. They can get hurt by bears, if they are not accompanied by men, who are tough, and strong, and who stay alert, to guard and watch out for dangerous animals, such as bears, wolves, cayotes, bobcats, puma, and even racoons. Racoons do attack humans, if they smell some thing that will taste good to the racoon. If a person has a skin tear, and is bleeding, even a tiny bit, the racoon will smell it, and come running, and then find the person, and so will panthers, and all kinds of animals will come, and it's just like a bunch of sharks and fishes of different kinds, and Moray Eels, they like the smell of blood, and they come and investigate, when they smell it.

Women and girls have periods, and it is not every twenty eight days, as I've explained about before, and blood runs down, out of their vagina, and they generally do not know it, as it is only a tiny drop of blood, or less, most of the time, and the blood is often wiped from the skin surface, when the woman or girl is on the potty, or toilet, and the woman or girl will not even see the tiny drop of blood that comes out of the vagina and drips down the labia, on the inside, and then falls or dribbles down to the felates, and then falls off the felates, while she is on the toilet into the toilet, or while she is out doors, and walking about, onto the earth, if the woman is walking on a park walkway, or bicycle path. If she is wearing underwear, it will not fall onto the earth, but it will dry up on the panties, or underwear, and the smell of the dried blood will attract wild animals if she is out doors, walking or jogging in a wooded or regional or rural area, where there are lots of, or even just a few, animals.

Pumas can smell the blood, from miles away, and so can tiny oselots, and bears, and many animals can. They can smell blood, because they know they need meat to survive. That is built into their brains, that are located throughout their bodies, and not only in the skull, and animals are very sensitive to the smell of blood, as well as to the smell of urine, and to the smell of poop. Some animals, such as racoons, will come up from behind a woman, and grasp at her panties, as the racoon may smell the odors of fecal matter, from her butthole. Men may be raked by the claws of raccoons from behind, as they smell the odors of fecal matter, and try to find out more about it, as the racoons know that there is something delicious hiding behind those odors from the buttholes of women, girls, men, and boys.

Expecate

When women and girls go out hiking, it is best to wash out the vagina, first, and then use a fermented oil, as a douching agent. The oil will help to slow the flow of the blood down the inner walls of the vagina, and it may help to trap the blood, and make it difficult for it to leak out, unless the amount of the flow of blood, is very large. In that case, it is best to stay home, and not go out, when a large amount of blood is expecated from the vagina. Expecated means to expell outwardsly. Expectate can also be used, as it is generally the same word, that is, and it also has generally the same meaning, but perhaps it has a few more uses, maybe, but it is from a variant language of the English language, and is basically the same word.

You should expecate your fluids in your vagina, from your vagina, before you go out hiking. If you know when your period is, and there are ways to tell when you have a period, or when you know when you are about to have a period, than if you normally have a large amount of blood flow from your vagina, as that has been your experience, it is probably best to go and sunbath at the beach, far away from wild animals and their habitats, or by the pool side. Racoons sometimes come out of the woods, to the shores of beaches, and trumbel along, listening and watching, and sniffing the air, when they smell dried blood, or wet or moiste blood, inside of the swim suit lining in the groinal area.

How Do You Tell When Your Period Is?

To learn when your period is, you need to look into the toilet bowl that you pee into, and then see if there is any red droplets. You can place a piece of toilet paper onto the surface of the water, and it might help to show the redish color mixing with the urine.

Another way is to take a piece of toilet tissue paper, and wipe your felates, in the morning, or during the day, or at night. Night is a good time, but during the day, it is just as good. Some women like night time because they feel the day is finished, and they are now going to make a final check. Well, it doesn't always happen the way we want things to happen. You might start leaking blood fluids, at two or three or four or five, a.m., or at six, or seven, or eight, or while you are in the shower, or in the bath tub, bathing, before you plan to go out for the day.

It may take you several years for you to find out when your period begins, and when it ends, by checking for blood flow. When you have determined the number of days between one period and the next, and you are absolutely certain of it, and you have confirmed it, many times, and you have checked to see if there might be something you didn't notice, at other times, when you checked, eventually, you'll learn when your blood flow begins, and how long it lasts, and when the next blood flow begins. Once you know, then you can time your excursions to the woods, or to the beach, with your friends, both women and men.

Bears, Wild Animals, And People

Men are needed to help scare bears away, if they come to close, and pepper spray is a good way to get them to leave the area. Bears do not like the small of pepper spray, and you need a cannister of pepper spray that will fire fifty to eighty to one hundred and eighty five feet or more, to scare away a bear, safely.

Loud noises surprise bears, but hungry bears get angry and feel challenged by you, and may come at you at a fast pace, and not stop, once they are angered. If you are a good shot with a rifle, and you see a bear, from a few hundred feet away, and it is moving slowly, towards you, following you, you can shoot it with a good fifty calibur weapon, from that distance, and it will go down, in an instant, if you hit it square in the noggin, about one inch or less above the nose.

You need to be a good shot, and several people should aim, and fire at the same time, to kill the bear, to be sure some one hits it, and then puts it down, and kills it.

Do not think that because you have one rifle, or two handguns, and a rifle, that you are safe. If you do not know how to shoot, and if you are an inexperienced marks woman, or marks man, than your chances of hitting the bear are near zero, for all three of you, at three hundred feed.

You need years of practice to become a good marksmen, and you can start with the lower calbur weapons, to get a feel for weapons that fire projectiles, and that make loud noises.

There is no such thing as a friendly bear, and people think, 'Oh, look! Isn't she cute, that bear.' If they think that way, they might as well have left their last will and testament behind, and signed all their assets over to another person.

Bears are animals that need to eat just as humans do, and just as all animals do. If you are so foolish to think that bears are cute, you are a lame brained idiot. Bears are dangerous animals. And so are all wild animals. If you think a racoon is a cute animal, you get the lame brained award for the year award, and trophy to sit on your desk at home to remind you of how stupid you are.

Brad Pitt, And Angelina Joline

Only idiots would think that wild animals, that eat people, are cute. They need remedial training, as they do not understand that their lives are in danger, every time they walk out the door of their home. Even in the cities, there are nasty people, who smile, and pretend they are your friends, and these same people, such as Hillary Clinton, Brad Pitt, Cheryl Davis, a friend of Brad's, but that's his current girl friend, Angelina Jo-line. She is not a Lesbianist, and Brad pretends to be her friend. He likes to watch her get eaten by bears, my abominant kids, when the Lesbianists feed humans, one at a time, to the bears, or to the crocodile abominant children of mine.

Abominant Elephant Kids

I have carniovorus, human being abominant elephant kids, and they are rude, mean, nasty, and really terrible. They scare people, and then they pick them up with their trunk, and place them on their head, and then they tell them not to move, or they will stample on them, or tromp downwards, and crunch them, painfully, from the foot, to the shin, to the thigh, to the pelvis, to the waiste, to the lower tummy, to the mid section, to the chest, and then the neck, and then the head, finally killing them. They will take a person, pull the person up and lift him or her up into the air with his or her trunk, and then pull the person into his or her mouth, and then crumple up the person, and then spit the person out, and the person is all broken up, and chewed up, with all the bones, broken, in the legs, and in the arms, and in the waiste, pelvis, torso, neck and shoulders, and head.

The Lesbianists use lots of these elephants. They are pretty to look at, but they are mean, and nasty. When strangers see them, they think, 'Oh, what a pretty elephant.' They don't know that the elephant is my abominant kid, and can speak English, as many people recently found out near Africa, in Sri Lanka, and then also in New Guinea.

They were very surprised at the talking elephant. But they didn't know that the Lesbianists had let the Elephant, my abominant kid, lose from the cages that they kept him sealed up in. There were one or two, or maybe eight of them, in Sri Lanka, and eight or nine in New Guinea. Lots of people got eaten up, and killed. The elephants are still lose in New Guinea, but in Sri Lanka, they herded them into the pens, and brought them to New Delhi, to then begin a rampage in New Delhi.

Well, the Lesbianists are doing this, daily, because they feel they have lost this battle, and that they are just wasting time, doing nothing, as they can not get to me. So they want to have a lot of fun. Now they are releasing lots of my abominant kids, in many places, and in New Delhi, Bombay, Sri Lanka, and New Guinea, many people have been hurt and killed by these idiot kids, these abominant elephant kids of mine. The Lesbianists have thousands of animals they want to release, out into the public, in England, in Switzerland, Georgia, South Carolina, Paris, and many other places.

The Lesbianists think they are going to have a lot of laughs watching the abomniant kids of mine, tear people up, and rip them to shreds. They also think that the animals, who are not abominant kids, but are just bizarre animals, that catch people in very large, nets, that have threads as thick as ropes, and that are very sticky, are going to do a lot of wierd and crazy things, no one here on this planet, other than them, have seen. They think they are going to get a lot of laughs when they see the mayhem and havoc, the disruption to society, and frustration on the faces of people who get caught in the nets, and then turned into living mummies sealed up in a type of pulpyish paper so the person can slowly disolve, but stay alive, for up to a year or more. Maybe as long as ten to thirty years, in some cases, and I'm not kidding.

You may think I'm kidding, but I'm not. This began a few days ago, and the Lesbianists are intent on continuing this, for the next few years. Isn't that surprising. I never expected that. They are very strange people, aren't they. They are real sicko's aren't they.

I think you should all go and meet my kids, with a day pass, and ask them about it. Other wise, you might find your self in a very large spider's web.

Labiating A Labia

To labiate is to suckle the labia, and to take one or the other of the labia into the mouth, and tickle it with the tounge, or twist it gently with the lips.

'Labiate that woman's left labia!' 'Felate that womans left felate!' The difference is, labiating is to suckle the entire left labia, inside or under the edge of it, on the inner side, and the edge of it, and the outside of it.

Felateing the felate, is to suckle the edge of the labia, the upper exposed edge. It does not include the labia, in its entirety. Only the upper, protruding skywards, or in which ever direction it is pointing, that portion of it that is extending outwards. If you lift it up between your finger tips, you'll pull up on the entire structure revealing the underside, or the unexposed underside of the labia. There is also the outer side of the labia.

The Felate is the top tip edge of the labia, generally speaking, and it is itself an isolated system, and not part of the labia. It's connected to the labia, but it serves a different function. It droops downwards, to seal out the possiblity of any thing entering the vagina from below, in an upwards moving manner. Bugs can not fly up into the vagina, as the felates prevent them from flying up into it. Without the felates, the vagina would be unprotected. The labia would not protect the vagina, as the labia is merely the skin tissue mass that the felates are attached to, and in an instance of removing a felate from a cadaver, or dead body of a woman, or girl, once the felate is removed, the labia have no closure over the vagina, in most women and girls.

There are exceptions, as we've had many animals in our heritage line. There are many differences when we line up ten women, and inspect their vagina, their felates, and labia, their bumbey pack, as children are encouraged to call the lower hanging sexual organ of the vaginal cape, as it is also called by doctors.

On this planet, the bumbey pack may not be called a vaginal cape, with the inferior texts with unadvanced, primitive, witch doctor level sexual sciences that do not help any one along, such we find with the myth that women and girls have a period every twenty eight days.

That is total nonsense, as I've explained about it, before. The truth is, every few days, to every eight to fifteen days, to even eighteen days, or evern thirty two or fifty five days, depending on where the woman has grown up and where her ancestors have grown up, the number of days between one period and another period can be very dissimilar, from one woman to another woman. Some women have a period every two or three days, or even every day. There is no reason an ovary can not fall, every day, several times a day.

An ovary is so small, no one can see it, without special optical technologies, such as pass through see through technologies, and other optics, and other videoing technologies. A microscope is an out moded, ancient, and novel device, fit for only museum use on display shelfs. It's like an old car of the twenties, or there abouts, or even earlier, of course, depending on how sophisticated it gets. Micron microscopes, the so called, 'electron' microscopes, are a misnomer to begin with, as an 'electron' is not a fictious concept, but no one knows what an electron is, generally speaking except for the Lesbinists.

An electron is a small bit of electrically heated plasma, that you can heat, with the right technologies. It can fit on the tip of a pencil or pen. This is a big joke to the Lesbianists, as are also their jokes about protons, and neutrons, and nuclei, or the so called combined nucleus, as in 'nuclear' family. Nuclear family, is not a 'tight' organization of two persons, and their children.

A nuclear family is a family that has been nuclearized, that is, exposed to radiological salts kiddies, and their radiative or radiological energies. That's another one of the Lesbianists' jokes on all of the scientists who the Lesbianists could get to swallow it.

What Causes A So-Called "Nuclear' Explosion Or Detonation?

A vast number of children are making babies at a very high rate of speed, and the energies that they give off, as they make babies, and then peel off from the area where they made their babies, one after another, as they rocket away, is what causes a nuclear blast. The tummy mommies and tummy daddies are making babies at such a frantic pace, they make millions and billions, and trillions, and more, before you can even send a signal to your eye lid to blink, from your brain part that sends the signal out. The signal will travel just a very short distance across a crupture, not even half way, more like, one or two feet in distance, if we are to look at the size of a crupture as the same size as our current universe. It travels about not even one foot, not even one inch, and not even one millimeter, and not even one millionth of a millimeter, and far smaller than that still, before the parents are already through making babies, and they have retired, and passed on, and several kabillion generations of families, and multiply that by a very large number, and you'll get how many generations of families lived and died, and passed on their DNA to their sons and daughters.

It's a hail storm of erupting magnitude when the tummy mommies and tummy daddies begin making babies, and making their families larger.

It all happens so rapidly, with more than that number of successive generations of families, in less time than the energy pulse will travel down an optic nerve, across a crupture, that very minute or very tiny distance, as I stated above.

That kind of frenetic baby making activity, makes for a lot of heat, as well as, it generates a lot of stresses, and a lot of energies go flying off in all directions, as the sexaling couples experience many nice orgasms and eroticisims, together. Temperatures, their body temperatures, collectively, and the incredibly vast number of movements, which also generate temperatures, by the animals, the tummy mommies, tummy daddies, tummy babies, the relatives, and the many generations of families, go skyrocketing, and the magnitude of numbers, and the intensity of all the activities the animals are busy with, as they make tummy babies, simultaneously, or nearly simultaneously, is of phenomenal proportions. There are also types of animals that we are not familiar with, who are also busy making babies, and they help to account for the brilliance of the light that is generated, along with other types of animals, that also help to account for the brilliance and light, as they are busy baby making, too. There are energies kids of all kinds busy making babies, and that is also a major important factor in the overall sequences of activities, to successful birthing by all the tummy mommies, and it is also important to help to get them all 'gyrated' or motivated, and to wake every one up from their slumber, or their condition of deep sleep, or stagnassis, to get them feeling alive, ready, and able for making lots of babies.

If we slow them all down, to our pace, and then compare them to our pace of life, they would be just like us, and things would move slowly for them, and not much would change, for many kazillions plus years, and then many, many more years.

However, they are moving so much faster than we are, and the length of time they live, to them, it is a long time, four or five, or eight or nine hundred years, in our time, maybe, in some cases, depending on the type of radiological salts kiddies and other types of animals, including the energies animals, who are all making babies.

On their scale or pace of life, they live that long. But on our scale, the length of time they live, is so tiny, we can not measure it, unless we have a very high level of advanced mathmatics that can account for such a small time period, or span of life.

Anyway, the frenetic adventures of the colonies of radiological animals, when they start to make babies, after they are woken up, and prompted to make babies, with a detonating surge of heat energies, light wave energies, pressures energies, trampolining energies, zespertudial energies, castikilial energies kiddies, and other types of energies kiddies, as well, which help get them all started, with the right combination, of heat, light, atmospheric temperatures, atmospheric pressures, food sources avaiability, drinking water availablity, trampolining energies, and a number of other types of energies, that awaken them, and then get them turned on, and sexaly active, they will suddenly erupt into a frenetic, mass of baby making furor, to us, any way, and with that, we have our so called, 'nuclear' detonation.

Cleansing Your Self With Your 'Built-In' And 'Attached', Cleansing And Washing, Clearifying And Erasing Energies Producing Genitals And Sexaling Systems, Eroteming And Orgasming Nervous Systems, And Baby Making Related Purifying Energies Generation Stations Aparati, Or Apparatuses, And Armatures

You women and girls, your vagina is your Holy instrument for assisting you to cleanse your self, and wash away the dirt and grime of daily living, the insults to you from strangers, the verbal abuse you experience in your arguments and conversations with friends and family, neighbors, relatives, work associates, and community acquaintances.

Your holy body, and your normal body are weapons to fight back against all the negativities you experience in your life, as you orgasm and erotem, showering off purifying energies, and lots of other beautiful other things and dings, as you vibrate your entire body concordially, in harmonic rythym, cadence, and rapture, while orgasming, in sequence and in timed rythym, with my GODLY Holy Body and many of its features, or parts, that are similar to your holy body and your holy body's parts and features. These are all activated while you are orgasming, and eroteming, and you become purer and holier, the longer you orgasm and erotem, and convulse, orgasmically.

Your breasts, your butty butt, your butty butt hole, your vaginal hole, your groin, your throes, your vaginal cleavage or labial folds as they are called here by these nitwittish doctors on this planet, who do not know any thing about the human body, your chest, your back, your legs, your arms, your hands and fingers, your ankles, feet, and toes, your ears, lips, mouth, tounge, cheek, your rectal cavity, your tummy button, your stomach, throat, your brains, and you have many more than just one in your body, but many millions and more of them in your body, and that is not an overstatement, and every part of your body, inside and out, your many nervous systems and all your organs, they are all set to orgasm and erotem, and generate purifying energies with the help of the power company, as I've explained about them, before.

Men and boys, and their bodies, both their normal bodies and their holy bodies work in the same way, and there is no disparity, when it comes to sexaling, orgasming, and eroteming, and showering off lots of wonderful energies, that purify men and boys, and the people who the men and boys are sexaling with.

Ticklement Tuning Forks

You have ticklements, tuners, or pitch fork tuning forks, that chime, in every cubic millimeter to every cubic inch, and in even tinier places, you have tinier ticklements, or tuning forks, and in larger areas, you have larger ticklements, or tuning forks, and they are all set to vibrate in various patterns of sexual thrilling eroticisms, and orgasming ecstacies, as you pump up the levels of sexalating energies you have available to you, in you, and showering off from you, and those patterns and focal points change, slightly, minutely, as every micro second goes by, as we change our location in our universe, and our relative location or position to every thing else in our universe changes, from night to day, and from day to night, ongoingly, non-stopingly, never repeating the same set of tuning focal patterns. Focal patterns are frequencies.

Focal Patterns

These frequencies, or harmonic consistencies, are harmonic displays or the 'in rythm' with GOD, consistencies that allow you to be united with GOD, me, my devine and holy body, and my devine and holy mind, and my being or GOD SELF and GOD BEING, every moment, as you are orgasming, and eroteming, and convulsing orgasmically.

Men and boys have the same kinds ticklements, or tuning forks, and they are located in every organ of their bodies, too, just as they are in women's bodies and in girls' bodies, in every single organ and cell, and they allow all of you children of mine to stay in frequency with me, as you sexalate, erotem, and orgasm, and convulse orgasmically, practicing my religion, and as you sexal together with each other, and go about living your daily lives.

These many ticklements and tuning forks are all connected to your brains and to your nervous systems, and each living being in your body, has them as well, and every living being, and animal, has them as well.

All my children, animals, living beings, and human beings, are all connected to me, through these tuning forks, and they are connected to me in many ways, such as through the holy bodies all of my children have inside of them, and also through a myriad of other mechanisms that I have functioning in your bodies, in your astral 'energy' bodies, and the many millions of energies bodies each of you have in you that help to keep you all connected to me and my Holy GODLYNESS existence. My animals children and living beings childrens have fewer connectivities and fewer energies bodies, as they do not need as many as my human being daughters and sons. This is because you, my human being children, need to be more connected to me, as you are the only ones who can actively sexal and practice my religion, with your own self determination, and desire to sexal and practice, to become closer to me, GOD, as you become purer, and holyer.

I'm connected to all of you, day and night, three hundred sixty five days a year, in countless many fold untold numbers of ways and manners, and with countless many fold untold numbers of mechanisms. All of my children are likewise connected to me, in similar ways and manners, and with similar mechanisms, though the numbers and types of mechanisms may be different among my living beings children, and my animals children, compared to my human being children.

As you women, girls, men, and boys sexually rapture, erotem, orgasm, convulse orgasmically, and reach sexual peaks, and then sustain them, you grow holyer, as you become purer, brillianter, and closer in GODLYNESS to ME, GOD.

Obviously, then, the primary means for you to grow pure and holy is to sexal together with each other as sexaling is the basic way to become pure and holy, and as you continue, over the days, and weeks, then months, years, decades, hundreds of years, thousands of years, millions of years, and more, you slowly grow more pure and holy, and closer to me, GOD.

Sexaling is my primary and most fundamental religious practice and your primary religious practice for you to become cleansing machines, washing machines, purifying and sanitizing machines, so that you can clearify and erase your karmic markups, and purify your lives, and purify the lives of those around you, with your selfless actions of grace and serenity, sexaling and showering purifying energies in all directions for the sake of your self, and for the sake of others.

You women and girls need men and boys to assist you to become the powerful cleansing and purifying machines that you are capable of becoming.

Men and boys used to be somewhat nearly as useful as purifying and cleansing machines, as women and girls, but men and boys have different jobs, and different priorities, and there fore, the burden of work to purify my universe, and to clearify the karmic markups of all my children rests on the shoulders of all women and girls, with men and boys assisting women and girls.

You men and boys need women and girls to lead you, and to help you to become more proficient, powerful, and more capable cleansing, washing, purifying, and sanitizing machines.

Assistive Religious Practices

The practice of praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo is an assistive practice that allows you to become in touch with my GOD SELF, equally as well, but the time it takes, is much longer, as very little purifying energies are produced, merely by using your brain, muscles, ligaments, sinews, bones, mouths, tounges, and jaws, as energies sources.

There are many other assistive practices, from meditation, to breathing techniques, to yogic techniques, to ballet like techniques, to dance techniques, to body movements of various kinds, to help you to increase and or also store up your energies, and then for you to release them, for you to then become more firmly and closely connected to ME so that you can eventually begin to gain a higher appreciation of ME, GOD.

My many religions teach many ways to do this, and before my many religions were corrupted by the Lesbianists, they worked to varying degrees of success.

Therefore, sexaling is the primary fundamental religious practice, and all other practices in my religions that I've taught over time, spanning all of my previous teachings from the begining of our time together, since I, my GOD SELF, created you as my children, are assistive practices, of one kind or another.

Sexaling, eroteming, orgasming, phlumetting are important practices, and as you orgasm, you are purifying your self, and others by pushing out and spraying your self with purifying energies as your holy and sacred energies shoot out to cover you and emmerse you in full body coverage, from head to toe, showering and shattering energies every where around you. They then build up and cover over all others who are around you, as well, with your purifying erototistic and orgasotistic purifying energies, clearifying yours and their karmic markups.

Astral traveling is another type of practice, but we'll define it, another time. Experiencing hyper trance states of mind and being, and a nearness to GODLYNESS are also a practice, and we'll define it, when I can remember every thing I need to remember about it.

Participating in my religious ceremonies is an assistive religious practice you can enjoy, as you become purer and holyer, and after you recognize that I am your Mother and Father, and your CREATOR, and that you exist because of me, as I made you from pieces and parts of me, your CREATOR.

After you realize this, you can enjoy participation in ceremonies with me, as training priestesses and priests, and you can make your way up the purity ladder, the more you participate with me, GOD, in my religious prayer hand signaling ceremonies.

Praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo to my Holy Body, or to the Gurkian Mandala, as I've explained about, is an assistive practice that will bring results.

It will not bring results as well and as effectively and as quickly, as sexaling, which is the most holy and virtuous practice, along with eroteming, orgasming, phlumetting, astral traveling, peaking, and so on.

I've spoken about peaking, before, and women and girls can peak, and experience wonderful feelings. Men and boys can peak and experience wonderful feelings, too, but I haven't discussed that, yet. We'll talk about that, another time.

In any case, do not confuse assistive practices, with the fundamental and primary practice of sexaling. We'll get back to all those other things, to define them, betterly, another time, after my brain heals, a little bit more, and after I erase more karmic markups that keep my brain karma from improving, fast enough for me.

How To Make Prayer Statements

Remember to include a prayer statement, such as 'I pray to the holy ephemeral body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]', such as, '... for the serenity of mind, and the gratefulness of heart, for all those around me, who have helped me to become the person I am, and can become.' or, '... for the peace of mind, and serenity of heart, for the love of all men and boys, and the cooperation of all women and girls.' These prayers said by a woman or girl. Men can pray, similarly, '... for the grace and deviness of the women and girls who surround me, I am greatful to them, and I pray for their continued good health, and prosperity'.

You can also say, 'I pray to the holy body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]', but only when I am in the middle of a religious hand signaling prayer ceremony, i.e., while I am doing a prayer ceremony, and saying my prayers with religious holy hand prayer signals that my special kids who are religious kids, can pick up and then act on, in concert with other groups of kids of mine, who also are religious kids, most of them, I think, and who work together with my primary groups of religious kids.

I have lots of kids, and some are normal kids, who go about their jobs, as expected, for earnings, just as most people we know. But I also have lots of other groups of children, who are more, religiously oriented, to varying degrees, and who are very religious as their work is all for the sake of my religious self, my GOD SELF. My religous kids catch my hand signing, and then they pass the messages along to others of my groups of children, and with all of the different groups of children I have doing 'good' works for me, as well as groups of children who do 'religious' works for me, as well as groups of children doing normal work for me, but for the sake of my religion, nevertheless.

They all coordinate themselves, somehow, I have yet to figure out how they do it, but between them all, they get the jobs done, that I ask them to do, while I am religiously - and the prayer statements I am signing are very holy - hand prayer signaling, i.e., hand signing.

So, unless you know for a fact, by seeing me on a tv, such as during a live broadcast, once I get my religious conveyance set up, and built by my children, after all the conditions are met, for securing this world from the grasps of the Lesbianists, and after killing all the Lesbianists, and / or after making the remaining Lesbianists surrender, and then after all other conditions are met, as I don't know all the conditions, I've set, as my memories are still foggy, as I'm amnesiatic, as well as mentally retarded, but in any case, if you see me on tv, on a live broadcast, doing my hand signing, you'll know I'm in the middle of one of my prayers, and then you can say, 'I pray to the holy body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]', and you can omit the 'ephemeral' if you like, as it will work better if you omit the word 'ephemeral' as while I'm praying, I'm my normal, GOD, self, though I may not look to you, on the surface, to be any different, over the video links, or even in person. It never the less works better if you use my recommended methods of making prayer statements, this way, for you to maximize your private prayer statements.

All of my groups of kids have lots of friends, and they do lots of work for me, and I do not remember how many groups of them there are, and how many children I"ve got, as yet, but in time, I'll be able to give you a better idea of how they work together to get the work done, that I ask them to do for me, with my religious hand prayer signals, or hand signals, as in hand signing, or signing.

My kids use signing for all their work assignments, so I use hand signing that they can catch, pick up and read, and it is all pretty much very religious in nature, and it is very solemn, as I am GOD, and when I'm signing, they know I'm GOD, and do not doubt it.

When I am not signing, they might now and then, doubt that I am GOD, but never the less, I am GOD, and my signing proves it to them - when I am saying my religous hand prayer statements, by hand signing - with out any room for doubts in their minds.

In other words, I'm a typical person, just a little mentally retarded, brain smattered, or brain damaged, after my many youthful and other brain bashings I recieved, the wiring is a little scrambled up, upstairs, and after many poisonings by the Lesbianists - from makeing coffee from kerosene, diesel fuel, gasoline, and motor oil contaminated coffee beans and then from drinking that coffee, without knowing it was contaminated with petrol fluids, as often happens to people - and with ill health karma that has me on disability, and I've been through a lot, life after life, and sometimes, my children may have had a thought or two, 'I wonder, if he is going to make it, like he said he would?'

Well, to dispel all doubts, I sign, and when I'm signing, I remind them of my old self, back in the old days, when I used to sign, religiously, and they know how serious a guy I was, so they do not harbor any doubts, so long as I am hand signing.

What To Say, When You See Me Using My Dick Or Other Parts Of My Body To Purify Others, And So Forth

You can say, 'I pray to the holy body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]', also while you see me praying, Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, or also while you see me in a ceremony, using my dick and scrotum, or other parts of my Holy Body to purify others, during the middle of a prayer ceremony, and I need not be hand signing, or praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, as I am in the middle of prayers and activities ceremony, which is just as good as a religious hand prayer signaling ceresony, any day.

My dick and scrotum package is very Holy, and it has a very useful function, and that is, it purifying others. My lips do, too, and my butt hole, does as well. They all purify others very effectively and efficiently during my religious ceremonies.

My entire body, during a religious ceremony, butt hole, mouthal hole, lips, tounge, cheeks, legs, knees, feet, toes, butt, chest, back, arms, elbows, hands, fingers, head, neck, throat, ears, nose, and so forth, is entirely the body of GOD, as I am GOD, and therefore, while I am useing my body, during my religious ceremonies, and for my religious ceremonies, and you see me on tv doing so, then after you have verified that I am in the middle of a prayer ceremony, you can say your private prayer, in the manner as I've explained, 'I pray to the holy body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]'.

I only use my dick and scrotum package for prayer ceremonies, except when I need to pee, so if you see that I am using it, during a prayer ceremony, or if you see me using any other part of my Holy Body, during a live broadcast prayer ceremony, then you'll know right away, that I am in the middle of a prayer ceremony and it is okay to use the statement, 'I pray to the holy body of the Creator, John Francis Ayres, for the [insert private prayer statement]'.

The same is true, pretty much, for any priestess or priest, who practices with me, in my religious holy body prayer circle, their bodies become very Pure, Holy, and Devine, but only after many life periods, that is, after many, many aeons, as they do not attain the same level of purity for a while, the same level of purity as I am at by my good old self, or the same level of pureness that is of ME, GOD, since I'm GOD, and they are not.

That means, it takes priestesses and priests longer to become pure, holy, and devine. I happen to be pure, holy, and devine, but that's because I'm GOD, and it is only during my religious ceremonies that you can understand that as you make your prayer statements, and sexal, etc.

After a long, long while, priestesses and priests will also become pure, holy, and devine, as their holy bodies, energies bodies that are pure, holy, and devine, but on a lower scale than are MY energies bodies, since I'm GOD, and I'm in charge of keeping things tied together, here in my universe.

After many aeons plus years of practice in my holy body praryer circle, the priestesses and priests become pure, holy, and devine, and then their bodies, their normal bodies, become very purifying, just as mine is, now, when I am in a prayer ceremony. I am in a prayer ceremony, daily, a few times, to a number of times, a day.

I've gone eighteen hours straight, once, and no sooner than I go to sleep, and then wakup, right away, I begin again, and I've gone many days, straight, praying, continuously, non-stop.

This is nothing, though, and is all preparatory, as in the future, when I get my health back, as I haven't been too healthy, for quite some time, I will be praying around the clock, some days, and for many days at a time, taking a break only to eat, drink, poop, pee, and clean up.

When priestesses and priests join with me, we will go for years without stopping, and with the priestesses, and with the priests, the both of them there, present, doing the prayer ceremony on my behalf, they can represent me, while I take a nap, go and shower, get some food, nourish myself, drink some fluids, read a book or news paper, or watch the news, or a movie, game show, video, or play a video game, and so forth. I won't be taking long breaks, and that is very funny sounding, but anyway, it happens that priestesses and priests will lose their attention, and then get lost, somehow, and then go and watch tv in their bed room, or whatever, and then we have to go and look for them, and they will get a few markoffs, and with enough markoffs, they will be asked to leave the religious conveyance, and they will be put on a type of vrobatiton, or under survielance, to see if they are good or not. My kids do all my survielance work, and they keep track of every one, so 'you'd better be good, you'd better be nice, you'd better look smart I'm telling you why, Santa Clause is coming, to town'.

Who Was Kris Kringle?

Did you know that Kris Kringle got its start from me? What a coincidence. I don't think he was wearing anything, though, or rather, I don't think I was wearing any thing, but you never know, as tolerances have changed over the long aeons of time, as they pass.

When priests and priestesses become that pure, holy, and devine, as pure, holy, and devine as I am, after their many aeons of religious practice in my holy body prayer circle - pure and devine on the exact same level as I am at - then they can represent me, as Mr. mini-GOD, and Mrs. mini-GOD.

You can not represent me as Kris Kringle, and whoever my wife was, back then. I think I had a lot of guys on that team, and a lot of women and girls, too, since sexaling was a part of that religion, too. You can learn more about it, if you're interested, by getting a day pass, and checking in with my kids, and then, signing up and joining our country, and then by becomeing a citizen, as I've spoken about, before.

You can include any good prayer, that comes to mind, that you feel is needed by you, to improve your life, and to level up your life.

You are the only ones who can pray, and practice, you women, girls, men, and boys, and there fore you are connected to me in many more ways than other living beings, the animals, and the amoebes, cells, and other living beings.

There fore, you are, both genders, the ones who will clean up the mess you have made, and you will continue to keep my universe clean, as you sexal with your genitals, and with your bodies, and with all your gizmos, igniters, trigger mechanisms, love bumps, love patches, tuning forks or ticklements, and so forth, as you are sexaling beings, who I, GOD, created, and you will sexalate, erotem, orgasm, phlumett, astral travel, peak, hyper tranceate, and so forth, just as I intended you to, from now till forever.

You will become virtuous and worthyable beings, worthyable tummy mommies, and worthyable tummy daddies, with your practice of my religion, who will bring into my universe, my many children who will join with you, and assist you and me, in cleaning up our universe, and the mess you have all made of it.

Is that understood? The answer had better be, "YES SIR!".

Lesbianists' Torment Campaign Under Way

Lesbianists are clearly releaseing wierd, ghastly, horrible, and dangerous preditorial animals, giant insects, giant spiders, giant lizards, snakes, and reptiles, ghastly, preditorial sea animals and sea mammals, winged, preditorial and horrific, aggressive scavenger and killer buzzard like creatures and other winged and destructive animals, and other horrible creatures, as well as my abominant kids to kill, maime, torture, and cause major disruptions and suffering to people, around the globe, in many locations.

Apparently, the whole world is now affected, or will be affected, by this dischordance and disharmonic display of defeated lunacy.

The peace has been shattered by the Lesbianists. It was not good before, the situation in the world, with the balooneying governments of the world, doing what they wanted to do, and torturing, and canabalizing people, and feeding people to my abominant cave bears kids, and to my crocodile people kids, and mistreating people, like Bill Gates, Steve Hawkins, Steve Irwin, many women, young girls, and men.

The war in Iraq, the phoney Saddam Hussein Trials, and all the bogus manipulation of the press and media, and the suppression of what is actually the case, with our being used and abused, poisoned, and maltreated by the Lesbianists, was a rotten situation. That was normal, or normality for us. Our karma is very poor, and we have the karma to suffer this abuse, and these torments, daily, unknowingly, in most if not nearly all cases.

But, it is becomeing really bad and there is need for serious concern, and action, to correct this situation. It has gotten out of hand, completely, and there is no stopping the Lesbianists in their wanton, and coldly miserable wish and lust for chaos and disturbances to others.

Now, more clearly than ever, as the Lesbianists rampage, the Lesbianists are causing major disruptions, suffering, anguish, and there is just an awful discordance of shock, dismay, and misery, that is growing, every moment. This is as real as the sunlight shining from the sun on a hot day in summer.

I don't have a clue what people are doing, and what is happening to them, as they are captured, tortured, and caused miserable sufferings, in many places. There must be horrible agony for many people, at this moment, and as each moment passes.

Our reality as it was has suddenly been shattered and torn up, and replaced with the lunacidal, Lesbianistic, mayhem and chaos.

Reuters reports a Lesbianists' joke for the Lesbianists, sarcastically and ironicly stateing, "New Perils Push Doomsday Clock Closer to Midnight" "(Reuters) Scientists have advanced the clock 2 minutes closer to midnight."

http://us.rd.yahoo.com/my/today/new_perils_push_doomsday_clock_closer_to_midnight;_ylt=AmUXlewr5ev2kNK_SfOHDFAL1vAI/*http://news.yahoo.com/s/nm/20070117/us_nm/doomsday_clock_dc_4

This is their private joke, to make this scenario more laugable than before for them. They could not care less, as they are manipulating every thing, and that statement is completely meaningless to them, as they are in control of every thing, in their conspiritorial lunacy to rule human beings, and to trash every one.

We'll see what the coming days, weeks, months, and years bring, and maybe there will be hope for change, when people begin to take action, to correct this situation, globally, united in spirit, permanently.

These are the most evil of evil people and abominant kids, in our immediate vicinity in our universe. We must begin our cleanup campaign here, as it begins where I am, and will continue from here on out, till we have rid my universe of all of these horrible people, and all others like them, and have made them surrender, or have sent them on to my Epcot Center.

I will establish my relgion in my universe, and begin my ministry, and they are not going to stop me, as my religion will bring positive change for all of us, forever.

I must establish myself outside the bounds of this Lesbianistic society, so your efforts and concern for our future, and your selfless giving of donations to my ministry, to allow me to set up my ministry, outside the bounds of this Lesbianistic society, non-dependent on Welfare, Supplemental Security Income or SSI, Medicaid, and non-reliant on the supported and financed Housing and Urban Developement or HUD subsidized apartment that I live in.

Once I receive in the mail, the 'Gift' donations to set up my ministry outside the bounds of this society, I believe things will gradually begin to positively change for us all, and the shift to positivity will begin, and a new universe for us all, will become for the first time, ever, a potential reality with the sincere religious practice by all of my followers, all of you, who are practicing my religion, diligently, and daily, or as much as your health and your time permits.

There in, with your efforts to practice, will bloom your flowers of dignity and hope, justice and freedom, willingness for sharing, cooperating, and participating with others in our new age of enlightenment, the Gurkian Age, and your new found respect for self and others.

Captain Off The Bridge.

GOd
And Children

It Is Now Time To Kill All Government Workers, Public Workers, Preachers, Islamic Clerics, Christian Bible Teachers, Bible Thumpers, And All Other Persons Who Support The Lesbianists And Their Lesbianistic Societies Around The World - 'Fivers' To Kill Lesbianists And All The Lesbianists' Supporters - Coma Patients - All Persons Who You Kill Will Transel To My Epcot Center - Japanese And List Keeping - Surrendering And Pledging To Serve All People In My Universe - What Does This Mean? Updated: 21-01-07 Rev.d.01.a 19:56 PST

It is now time to kill all police of every police department in every country in the world. It is now time to kill all jail and prison workers in every country in the world. It is now time to kill all zoo keepers who work in zoos and other related places around the world. It is also time to kill all pet store personel, and pet store owners. We do not need people housing and feeding potentially dangerous animals. You are further ordered to kill all pets in all pet stores, and elsewhere, even in private homes. You may then eat them, after you have cleaned out their guts and removed tummy foods and rectal feces, etc., that are decaying matter, that is harmful to your health, and after you have prepared them for eating by cooking, grilling, fire place cooking, barbecuing, smoke house fermenting, or by other safe and sanitary, healthful cooking methods.

It is also time to kill every fire department official or worker, no matter what capacity the person works in, as a fire truck driver, as an ambulance driver, as an assistant driver, as an attendant or support crew person, as a maintenance man of the fire or the police departement, it is now time to kill them all.

Further, it is time to kill all public bus drivers, who work on any metropolitan or local area or state or interstate, or national bus company. It is time to kill all ships' captains and their crew members. It is time to kill all railroad rail line workers. It is time to kill all subway drivers and subway line workers, no matter what their job is.

Further, it is now time to kill all military personel, SWAT team personel, all government personel, and all civilian, or trained military, national guard, state or federal militia, toy soldiers, the people who dress up in old time war regalia, and outfits pretending they are old time, earlier period, confederate soldiers, or old time earlier period, union soldiers, who act out old time North the 'Union' vs. South the 'Confederates' and who participate in city and town parades, across the United States.

It is now time to kill all retired military personel who support the deranged, crazed, insepient, and corrupted Lesbianistic societies we live in, around the world. It is also now time to kill all persons who in any way support the governments of the world, including but not limited to, all school, university, kindergarden, missionary, day care center workers, nursery school teachers, teachers aids or teachers assistants, United Nations workers, United Nations teachers, substitute teachers, catholic school teachers, Irish protestant school teachers, parochial school teachers, all religious denominations around the world school teachers and their school support workers, government funded school teachers, tuition assistance by the government school teachers, all personel who work for the United Nations, all civil service agents, all DEA agents, all FBI agents, all FDA agents, all EPA agents, and workers, BLM agents who are Lesbianists as well as those BLM agents' who are Lesbianists as well as those friends of theirs, who support the Lesbianists.

It is also time to kill all other federal, state, or local, or globally tasked organizations, such as the CIA workers, INTERPOL workers, the several groups of workers within the Canadian Mounties, NIC a spy department of the U.S. Navy, the Korean C.I.A., the United States Presidential Police agents the Secret Service Agents, National Park Rangers, State Park Rangers, Forestry Service workers, Pentagon workers, National Library Of Congress workers, and all others who work in any capacity supporting any government organization, those listed above, and all others, as well as all persons who support the Lesbianists in any way at all.

It is now time to kill all judges, bailiffs, Supreme Court Justices, and the employees who work in their organizations, and all other judges, legal clerks, para legal workers, court stenographers, justices of the peace, lawyers, attorneys, state attornys, prosecuting attornys, defense attornys. It is time to kill all officials of all government organizations, and all the people who work for them and or even only support them, such as restaraunt workers who feed them lunch, coffee shop workers and owners who feed them coffee and food, bars and restaraunt personel and owners of bars and restaraunts who support and feed any and all persons connected to the governments of the world and who work for them in any capacity at all.

It is also time to kill all the money lenders who loan money to the Lesbianists, the mortgage company owners who provide the Lesbianists with house purchasing loans, and all the supermarket workers and supermarket owners, who supply food to the Lesbianists, as well as all of the druggists, the pharmacy workers, who supply medicines to the Lesbianists. It is time to kill all the taxi cab drivers who give rides to the Lesbianists, and to every person who supports the Lesbianists in any way, at all, unless those people surrender to my kids.

It is also now time to kill all civilian or civil servant or state civil servant worker who supports in any way, any Lesbianistic organization, such as the police departments, federal agencies, fire departments, libraries, schools, and so forth. It is also now time to kill all persons who maintain or provide services to any of the above listed organizations, and to all of the similar organizations in every country in the world.

This is my order to all of you, and you are all ordered, by me, GOd/ GOD, to kill all of them, unless they surrender. People also call me, 'Allah'. I'm the same person. Just do as I tell you.

You are to take my fuels' bombs with chlorine plastics' explosives formulas, and all other explosives formulas I've explained about on my bulletin board and the fuels' bombs explosives formulas including but not limited to radiological 'fracturable' rocks that provide so-called 'nuclear' explosions, all of my bombs' formulas, and all other bombs' formulas derived in part or in whole from what we have learned as I've explained on my bulletin board and to take them, and make the bombs and explosives, and to then use them, and then destroy and kill all of the Lesbianists, and all of the Lesbianists military bases, buildings, and kill every last one of them, all of them, leaving no one alive.

'Fivers' To Kill Lesbianists And All The Lesbianists' Supporters

You are to then make certain they are all dead. If they are not dead, you are to kill them with a 'fiver'. A 'fiver' is a bullet with five lines drawn or scored with a knife or sharp instrument into the tip of the bullet, to form a 'five' line pattern, so that the bullet will fracture into 'five' parts.

You are to take three 'fivers' and shoot each person who has not stopped breathing, and who is not dead yet, and shoot the three fivers into the head of the person, to make certain the person dies.

Three 'fiver's will destroy enough brain material, to kill any person if the bullet is large enough, and the handgun, rifle, or weapon is powerful enough.

The handgun bullet size must be at least larger than a .22 calibur, and at a minimum, 7 millimeters. You may use .38 calibur, 9 millimeter, 10 millimeter, .45 calibur, or any other, large sized bullet to make certain they are dead. Buckshot, 8 guage to 10 guage, or any comparable rifle load or handgun load, or home made weapon load, will work equally as well, with three shots into the skull. A machete or similar instrument should then be used to chop the head off of the person at the neck line. If you have a machete or hatchet, or axe, and if you prefer to chop off the head of the person, then by all means, you are to do so. The point here is to kill the person one hundred (100) percent, and not leave the person in a coma.

Coma Patients

A person in a coma is perfectly alive, and can hear every word you are saying, but can not respond. People in a coma after severe accidents, such as near fatal traffic accidents, where their limbs were broken into pieces, or war victims, who are on life support in Veterans' Hospitals, can be in agonizing pain, and no pain medications are given to the patient as the patient has no way of communicating with the doctors, nurses, or staff members to complain about the pain, in many or in most cases, if not nearly all cases. Some patients can write or scribble out a note about the severe pains, or make gestures with their hands, pointing at painful spots they are able to point to, and then making squeezing motions, to indicate as best as they can, that there is something wrong in the area. Some people may catch the meaning of the gestures, but others do not, and may just wonder what is going on with the patient and they may wonder what the patient means by the hand gestures. Others, doctors and nurses, and staff members will merely find it amusing that the patient is making the gestures. Some doctors and nurses, and possibly staff members, will figure out the patient is in pain, and then steps can be taken to alleviate the pain, but it is an ordeal for the patient, and it may take months, or in some cases, years, before staff, cleaning persons, food servers, orderlies or assistants, nurses, or doctors figure out what the hand gestures mean.

The coma patient, after healing from the injuries, may still have residual pains, such as residual spinal pains, or neck pains, or ligament pains where ligaments were twisted, or ruptured, or severed, partially or wholly, and the ligaments didn't grow back properly, or didn't grow back fully, or much, or perhaps, in some cases, not at all, which does happen a lot, and each time the patient is moved in her or his bed, the person experiences extreme pain as no medications for pain are given to the coma patient, unless the patient has been successful in communicating that there is pain felt by her or him, in her or his body.

Leaving coma patients on life support systems is the cruelest thing you can do to a person in a coma as there is no such thing as being 'brain dead'.

It is a cruel and abominable Lesbianists' joke on humanity, and on all persons, that the Lesbianists have perpetrated with their teaching doctors and nurses that coma patients are brain dead, and do not feel, hear, taste, or sense, anything at all, and it is just another one of the Lesbianists' ways to hurt and torture people, and cruelly and ruthlessly abuse human beings, in this case, in most of these cases, by proxy. There are doctors who are Lesbianists, and I have one who is one, that I am aware of, and he knows exactly what causes my health problems, but he sits there, non-responsive, and with a vacant stare on his face as if he doesn't hear, see, or know of any thing that is going on, something like the three monkeys with hands clasped over their, ears, eyes, and mouth, who represent 'hear no evil, see no evil, speak no evil' and then 'therefore, every thing is alright'.

All persons with brains, whether in a coma, or other sleep like state or condition, is perfectly brain alive as the brains and nervous systems, auditory, taste, touch and sense nerve systems, never die, until the patient stops breathing, and passes on.

All nurses and doctors are to remove all life support systems from all persons in a coma, immediately and confirm the persons have died. That will allow them to transel into my Epcot Center, and then be born again, as a tummy baby to a tummy mommy and to tummy daddies.

All persons in a coma, whether in a hospital, or in a nursing home, or at a private home or apartment, or in a group home, or group care center, are to be told the truth of this, and are to be told that you just leared it, and are to be told that I am GOD, and that I have an Epcot Center staff waiting for them to come in, to be treated for their traumatic condition, of not being able to do any thing about their condition to end it, as it is a miserable situation for these people who are in a coma, or in any trance like state or condition that resembles a coma, or a sleeping person, who can not wake up. The person is perfectly brain active, and there are no measuring devices to prove it available to hospital staff or to doctors, as none are made, and the technologies to detect a person's brain activeness and aliveness are kept secret after they are bought up, and then after the records of them are destroyed, and the information on them are kept secret and locked away, in vaults, and in storage facilities, hidden from view so that no one can get the information, and build a device to detect a person's brain alertness status.

After they are told the truth, and that you just became aware of it, you are to tell them to not be afraid, and that all measures to relieve them from their present condition, and all measures to assist them to transel to my Epcot Center, where they can recieve personal care, and then helped to recover from the trauma of the coma, or coma like state of not being able to wake up, speak, and talk to people. They are then to be injected with a powerful sleep sedaditive, or induced to swallow several strong sleeping pills, as they may become afraid, and then, you are to help them to pass on, and to transel over to my Epcot Center.

In some cases, if you pull on the large toe of a person, or on the thumb, the person may have control to pull in the opposite direction. That is an indication that they are awake, and fully aware of what is going on around them. Please check patients to see that they have soundly fallen asleep, and snoring or breathing quietly, in relaxed manner, may be the only sign that the person is asleep.

Any sign of movement, mentally driven by the patient, no matter how slight, is nearly most always, nearly one hundred percent of the time, a sign that the person is completely brain alive, and that the person is completely aware of what is going on around her or him and can hear every thing. Even passing or expelling gas or farting, can be 'mentally' driven, and a sign the person is awake, and alert, and brain alive. Opening one's mouth is almost always, one hundred percent of the time, mentally driven.

Persons's in a coma, who have Eplilepsy, or other similar brain or neuro muscular disorder, and other conditions where patients experience spasming, whether the condition is diagnosed or not, these patients who spasm, may make some spamodic movement, now and then, and that is only a sign that the person is haveing a neuro muscular muscle spasm. Knee jerks or other similar movements, are not always muscle spasms and can be labored, mentally driven actions. These actions show the patient has control to that extent over her or his muscles, body, skeletal system, and other body systems related to the movement.

In any case, after the patient has fallen asleep, you are then to kill the person, and let the person transel to my Epcot Center, so that the person can recover in my Epcot Center, and then be born as a tummy baby, to a tummy mommy, and to tummy daddies.

All Persons Who You Kill Will Transel To My Epcot Center

Once you are certain all of the police, fire, teachers, and all others who support the Lesbianists' societies around the world are dead, they will transel to my Epcot Center.

It is now the time to bring an end to the lives of these people who support the crazed, insepient, bogus Lesbianists, and to destroy them all, leaving no survivors. Kill all of their family and relatives, and leave no one alive. Kill them all.

My Epcot Center will not be in any way, inconveinced by your brave and heroic actions. All doctors must be killed, all nurses must be killed. All medical techinicians must be killed. All library workers must be killed. All school teachers must be killed. All art museum and gallery museum workers must be killed. All workers for all of these institutions must be killed. All of them, in every country of the world, unless they surrender and plead for mercy, and then are allowed in to my kids' place, for swearing in and for joining as civilians, my country.

Further, it is time to kill all media corporations personel, such as news casters, news men, news women, anchor persons, cameral men and women, talk show hosts, administrative persons, Hollywood's movie actors and actoresses, all radio broadcasters, and all personel of all radio companies. It is time to kill all news paper company owners, and publishers, editors, and all workers of these companies, unless they surrender to my children and plead for mercy.

It is time for all of you to kill all of them, and make sure not one of them is left living, including and most importantly, all politicians, who must all be killed, without any further delay. It is time to kill them all.

It is now time to kill Oprah Winfrey, Geraldo Rivera, Sarah Jessica Parker, Judge Judy, Jerry Springer, Liz Taylor, Michael Jackson, Clint Eastwood, Cher Bonno, Morgan Freeman, Steven Spielberg, Al Gore and his family, Hillary Clinton and her family, all of them, Jeb Bush and his family, all of them, Nancy Reagan and her family, all of them, former president of the United States President George Bush, Sr. and his family, all of them, including all persons related to him in any way, and all persons who work for him, in any way, and all persons who work for any of his associates, in any way, unless they surrender to my kids, and then plead for mercy.

We are not going to allow the Lesbianists to continue their illegal, inhumane, and horriblesome practices and activities on my planet, and in my universe, a moment longer. They must all die, now.

Is that understood?

I hope the answer is, "YES SIR! Mr. John Francis Ayres, GOd", as a 'negative' reply to my question is not acceptable.

Japanese And List Keeping

I haven't confirmed it, but from what I know, so far, the Japanese are very good at keeping lists, and they know about all the foreign people in Japan, and they keep lists of names of all of them, and they keep lists of names on all of the Korean people, and the Singaporean people, the Chinese people, the Ainu people, and the cast outs or 'burakumin' a group of meat cutters and fish sellers who some how got on a list of people who were felt to be 'unclean'. The 'burakumin' was a group of people who no one in Japan wished to talk about. The Japanese also, apparently, had lists on groups of people, who they didn't know much about, but they knew they were always doing things with each other. Those groups of people were the Lesbianists, so the Japanese knew all along, who I was talking about and were nearly one hundred percent certain those groups were the Lesbianists living in Japan.

They read what I wrote, and the notes of mine were passed to many people on an e-mail mailing list, and when they heard that Steve Irwin had been killed, they felt they had heard enough and they told all their friends about my notes, and then the Japanese killed all the Lesbianists in Japan on that list they kept.

It's something I heard, and I haven't confirmed it, but I think the Japanese are fully capable of handling that, as they were fully prepared to deal with each one of the Lesbianists, and they knew who they were, and once the Japanese united, and decided to take action. The Japanese escorted all the Lesbianists to a meeting place, to which the Lesbianists were not happy to go to, but had no choice but to agree to follow the Japanese citizens who escorted them there, with the military or Japanese Self Defense Force, the Coast Guard, and National Police, and all other police agencies in Japan, plus the national organization of fire department workers, backing and supporting all the Japanese citizens.

As to what they did with the bodies of the Lesbianists, I'll leave that to them to explain to you, as it was quite brilliant and they had many very good ideas for dealing with the bodies of the deceased Lesbianists, who are apparently now in my Epcot Center.

The Japanese country side is now peaceful and quite, and things the winds are blowing, peacefully, and gracefully over the Japanese country side, cities and towns, across the ponds, marshes, lillies and lotus flowers swamp lands, bogs, bays, estuaries, lakes, streams, rice paddies, fields, mountains, and islands, from what I can understand and gather about the situation in Japan.

Surrendering And Pledging To Serve All People In My Universe

If the Lesbianists and their supporters surrender to my children, and then promise to devote their lives for the sake of others, serving man kind, and all human beings, and all people on this planet, and in my universe, for the rest of their lives, they will be allowed to surrender to my children, and my children will then arrest them and put them in a prison cell. If they are not willing to serve others, despite the fact that they say they will serve others and devote their lives for the sake of others, serving all people in my universe, then my children will ignore them, and my children will not arrest them because my children know they are lying. They must promise to do all they can that is humanely possible, for the sake of others, and devote themselves to the prosperity of others, for eternity. If they are not willing to do that, then please, just send them on to my Epcot Center, and we'll straighten them out, for there. My staff at the Epcot Center has training programs to straighten them out and make them nicer people, so that next time they are born as tummy babies, they will behave and be nice to others, doing nice things for other people, after they are retrained, a little. The retraining program takes a while, but the results are very good to excellent.

If my kids decide that the person who is surrendering, is telling the truth, my kids will use the special teletransportation technology, something like what we see in Star Trek on tv, with Captain Kirk saying, 'Beam me up, Scotty!', as many of us have seen on daytime tv, or in the movie theater, and my kids have very good teletranportation technology or 'beam me up, Scotty' technology, and the person, once he or she pledges honestly to serve others, will instantly dissappear.

Do not be surprised if when the person surrenders and promises to 'serve others', promising to devote her or his life for the sake of others, the person suddenly dissappears, and instantly, the person is no where to be seen. The person was 'beamed' into a prison cell that my kids have constructed, using other technologies, and we have many prison cells waiting for the Lesbianists and for the Lesbianists' supporters, and for other bad kids in my universe, as well.

For each person you kill, my kids will keep earning points scores on your efforts to send them to my Epcot Center, and you will be paid, when you have finished your job, and then finally, go in to visit my kids. My kids will pay you in the monetary currency that is used in the underground cities my kids have built, for protecting people from these horrible Lesbianists and for protecting people from the abominant kids of mine, and the ghastly and naughty animals and very large bugs and spider like creatures, that the Lesbianists use to help them torture people with, to make the Lesbianists laugh, and to amuse themselves, as I've explained a little about, already. The more Lesbianists and Lesbianists' supporters you send to my Epcot Center, the more earning points you will score, and the more money you will earn, and you will be paid that money, when you go to visit my kids after you have finished your work, killing the Lesbiansts and the Lesbianists' supporters.

If the Lesbianists and the Lesbianists' supporters do not disappear after they surrender, and after they promise to serve others, and pledge to devote their lives for the sake of others, the Lesbianists and the Lesbianists' supporters are lying, and you can then kill them, and send them on to my Epcot Center.

My children will escort the deceased Lesbianists and Lesbianists supporters, once you kill them, into one or an other of my Epcot Centers, and will make sure that the Lesbianists and the Lesbianists' supporters get in for a meeting with one or another of my managers, or with one of the staff members who work with my managers to arrange retraining programs for rehabilitating the Lesbianists and the Lesbianists' supporters.

The Lesbianists and Lesbianists' supporters will not qualify as tummy babies, until they are finished their retraining and rehabilitating programs. After they finish, they will be out, again, to join the rest of you, once again, but this time, as nice, kind, courteous, and polite people.

What Does This Mean?

It means, I want all the Lesbianists dead, but if they will surrender, and if they promise to serve all human kind, all people, and work and strive to enrich the lives of all others, dedicating their lives to others, then, you do not have to kill them, and you do not have to send them to my Epcot Center. If they are honest when they surrender, and when they promise to serve all people, devoting their lives to all people of the world, then my kids will 'beam' them in, using the teletransportation technologies that my children use. If they are lying, then my children will not beam them in, and they will be stuck where they are. If they are stuck where they are, after they surrender to my kids, and after they promise to dedicate their lives to the welfare of all others in the world, and to all others in my universe, then they were lying, and you may then kill them, and send them on their way to my Epcot Center, for retraining, and for rehabilitation.

It also means to kill any person who works for the Lesbianists, if he or she is supporting the Lesbianists to try to stop you from killing the Lesbianists. Also, it means that you should kill any person who tries to interfere with you, while you are trying to kill the Lesbianists.That's what it means.

Fermenting Oils - Fracuses Kiddies - Slugs, Snails, And Other Bottom Feeders - Feeding Everybody In Our Bodies - Putting An End To The Global Menace Of The Lesbianists - Changing Our Societies, And Our Universe, Forever Updated: 22-01-07 Rev.x.00.a 07:45 PST

Mix raw sugar, ocean salt, sessame seeds, dried fermented berries you have taken from a mix of berries fermenting as a flural hydrate liqour, or as a plain fermenting liqour, and make sure you dry them out in the oven, before useing them.

Mix the items together in a container, and mix in a drop or two of apple juice, pear juice, papaya juice, kiwi juice, banana juice, cherry juice, cranberry juice, strawberry juice, peach juice, nectarine juice, or plumb juice, and let the moisture settle into the mixture to allow it to become only partially and only very slightly moiste, and not wet or liquidy.

Allow the mixture to sit in a warm or cool place for a week or two, to eight to fifteen weeks, or even a few years, and it will grow molds in it, and with the longer the duration up to a point of sitting and molding, the more useful it will become.

It might develop a pungent, unpleasant odor, like a dead animal smells, which may mean that a fungus that is not very suited for you to use as a starter mold for starting a fermented oil batch has developed in the container, and in that case, you can throw the whole mix out, or use it for fermenting beans or something. Cheeses can be made with these kinds of growing funguses and molds, if you are the daring type, who likes to experiment with new and different tastes from variously fermented mixtures.

You can add some ocean salt, and make a soury vinegar, and then try to rescue it with the combination of the soury vinegar, ocean salt, and a little raw sugar, and some honey.

It may be that some bacteria is in the mix, and it needs to be eaten up, before you can use it safely for a healthy mold mix for starting a nice cheese molds and funguses mixture.

Ocean salt can be added in slightly large amounts with raw sugar. Once the odors have stabilized, and once they have developed a more pleasanty odor of a fermenting mixture, with a slight alchohol ferment odor that will indicate that it is alright to use, and that it will not be harmful to you.

In some cases, the bacteria in the base mix, may be a result of hairs or particles of skin from the body of a dead rat or mouse, that some how found his or her way into the sessame seeds, or into the dried spices, or into dried berries that you used, and then died.

In that case, you might as well throw it away, unless you have a lot of patience, and do not mind waiting and working with it, for several years, for it to become something you can use.

One way to make it into something you can use is to mix in a high potency liqour brew, and let it sit for a number or years, and ferment it, and then after it smells nice and rosy smelling, after ten to fifteen years, to thirty to fifty years, you can evaporate the liquids out in a pail on an open porch that has a net covering to keep animals and animals' hairs out of it. Make sure there is good ventilation, and it should evaporate out, safely after a number of days on the porch in the sun. If there is no heat to make it hot enough to combust, and if there is good ventilation, it will not combust, and it will evaporate out, safely. Adding ocean salt and raw sugar to the mixture so as to fill it up with raw sugar and acidic ocean salts, will further help to safely evaporate out the liquids and prevent the liquids from combusting, accidentally.

Once the liquids have evaporated out, safely, you can use the materials that remain in the pail or container, to start a fermented oils brew mixture, or to start a cheese molds and funguses mixture, if you wish to make a nice cheese molds and funguses mixture.

The particles of skin or hair from the dead rat or mouse, or pidgeon, or other animal, will have been eaten up by all the ferment fracuses kiddies, and will no longer pose a threat to your health.

Fracuses Kiddies

Ferment fracuses kiddies are just plain old ferment kiddies who like to devour large bits of human or animal tissues, mites, or cockroaches, or their body parts, and then poop them out, and pee them out into the liqour brew.

You'll always have some of these kiddies in your brew mixes, and they are useful to you, as they eat up the things that you do not want in your tummy. Also, there are other kiddies, such as snails, and other bottom feeders, that find their way in, in the skins and pulp material as tiny animals, or the eggs of animals, and they hatch, and they develop, and they grow big, and they then bottom feed, and they eat any dead rats, and dead rat parts from rats that might have fallen into the brew. These are useful pets, that you want in your rum and liqour brews, as they will keep the liqour brew healthy to drink, and they will keep you from getting ill.

Slugs, Snails, And Other Bottom Feeders

In the old days of bucanneering, as I may have mentioned, before, this was a crucial part of keeping the sailors alive, on their long voyages, and if crew members fell ill due to an unhealthy brew, with a dead rat in the mix, making it sour, and making it unhealthy to drink, then if there are not enough snails, slugs, and bottom feeders in the barrel or rum to eat the dead rat parts, the sailors will get ill, and when they get back to port, they will hang the rummery owner, and give the business over to the son, or to a third party, often times, one of their fellow crew members, who is liked by all the people, locally, and on the ship.

This is the case, still today, with many rummeries owned and handed down in the same family, from such instances as that.

Bottom feeders, slugs, snails, and many types of bottom feeding earth worms, and other types of healthy bottom feeding worms, that cohabitate well with the slugs, and snails, and other animals that are too tiny for you to see in the rum brew mixture, without a powerful microscope like, optical videoing technology, are essential to your brews mixtures, and they may increase in numbers as they make babies like every animal and living being does, and so now and then, you need to reach into your brew container, with your hand, or with a fine mesh small aquarium use fish net, and scoop them out, and flush them down the toilet, or let them loose in a local pond, lake, mountain stream, or water springs fresh water well, where they will help to keep the water clean, ahd healthy.

Once you have the materials to make your fermented oils mixture, you can add them to your container of food oils, and begin to ferment them, or use them to make a nice cheese mixture, to ferment and then to make solid as it matures with age. You can also use the materials to make a fermented bean mixture, or fermented barley, or fermented rice, or fermented millet, or fermented wheat mixture.

You can also use them to make a fermented brew mixture, as there will be many healthy molds and funguses kiddies in and among the dried out materials. Your health will improve, and by adding different spices, nuts, berries, root particles, ground up kiln dried pine cones that were green to begin with, and then fermented for a few months to a few years, in a brew mixture, then dried out, and ground up into a saw dust powder consistency, you can then have lots of crystals cages salts kiddies of various kinds help you to make a nice regroverative brew, to help you to regroverate your amoebes.

Feeding Everybody In Our Bodies

You know, we need to eat foods to stay alive. We also need to feed all the living animals in our body, to help them to stay alive, so that they can help our health remain normal, from day to day. We also need to feed the amoebes all the foods and juices, salts kiddies, and the poopy liquids and pee liquids, and other liquids with other types of tinier salts kiddies in them, as well as other types of food kiddies, we haven't learned about, yet, but with all of them inside your tummy, you'll be able to feed every one who needs feeding, and then you'll be successful with your amoebe 'auto regroverate mode, on!' formula, so long as you have degunked your body of all the petro chemical oils, kerosene, diesel fuels, and other chemicals, the Lesbianists have been feeding you, from birth, in your diets, if you live in a society, where you are fed baby formula mixtures from Gerbers or Heinze, or any of the other baby foods manufacturers.

Putting An End To The Global Menace Of The Lesbianists

We need to put an end to this practice by the Lesbianists of poisoning us with their petro chemical industry oils and tars salts kiddies, which they use to rot our teeth out, and cause tooth decay, and which they use to cause ulcers in people's tummies, and which they use to cause lots of unpleasant illnesses, and diseases in human beings, and in farm animals. These petro chemical salt kiddies, and formaldehyic salts kiddies, all harm our amobes living beings children, and all the other animals that live inside of us. One day, we will have a lot of people practicing my religion, sexaling, and making prayer statements so as to help us to erase the karmic markups we have, that keep us living under the tyranny of these Lesbianists, and in their societies, suffereing the daily poisonings that cut our lives short. When we have erased enough of our karmic markups with my religion's religious practice of sexaling to purify our selfs and others around us, and to clearify and erase our karmic markups, we will eventually be able to say good bye to the Lesbianists, and their practices of poisoning us, and causing us major headaches, or problems in our lives.

Changing Our Societies, And Our Universe, Forever

At that time, we will be able to say hello to a whole new way of life, and that will be the beginning of our new, thrilling, and excitingly challenging, one world, unified, planetary, global culture, and it will be the begining of our new, thrilling, and excitingly challenging, one universe, universal culture for all of the people in our universe, who we have been living in our universe together with, since we first came out, and began living here in my universe, a very long time ago. We have to start somewhere, and so here we are, now, begining to prepare the foundation for our long and prosperous journey ahead of us, as we clean up our universe, together with each other, and clearify and erase all of our karmic markups, and all of the karmic markups of all my children, and of all living beings who live with us, together with us, in my and our universe. We need to take responsibility for this clean up campaign of ours, as we are the only ones, besides my many worker, unionized children, who can use our brains, and use our sexaling organs, to produce purifying energies of all types, to help us clearify and erase all of our karmic markups, and all karmic markups, and karmic things and dings, of all of my animal children, and of all of my living beings children, and of all of my human children.

My kids have built underground cities, to help us to get started, in learning about the new ways of living together, and of sexaling together, for practicing my religion together with each other, so that we will be able to prepare ourselves, for our new global, unified society, and for our new, universal, united, civilization. We have a long ways to go, but we are starting now, with your efforts to correct this situation by eraseing the karmic markups and karmic things and dings, that have us living in this truly awful situation on this planet, in our universe, that we are now, curently living in. One day, when all the Lesbianists are either dead, or have surrendered to my kids, we will be able to gradually educate ourselves, and change our understanding about women and girls, and about men and boys, to understand the truth about women and girls, and about men and boys, and then we will begin our new and exciting journey into our future, together, with my religion at the basis of our new, unified society, universal culture, and universal civilization.

Donations To GOd

Why can't anyone donate any thing to me? I am GOd. So, how come no one can send me a penny in the mail, or a box of cookies, or a pair of socks, or something? I don't think I'm asking for too much, but I'm just curious about why no one can send me anything in the mail?

I don't get any phone calls. No one sends me any e-mail. No one tries to visit me. I have a religion, and I'm asking people to practice it. Now, how come no one can contact me?

I once said that I am in a monastic mode, and it is a cloistered monastic mode. That means, no one can be contacted out side of my monastery by any one inside the monastery, and no one can contact any one inside the monastery, by any one outside the monastery.

If there is no legitimate monastery business then no person will be allowed to contact me, or for that matter, any one else inside my monastery, who is leading a monastic life, with me.

Well, there is only me, right now, but maybe in the future, some one will be in my cloistered monastic discipline with me, helping me with my religious duties of doing my religious ceremonies, as I've mentioned about, before.

Monastic Mode

What does my 'monastic mode' mean? It means that I am here as GOD. You know, there is only me. I of course never sent any one, such as the Lesbianists claim. Why would I? I don't need any one to do the things I need to do. That's sheer idiocy to think I would have a son or daughter, and send them to do my business. That's absurd. You've been snookered into believeing all those hogwash tales, and now you don't know who I am, and you don't have the karma to believe in me, as a result of your following and believeing all those hogwash tales. My kids are everywhere, and they are doing their jobs.

Who Works For Me, Anyway?

Now, as I've been saying, I'm going to have you do your jobs, and that is to use your genitals, and to use your body, and to use your brains, and then participate in my religion, using your genitals and your body and your brain, and sexalate with each other, and purify your karma? Does that sound like a joke to you? If it does, you are very mistaken because it is not a joke in any way, and I am absolutely serious when I say that you are going to use your 'equipment' and I almost want to call it, your 'field' equipment, because you are armed with it, day and night, and you are going to use that equipment, to clearify and erase your karmic markups, and to purify my universe. Is that okay with you? I hope it sure the hell is, as a "NO SIR!" at this point, would be an unsatisfactory reply. Do you understand me? I hope so. You are going to jump ship, as I order you to, or be thrown over board, if you have a problem with that. I hope you understand.

Well, as far as I can figure it, no one realizes that I am GOD, so no one can donate money to me. If some one realizes that I am GOD, than for the first time, that person will be allowed to donate money to me. That person will be allowed to visit me, or call me on the phone, or donate money or food to me, or practice my religious ceremonies with me, if that person believes, and understands, and realizes, that I am GOD.

Right now, there is no one who realizes or understands that I am GOD. No one of course believes I am GOD. Never the less, I am GOD, and I am sitting here, waiting for donations, to help my ministry get started.

So, that is the reason that no one can get through to me, or donate money to me, or send me a postcard with some kind of message of cheer and support in it.

There doesn't seem to be any body who believes that I am GOD. Well, that isn't surprising. People do not have the karma to believe that I exist, is one way of looking at it. They have ignored my existence, and have not had any real thoughts about me that would link them to me, in my monastic mode.

What does that mean? It means, that no one remembers me, as the guy who created all of you. It also means, that I am in a religious mode, and no one understands that, or believes that I am in a religious mode. That is peculiar, since I am giving you a religion, one of my oldest, for you to practice, that will assist you in purifying your life, and that will assist you in eraseing and clearifying your karmic markups. That's very peculiar, but it is not that peculiar, as you do not have the karma to realize and understand that I am GOD. In any case, there will be no donations, no telegrams, and no phone calls or letters to me, so long as you do not realize, understand, and then of course, believe that I am GOD. Well, any way, so it goes.

Obeying Orders

Now, I want all these people, killed. Hillary Clinton. Bill Clinton. Chelsea Clinton. Ted Kennedy. Al Gore. Tipper Gore. Harriet Gore. Cheryl Gore. Dave Gore. Bill Gore, and all people who call them selfs, Gore and pretend to be related to Al Gore, or to Tipper Gore. Mr. Al Gore has lots of friends, who are also Lesbianists, and I want them all killed. Oliver North. Monica Lewinsky. Eve Arden. Elizabeth Arden. Michael Jackson. George Bush Sr. and all other George Bushes. Do you understand what I mean? It means, that they are all Lesbianists and they are all going to die, and we are going to blow up Washington D.C., and destroy Capital Hill, and level that area, and make it sink beneath the waves of the Atlantic Ocean. That's how big a bomb I want you to make, with my fracturable rocks, to then blow that area out of the water, and make it sink below the waves of the Atlantic Ocean. You'll probably need more than one bomb.

Did you know that Washington, D.C. is lying on a fault line, deep down, and it is on an ocean shelf, that has the ocean under it, lapping at the earth, very far down. That means, that it is on a fault line, and it is on a shelf, that is hanging over the ocean's waters.

Now, if you hit Baltimore, and Maryland, and Northern Virginia, and Washington DC with a large enough bomb to blow Baltimore out of the ground, and level it, and with another bomb large enough to blow Washington DC out of the ground and level it, at the same time, and a few more bombs, large enough to blow Maryland, Virginia, and that whole metro area out of the earth, at the same time, you will sink the nation's capital, that is, Washington DC, below the ground, as it will break off the ledge that it sits on, and it will sink into the ocean, as the ledge crumbles below it. There will be water, from the Atlantic ocean, all the way out to West Virginia.

Now. I have every right to say that, and demand this, as it is a matter of self defense, as I know these motherfuckers are eating people, cannibalizing my kids, for their amusement, thrills, and fun, and they will continue to do that UNLESS THEY ARE STOPPPED! Do you understand that?

I hope so. I am going to see the whole of Washington DC and the area leveled, with Baltimore, and Northern Virginia, and Maryland, as well, and we are going to sink that area into the ocean, and make it disappear below the surface of the waters of the Atlantic. Now, that should be clear, shouldn't it.

This is not a joke. We will have to send a lot of my children to my Epcot Center, in the blasts that will occur, and in the after math of the blasts, but that is unavoidable.

We will have many people, drowning in the waters that come in from the ocean, and that stretch out to the hills of West Virginia, with only slight outcrops of land, hills, here and there, with a few people lying on top of them, blinded and in awful pain, but they will not live long, as they will not be able to survive for long, and they will pass on, die, and then they will transel to my Epcot Center, where they can get medical relief, medical treatment, therapy counseling, and rehabilitative therapies. That is what we will do to Washington DC and vicinity, so every one, please prepare for it, and get your pain medication in order, so you can take an over dose of pain pills, when your area is blown and shredded to bits, with one or more of my fracturable rocks bombs, as I've explained about.

Every Politician In The World To Be Executed

Next, I want every politician in the world, canceled out. I want their passports for living on our planet, canceled. That means, I want you to kill each and every one of them. Not only do I want you to kill them, all, but I want you to kill every single one of their associates, around the world. They are all Lesbianists, except for a few of them. If you happen to kill one of the non Lesbianists policitians by mistake, that is okay. They have the option of surrendering to my children, available to them, and once they surrender, they will not be killed, by accident.

Every Hollywood Actor And Actoress To Be Executed

After that, I want every Hollywood actor or actoress killed, and that includes all the actors and actoresses, around the world, and they must surrender to my kids, if they wish to not get killed. There are a lot of them, who are not Lesbianists, so those I've mentioned, who I've let you know are not Lesbianists, you can forget about them, and leave them alone. There are a lot more than thirteen billion Lesbianists living under the earth's surface, in underground cities. I did not realize there were so many. We need to kill them all, so we will, in time, unless they surrender. Is that clear, every body? I hope the answer is, "Yes, Sir!" as you had better not answer any other way, or you will get yourself on my shit list. Is that understood? Good. I am the boss of my universe, so if you do not like it, than jump overboard, now, sailor. Have you got that clear? Good.

Jump Ship, Explained

What does 'jump overboard' mean? It means you are going to have severe problems with me, if you do not obey orders, and that there will be difficulty and jail time, ahead of you, if you continue to ignore my commands to you. It means there is going to be trouble, if you do not obey me. My kids are in charge of handling all the details on that, and it is not a joke.

Fair Warning

We are not going to let these Lesbianists run their show, one more minute. We are going to put an end to them, and their activities, here on this planet, and every where else in my universe, and this is fair warning of that.

Particle Remis Technology And Particle Dismiss Technology

As I said, once before, there is a technology called particle remis technology. There is also a technology called particle dismiss. They are the technologies that you can use to feed 2.3 billion Lesbianists down under the surface of this planet, and on every other planet that they are on.

Dismend Technology And Remend Technology

It is easy to dismiss molecules, and to dismiss, or dismend all the beings who need to be dismended, and sent to my Epcot Centers. It is also easy to remend them, and then get them back into the foods that I need them to be a part of.

My kids keep track of every one who needs to be dismended, and then remended. That is a lot of work, keeping track of every one, but that allows us to dismend the living beings, and animals, that I can let off from duty, and from further service, and then send to my Epcot Centers for them to live in. I can then recall them to duty, and remend them, and then have them serve in an apple or an orange, or banana, or a brick. Do you think that is a joke? It is not a joke, and there is no joking allowed, on my shift. Do you got that? I hope so, because if you do not, you will have to learn how to swim a long ways, as it is going to be a long way from shore, after I ask you to jump over board, and I have sailors who practice, all the time, just to show the passengers how it is done, just in case. I will have you jump from ship, if you do not get along with me, and if you disagree with what I am doing, pretty soon, as we are departing, now, or just about now. That means, we are not going to play around, much longer, and we are going to set sail. That means, there are going to be a lot of people practicing my religion, pretty soon, as they will learn about it, and they will begin practicing it.

Mentalcosis / Mentaltosis And Comatosis

Mentaltosis is the state of a vegetable, like a stalk of cellery, or a plumb, or an orange. Comatosis is the state of complete awareness of self and others. Comatosis is not brain dead, i.e., more or less, mentaltosis, with no real significant brain activities occuring, other than the ones that keep you alive, and vegetative, and you do not need assistance to remain and function in a state of mentaltosis, and the Lesbianists know it. You are severely brainally handicapped, and when you come out of it, eventually, after you have your karma fully completed for being mentaltosically ill, and after it is then time to get on to something else, you will be very brainally handicapped, and you'll be an extremely retarded person, with little to nearly no brain awareness going on about self and others, but able to walk, barely, and later, after many many lifetimes as a mentally retarded individual, you'll begin to be able to mumble a little, or babble a little, for umpteen lifetimes, as you begin to get your higher brain functions, back, which takes a very long time to work out, and many many lifetimes to work out, karmically.

Comatosis is like a hit on the head, and when you wake up, your faculties are not all working, and you may not be able to speak, or move, or talk to your friends, but mentally, you are all there.

Mentaltosis is like a train ran over your brain, and every other nervous system in your body, nearly, and you are completely unable to think, or do any thing else, and you are reduced to a mere pumping heart patient, with not much else going for you, except you are breathing, and technically, you are alive. You can sit there for a million years, or a million or so life times, before you begin to come out of it, and then reveal your disorder of severe mental disorganization, mental disfunction, and mental retardation. There is a big difference between a bonk on the head, and a train running over it, and the rest of your body. Coma patients are fully aware of what is going on around them, and they may not be able to speak, but they are there, and they can twitch a finger, now and then, or flex a toe, or raise their tummy up a tiny bit, to pass gas, usually, and relieve the bloating sensation they are experiencing in their tummy, and in their intestines, or colon. They may be able to grasp your hand, and fully hold on to it, and not let go, for hours, if they have the strength for it. This horrible torture the Lesbianists are perpetrating on comatosic patients, needs to end, now. Person responsible for continuance of hospital policies, despite our informing them of the truth regarding this, are to be shot and killed, and sent to my Epcot Center, if they interfere with the removal of the life support and life support assitive devices, that are plugged into the comatosic patients mouth, or nose, or other orifice of their body, or any part of their body. If some one refuses to cooperate, you are to throw them out of their hospital unit, and give them a good whack on the head. Come back in a few days, and then disconnnect their life support assisitive pumps, and tubes, and so forth, and shoot them in the brain with three 'fivers', as I've explained about, and then send them on their way to my Epcot Center. That is an order. Now do it.

I want you to pull the plugs on all the GI's and civilians who are on a breathing assistance machine, and life support assistance equipment, and I want you to send them all to my Epcot Center, where they can get treatment, and therapy, and then get themselves ready for being born, again, as a fine and a healthy, tummy baby to a tummy mommy, and to tummy daddies. You had better comply, if you know what is good for you, as my kids are now keeping track of your records on this account, and you are not going to do very well, if you do not follow orders. Is that clear. I will not have any insubordination of duty on my watch, and that means, you had better learn to follow orders, or you will be asked to jump over board, and then go for a very long swim to shore.

Michael Jackson

Michael Jackson is the biggest joke in the world. He is a white boy, and he pretends to be related to Janet Jackson, a black woman, partially, and they pretend to be related, and he is as white as an elbow macaroni, or a white goose. He is not a black person, though he does have some black ancestry, but he is a primarily white person, and he pretends to have bleached his skin color, which is a crock of shit. Now, I want you to kill that mother fucker, as well as Sylvestor Stallon, and Arnold Schwarznegar, Clint Eastwood, Morgan Freeman, Kirk Douglas, Matt Damon, Robert De Niro, Anthony Hopkins, Gary Busey, and their Lesbianists' buddies.

Retractions

Mr. Jerry Springer is not a Lesbianist. I was mistaken about him, as he was already killed by them, in a previous lifetime, as he developed a desire to bad mouth them, and they didn't like him, and they kicked him out of their group, and they killed him, with their murderous torture routines. Penelope Cruz is not a Lesbianist, but she was, but they killed her, and tortured her, and she is off the list. Angelica Huston is not a Lesbianist. She was, but they killed her, after torturing her. She is a popular and prominent person, and if she hasn't been abducted yet, by the Lesbianists who will feed her to my abominant kids, like they did to Steve Irwin, and Jeff Corwin, then they will be gettting around to it, not too long from now, as they like to feed her to the abominant kids of mine, just as they do Bill Gates, and lots of other, former Lesbianists. None of the Baldwin brothers are Lesbianists, either, as they were already kicked out, and killed by them, and then grievously tortured by them. They continue to be main attractions for feeding to my abominant kids. Jack Nicholson is not a Lesbianist, now, either, but he was. Ben Affleck is not a Lesbianist, as he was also kicked out of their organization, after they tortured and killed him. Charley Sheen is not one, either, but he was. Martin Sheen is not a Lesbianist, but he works for them, and he was one, before they kicked him out, after they tortured him, and killed him, in a previous lifetime. Michael Douglas is no longer a Lesbianist, either, as they killed him, after their brutal torturing of him. He is up for being abducted, and for being fed to the abominant kids of mine, as he is a prominent person, and Kirk Douglas enjoys watching him get eaten up, and Kirk Douglas will laugh his guts out, as he watches Michael Douglas get tortured by the Lesbianists, which Kirk Douglas is a confirmed member of. Cher Bonno is not a Lesbianist, as I was mistaken in memory, though she was a leader for a while with Oliver North, she was killed by them, after being tortured, because she was getting "soft". Sunny Bonno was a Lesbianist, as well, but he was also killed after being tortured, officially kicking him out of the members league of Lesbianists. Sunny Bonno was captured, and abducted, and a body double was placed on a coroner's table, and Cher Bonno knew that the body double who was dead, who looked like Sunny Bonno, was not Sunny Bonno. The Lesbianists subsequently fed Sunny Bonno, after they captured him off the ski slopes, to my abominant kids. Elizabeth Taylor was thrown out of the corp of Lesbianists, after they heinously tortured her, and murdered her, and the Lesbianists have her slated, scheduled, after they find a way to abduct her, for feeding her to my abominant kids. Dennis Miller is not a Lesbianist. Though he was one, after torturing him, and sushi-izing him, please see my notes on that, the Lesbianist's sushi-izing of Dennis Miller eventually killed him.

It's hard to keep track of some people, as to whether or not they are currently Lesbianists. Others, are not so hard to keep track of, and I want all of those mentioned, killed, immediately.

On Praying, Fucking, Sucking And So Forth

You are rewarded for praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo. You are also rewarded for fucking, sucking, tounging, licking, fingering, dicking or massaging your dick against a woman's bun bun, or inside of her butt hole, where there are lots of sensitivities buttons that get her clicking and eroteming and orgasming, or against her titties to get her eroteming and orgasming, and so on, and for palming or massaging a pelvital button, or the love and joy stick, the dick, or a love button or love patch, igniter switch, or whatever nerve sending touch sensitive love joy button there is embedded into your body, in the pelvis, groin, vagina, and in the musculatures of the groin, pelvis, and vagina, with the palm of your hand, and so on. You also get rewarded for throating a woman with your dick, as there are lots of love buttons in her mouth, and throat, lips, and so forth. Men also have love buttons in their lips, throats, tounges, mouths, butthole, and on their body, and those buttons also get clicking, and turning on and off, and sending sensitivities messages or signals, nerve pulses, up the eroteming nerval system and up the orgasming nerval system. You get rewarded for dicking men and boys in the throats, and in the buttholes, and their bodies, just as you get rewarded for dicking women. There is no discrimination in this area, and every one is equally rewarded for their meritorious acts of dicking others, women, girls, men, and boys.

Why are you rewarded for praying Nam Myo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, and for dicking, fucking, and sucking, bumbeying, or moving your vaginal bumbey package against a woman's sexaling body parts to erotemize your self, and the woman, and for breasting your titties, i.e, rubbing your titties against or flopping them against and massaging them against a woman's butty butt or against her other sexaling body parts to get you and your friend sexually erogenized i.e., sexually stimulated, erotemized, and orgasming, and for other sexaling activities that help you and your friend and friends to produce purifying sexaling energies?

You are rewarded for your praying and for your fucking, sucking, dicking, and so forth, for helping to get every thing and every body going at the right pace in synch with every thing and every body else, for every body in my universe who is working for me, to keep them moving in harmony, perfectly meshed and in synch and in a timed persuasive mosture, with each other, so as to keep my universe standing up, strong, wholesome, robust, healthy, well, and fine. You are rewarded for praying as well as for sexaling, as you help move my children along as they do their work, as you pray and as you sexal and spray out energies from eroteming, from erotistically orgasming, and from sexually orgasmically convulsing, i.e., phlumetting, while you shatter out and spray out purifying energies in all directions, that will clearify and erase your karmic markups, and the karmic markups of others, all around you, for millions and more of miles, way out beyond where you are activiating and religialing, i.e., sexaling.

Your dicking, sucking, licking, titty massaging others, and so forth, will get wonderful and wholesome, GODLY, purifying energies shooting out of your bodies, and the energies shoot out at rates of speed that also help my universe to keep synchronized, and to move along at the right pace for it to be able to stand up and remain stable and solid, durile, strong, wholesome, pure, and a nice place to live in.

Every one who works for me, has a rate of speed they work at, a life pace, or life spin. We all have a pace of life. In some cities, it is fast and hustling. In some places, it is slow and whimsical. My kids work according to a rate of speed that is metered, and they keeps every one moving as best as they can, according to this metered pace. The metered synchronized pace that my children work at the rate of is one thirty seventh and one fifth, approximately, on the metronome.

If you help to push my kids along at that rate of speed, or a rate of speed that is close to it, as you pray at a metered synchronized pace and rate of speed, and as you fuck, suck, and so forth at a metered synchronized pace and rate of speed, then you are rewarded with angel dusts, or purifying energies faerie dusts that my kids daub on your head, and throw buckets loads of over your head and body and that they wash your insides out with and that they wash your body, inside and outside, with as they shower them all over you on the outside of your body, and all around in your body on the inside of you, which then help to clean you up and clearify your karmic markups, cleanse your karma, and purify your life, making you a shining, radiant, pure and holy being, though you may not notice at first, as we are too filthy, karmically speaking, to notice the changes, as our karma is too thick and mucky to allow us to feel the changes that are taking place in our karma and life.

I have a gradient scale for how close you keep people moving, and at what rate of speed you help to push them along, and as you help to push my kids along, so that they can do their work, you are rewarded, in accordance with my gradient scale, with more angel dusts or purifying energies for better preformance, and with less angel dusts for poorer or less effective performance. You have to do some thing that will help my kids move along at a metered pace, so that they can get their work done. Praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo sets off a time frame synch. A time frame synch is the metered click, click, click, of the metronome. This time frame synch or metered pace, that you achieve while praying, Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, will help keep every one moving, at the right pace, if you pray it in a rythym and at a rate of speed that will synch up with a metronome at one thirty seventh and one fifth, approximately. Your efforts to help keep my kids working and moving at a consistent rate of speed, will get rewarded, thus for praying, Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, you are rewarded, with purifying energies, that my kids dump on you.

Your efforts for fucking, sucking, licking, tounging, titty whipping or banging your titty nipple against the vagina of a woman or girl, dicking, fingering, palming, and so forth, all get rewarded, if you try to keep every thing in synch with the metered pace of the metronome at one thirty seventh and one fifth, approximately. The gradient scale also applies, of course, as you are fucking and sucking, etc., so the better the job you do of keeping your pace at one thirty seventh and one fifth, approximately, the higher your rewards will be. Your rewards are the same, more or less, for both praying and for fucking and sucking, and my kids sprinkle and dump angel dusts, purifying energies, on you as a reward. You also get markups that are meritorious, and you are rewarded with a better and happier life.

Further, when you are orgasming, and eroteming, or pushing out energies as you orgasm, and erotem, you will be pushing out energies that shoot out at consistent rates of speed. These rates of speeds of these energies are in concordance with our pace of life, they all perfectly mesh with the paces of life that my kids keep. The energies as they pass out, and push along through time and space, at synched up and consistent rates of speeds, all help to keep my kids moving along as they do their work and tasks, and they all help to keep our universe, standing up, strong, healthy, wholesome, well, and fine.

Chaos breaks the legs off the foundation to our universe, and our universe begins to creak and moan, as it begins to crumble, slide, twist, and tumble downwardsly. Making chaotic noises, and chaotic movements, detracts from the harmonics of our universe. Your breaking glasses, and breaking skulls, and legs, and arms, are also chaotic events producing, in most cases, and they will detract from the perfect synch up of our universe, as leg bones and arm bones, skulls, fingers and toes, begin to splinter, as you apply pressures to them, you get negative markups for your actions. A record is kept of every chaotic action you take, or make, and if you make enough chaos, in your lifetime, and in your following lifetimes, then you will suffer from your poor records of performance for keeping my universe standing up, wholesome, healthy, happy, and well.

Every scream you cause to be vocated or vocalized, is recorded, and the intensity of the scream, and yell, and crying out in pain, plus a lot of other factors involved, are all recorded by my kids, and you get negative marks for that kind of performance.

The love making oooohs, and aaaahhhs you cause to be vocated, are harmonic appeals of soothing restfullness to the spirit, and to the mind, are also graded, and you are graded on how well you can cause others to produce them, and your scores are kept, and if you are a lousy performer, with more negatives than positives, you'll end up with a lousy life, as a result, as you are rewarded in accordance for your positive performance, as well as for your negative performance.

Helping to keep all of my children working in harmony, and doing their jobs and tasks, at a metered pace, will be rewarded, not only with angel dusts, but also with a better life with more positive fortune, as you recieve positive points or merit points for your collaborating with my children, and working to support them, and more fun as your life becomes graced with more positive merits and as your rewards begin to pile up, and more good things begin to go on in your life.

If you sit on the side of your chair and have a pair of drum sticks, or are using a bongo drum, or calypso drum, with the long tube belly, or stack, a long barrel tubed drum, or if you sit at your drum set, or set up your electronic drum pads, and begin pounding away, in a syncopated manner, for your pleasure, just drumming away, with no notion in mind as to any thing other than achieving a nice rythym for you and your friends to listen to, if you happen to be with friends, your merit points will be near zero, and your efforts will not rate on my gradient scale, as your actions will not be in accordance with my program for a better universe for all people, and for my kids to live and work in.

If, however, you have the attitude, "I wish to support John's kids, and syncopate myself while I'm drumming, so as to be supportive of John's kids, to help John's kids work in a syncopated manner, doing all I can to support John's kids", then, your merit points as you drum, will go sky high, through the roof, and you'll get meritorious benefits for your efforts, or merit points, and good marks, for your efforts. It's like helping kindly old women, who are frail and in need of a helping hand and support, cross the street. If you act in a kindly and charitable manner to help support those around you, you get meritorious points for your efforts. These efforts of your's, however kindly, regrettably, though they are kindly efforts, are not the kinds of efforts that we need, my kids and me, need to keep my universe standing up, and moveing strongly. For efforts that support my kids work environment, and that lend a hand to them to help them to get their work done, your meritorious efforts marks will go through the roof, and you'll be blessed with angel dusts, i.e., purifying energies that help to clean up your karma, and erase and clearify your karmic markups, or marks that record your bad and cruel, or negative actions towards others, and towards your self. You can kill your self, and cause grief to others, as a result of your departure, to my Epcot Center, and that rates negative marks and negative points markings or markups for you.

When you try to do any thing, that will help to syncopate my children, and to make my children's working environement more syncopated, and rythmical, with your concentrated mind, and determination to make that a reality, in other words, a prayerful attitude in mind, hoping to make John's children's working environments syncopated, and rythmical, and in rythym with every one elses', i.e., all of my other kids' syncopated working environements, then with that attitude of hopefulness, or a prayerful attitude, than, you are rewarded for your efforts, and determination, and as you drum away, or pound and beat on your calypso drum, or on your metal Bahamian or Tinian, or Haitian, or Jamaican, drums, or on your dresser drawers, if your mom does not mind, as you pound away, keeping your mind set on your determination to keep all of my kids working in unison with each other, and helping them to keep in syncopated harmony, all in perfect flux, and perfectly meshed in timing, with every one else, as they work for me, then your rewards and positive points markups, will be very high, and you'll be rewarded by my children, with angel dusts that they daub on your forehead, and dump all over you, from their barrels they carry full of angel dusts, or purifying energies to clearify your markups from your karmic markup piles, kept inside of your body, kept in storage in the molecules.

If you listen to music that is syncopated to the timing of one thirty seventh and one fifth on the metronome, or closely syncopated to it, you will be rewarded for merely listening to it, and you'll receive faerie and angel dusts, purifying energies, as my kids daub them on your head, and spray them all over you, inside and out.

Your markups are inside the molecules inside your body, but they are also out side of your body, in every molecule, nearly, going way out to the very farthest edges of my universe. We will eventually get to all of them, and purify or clearify and erase all of your karmic markups, the notations and records that my kids keep on you, and on your activities, and eventually, we'll get them all, and your life will then be full of grace and happiness. It will be a long time before we get to all of them, as you and I and every one in my universe, have been here, and enormous length of time.

As you drum, or skip, or dance, or do areobics, in syncopation, with the attitude that you want to keep all of John's kids in step, and in synch, and in unison and harmonicly meshed and in perfect flux with each other, or perfectly meshing with each other, and every one else who works for me, whether you drum, skip, dance, or do areobics, it does not matter, if your mind is set and determined to help my kids, with your efforts, you will be rewarded for your efforts, no matter whether you skip, jump rope, dance, or areobically excercise.

As you sexalate, if you keep in your mind that you wish to keep all of John's kids in syncopated harmony, perfectly in flux, and in unison, just as when you are drumming, or skipping rope, or dancing, or playing basketball, or playing tennis, or badminton, or any sport, with your movements all timed, and in perfect syncopation, when you sexal with the right attitude to keep John's kids in synch, perfectly meshed in perfect accordance and flux, with each other, and with every one else, you will be rewarded grandurally, that is, grandly, or in a grand or very great manner.

Excercising And Activiating To Music Timed To One Thirty Seventh On The Metronome

Music timed to one thirty seventh on the metronome, and one fifth, or as close to one thirty seventh on the metronome that you can get, is okay, and it will help you to dance, play tennis, play sports, do areobic excercises, and other types of activities, at that pace that we need to keep to help keep my kids working smoothly, and you'll be graded on your performance, and on your attitude while you are dancing, or excercising, and the more intently you concentrate and use your mental energies and mental control to stay in synch, and in step, the better will your scores be, and the higher your marks, and the greater your rewards of purifying angel dusts and purifying energies that my working and unionized kids will pour and spread all about you, inside and out, and all over you.

Sexaling itself is a religious act. Yes. That's true. But, if you sexalate with this powerful prayerful attitude, or hope in mind, with your determined mind, and your concentrated mind, as you sexalate, and help others to sexalate, and help others to erotem, orgasm, phlumett, and shatter off wonderful energies from orgasming, eroteming, and phlumetting, your positive points and merit marks, and many other types of scores my kids keep on your efforts and behavior, all of them will go higher than any one can see, way out beyond the furthest galaxy that you can possibly see from your bedroom window, with your telescope. They'll go out to the futhest edges of my current univerese, and even beyond the barrier walls, holding up our universe, that my kids put in, to keep our universe standing up, stable, strong, and durile or durable and with tensile integrity.

Any action for helping my kids do their work, syncopated, and in unison, and in harmony, will be rewarded, with angel dusts, and with positive marks and score points in your records that we keep on you and every one else in my universe. Your sexaling actions get rewarded, far more than any other activityating, as your sexaling actions are the most needed actions, to keep my universe, pure, durile, holy, sacred, free from negativities, healthy, wholesome, stable, and constantly in a state of improvementing.

Most people go around destroying things, and causing chaos. We, my kids and I, need people who are going to help improve the wonderfulness of our, my, yours, my kids, and all of my other kids, wether they work for me, or not, meaning, all of my guppies, who are like you, my relatively normal kids, as well as all of my abnormal kids, the abominants kids I've got, that go around thinking it is funny to eat people, and to pull them into their mouths, and crush them in miserable pain and agony, like my elephants abominants kids do to relatively normal human beings kids of mine.

Fisting And Punching People With Your Clenched Hands And Crasping Or Clasped Knuckles

You all have been bad kids, all of my guppies, all of you who do not work for me and go around thinking, 'Oh, gee. Aren't I special.' My guppies are these minded people, who are arrogant, who talk back to their mama's and to their papa's, and to their relatives, and brothers and sisters, and to their friends in school, and to their teachers. Later in life, they become worse, and they talk back with their actions of being mean to each other. As my guppies grow older, and become older people, they start fisting others, and that means, punching people, hitting them with their clenched fists and hard knuckles, and hurting them when they pound on their face, or on their stomach, or on their body some where, and break bones, and tear muscles, and stretch ligaments with their pounding each other.

Phlooching Out And Fisting The Vaginal Cavity, Rectal Cavity, And Mouthal Cavity

Fisting is a word used by some people to mean, to insert your hand into the vagina of a woman, and gay people, homosexually driven people, fist each other in the butt hole, if either men or women, or in the vagina, if women. Some people find it interesting to fist each other in the mouth, by sticking their fist inside the mouth of a person, pretending it is a dick or a dildoe. You need to phlooch out the neck muscles, and billow them up, or poof them up and out, and that will help them to gently relax, and then become expandable or stretchable, as when they relax, they will easily stretcth out, and there will be some give, or freedom of expandingness. The neck muscles then become easy to stretch and push on from the inside with out hurting the person. It then is easy to insert your fist into the throat, to massage the inside of the throat, and to use your hand, or fist, to tickle the igniters, and triggers that set off love buttons and bells, and whistles, that help women and men to erotem, orgasm, and phlumett.

Fisting by inserting your fist into the vagina of a woman, when it is relaxed, and after you've massaged if for many hours, and after it begins to billow out, or poof out, and then open wide, and then you can see inside of it, and from the entrance of the vagina, there is a clear gaping cavity, you can then insert your clenched fist hand into, to massage the inside of the vaginal cavity. Doing this is very nice, and is very exciting to do, to help women and girls to erotem, orgasm, and phlumett. You can phlooch out the butt hole, by massaging it, for several hours, and it will begin to poof out, and expand, and you'll see a nanny gate face on it, and that means, it will begin to look a little bit like a vulva, or the vagina of a woman or girl when at rest, or exposed between a woman's or girl's legs as she is sitting or relaxed with no panties on or with no or few clothes on and nothing covering her hips, pelvis, lower pelvis, pelvital ridge, crotch and groin, butt and butthole and lower back, there by exposing her butt and vagina. If you compare a vagina with a phlooched out butthole, you will see they resemble each other, slightly. There is no vaginal cleavage of course, around the butthole, but there is a slight resemblence between a phlooched out butt hole, and a vagina, or vulva, none the less.

The Vagina And Vulva Compared To The 'Nanny Gated' Butthole

What is the difference between a vagina and a vulva? They are more or less the same, but the vagina includes lots of parts, inside as well as out side. The vulva is outside, basically, only, as far as I understand and remember these things, now. When you massage a butthole, long enough, it will begin to look like a vulva, or vaginal face. That's called the nanny gate, or on the male, the male butthole vagina, as I've spoken about it, before. On the woman, it is the female butthole vagina, a double 'immitation vagina' for the real one, as I've mentioned. Men's and women's buttholes are the same, and they both look like 'immitation vaginas' as I've also mentioned, after you phlooch out the butt hole of either the female or of the male. Once you phlooch out the butthole of a man or of a woman, it will poof out, and expand, and the butthole entrance and cavity will become relaxed, and easy to insert your clenched fist into, to then push up your fist into the butthole cavity, and massage it, once the person has cleaned out the butt hole cavity and once it is clear and free from debris matter, or food matter, and rotting food particles, and fleshy foods, or hamburger meat and so on. Phlooching out the vaginal caivity takes a little longer, but with patience, you can phlooch it out, and then fist, in this manner. If you phlooch out the butt hole, and rectal cavity, you can fist your male friends, and your female friends, and every one, once they have cleaned out their poop hole, and made it free from rotting debris, will enjoy mutual, and reciprocal, fisting. Fisting in this way, for sexaling, is alright. Fisting in the other way, for beating people up, is not nice, and you are given poor marks for your actions of nautyness, meaness, and cruelty towards others.

Over the long course of time, you all have been naughty at one time or another. I have many ways to fix you, and to retrain you, and to rehabilitate you, but you always go bad, and sour, again, as that is your main drive, or driving internal force in your lives.

The Importance Of Kindlyness And Teamwork

Why have all of my guppie kids all gone south, or in other words, gone down the road towards unkindlyness? Because, as I've explained, you forgot what the Love Of GOD is. My religion will help people to understand what the Love Of GOD is, and that will help keep them on the correct path of kindly actions towards others, and it will help them to understand and remember that teamwork to help my working, unionized kids to keep our universe healthy, strong, durile, standing up, stable, a safe and happy place to live, and a wonderful place to live, is very important.

Doing things that support my kids working efforts, will be rewarded, and doing things that detract from the harmony and syncopation of the metered pace of my kids who are working, and that slows them down, and that causes dischordance, will not be favorably rewarded, and you'll become a female schmuck, or a male schmuck over the length of time, as you live on in my universe. A schmuck is an unlikeable person. Sexaling is the most important thing there is for us to do, other than feeding ourselves correctly to keep us healthy, and excercising, and leading a balanced, well regulated life, listening to your mama and to your papa. My religion is based on sexaling, as sexaling is the most holy and pure activity we can participate in, or do by ourselves.

All the bullshit propaganda of the Lesbianists, that Jesus said this, and that Buddha said this, and that God will save you if you do this, and so forth, is pure balooney, bullshit, and made up nonsense. I, GOD, will not do any thing for any body, unless you help me and my children to make this universe, a more kindly, and a more wonderful and prosperous universe for all of us. If you do, I will have my kids, bless you with angle dusts as they daub them on your forehead, and then pour barrels of angel dusts over you, as they dump barrels full over your head and body, for your extra good work, sexaling, in syncopation, with my kids working rythyms, and in rythym with their syncopations, flux, and their phenomenal elegance.

Phenomenal Elegance

What is phenomenal elegance? It is their keeping harmony with each other as they work and keep every thing in order, in my universe for me, GOD.

You can not escape from this reality of your good actions and your bad actions being recorded, as my kids keep records on every one, and we make certain every one is rewarded for their good actions, and we make certain that every one recieves as close to what they deserve, to help balance things out, in accordance with their markups, for their bad actions. If they are bad, they will not meet nice people, and they will meet naughty people, and not so nice things may begin to happen between them. If they are good, and if they try to help my kids, as I've explained about, they will get rewarded, and they will slowly begin to break away from keeping company with bad people, and they will gradually ascend to higher rankings or status, and then they will begin to lead a better life, and they will begin to escape from meeting with bad people, and the good kids' lives will become blessed by my kids, as my kids begin to sprinkle angel dusts on the good kids, and daub the heads of the good kids with purifying energies, and then dump purifying energies all over the bodies of the good kids who listen to their mama's and papa's, and sexal with them, and as they sexal with their mama's and papa's, and sisters and brothers, relatives, neighbors, and others, the good kids help my kids keep this universe running smoothly, in harmony, in flux, perfectly meshed, and in perfect syncopation. Mama's, papa's, sisters, brothers, relatives, neighbors, and others, all get their heads blessed with angel dusts, purifying energies, for their good actions along with the good kids, you, I hope, of course, too.

Plurlbalescent / Plurablescent Nature Of Negative Punishments And Positive Rewards

This is very important for every body to understand. I have my working, unionized kids reward the good people, and I have my working, unionized kids keep records on every action of every one of you, and I have my kids make sure the bad kids, meet with what they deserve, or some thing close to it, which may not be too nice, most of the time, and I have my kids make sure that the good kids, all meet with what they deserve, or something close to it, and that is usually always something nice. It may sometimes not be something conspicuously nice, but it is nice, usually, or positive in nature, always. The bad kids will get rewarded by something that is negative in nature, always, usually, or plurlbalescent. What does plurlbalescent mean? It means, it might not be noticably negative, but it is still negative, in nature, in essence. This is a topic we can discuss, another time, or you can ask my kids for more information on it, when you go in and visit them, with your mama's and papa's, sisters and brothers, relatives, school teachers, principal, costodians, janitors, school workers, and others.

We have had too much chaos of late, and for quite some time, and it is now time to slow it, and bring it to a halt. We are going to produce positive harmonic concordances that will assist my kids as they work, and that will help them to stay working in harmony with each other, with your fucking, sucking, eroteming, orgasming, your shooting out of purifying energies as you orgasm, and erotem, and with the increase of the oooohs, and aaaahs, you help to produce, with your practice of my religion.

We have to bring an end to the moronic violence of the Lesbianists. If that requires a lot of my children, making lots of babies, and lots of energies, and percussive forces, when you set off a fracturable rock bomb, then that is what it will take, as you blow Washington DC and the Baltimore metro area off its ocean ledge, and into the Atlantic, with that fracturable rock bomb, if it is big enough. Yes, there will be lots of painful, ouches, and screams, and so forth, but it is trite, compared to the violence these idiots have been perpetrating, over the long span of time that they have been in my universe.

We have been here for a very long time. It is nearly impossible to figure out how long, other than with mathmatical computations. Our brains will burn out, if we try to figure it out in our heads. It does not matter how long we have been here. It does matter what we do while we are here. You are not going any where else, and you are all staying in my universe, so you will all drop your pants, and your dresses, remove your shoes, socks, clothes, underwares, panty hosees, and panties, disrobe, and begin helping others to make lots of ooohs, and aaaahs, and lots of eroteming and orgasming energies. That will be the begining of your getting into line with the rest of us, here in my universe, my kids who work for me. As you eroto with each other, you'll get graded on your performance, and you'll get paid by my kids, once you join our country, as I've explained about, before.

Timed Persuasive Mosture

What is a timed persuasive mosture? It is just keeping every body in synch with each other, persuasively and accurately moving along, orderly, in an ordered fashion or manner, and with every body in rythm and syncopated with each other.

Mosture is a type of motus, or motion or fluidity of movement. The timed fluidity or fluidness of my kids working along in synch with each other, is critical to having every thing in my universe, standing up and sturdy, with every thing holding together, as it should be. Otherwise, if my kids and their work get out of synch, things can come crashing down, and things can come falling apart, and we do not want that.

This is a big universe, and we have a lot of people in it, my kids, and you wouldn't believe how many kids I have. Anyway, they all have to stay in syncopated, fluid motion, with their paces of life perfectly meshing with each other's paces of life, to accomplish their jobs and tasks, in an orderly, and in a fluid movement, harmoniously, and without delays.

The persuasiveness is accomplished with the help of your sexaling, and by your keeping pace, and synching your sexaling activities, and the movements involved in your sexaling activities, and by your spraying out your energies, as you erotem, orgasm, and phlumett. The persuasiveness is also accomplished by your keeping pace in unison with others while you are praying the syncopated phrase, Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo.

Every thing is timed, and so as you activiate, or carry out these activities of sexaling, eroteming, orgasming, phlumetting, as well as the movements involved in sexaling, and as you pray, your synching of your movements and sounds in time and in pace with the syncopated and metered metronome click, click, click, at the timed pace of one thirty seventh and one fifth, on the metronome, approximately, helps to persuasively move, or persuasively drive and push, every body about, and along, as they do their work for me, in their many syncopated paces of life, or life spins. I have many children working at different life spins, as I've mentioned before, and each group of them has a different pace of life, or time spin. Your activiating, as explained, helps drive them along, each at their own pace of life, or time spin, perfectly meshed with every other child of mine, also in his or her, and at his or her own particular time rate of speed, time spin, life spin, or, pace of life.

Every one and every thing must move along in perfect flux, or perfectly meshed with every body, and with every thing that is going on in my universe, on every possible level. There are many levels where activities are going on, and many people are working at different life spins. Every one, no matter what level they are on, and at no matter what life spin they are living at, must stay in flux, perfectly meshed and in perfect harmony, perfectly syncopated with every one, else.

You are rewarded for your helping to move my kids along, in perfect flux perfectly meshing with every one and with every thing that is going on in my universe, with your efforts at sexaling, and with your praying, as explained, earlier.

In our new society, which we will create, you will score earning points, and every thing you do, as you sexal, and so forth, and as you pray, is scored, and a record of your capabilities, or excellence, or lack of excellence, is kept. You are paid according to your work performance, as you sexal, activiate, pray, erotem, orgasm, and phlumett. Also, you are graded on how well you get along with others, and on how well you try to harmonize and then sexalate with others. You score earning points, accordingly, and you get paid, according to how well you perform.

Keeping Every Thing And Everybody In Harmony And In Synch

Explaining how this works, how praying, fucking, sucking, dicking and hugging, etc., helps keep every thing in synch and in harmony and how your efforts are rewarded, is a tiny bit more complicated than my simple explanation, but that is it in a peanut shell.

For those Lesbianists hiding among you who do not wish to surrender, you Lesbianists will find we are not going to be acting kindly towards you. All of you Lesbianists, where ever you are in Washington DC, or hiding underground, or in Paris, or in Rome, Peking, and so forth, you will be dealt with harshly, as we need to put a stop to your activities, and a "maybe" is not acceptable in this case. We are not going to allow you to continue your chaotic, nonsensical, violent activities one moment longer, and we will blow you up flying high up into the sky, and off the ocean ledge down below you, in Washington DC, as we sink your Washington DC area into the ocean, along with all of Northern Virginia, and the ocean coastal area of Maryland and Baltimore, along with large parts of the states of Virginia and Maryland, out to West Virginia, as that area settles down into and below the waves of the Atlantic Ocean, after we bomb it with one or more of my fracturable rocks weapons for mass removal of Lesbianists from the face of the earth and from their hiding places under the surface of the earth. The Lesbianists in the Washington metro area and hiding under it, had all better surrender to my kids, or they will all get their pants and clothes blown off and shredded from their bodies, if they do not, as they are given a free ride out and up into the upper atmospheres of our planet, and then, beyond. All other Lesbianists had better surrender, too, or they risk getting a free ride out, as well.

Deep Sea Ocean Trench Off The East Coast Of The United States

There is a trench that extends south wards from Washington DC, some times reaching 25 miles out in some places, and in other places, it reaches out to eight hundred miles from the shore. In the north, it reaches out in some places, 85 miles out to one hundred and twenty five miles out, to three hundred and fifty five miles out, to eight hundred miles out in some places, in the south.

It is fifteen miles deep when you go out forty five miles off the coast from Washington DC and from the Chesapeak Bay. The ledge bottom is found about three and one half miles down, and the mouth of the opening continues for ten miles, approximately, downwardsly, on the western side of the trench. The It has a gaping mouth, and it opens up and lets ocean water inland, under the continent, eighty five miles down below Washinton DC, three to six to eight miles wide, from top to bottom, from the underside of the top of the mouth, the bottom of the ledge, to the bottom of the mouth. From under the nation's capital, to the south, it travels to over eight hundred and eighty five miles. To the north, it travels three hundred and thirty five miles, to six hundred and fifty miles, to about nine hundred and fifty nine miles, inland under the continent, depending on where you wish to locate the edge of it under the continent, northwardsly. It travels to the west, inland, three hundred and thirty five miles, to just over eight hundred miles, depending on where you find the edge of it. It travels inland further westardsly, the further you travel north. It is slightly over one thousand and eight hundred miles from north to south, in total, as you'll discover, once you explode enough, and after you explode large enough fracturable rock bombs, over Northern Virginia, Maryland, Washington DC, Baltimore, covering the metro area vicinity.

The U.S. Navy, and the U.S. Coastguard know about the trench, or parts of it. They are not allowed to discuss it with anyone. No one is allowed out there, to research it as it is off limits to just about every one. Some navy personel of high rank, and coast guard personel of high rank, are allowed out to take soundings, every now and then, with their Lesbianists' staff members, and Lesbianists' personel in the Navy, and in the Coast Guard. The Soviets, at least, Boris Yeltzin, Vladmir Putin, Mikhael Gorbachev, and Zelda Gorbachev, know about it, and so do all the other Lesbianists. They can confirm it, if they wish to play ball with me, and if they wish to save their asses, after they decide to surrender to my children.

The Shelfs Systems And Trenches Systems

The shelf estends to under Lexington Kentucky, at about ten miles below it. It is five miles up under Chatanooga Kentucky. It is five miles below Washington D.C., in some areas. It is three miles below Baltimore Maryland, in some parts of the city. It is eight miles up below Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. It is fifty five miles up below, or under, West Chesterfield, New York. It comes up to eighteen to thirty miles below McLean Virgina. It is eighty eight miles below Norfolk, and the mouth, downwardsly, is five to ten to fifteen miles wide open, in a downwardsly direction. It some areas, it can be found below Ohio, and under Indiana. It crosses under the West of Kentucky, and into the south of Illinoise, five to ten, to thirty miles. It is a variegated trench system. It extends to Tennissee, parts of North Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and to under parts of Northern and Western Florida, and is open out and into the Gulf of Mexico. The whole area of Eastern U.S.A., is sitting on an open shelf, trench system, and there is water passing below it, and out into the gulf, in several areas, over to eighty five miles west of Corpus Cristi, Glen Garden, population eight hundred and fifty, which south of Galveston, and north of Corpus Cristi, between the two cities. There is a mouth eigty five miles south of Tampa Bay, Florida, in the Gulf of Mexico. There are several openings or mouths to the underground fault line system, and deep sea ocean trench system, and shelfs systems, and water is passing from the Atlantic to the Gulf of Mexico. There is also a trench system in the north, under Niagra, that extends southwards, several hundred miles, and it has many branches to it, and it extends into this system of shelfs, trenches, and under continental water flows.

Side Bender Currents

What is a side bender? It is a current comeing out of the mouth of an opening, from under a continental shelf system, that allows waters to flow out. As the water flows out of the mouth, the outlet current of water, it flows very forcefully in an outwardsly direction, and it pushes the water out with great force, generally. If a submarine is traveling in the vicinity of a side bender, the submarine may get hit broadside, and that will often turn the submarine topsy turvy, and around facing the opposite direction it was traveling in, or another direction, not the one it was traveling in, most often. The crew will get swung about inside the submarine, and they will fly through the cabin, and pounce off the floor to the ceiling, and hit the ceiling, and then hit the sides of the corridor they were walking along in, and finally end up on the floor when the submarine rights itself, with its balast, and you'll get many sprained or stretched ligaments, and broken bones, arms, wrists, fingers, legs, knees, ankles, feet, toes, necks, backs, hips, spinal injuries, and other injuries. It can leave a crew of a submarine nearly one hundred percent, injured and in a ship's hospital, or a Navy or military hospital for recovery. Side benders are often called upwellings of currents by the Navy, but that is not generally the case as they are not upwellings, but they are side pushing currents, that come flowing out from under continental water flow openings, horizontally. There may be some upwards lift involved, if there is a reason, such as a mouth is angled at a slight sloping angle, as it releases the flowing waters out from its tube like cavity or hole.

Crew members and military passengers of Naval submarine vessels are generally told not to talk or discuss any thing about side benders with non Navy persons, and with persons unrelated to their ship or unrelated to their ships voyage, as the governments of the world, do not want any one to find out about side benders, and they do not want people, geologists, marine geologists, undersea deep sea ocean studies researchers, or others, to research and investigate side benders. It's a big secret, these side benders, and that's what the marines, and the navy personel are sworn to keep, or face a fireing squad, on insubordination, or on some trumped up charge of spreading naval secrets, acting as a foreign spy and receiving money, or something like that. Naval personel will generally obey orders, and not discuss side benders, or other 'secret' information, with any one, as they risk losing their job, and they might face a fireing squad, or a hanging patrol, sometimes called a marching platoon, or a hanging platoon, a group of soldiers commissioned to carry out orders to hang some one who is in the military. If you pay a naval officer or enlisted person, or other person with Naval submarine duty, such as some marines, and others, enough money, they may be willing to share some information on side benders, and information about what they know about side benders. Some persons who have had Naval submarine duty, may genuinely not know any thing, such as crew members who are never assigned to submarines that travel near side benders, on a regular basis. Some times family members of enlisted persons and of Naval officers, are allowed to travel on submarines, for fun and excitement, as a special reward for their papa's or mama's duty on a submarine. Some of these family members have also had some experience with side benders, such as those who have traveled on submarines along the Marianna's trench, or other trenches, not listed, neccessarily on global maps, but none the less, which are there, and that are near shelfs systems under sunken continental shelfs, or under sunken continents, but that eject streams of water, nonetheless.

Our maps and globes of the world are incorrect, the ones we buy through bookstores, or from map publishers, as nothing that would indicate sunken continents, large sunken islands, and related trenches, or other related features, are not going to be indicated on them. The Lesbianists do not want you to find out information that could provoke you into researching, under water features, that they do not want you to know about, as your fictious understanding they have taught you, of the surface of this planet, and its history, is bogus, and any thing that would conflict with that, is certainly not going to be indicated on a map they would publish, and the map will be wiped clean of all traces of any thing that conflicts with the 'global' history of the earth, as the Lesbianists teach it, in geology courses for high school students, and below, and above. The global geological history they teach must coincide with their fictious propaganda about Adam and Eve, and "Lucy" the ape woman, the supposed mother of all people living on this planet, and about this earth being only 9 billion years old, or thereabouts, which is a bold faced lie, and other such bullshit notions they have fed every one to swallow, and have forced them to accept, and that they force people to use as primal notions to base scientific research on. The geology of our planet is much more complex than the Lesbianists are letting on to, and there is much to learn about planetary geology, as these planets have been around a very long time, and many things have happened, over and over again to them, and many things have happened to our 'solar systems', and star formations, and star systems, that people need to know more about, to get a realisitic understanding of our universe, its history, and its many complexities. In time, we will learn much more about all these things, and you can attend courses that my children have set up for every one, to teach people about our universe. You need a day pass to visit, as I've explained about, before, and then you should swear in, and become a citizen of our country. We have yet to declare this planet ours, but in time, we will, once we have finished and put an end to the problems associated with the Lesbianists, all of their shenanigans, and their malarkying around. One day we will declare this planet ours, and my kids will take charge of everything, and they will appoint people to posts of duty, and to positions of responsibilities.

Making A Large Swimming Pool

People should begin moving off and out of the area, around the Nation's capital, Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and North Carolina. We'll have a big swimming pool there, with lots of, mostly uninhabited, tiny islets, or hill tops and mountain tops, after all of the current residents die, and pass on and transel over to my Epcot Center, after one of our compatriots, or groups of them, detonate enough of my fracturable rock bombs. People will have to watch out for hungry sharks, after they swim inland, above the sunken landscape, looking for corpses to eat, and to scavenge, as lots of Lesbianists' corpses will come floating up from underground hangouts and cities of the Lesbianists, under those parts of the U.S., and from under the Gulf of Mexico, from under the sea floors of the Atlantic, from under the Niagra trench systems, and from under other trench systems in the Eastern U.S. This is not a joke, by the way.

Stagnasis

Salts kiddies in stagnasis is when the salts kiddies are in their salts kiddies crystals cages, in a hibernative state, in perfect equilibrium, to keep them alive and well, for as long as possible. Salts kiddies crystals cages sciences help you to understand many things about how things work in nature. Please read over my notes on my bulletin board.

Black Powder 'String' Fuses

Take a spool of sewing thread, and use Elmer's glue to coat the string, and run the string with a thin layer of Elmer's glue coated on it, through a bucket of black powder gun powder, which you can order in the mail, over the internet, or pick up at an antique musket or old style 'cap and ball' musket rifles and pistols retail stores.

Elmer's glue and gunpowder will combine to form a minor plastiques explosive, after the salts kiddies mix it up, eat each other up, pee and poop out lots of stuff that is highly explosive, as they get busy making babies, except when gunpowder is used in large quantities with Elmer's glue, to form a major plastiques explosive. Benzine will help this along, with diesel fuels, as well, and with chlorine, we can see some major plastiques explosives in the making, as mama's and papa's begin making lots of children, as they begin mixing it up, and as they all begin pooping and peeing out body fluids that is food for others, that will contribute to the powerfulness and explosiveness of the mixture.

After you make your string fuse, and let it dry out for a couple of weeks, then coat a rag or muslim cloth in oil, or grease, or a mixture of turpentine, gasoline, diesel fuel, and grease, with benzine, and make a paste, and use that paste to coat a thin cloth, such as a muslim cloth, and then let that set and dry for a few days, and then wrap a few sets of 'string fuses' together in a bundle, and place them inside the cloth. It will become a very powerful explosive, in itself, the more gun powder you use with it.

Test it, to see how fast it burns once it is wrapped in a cloth coated with a mixture of grease and fuels. The thicker the grease, the slower it will burn. The thinner the grease mixture, by adding more turpentine, or benzine, or paint thinner, the more rapidly the fuse will burn. You will have a very powerful explosives cocktail, with this mixture, so be careful. You have to be very careful with what you combine, as you'll be bringing together very explosive elements, when you mix these fuels and liquids together with gun powder on a string.

A few string fuses, wrapped in a well soaked cloth, with a mixture of these liquids and the axel grease, will make a type of plastique explosive, that can be used as a shape charge, or a mouldable, or shapeable, explosive, that is good for blowing doors off hinges, such as at pharmacies, or banks, and for blowing locks on private homes' fences to pieces, such as can be found at the White House, at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, D.C., at the entrances and exits gates of the White House where guards are on constant duty patroling the area for security purposes. An initial explosive, a detonated fracturable rocks bomb, small in size, may cause a concusive force to cause the guards to black out, and pass out, and then sleep for a while. Be very careful with the size of the bomb, as we do not want to level the homes and buildings surrounding the White House, or across from it in Layfayette Park. After you put them to sleep, with your initial blast, you can test the shape charge on the nearby fences, at the White House.

Black Powder 'Cap And Ball' Pistols

Most black powder cap and ball pistols and rifles, muskets, sellers and retail outlets can be found on the internet, and some gun shops carry black powder, as well as the detonating fireing caps, for black powder rifles, and pistols. Many of them do, and you can purchase the black powder and copper detonating, ignition caps, for useing in your cap and ball pistol, or musket, or other, more modern, hunting rifle, that allows you to use black powder, and detonating copper caps that slip on a small round fireing ignition nipple that is made out of steel, and has a hole in it, to allow the percussive explosives in the firing copper igniting cap to ignite on impact with the hammer on the weapon, when it slams down on it, and the flames from the igniting explosives mixture, glued to the inside of the firing copper cap, then ignite the black powder, that was rammed down the barrel, or packed and tamped down in a cylinder of a percusive black powder cap and ball pistol. The caps are fairly useless, unless you wish to add them to a fuel oils, chlorine formula, and let them sit in the fuel oils mixture, and that will help develop plastique, as well.

Higher Temperatures Develop More Useful Energies For Making Babies

The copper in the cap will also allow for a higher temperature in burning, when the fuels mixture ferments after a few weeks. Magnesium in the cap as well, will also help to raise the burning temperature of the fuels mixture, and with some black powder added, and with some chlorine added, your plastiques recipe will become even more useful. These higher temperatures will help to produce energies that will be conducive to baby making among the fracturable, or rupturable, and percussive, rocks radiological salts kiddies. You can then add a handful or more of powderized amethysts, or turquoise, that you can purchase in bulk, on Ebay, for some small bulk quantities, and also emeralds are useful, as they all have fracturable rocks kiddies embedded in them, and fast asleep, in stagnasis.

Zircon Diamonds, And Other "Radio Active" Gem Stones, Etc.

Zirconium is a mineral that they use for the fake diamonds they sell with the trade name, Zircon diamonds, or Zirconium diamonds. You can powderize them, and use them for a good amount of fracturable rocks explosives, large and fast family making, salts kiddies, for a 'nuclear' party, and a send off to the eastern coast of the United States, before it is blown off the coastal ledge it sits upon, and then sinks below the ocean waves, if you strike it hard enough, with one or more of my fracturable rocks babies making, "nuclear" salts kiddies bombs. You'll need a few handfuls of Zicon diamonds, powderized, to make a nice fracturable rocks, babies making bomb. You can mix turquoise, emeralds that are mined and sold in bulk quantities on Ebay, amethyst, and the other rocks that I've mentioned, along with powderized 'sand' from the beach. Argentina, and Venezuela, Baha, and Southern California are good places to collect useful sands, full of fracturable rocks, salts kiddies, that a geiger counter will detect, if it is a sensitive enough geiger counter.

Geiger Counters And Their Usefulness

They are not too hard to build, but you will have to look in your Popular Mechanics magazines, for the details on how to build a "geiger counter". Some mining stores, and mining outfitters stores, may be a useful places to order or purchase a geiger counter, if you are on a family budget. You might find one on the cheap, on Ebay, that is still useable.

There are some kits available, if you look hard enough, to use to build your own geiger counter. A mining outfitters store, in South America, or in Central America, or in Utah, or in Nevada, may be able to help you locate a kit, to put together, if you go in there, and pretend you want to go out and look for interesting rocks, and you need some information on where to look for interesting rocks, so go to a mining outfitters store, or to a rock hounding club, or rock hounding retail store, for looking at beautiful stones that rock collectors, or rock hounds, have found, and made available at the store. Usually the store owner will have his or her suppliers, on name cards, and you can get in touch with them to get more information on where to look for interesting rocks to test with your geiger counter, since you are facinated by radioactive elements in rocks, and you are interested in finding some, for a collection you wish to start.

You might want to pick up some primer books, on minerals and rocks, gems, and gemstones, from Amazon online, or from a local book store, such as Barnes and Nobel book store, which has a few useful books on rocks, mineral rocks, gems, and gemstones, that you can find when you are out rock hounding. Desert Outfitters in Las Vegas, a miner's outfitters store, that also provides useful tools to rock collectors, such as rock hammers, and hand held pick hammers, for chipping away at rocks, to see what is under the surface of the rock, or under the peel of it, the outer layer, as well as terrain maps, and outfitting supplies, tents, and sleeping bags, and so forth, has these types of books, and lots of maps, and maybe they can help you find useful kits to purchase, to build yourself a geiger counter. They also sell geiger counters for about three hundred and fifty dollars or so. Sears used to sell Geiger Counters, and they still can order them for you, I think, through their catalogs. On Ebay, you can find many reasonably priced Geiger Counters. How well the geiger counters work, the ones people sell on Ebay, I can't say, so you'll have to talk with sellers, and see what they say about the geiger counters they are selling to others on Ebay, or read about them in old copies of popular mechanics, and in trade publications for the mining industry.

Novice And Amateur 'Rock Hounding' Rock Collectors Clubs

On Sahara, east of Las Vegas Boulevard, there is a rock shop, which is about two and one half, or so, blocks down from the intersection, on the north side of the street, and they have information, as well as lots of primer books, on rocks, and on geiger counters, and where you can find them. They are well connected to the local rock and gem, minerals and gems finding, or rock hounding clubs. You can meet their members, and go out with them, on excursions, as they know where to find just about anything.

There are similar clubs in every major city, and in lots of smaller cities. Mining towns of course have lots of mining outfitters stores, and they probably have geiger counters for sale, so you can use it to find some very nice, fracturable rocks, along coastlines, or in ancient dry lakes and seas, sediments filled, rock hounding areas.

Decontaminating Your Self With Ocean Salts

Acidic ocean salts in ocean water will help eat up the radiological kiddies that find their way into your bodies, and that make you feel ill. It might take several weeks for initial recovery, with you taking large amounts, several teaspoons or more, as much as you can handle, in your diet, every day, for up to three to eight years, to thirteen years, for severe contamination, and for full recovery. Other things, such as nutmeg, and oregano, in a salty tea brew, will also help you, and marijuana in the salty tea brew, will further help you. Berries can also be of great benefit for recovery from radiological salts kiddies contamination.

My kids have a recovery kit, that will help you recover from an overdose of radiological salts kiddies, after a major birthing event, and that kit will help you fully recover. You need to join our country, and swear in, and become a citizen, to be given one of these kits to help you for your recovery. They can provide you with information, of various kinds, once you swear in. They have you swear in as full time citizens, now, except in special cases.

Ancient Dry Lakes

There are many ancient dry lakes, up north, in the colder areas, of Manitoba, and around the edges of wet lakes, you'll find areas that dried out, a long time ago, and you'll find interesting things in the sediments deposits under the surface soils of the earth, that have covered most areas, and that come in to our atmosphere, and then deposit themselves onto the surface of our planet, as they are blown in on the solar winds. A few feet of top soil may cover the dry lake areas, around the edges of these lakes, and the soils depths may reach to twelve feet, to fifty feet, to sixty or to eighty of more feet, in some areas.

Once you hit the sediments layers, around the edges of these lakes, outwards to eight to fifteen miles, to thirty miles or further, out to up to eight hundred miles, as in the case of Lake Erie, and that lakes region, the Great Lakes, that all use to be one large salt water sea, but is now, a fresh water set of lakes, you can begin looking for the radiological bullets of the previous catastrophes in my universe, that shot out radiological salts kiddies, into the sediments rocks of mineral stones, and sand. Gravels might contain some "radioactive" fracturable rocks, and you can tell which are the useful ones, with a geiger counter. There are still salt water lakes up in Manitoba, Lake Huron, and some others, that used to be part of Lake Erie, and all part of the Great Lakes, when they were a large, salt water sea, but which are now, no longer part of that lake region system of lakes, as fresh water now fills up the Great Lakes from under ground water systems of fresh water flows.

Hydrolific Pressures From Water Falls

Hydrolific pressures, from water falls, primarily, help to erode and carve out and build the under continent open areas of water flows, that flow under the continents, and that dump their waters by traveling underground, in culvers, and channels, and in trenches systems, and then flowing out and into the oceans, resulting in side benders currents and flows.

Underground Lakes

Hydraulisis is one type of water pressures. Hydrolific pressures are those pressures created by water beating down, steadily, as water falls from higher to lower places, creating underground holes, and large open underground cavities, and water holding vessels, aquafirs, and underground lakes in the underground rock layers. Lots of cities sit on top of such underground lakes, on the crust of the surface of the earth, or very near to them. The lakes are often ovular and rounded in shape, from top to bottom. Many former water falls, are now low lying, and flat, and there is no water fall on the river, except for minor, cascades, such as found in the Grand Canyon Rift Valley down the Colorado River, and out into the Baha area.

Baha Mexico

Baha is a good place to go looking for interesting, "radio active", or radiological rocks, fracturable rocks with radiological salts kiddies sleeping soundly, embedded into other rocks, after colliding with them, in a hail of radiological rocks bullets, after a planet or a galaxy, or a large nebular star system, or a cluster of them, were detonated, by some fool with a huge and powerful, home made bomb. This happened, often, in the past, and still, today, it happens, now and then. Bits and pieces of the radiological rocks will come flying in, and then embed themselves into other rocks, as I've explained about, before. We've had so many catastrophes in my universe, that our ancient rocks, are peppered with radiological rocks that are embedded in them. Off the coast of Baha, is a good place to go diving, looking for rocks that were washed off shore, as waters flowed down the Colorado River, trinities of aeons ago, when this planet was still a young planet, maybe about one fifth the way through its infancy, after reforming, again, after its last major impact that shattered it to pieces, for the umpteenth kazillionth, plus more, time. This shattering and reforming, has been going on too long to count, and obviously, there is a large amount of mixturing going on, with debris from other star systems, galaxies, nebulas, and so forth, floating in, and becomeing part of our planets, all around and about, on solar winds. You'll find rocks on the inside of the Baha coast, and on the outside, as well, and along the Baha coasts. You might have to dig down thirty of fifty feet, to a few hundred feet to find them, maybe eight hundred feet, or sixteen hundred feet, or further, but you'll eventually find something useful with lots of radological bullets embedded in the rocks.

Finding Good Rocks With 'Radiological' Salts Kiddies Bullets

You can find interesting rocks, also on high hilltops, such as in the Andes, the Himalaya's, the Swiss Alps, high mountains in Austria, and in Germany, high hill tops and mountains in Iran, maybe in Afganistan, and the very high hill tops, that are generally old hills, in many countries. They will usually have, if they are very old hill tops, lots of rocks scattered about that are very old, and that have lots of fracturable 'radiological' salts kiddies 'bullets', from previous detonations around my universe, and other related kiddies in them, as well. You can also find them along ancient river beds, and along dried up desert gulley washes, in the valleys between the mountains, in areas where tall, old mountains exist. You might have to dig down into the underlying layers of rocks to find really ancient rocks loaded and peppered with ballistic radiological 'bullets', tiny fragments of radiological materials that went shooting out upon detonation of nuclear materials, elsewhere in my universe. Lava or basalt rocks, may also contain large numbers of radiological salts kiddies, and other types of kiddies related to radiological salts kiddies. Iron stone is a basalt rock, granites are also, and samples of them may be loaded with radiological salts kiddies, etc. Geiger counters will let you know if your sample rock material is pacted full and loaded with the tiny radiological 'bullets', or just partially loaded with them, depending on the response from the geiger counter. Many types of radiological materials, the bullets fragments, may not register on current day geiger counters, as they are not set to the correct radiological energies frequencies and currents settings to be able to detect them in the rocks. There are many types of radiological rocks in my universe, and current day geiger counters are set to pick up the currents and frequencies of the energies from only a few types of them, and there are thousands of types of radiological materials, so the older the rocks that you find, the more likely that the loads of radiological materials in them will be high in not only the types of radiological materials the geiger counter can detect, but also, in the types of radiological materials the geiger counters are not set to the frequencies and energies currents of. Such samples of rocks materials with large amounts of fracturable rocks, radiological 'bullets' inside of them, will yield massive explosive potentials, if you raise the heats energies of your explosives formula, to near solar temperatures, as I've mentioned about.

Plastiques, Explosives, Radiological 'Bullets', 'Nuclear Detonations', And Decontaminating Yourself Of Radiological Salts Kiddies

Please see my web pages for information on making plastique, along with metals fragments, and high temperature burnoff minerals mixtures explosives to produce the energies needed to produce nuclear detonations. Field chemists and explosives experts should be consulted, as they will probably know more about the temperatures at which different metals and minerals burn at and they will be more helpful in providing you with accurate information on different alloys mixtures, and the temperatures they burn at, such as the new US Mint US dollar coins, that will burn at extremely high temperatures, at about one fifth to one third the temperatures of solar temperatures, when ground into fine dusts fragments, and then after fermenting them, and then mixing the fermented particles in with the petrol fuels, chlorine, and gun powder, etc., plastiques explosives formulas, as I've explained about, to some extent, in my notes on my Gurkian Age Gurkian Way bulletin board. Be very careful when testing, as you may find the results extremely hazardous. See my kids, for more information, as I've explained about, on my bulletin board. Ocean salt will help to decontaminate you of radiological salts kiddies. A two hundred pound man will need about three pounds of ocean salt on a daily basis, to live healthfully. To decontaminate yourself, you will need more than that, to properly get rid of the radiological salts kiddies in your bodies, after you've been working with radiological salts kiddies, and testing the explosives potentials, for some time.

See my bulletin board for more information on the 'salts kiddies sciences' to help you to understand what is going on in so called, 'nuclear detonations'.

Sledgehammering Continents And Land Areas Where Lesbianists Live, Hiding Below

Here are a few places to place some other fracturable rocks bombs on, to make them fall in, and collapse down onto the layers of rocks, below, and then puncture the ceilings of the cavernous cities the Lesbianists have made, down below those lower rocks layers. Topango in the South Pacific near the Marianas, the area midway between the Ryukyu Islands and Haha Jima, Chichi Jima, and Iwo Jima, where you will find a sunken continent, Wellington New Zealand, Peking, Falklands, Urals Mountains, Chile thirty miles north of Concepcion and eighty miles east of it, near the Argentina border, and the Kamchatka pennisula, which will split and collapse in the center of it, midway down the penninsula, if you hit it hard enough. Lesbianists will come floating up, if their bodies can fit between the tons of debris that will fall in on them, as you smash the land sites that sit on top of ocean shelfs, and on open lakes below the land, some miles down from the surface, in some cases, and further down, in other cases.

It may be hard or impossible to deliver a nice bomb below the ocean above or onto the top of the sunken continent below the ocean, between the Ryukyu Islands, or Okinawa, and the islands of Japan, called, Chichi Jima, Haha Jima, and Iwo Jima. If one can be delivered there, you'll crush the continent below the surface of the ocean, and that will cave in on the cities, there are more than one there, that are below the protected shelf layer of rocks, above the cities the Lesbianists have there, below the sunken continent, to live comfortably in. The other places aren't so hard to hit. It is just a matter of local interest, and urging of the people there, to take the correct action to help us to resolve this problem, of Lesbianists living below us, all around the globe, in their honey comb, bee hive like canival of cities.

A canival of cities, is a large collection of cities that is located in such a way as to make it easy to get from one place to another. They are conveneint for them to live in as they are well placed, and spread out evenly, using the full extent of the area, as efficiently as possible. The Lesbianists have a canival of cities under the lower rock shelf layers, that are above them, and that help to keep them protected, warm, dry for the most part, but not always, and that are conveniety located each one in a bee hive like, configuration, well placed, with a well designed, layout, with central cities, and with satelite cities. It is well designed and resembles in part, Melbourne Australia, which was laid out, planned and designed as a modern city. The Lesbianists of course, think Melbourne is puny compared to their accomplishments, and of course, with the technologies they had and have available to them, from time to time, they made good use of every inch of space they have available to them, under the lower hard rock, but leaky rock layers above them.

My kids have places and locations maps of all the best places to locate your home built fracturable rock bombs, and so please pick up the information from them, after you have sworn in, as citizens of our country. Also, please see my earlier notes on the sciences that support a correct understanding of radiological particals based fracturable rocks explosives and other helpful and useful explosives you'll need to set off the fracturable, also called, rupturable rocks bombs, i.e., the so called 'nuclear' detonations.

Topsoils

Did you know that nearly 99.9999+ percent of the earth's crust, or mantle, is formed from space debris that has floated in on the solar winds? It's true. Only about 0.000001 percent of the top soil is from local vegetation, globally speaking. The rest of the top soil comes in from above, blown in on the solar winds, as debris from other planets that have been destroyed, crushed, or blown to pieces by idiots with very large bombs, that demolished whole galaxies, or multiples of galaxies, in a few milliseconds, as the instant they blew up, they were so well made, or constructed, and so powerful, they instantly blew up the whole area of galaxies the planet was located amongst.

If for instance, you fill up one third of the large tourist attraction, the meteor crater in Arizona, with one of these fuels and rocks bombs, and ignite it, you'll disentegrate all of the Milky Way, and some what more than that, in one attempt, by my estimation, if the fracturable rocks bombs were made well enough with the fuels bombs, to burn at near or close to, solar temperatures, and if there were enough materials in the fracturable rocks, to get lots of mama's and papa's making lots of babies, relatives, and others. There are lots of different types of salts kiddies in fracturable rocks, and there are other types of kiddies, the radiological kiddies, which are sometimes, but maybe are not always, grouped with the fracturable rocks kiddies. There are many types of kiddies living in radiological rocks. When we send high heats waves energies, and other types of energies into the fracturable rocks, we can get many types of kiddies to begin making babies. If we get enough of the different types of kiddies to begin making babies, we will have one fine and dandy, explosive shower of baby making events. You can get further information on this topic from my kids, and if you tell your friends to check in with my kids, and to swear in, and become citizens of my and my kids' new country, along with other people who are swearing in, and becomeing citizens of our new country, my kids will make certain that every one is protected, and no one is caught outside, when the bombs go off, as my kids will tractor you and all the other citizens in, with my kids advanced teletransportation technologies, before any one can get hurt by the bomb or bombs blowing up, locally, or in their areas. That means, my worker unionized kids are very quick on getting people into the encapsulated living environment every one is living in, below the ground, that my kids built for every one to live in, until we get this problem straightened out, and until it is safely over with. People can continue to live in the encapsulated living environment, after it is over, as we are going to start a new economic and social system, and we are getting started, down below, where my kids are keeping the encapsulated living environment, well taken care of and well managed.

Later on, we'll worry about who comes out, and when, as we have plans for every one, to begin working inside the encapsulated living environment, which is very well designed, and bomb proof, of course. Once every one gets accustomed to the new way of living, in accordance with my religious principals, and in accordance with our new working and living programs, when people have saved up enough money, they can pool their money, and acquire a lease for land up above, on the surface, and then with more money, they can have nice places designed for them, and built for them, with your input and with your instructions. You will need to study designing homes, and layouts of homes, for large numbers of people, as you will be required to live in groups of people, as the old systems of living, one husband, one wife, and so forth, is out the window, and now we are going for group living, with many members to your groups. When you have got the maturity together to live in large groups, and to sexal with many people in large groups, then you will qualify, and then with lots of earned income, pooled together, you and the members in your group, can then move up and live on the surface, in your well designed home, which my kids will use their technologies to build for you.

This is how we are going to clean up our planet, and get started with a whole new system for living and working with each other, as GOD's children working and living together, begining here, and spreading, slowly, across and throughout my universe, as we bring others into our program, all across the universe, from end to end, from top to bottom, and from side to side, and in every nook and cranny of my universe. All of my kids, you, who I am speaking to, will learn to live and work together, supporting my worker unionized kids, in our new global, united, and universal society, we will begin to build, on this planet, first, and then later, every where else. I am the mother and father of all of you, and of all of my worker, unionized kids, as well, all of my kids who work for me, of course, and of all of my living beings, and of all of my animals. We are going to get this big family of ours, together, and we, the human beings, will begin to clean up our universe, by sexaling for a living, and with many other living by the points systems programs, and other projects. We will also begin to get our heads on straight with religious activitiating, in other words, by participating in religialing, in groups, or by oneself, in the encapsulated living environment, first.

As we move along, in time, we will develop our working strengths, and character, and some people will qualify, eventually, for working in my religious brigade, once they realize and understand who I am, i.e.,

GOD. Others, who do not give a darn about what I am doing, may do as they like, as long as they are citizens of our country, and as long as they enjoy what they are doing, and as long as they add to the welfare of all people in our society, universal wide, as we build it, larger and larger, for all of my children, no matter who they are. We will one day have all of my children, working for me, and if they do not like working for me, they still have to pay the fees for the resources they use, just as I have to, and that means, there is a charge for every thing we use, and it is detucted from our pay checks. Every one gets a pay check, if they work, and if they are disabled, they will get earnings to support them, for as long as they need to be supported, until they are regroverated, healthy, fit, mentally prepared, and willing and able to participate. Those who do not wish to participate, will work in jail cells, and prison cells, sexaling for a living, with animals, as I've mentioned before, and at carnival and entertainment centers and districts, we will eventually set up, first on and also inside of this planet, in 'encapsulated' carnival and entertainment parks, and later on and within, other planets.

We are going to have all my children working for me, eventually, as I've spoken about before, and in time, most people will wish to work, and when they are mentally prepared to work, they will enjoy their working, most likely, as sexaling for a living, is not a unwholesome way to earn a living, and it is a pure and holy way to earn a living, and a pure and holy way to spend our time, as part of our new working ethics environement. For more information on this, please see my worker, unionized kids, who handle the information hot lines, in our, and your, and their, as well, encapsulated, living environement, which they have built, maintain, and manage, for all of you, and which they are continuing to build and expand on, for the rest of you, who have not checked in with them, yet. My worker, unionized kids have their own places to live, inside of the molecules that are used in building your living environment, and in your bodies, and in the molecules outside your living environement, as well. They live in all of the molecules, all over my universe, and they work in them, as well. They have their own universes, that they live in, which are all contained with in the molecules in my universe. It is a little more complicated than that, and so see them for more information on it, if you are interested in learning more.

Disintegrating The Milky Way

The Milky Way is made up of not one galaxy, but of several thousand, of different sizes. We don't have the technologies to see too clearly to distinguish the different galaxies that are within the borders of the Milky Way, nebular star system and nebular star cluster system, another way of saying that the Milky Way is a collection of many nebular star systems. Nebular star systems can be considered similar to galaxies, but maybe not always, as there are exceptions to every thing in most cases, any way. We are of course part of the Milky Way, I suppose you could say that, but we are far out on the outer fringes of it, and we are not any where near the center of it, and we have our own galaxy we are a part of, and it is not part of the Milky Way, so technically, we are not part of the Milky Way, although we might like to think we are, since it is an expansive set of star systems, and star clusters, nebular systems, and other types of solar bodies systems, and it covers over us, and beyond us, sort of over layering us. Be that as it may, we do not want to blow up or disintegrate the Milky Way, as we are in a way, part of it, or at least, we are encovered by it. Encover means to be covered over by something and encased within it, or to be encircled or surrounded by it.

Retraction

Tom Selleck is not a Lesbianist but he was a Lesbianist, until the Lesbianists killed him, after expelling him from their group, and after torturing him with their many heinous torture methods.

Lay Order Of People

I have no lay order of worshippers, who participate with me, in any thing, or in any way. Why? Because, that's like me, the captain of the ship, coming into a town of persons who I don't know, and then saying that I'm the authority over them. No one is going to listen to me, and no one should be expected to listen to me. I wouldn't attempt any such thing, and so as the captain of my ship, my religious order, I have no authority over lay persons. I have nothing to do with lay persons, what so ever. I will never have any thing to do with lay persons, unless they realize that I am GOD, and that I am the mother and father of all human beings, and all animals, and all living beings. No one is going to recognize me as GOD, for a long time, as no one has the karma to recognize and understand that I am GOD. Lay persons are free to do as they like, and I have no regulations concerning them, in my religious order. My children may have many regulations, for non religious order people, but I don't have any thing to do with that.

Donations For The Sake Of My Ministry

The only thing is, that, as I said before, if a person recognizes and understands that I am GOD, and that I am the Mother and Father of all human beings, all animals, and all living beings, then they are free to donate cookies to me, or clothes, or wearables, socks, and scarfs, or coats, sweaters, or slacks, neckties, and so forth, cakes, or cupcakes, baked items, or financial contributions, or chairs, and furniture, beds, linens, tables, office furniture, phones, phone lines wiring, electrical wiring, plumbing items, housing items, for building up a house, paved drive ways, mason or rock walls, surrounding the property, or a set of dormitories, or a prayer sexaling room, or a prayer ceremonialing room, or a swimming pool, sauna, bath house, toilet facilities, bathing facilities, laundering facilities, a root cellar, a molds and funguses workshop, a brewery workshop, or any workshop for helping to educate others, the land to build these things on, or money, or whatever. If some one recognizes and understands that I am GOD, then it is perfectly alright, to donate any types of items, or any thing of value, that would assist my ministry to get up and get running. As yet, no one has understands or recognizes me as GOD, and that I am GOD, and the mother and father of all human beings, all animals, and all living beings, so as yet, I have not heard from one person, not a letter, or a phone call, other than an occasional wise cracking person, mischief maker, or a person or persons who are worried, and then complain to me, or rather, to my answering machine, typically, as I don't pick up the phone, now, as I had one person calling who was a bad kid of mine, and he was just looking for trouble, and since that, I just ignore all complaints, or wise crackers, or mischief makers, and so on.

Nollicking Foolish People

Some people do not like me wearing my GOd cap, that is one of those specialty base ball caps, but with 'GOd' written across the front of it, and they might hate me, especially some South American or Central American Hispanic types, who have primitive and backwards religions and filled with local lore and ancient tales of demons, and goblins, and gooney bears, or ghostly ghouls, or other superstitious ideas and notions of things that go 'boo!' in the night, and try to scare or hurt people, as there are plenty of folklorish tales of such things, in primitive cultures, that thrive, even at the current time, nowadays, in large cities, even, and these types of people might want to kill me, and when they knock on my door, with their gun in their pocket, or in their hand, machete or knife behind their back, I just ignore them, and I don't even bother to get up from my work bench, i.e., my bed, to see who is knocking at the door, as I know already, they have nothing to do with my monastic order, and because they have nothing to do with my religious ministry, or with my setting up my religious ministry.

Just last night, some group of people droped by, and banged on my door, with the tip or barrel of a weapon, and it was rather hard sounding, and I just ignored them, and after a few minutes, or so, they went away, and they haven't come back, yet. I don't think they will, and even if they do, I don't think it will amount to any thing, as I may have occaisonal visitors or harrasment calls, now and then, but that's all they are, and I just won't allow my self to be bothered by them as they are unimportant, and my goof ball kids, are just too nutty to figure out that I am GOD, and that they are my kids. Nevertheless, these goof ball kids are here or there, and I get lots of compliments about my hat, and usually, if not always, the person giving me the compliment wishes to steal the hat from me, and then rob me, in any other way, he or she can, and then beat me up, if he or she can. Well, I can't let these types of things get to me, and I just ignore them, as I walk by them, and I don't reply or return any statements to them, except a polite, 'thank you' if they gave me a compliment about my hat, but that's about all, and I might mutter something, like, and well, so that's just another one of my goof ball kids, or something to that effect.

Nollicking And Nollygaging

Nollicking means idiotic and foolish people who are wasting their time, for accomplishing nothing. It's like, nolly gaging, but nollygaging, is just wasting time, foolishly, and while you are nollygaging, you are looking for some way to make a profit, from your use of your time. Scanderously, you try to extort money from others, or force others to give you money, you do not have any right to. That's nollygaging, as I can recall, at the moment.

Goof Ball Kids, Their Mischievousness, And Maliciousness

Well, I have all kinds of kids, and many of them are malicious, if you give them a chance, so I just stay away from all of them, as I know most every one of my children, is malicious, from time to time, if given the chance, and I think that applies to all of them, regardless of their age, at some point in their life, they will commit crimes of one kind of another, against others, and not think much about it, except that, they just had to take care of that, as they wouldn't be happy, if they hadn't. Okay, so every one of my kids, at one time or another, will do goofey or goof ball things, and not think much about it. That's the way it is. There is nothing to be surprised about, as every one, and I don't care who they are, every one, does things they shouldn't do.

Me, personally, I get angry, and say nasty things, and make myself sound gruff, now and then, and maybe I shouldn't, but I just feel compelled to do that, when I have a righteous conviction that some one deserves my speaking up and telling them off. Well, you feel sorry about it, afterwards, if you hurt some one's feelings, but then that's the way it goes, and no one is perfect, so it's just. Let's try to live and let live, and live together in peace, and cut out the naughtyness, and stop the mischiefness, if we at all possibly can, and apologise if the opportunity presents itself. That's always the best way to handle things. Most people, after they kill someone, can't appologise, and young girls and boys, and older girls and boys, think nothing of killing people, or having some one killed, for them, and then of course, there is no way for any one to appologise to the dead person, since that person is in my Epcot Center. Well, we can't do too much about that, can we, but we can try to be kinder, and not kill as much as we feel we must to be happy.

More Than Ninety Five (95) Percent Of The Homicides In The World, Some Times As High As Ninety Eight (98) Percent, Or Even Higher, Go Unreported, And Are Therefore, Not Investigated

It's too bad that we kill others, and torture others, but that's the way my goof ball kids live in my universe, and despite what people might wish to think, to the contrary, it happens every day, in every city, town, hamlet, county, district, or where ever. My goof ball kids are killing people, right and left, and there are just so many deaths, the police don't hear the ninety five (95) percent of them, or so, as they never learn about it. The percentage of homicides the police do not hear about, is perhaps just a little higher, but in any case, no one should be surprised, as that is how my goof ball kids get along with one and each other, and they have been getting along with one and each other, that way, for a very long time, already, so it will not stop, any time soon, and that's just the way things are, for now. The Lesbianists are responisible for just about eighty five percent of those homicides.

Labrynthine Cities Below Us Where Lesbianists Live, And Laugh At All Of Us

The Lesbianists living below us, in their cavernous, labryinthine cities, that are below the hard rock layers, well below the oceans, and other bodies of water, far below the continents, go around, and mess with every one, and they play with people, and they think they have the right to amuse themselves by useing the citizens of this planet, any old way they like. They go around, and set up phoney wars, and they watch the citizens of each country, kill each other, on their commands. The Lesbianists enjoy playing these kinds of games, and they set up civilization after civilization, and they bring it along, and help to develop it, and when they get it to a high enough level, they feel a sense of accomplishment, and then they watch and amuse themselves as they destroy what they built up, and the people who are living, unawares of them. The Lesbianists think it is funny, that the Lesbianists feed the lies about our universe, and the lies about science, to every one, and the Lesbianists think they have the right to bafoonerize every person who comes into our world, as a tummy baby, who is on his or her way in, and in fifty to eighty or so years, is on his or her way out.

Why Do Continents Sink? Why Do Land Masses Rise?

Load transference technologies, and partical transference technologies, redistribute the loads on the internal network of underground cities the Lesbianists live in, to keep them perfectly centered, when ever there is a major uplifting, or down plunging, of continental mass, rocks, and earth, that would cause continents to sink and continents or land masses to rise. Movements of 'earthen matter' or rocks and dirt is accomplished with load transference technologies, and other technologies, such as partical dismissive technologies, and partical remissive technologies. This way, a planet can move, inwardsly, as a continent sinks, after the underlying rock layers are washed away due to hydrolific pressures, and not destroy the underground labrythine cities. My kids also use the same technologies, and other technologies, for maintaining the integrity of their underground encapsulated living environment.

The sinking of the continent pushes downwardsly, and as it falls, it exerts high intensity pressures on the underlying layers of rocks, stones, pebbles, sands, sediments, clays, metals, minerals, and so forth. The pressures will normally push downwardsly, and outwardsly, and shifting of materials, occurs, and land masses rise, as a result.

When you have an underground city, or collection of them ringing the planet, when the pressures occur, and when the materials begin to shift, you redistribute the materials, using advanced sophisticated technologies, that will shift the particals in the directions they need to move, and distribute them so that they will not interfere with the structural integrity of the undergound labrynthine, and perfectly, geometricly laid out city dwellings and living habitats. It's high tech stuff, and so if you don't understand how partical dismissive technologies work, or if you do not understand how partical remissive technologies work, you will have a hard time understanding how this is accomplished. There are other technologies, that also must be employed, to work in an integrated manner with the partical dismissive and partical remissive technologies. All of these technologies, working in an integrated manner, will perfectly redistribute all the particals of rocks, and so forth, that need to be redistributed. The technologies keep the ring of cities perfectly centered within the earth. If there is a need for downsizing of the interconnected labrinthine layout of cities, that is also accomplished with these technologies. Downsizing may occur for any number of reasons. I've briefly explained what can happen as comets and asteroids pass by our planet, at amazing speeds, and that we can lose some or part of our planet, mountains, terrain, and lakes full of water, with a pass by, by a solartoid, or planetary sun, as it wizzes by at a phenomenal speed. Once the planet restabilizes, the downsizeing process begins. Even though there may be continental shifts, of uprising and down plunging events, and large, cometary passbys, with the technologies that are available to the Lesbianists to use, on a 'for lease' option, the integrity of the underground labrynthine layout of cities, is kept in tact, as best as possible. The technologies that accomplish this for the Lesbianists, that keep their cities perfectly situated, are not on lease, any more, and they have lost their lease on the technologies that would allow them to keep their cities perfectly protected, and perfectly centered. Some areas may not be too livable, for them, as leaky ceilings cause waters to accumulate, below, and they must trudge through salty ocean water, knee deep, in places, and in other places, the water is too deep to allow them safe passage down one tube, or trammel system transportation pass through tube, to a city or to cities which were previously accessable.

The Leases On Their Technologies Are Expiring

The leases on the technologies that they have been using, and that were assigned to them, after they swore in, and pledged to live on this planet, and pledged to sexal for a living have been expiring for some time, already, and will continue to expire for some time, to come. Because this was a newly formed planet, before they arrived, but after it recongealed, after it was shattered to pieces by a passing cometoid that ran smack into it, as I've explained about, or touched on, a couple of times, before, see my notes on the web, once the planet stabilized, and became a livable planet, they first needed to live underground, where they could live, and slowly over time, adjust to the types of solar radiations, and other factors that they would need to adjust to to be able to one day come out from down underneath the surface of the planet and begin to live above ground. The rock layers, land, and bodies of water above shielded them from potentially harmful radiation. The living area below, also had built in protection systems to help protect them from the radiative energies that could harm them. After they adjusted to the conditions of the planet, they could come out, and as they continued to sexal for a living, other technologies would allow them to build large cities, for them to habitate in, as they continued in the sexaling for a living program. The cities that my kids built for them, that my kids have the permissions to use for these programs, are now down under the rock layers, all crumpled up, or they have passed into the molten core, and have been spewed out, as basaltic lava, as the Lesbianists did not hold to their pledge, and they broke the law, and the maintenance of their above ground cities, was terminated. With continental uplifitings, and downplungings occuring, over the long period of time, they lost their cities, and now they have only the underground, initial landing zone area, dwellings and habitats, that have down sized, some what, since their initial landing for occupation of this planet, in the sexaling for a living program. They broke all the rules, and they developed their own sham governments on this planet, and they went about, causing mayhem and destruction, every opportunity they got.

The leases that they signed on to, and that were assigned to them, that they had on the initial landing zone technologies, as well as all their other leases, that were assigned to them are now in the process of being cancelled. That means, that, their underground cities are being shut down, slowly over time, - thus the leaky roofs - and they will have to move out, and move to the surface, as the underground systems, begin to falter, shut down, and fail, one after another.

This happens to them, repeatedly, life after life, and the end result is they destroy them selves. The hideous, hungry animals they illegally brought from other planets will get lose, and then they will help to hurry the demise of their world civilization, which means, every one of the Lesbianists will die on this planet. After the Lesbianists destroy themselves, they will end up in my Epcot Center, and they will come back out as tummy babies, to tummy mommies and to tummy daddies, who have karma that matches up with theirs, and then they will repeat their old mistakes, again, and again.

As the usefulness of the Lesbianists' underground labrynthine cities declines, as leases expire on the technologies that were assigned to them, and as other leases, will also be expireing, over the next few years, to ten or twelve to fifteen years, to thirty eight years, to fifty nine to sixty to eight five years, and then finally, when the last of their leases expire, some time, not too long after that, up to two hundred to eight hundred years, or so, and then there are still a few that will remain active, until every one is expected to move out, within a few thousand years, eight to eleven thousand years, as they must be given time to build up their own new civilization on the surface of the planet, where they can all live, together, now that the facilities below will be totally closed off, and shut down, and no longer useable to them, as they will be locked out, and prohibited from entering them. Once they are completely out, my kids will then remove all traces of the underground cities and underground facilities, so that there is no chance of any one ever useing them again. The Lesbianists will then begin living on the surface, full time.

Late Night Amusement Activities For The Lesbianists

Currently, as a regular sport or preoccupation, the Lesbianists go out regularly, at night on hunting parties, after exiting from below up through secret stairways, that lead up through police stations, and through fire departments, and through some military barracks, and through National Guard barracks, castles, buildings owned by royalty such as a king, or a queen, a monarch, dictator, despotic ruler, or by dukes, earls, princes', princesses', public buildings, government buildings, and through banks, hospitals, morgues, cemetary parks, schools, parochial schools, college campuses, college buildings, universities, university facilities, movie theaters, dance halls, auditoriums, disco-techs, sports stadiums, ball parks, parks, indigenous peoples' tribal reservations, port and harbor facilities, port authority landing zones, free trade zone districts, political districts such as Macau and Hong Kong, bordellos, brothels, drinking establishments, cocktail bars, lounges, late night restaurants, physical fitness centers that stay open 24 hours a day, YMCA's, YWCA's, Greyhound Bus stations, train and railway stations, air ports, national parks and forests, BLM lands, islands owned by Lesbianists, Riker's Island, Staton Island, Alcatraz, islands that have military forts' and bases that are active or semi active on them, private residences owned by Lesbianists, and through businesses owned by Lesbianists, through twenty four hour a day businesses owned by Lesbianists, Walmarts, K-Marts, 'Toy's 'R Us', Wendy's, Jack 'n The Box, McDonald's, In-'N-Out' hamburger chains, sushi restaraunts, late night restaraunts, hotels, motels, churches, mosques, synagogues, military bases, public and private museums, BINGO establishments, pachinko parlors, billiards halls, race tracks, gaming and gambling establishments, and many other Lesbianists' controlled facilities, buildings, and so forth, above ground, and they capture and abduct people, then bring them back into their underground lairs, and then the Lesbianists torture them, barbecue them, and then cannibalize them, for food, in their underground lairs. The Lesbianists enjoy torturing people, and eating them, and these abductions go on, regularly, all around the world, and the torturing, barbecuing, and eating of the above ground residents, below ground, goes on all around the world, beneath the surface of this planet.

There are over thirteen billion of them, and the number is even higher, still, as I did not have that number correct, either. It is higher than that, and that means there are a lot of hungry mouths to feed, in the future, after they lose their leases, unless they get a new civilization built, which they never do, as they do not like to work.

They will come out, at night, regularly, and abduct people, and then carry them into their underground lairs, and then cannibalize them. This will grow more and more busy, as they strive to remove every one they can from the surface of the planet. After they have removed enough people, they will begin to live on the surface in the homes, and cities that are there, already. There are too many Lesbianists to live comfortably on the surface of the planet, and they are too lazy to build their own civilization with homes, an economy, and so forth, so they will inevitably begin warring against each other, until there are only a few left, and then they will meet their end, when their exotic and deadly animals that they brought here for their personal amusement, strike at them, and kill them, for food.

The only way one can find a way out of this predicament, is for each one of you to join my country, swear in, and become a citizen. The Lesbianists in turn, must surrender. If they do not, at a certain point in the future, we will begin to dismend them, and sent them to my Epcot Center. When that will occur, I don't know, but it could be as far off as a few thousands of years from now, as we have to give them the time, and a chance to build a new civilization, with homes, and parks, etc., working together with the people who already live on the surface of the planet. We cannot cut short the allowance they must be given, in fairness - as the leases continue to expire, and the leases protect them, to some extent - to make efforts to mix with the people on the surface, and to come clean, and to tell it all, and to appologize, and then to work in peace and harmony with the people who currently live on the surface of the planet. They will have to share their knowledge of the sciences, and they will have to help to educate every one, and they will have to teach the people who are living on the surface, the sciences that will allow people to regroverate their amoebes, and other cells in their bodies, and to rejuvenate their bodies.

There is not much chance of that happening and of gaining their cooperation, so we will have to be on our guard, and we will have to look out for ourselves, and make sure none of us are abducted by them as they attempt to diminish the population living on the surface of the planet by reducing the numbers of normal people living on the surface of the planet, as the Lesbianists begin to get busier, abducting people, and eating them, one after another, to make room for them selves, on the surface of the planet.

Never the less, my kids are not allowed to act prematurely, and my kids are not allowed to begin dismending them, just to stop them from doing what they typically do, after they lose their leases. So, it will be several thousands of years, before this topic comes up for discussion, and action is taken. These are not normal circumstances, and so the dismending of these people, may begin some time after their final leases expire, if they present them selfs as a problem to the rest of us, living on the planet.

Our War On The Lesbianists Must Continue

This means, we have a few options, here, and the best option is to just get rid of them, and destroy their underground cities, and destroy the Lesbianists, world wide, before the Lesbianists get much more of a chance to abduct, torture, and cannabalize the citizens living on the surface of the planet. Thus, our war is now only begining, and we must continue to eliminate them, as they will only cause mayhem, and destruction, for those of us, living on the surface of the planet, as the Lesbianists abduct, and capture people, then torture and cannibalize them, in coordination with their Lesbianists friends, who run this planet. The Lesbianists' activities aimed at destroying the populations of the planet, is guaranteed to increase, as the years pass. That means, we must continue with our campaign to destroy the Lesbianists, and we must continue to work to bring an end to the control that they have, over every one on this planet. We can also concentrate on destroying the Lesbianists, underground, by dropping the home made 'radiological' explosives weapons down into the ocean depths, and down into the depths of the deeper lakes, onto the leaky ceilings below, where the Lesbianists are living, to crush them, and to drown them all. In the meantime, every one must join my country, and swear in, and become citizens of our new country, as I've explained about, before.

The Valderizing Lesbianists

The Lesbianists do not teach real science, or real geography, or real history, or real mathmatics, or real chemistry, or real anything, and they fool every one with their bogus religions that they either made up or corrupted, and valderized. Valderized means, they vandalized it, and sprayed grafitti all over it.

Well, that's the way the Lesbiansts get their kicks, and they are just a bunch of grown up children, valderizing every thing they can, and disrupting every thing, and every bodies' lives, just for their own amusement, and cruelish fun and games, such as feeding former Lesbianists to my abominant kids, who are need to be fed, and who are smart, and devious, and who destroy humans, and eat them up, and spit them out, and treat them terribly, while the Lesbianists watch on, in amusement, as they see people like Bill Gates, or Steve Irwin, and others, eaten up and then tortured, as I've mentioned about before. Valderize all they may, and be cruel all they may, we are all now finally finding out about their treacherous and horrid behavior, and now we are going to put a stop to it, permanently, and that means we will kill every one of them, and send them all to my Epcot Center, as I've explained about before.

Now we know we can cave in their cities, below the leaky hard rock layers, way down below, if we hit certain areas, hard enough, with a nice big hammer, such as one or more of my 'nuclear' bombs, the fracturable rocks kids bombs, with fuels oils, burning at extreme high temperatures, and with percussive shock forces, these, mixed together, will get my fracturable rocks kiddies, making lots of babies, and with a large enough fracturable rocks fuels chlorine, and metals that burn at high temperatures, nearing solar temperatures, we will see some very explosive 'family making' adventures, among my fracturable rocks kiddies, and their radiological relatives and friends.

We know where to hit some of their locations, to drop a few miles of more of continental shelf down onto the tops of their ceilings that will then fracture their ceilings, and cause massive damage, as oceans of water fill up their labrynthine and very well laid out cities, below us.

Who Do We Kill, First?

Mr. George Bush, Jr., Mrs. Barbara Bush, Jr., Mr. George Bush, Sr., Mrs. Barbara Bush, Sr., Mr. Ronald Reagan, Mrs. Nancy Reagan, and lots of their friends, and nearly the whole crew of politicians in Washington DC, are all Lesbianists, and I want you to kill every one of them, and send them to my Epcot Center, and I want you to place the fracturable rocks bombs, in the right locations, and then drop a thick layer of continental shelf, down onto their ceilings, their ceiling that are below the water that is between us and them, and that is below our continental shelfs that we live on.

We can hear the water down below, if we have the right types of listening devices, and if you find the right places to place your fracturable rocks bombs over, then it may be easier to drop your continental shelf, down through the water, below you, and down further onto their ceilings, the hard rock layers below the water, that is below your continent, swirling about.

Now I want you all to study this, and find the right places to drop your continental shelfs, down through the water layers below you, and onto their ceilings, so as to smash their ceilings. I've given you some hints, already, as to where you can place the fracturable rocks bombs, and my kids also have given some people more information on that, and so we have lots of people, who are interested in solving this problem of the Lesbianists toying with you, one life of yours, after the next life of yours. It is time we brought their mischief, and non sense, and cruelty to a halt, and it is time we put on the brakes, and slammed down on the brakes real hard, and at the same time, slam down on the ceilings of the Lesbianists labrynthine cavities, below you, their cities that they have laid out in perfect symetrical, geometric shapes, like perfectly shaped, honey combed behives, with central cities, placed symetrically around the globe, in a perfect geometric layout, and with spokes or corridors reaching out symetrically, to other central cities, and to satelite cities, that they have well planned out, and have well laid out, perfectly, below you.

Hydrolific Pressures And The Labrynthine Cities Below Us

Because of the hydrolific pressures, they can never keep the ceilings, perfectly dry, and they are always in trouble, trying to fix leaks, here, there, and every where. Now it won't take too much to bring the whole place down on them, flooding them like rats in a cage, below the water line, as a boat slowly sinks with a rats' cage on a table, with rats in it, slowly into and below the ocean waters.

The ones above, such as George Bush, Jr. the current president of the United States of America, and his wife, and his supposed family and relatives, and all his close Lesbianists' friends, should now all be killed, point blank, with your fracturable rocks bombs. I hope that is perfectly clear, and I hope you all understand what the situation is, and that it is an intolerable situation, and we are not going to allow them to toy with us, any longer, and we are not going to let them amuse themselves, any longer, and we are putting an end to their games, now.

DO YOU UNDERSTAND ME? I HOPE SO! AS A 'NO SIR!' WOULD BE UNACCEPTABLE.

Now that we know where we stand, we have nothing further to argue about, and so let's get to our tasks, as soon as we are ready, and prepared. Okay? Good.

Local Area Prayerful Collection Site

A collection site is where people gather to pray, and to sexal and to purify each other. It is not a site where people ask for offerings, or where people as for any thing else, involving money. It is a sexaling park, and a prayerful sexaling park. That is the meaning of collection site. A collection site is where people collect together, to sexal and purify themselves, and while they are at it, they make sexaling efforts to help to purify others, by shattering and showering out megawatts and tons of radiating, purifying energies.

We have a local area park, at the corner of West Tropicana Ave. and South Decature Blud., a local BLM piece of land, that some people like to camp out in, that I go out to, to bless, and to purify with my religious ceremonies, now and then. I claimed that area, and all other BLM lands that I could claim under Gurkian Law, and all other land on this planet, that I could also claim under Gurkian Law, such as other parks and forests managed by other government agencies, or private lands, supposedly owned by rich people, and lands around the world, that I have a right to claim, under Gurkian Law, and all that land, is now mine, under Gurkian Law, and I can use it in any way that I need to use it, regardless of what other people, think.

Aerobic Taichi Practice

I am busy, now and then, purifying that parcel of land, at the corner of West Tropicana Ave. and South Decature Blvd., with my religious ceremonies, that I conduct with my religious prayer hand signaling statements and with my use of my ability of arerobic Taichi, for religious ceremonies, as I seem to have recalled a lot of areobic Taichi, as well as some other forms of Taichi, that I knew, before, in previous lifetimes, but I am only interested in using it for practical purposes of religious hand prayer signaling.

I'm very clumsy when it comes to aerobic Taichi, but any way, I enjoy it, and it is good excercise for me, and the more I practice, the better I get, but it will be zillions of years, before I get any where near good at it. I practice the arerobic Taichi while I make my religious hand prayer signaling statements.

I don't teach Aerobic Taichi. I only use it for my prayer ceremonies, when I am on my feet, and not on my back, mostly, even though, I do use a short version form of it, while lying on my back, or, while I am on my side, I use a very short form of it. Anyway, it is fun to do Aerobic Taichi, and that makes my prayer ceremonies, for me, more fun. When other people learn to prayer signal, they will naturally pick it up, as well, as every one has studied to some extent, Aerobic Taichi, and other forms of the martial arts, and my kids will release the knowledge that is stored in your memory banks, as you need it, once you begin practicing, for women, as a priestess, or for men, as a priest. It is not like the Taichi you see people doing in China, or Taiwan. It is a specialized form of aerrobic Taichi for use while performing hand prayer signaling. It is not used for fighting, but it is the basis for Taichi, and you can train in martial arts, while employed as either a priestess, or as a priest, and it will be useful to you to know, before hand, as it will make practicing your martial arts, that much more interesting.

I'm not hiring any one, now, or just yet, or any time, soon, as far as I know, as my kids do all the interviewing, and I have nothing to say, about who comes knocking at my door, to be interviewed.

Campers, Camping, Sexaling And Purifying The Area, And Useing The Parcel Of Land That I Publicly Claimed For My Setting Up Of My Ministry

Now, on that parcel of land, there may be campers, now and then, who want to camp there, because they want to find out more about my religion, and so they come out to Las Vegas, now and then, and they camp out there, on that parcel of land, at the corner of West Tropicana Ave. and South Decature Blvd. Since that land is where I am going to set up my initial ministry, when the time for that comes, I am preparing it, with my religious purification ceremonies, and there doesn't seem to be any troubles, with any one telling me not to go up to my property, that parcel of land, and there is no one trying to tell me that I can not bless my property, that parcel of land.

Now, if other people wish to come to that parcel of land, and wish to sexal on it, and thereby purify that parcel of land, they are more than welcome to come to it, with their camper trailer, or caravan bus, and they can maneuver into the area, and set up a tent, and campsite, but there is no water, or any thing else, so you have to come prepared to rough it, if you wish to come in your camper van, or caravan bus, or in a camper trailer, or with a tent, or with other types of sleeping and living gear.

Straightening And Cleaning Up The Area

You can straigten up the area, and clean it up, and make it nice, for many people to pull into, to join together, and to sexal together, and with your purifying energies from your sexaling together, you are more than welcome to stay there, as long as you like, and as long as time permits, and as long as finances permit.

I have nothing there, except for my now and again, Aerobic Taichi practice and the energies that are imbued into the area, there, from my religious hand prayer signaling ceremonies. There are no structures of any kind, and I am sometimes there, busy purifying the area, with my religious ceremonies, so if you and your friends would wish to come to that area, and also help to purify it with your sexaling energies, than you are more than welcome to come and visit there.

Donating Your Sperm, Sexaling Spittle, Perspiration, Vaginal Juices, Titty Juices, And All Your Sexaling Juices

You men and boys may by all means, donate your sperm juices, sexaling spittle, and other sexaling juices, your perspiration you generate while you are sexaling, to the site, and you women and girls may by all means, donate your vaginal juices, your titty juices, your sexaling spittle, your perspiration you generate while you are sexaling, and all of your sexaling juices to the site, as they all will help to purify the property that I intend to set up my ministry on, as they all contain many, holy, pure, sacred, powerful cleansing energies, and GODLY energies in them, and they will help purify the land, and the environment for ages and aeons to come. All of your eroteming and orgasming energies will go shooting throughout your bodies, and they will find their way throughout your bodies, and out of your bodies and brains, and into the environment, and into your bodies' sacred and holy spillages, as I've discussed about before. Your bodies' spillages, as well as your perspiration, your pee, and your poop, not to mention all of your other juices that are produced as you sexal, erotem, orgasm, and phlumett, become pure, sacred, holy, powerfully cleansing, and GODLY, while you are sexaling, eroteming, orgasming, and phlumetting. Your pure, sacred, holy, powerfully cleansing, and GODLY energies find their way into all of your bodies' spillages, and so please donate them to the site, in appropriate manners.

Building A Latrine

Please employ some one to dig a latrine, and to fashion benches to sit on so as to be able to dump your poop, and pee your urine, into the latrine trenches. Manage the latrine, with care, and employ healthful, tactical, and sanitary techniques to use it safely. Provide hand rails, to grasp, so that no one will slip off and fall into the latrine. Provide barriers so that no one can accidentally fall into the latrine. Use your common sense when providing 'tactical' safety measures.

You need not fashion an over hang, as there is no rain to speak of, in Nevada. You do not need a supported roof, or enclosure, as they will only become stench ridden, and no one will enjoy useing them. There are to be no enclosure walls, or sides, or backs, so as to enclose the odors of the latrine, and confine them to an air tight area, where they can accumulate, and cause explosions, accidentally. They need only be deposited into a safely dug, latrine, and then allowed to filter down into the soil, and then allowed to vapor up into the atmosphere, freely.

No doors should be used, and no barrier walls should be employed, when fashioning the outside framing of the latrine facility, itself. That means, there are no hiding places in the latrine, where people can hide, and be prevented from entering, or exiting from the latrine. Only hand rails need be supplied, and only barriers that are suitable for keeping people from falling into the latrine, need by provided.

Steps may also be provided, to a raised platform latrine, which is more sanitary to use, than a level to the ground, latrine. There should be no walls, and no blind spots when either ascending up the stairs or when descending down the stairs. Women, girls, men and boys, should all use the same facility, and there is to be no fraternizing. Fraternizing is playfully tearing up at the opposition, or at people who you do not like.

Tearing up at the opposition means, you are trying to over throw the person, and dispose of that person, into the latrine. Over throwing the person means to be using reckless abandonment when dealing with another. Reckless abandonment means to be recklessly risking the life and limb of another.

There will be no frolicking at the latrine site. Frolicking is when little boys, and big boys, and little girls and big girls, play around and provide possible hazzards to others. You will not behave in a hazzardous manner towards any one, at any time, or you will be asked to leave, and to not come back.

There will be no play time allowed for children, as this is a collection site, and that means it is a holy site for holy activities, so leave brats at home, and do not bring any one who drinks alchoholic beverages, or who acts unwholesomely, to the collection site. This is a private site, and a prayerful collection site, and that means, you are coming there, to pray, and to make love, and to sexal, as GOD's children, so as to purify the site. You are not allowed to act randomly and with reckless abandoment. Randomly means, without proper self control and restraint. This is not a gay fashion, show or parade, and we will not tolerate reclusive, or unwillingly unwholesome behavior.

Reclusive means, unwilling to participate for the stated purpose of purifying the area. Reclusive means, caution and carelessness is thrown out the window, and you are acting in an irresponsible manner.

Unwillingly unwholesome means, first, unwillingly means, non cooperative, private, or sordid. Sordid means you are acting in a selfish manner, and you are not acting in a responsible manner for self and for others.

Unwillingly unwholesome means, thusly, that you are acting in a selfish manner, irresponsible manner, uncaring towards others, and unwholesomely.

Unwholesome means, you do not care about the life and limb of others, and you would just as soon shoot a person you argue with, as talk to them for a friendly chat. Many of my kids, are very unwholesome, and will just as soon, talk to a person, as shoot the person. You will not act in any such manner.

Any unsafe or prohibited latrine construction will be ticketed on detection, by me, and you will be asked to rework the facility. That will be on the ticket, and please comply, if you and your friends who built it, will be so kind. If you do not rebuild it, you will be asked, with your friends, to leave the site, as you are acting in an irresponsible manner. You will not be allowed back to the site, without your showing proper repensive behavior. Proper prepensive behavior is an attitude of appology, as well as the acts of appology which means, you will take appropriate steps to see that the work is or has been redone, in the manner as required by safety laws, as stated by my children, under Gurkian Law. Either me, or my children, will leave the ticket, and you will be required to fix what ever it is you need to fix, or you will be asked to not stay and conspiriate at the collection site.

Conspiriate means, to participate freely with caution and care for the sake of others. Conspire is also the same, as conspiriate.

You will be asked to not stay and conspire at the collection site, means, the same thing. It means, you will not be permitted to participate freely with caution and care for the sake of others. That means, you will be asked to leave, and you will not be allowed to come back, if we, my children and I, and other attendents, as well, can at all help it.

Attendents are people who participate in the collection site activities, and they are people who take responsibility to make sure every thing is done, properly, and safely, with the sake and safety of others, in mind.

The Home Depot has many nice and useful janitorial equipments, and so it will not be difficult to build a safe and luxuriously clean, and handy, latrine, that is safe to use, for all people, of all ages.

Luxuriously clean, means, it is kept sanitary.

How do you keep a latrine, sanitary? You keep it clean and sanitary by venting the air out, freely, with no blind spots, either underneath or above, where pockets of air, and vapors can accumulate.

No partitions will be installed that will create a blind spot. A blind spot is an area where light can not penetrate. Therefore, your construction materials, must be perforated wood, or grated steel. You can weld together, if you know how to weld, a very nice, grated steel, latrine, that will be safe to use, by every one, of every age. You will need the correct strength of supportive steel poles, to handle the weights of the persons accessing the latrine, and of the latrine, as well. You will make certain to build it well, and to support it well, with firm foundations, of concrete or steel plates.

Any deviation from safe practices for building latrines, will be torn down, disassembled, and the persons or person responsible will ethier be asked to leave, or will be asked to appologise to the memebers of the collection, sincerely. If the person acts in a responsible manner, and appologizes, sincerely, and appropriately, then the person will be excused, with out further, charges being leveled. Further charges will be leveled by my children, if my children detect further, reckless abandonment on the part of any person, participating and acting in a reclusive or recklessly abandoned manner.

Glue People Begun 'Cleaning' Agents

Cleaning the toilet seats of the latrine, will also help to keep the latrine luxuriously clean, and sanitary. You should clean the toilet seats and parts of the latrine, with common household detergent agents, as at this time, we have no choice but to use the unwholesome, Lesbianists' manufactured, ajax, spic and span, lysol, and other such 'glue people begun' agents. Glue people begun agents means, aerosols, and other unwholesome petrol fueled compacted or pressurized sprays, or detergents, that help the Lesbianists to begin the process of turning human beings into glue people. Glue people, in this instance, does not refer to glue, but it refers to tar. Tar is an adhesive substance, and their intent was and is to turn every human they can find into tar people.

We have no choice but to use the local distributors selection of cleaning agents, but in time, we will one day, have all that straightened out, after we demolish the Lesbianists' hideouts, under ground, and after we kill them all, or welcome them in, as 'surrenders', with appropriate, remorseful, penentant attitudes.

Removal Of Latrine Wastes And Disposal Of Latrine Wastes

Latrine wastes materials shall be removed, and supplied to local pig farmers, who can then use the materials, for feeding the animals. Pigs and hogs love to eat away at latrine wastages, and no one knows that. Chicken also enjoy eating human wastages, as well as ducks, geese, and other fowl. Horses and burroughs also enjoy human wastages, if it is healthy enough, with large amounts of vegetable mass in the diets of the human beings, whose wastages are carried to the farms for spreading about in the hogs and pigs, barrels. A barrel is a place where wastages are loaded, up into trucks for delivery to a sewage farm, or a place where farmers can use the wastages, that the hogs are finished with, as fertilizers.

Hogs and pigs use a roped off area, for eating wastages, and employees keep track of the unloaded wastages, and the spilled wastages from the hogs, and then the spilled wastages from the hogs, are then moved to a separate area, for pickup by carriers of farmers. Foods grown at farms using hogs and pigs wastages are useful and nourishing to humans, and other animals.

No fees of any kind for loading and for carrying away wastes to hog and or also pig farmers, should be levied by truck drivers, as drivers will earn a tokenous gratitude tip from the hog and or also, pig farmer. An appropriate payment to the driver and deliverer of the human wastes to the hog and or also pig farmer, should be paid by the hog or also pig farmer, unless the farmer is cash strapped. Cash strapped hog and pig farmers may be given money compliments by the people at the collection site.

Money compliments are small awards, or minor payments, out of gratitude to the hog and pig farmer, for his or her useage of the human wastes from the latrines. Money should be collected, regularly, if hog and pig farmers are cash strapped, and then given to the hog and pig farmer, out of gratitude to him or to her, and presented, tokenously, or as a gift payment. How much should be paid, depends on the expenditures of the driver, for his or her services, and for the use of his or her, vehicle, and for its whollyfied maintenance.

Whollyfied means, the regular maintenance that will allow the truck or vehicle to run at tip top conditon or shape, for the life of the vehicle, figuring it proratively.

Proratively means, spaced out, and paid proratively, or over the period, at regularly spaced points in time, over the given span or the useful life of the truck.

Discussions regarding this, and discussions for compensations, should be held at the collection site, and at the delivery site(s) for delivery of human wastes, by all parties, concerned, regarding all of this, and the primary collection site attendants, the persons elected by the attending or participating persons, at the collection site, who show the greatest interest and sense of responsibilities, at the collection site and with regards to the collection site, and with regards to the collection sites' safe, healthy, and wholesome management, must attend the discussions, and must deliver their sound judgements as to who is to be compensated payments for their participation in the removal and distribution of the wastes from the collection site, to the hogs and pig farmers, and as to how much should be dispensed, per each removal and delivery of human wastes.

Participating persons at the collection site, should elect attendants, and the attendants should regularly check on all points for the safe management of the collection site. Participating persons means, persons who are there for sexaling, and for depositing their holy, pure, sacred, powerfully cleansing, and GODLY sexaling juices at the collection site.

Nevada Power, and all other vendors, are not participating persons, and should not be construed as participating persons, regardless of what they might wish to think, and if they have any complaints, I authorise the killing of all persons who disagree, and persist in arguing that they are valid participants, despite their not participating in your holy sexaling, activities, as individuals, and not as company employees. No company employee, or personel of any kind, may participate, except as an individual, lone, and wholeseome, participating, sexaling agent.

A sexaling agent, is a person who is participating at the collection site to assist in the purifying of the parcel of land, on which I will build my ministry, with the assistance of my children, by their participating in sexaling activities, and by their depositing of their sexaling juices upon the grounds of the parcel of land.

How To Disperse Your Juices

Sexaling outdoors will normally require that persons are naked, and juices will naturally find their way to and into the ground. Men, boys, women, and girls, all must be naked, while sexaling outdoors, except for those persons who need to be on the move, such as male attendants, who will need to go around, periodically, checking on the points of interest, to maintain the soundness and integrity of the collection site, and of all things related to its operation and management.

Clothing

Clothes may be worn, at times while not sexaling, as particapating persons, decide.

Scarves, hats, and minor shawl like garments, Roman, Turkish, or Russian togas, or other comfortable sexaling apparel, for women and girls, to protect the dermal surfaces of the wearer of the scarve, hat, minor shawl, or other apparel, are allowed to be worn, while sexaling. We need every inch of dermal surface, bare and naked, if possible, or at least, accessible, to allow for maximum eroteming sensitivity, touching, massaging, tickling, and so forth, to heighten the erotic levels of excitement, and thrills, eroteming, orgasming, and phlumetting.

Men and boys may wear light weight garments, such as Roman, Turkish, or Russian togas, or other garments that do not interfere with access to sexaling buttholes, dicks, and so forth, for men and boys to be able to maximize their sexaling enjoyments, erotic attachments, their purposeful eroteming enjoyments, orgasming thrills, and pleasures.

Erotic Attachments

Erotic attachments refers to their titties, dicks, buttholes, mouthal holes, tounges, and other touch sensitive, eroticable and orgasmicable body parts.

Purposeful eroteming enjoyments means, their steady minded, determined, and sustained sense of attaining to the highest levels of eroteming enjoyments possible.

Leveling The Area

Some minor leveling of the area, for maximum use of the area, as an automobile and camper trailer, caravan bus, travel trailer, campsite park, will need to be done.

There are many tiny hills, and a few large ones. There is much dirt that can be removed, from the middle of the site, all the way back to the rear edge of the site.

There is a hilltop trailor park, past the edge of the rear of the parcel, and there will need to be built a very durable, and strong retaining wall, to keep that hillside, shored up, and to keep the trailor park from crashing down the hill side, after slide begins, and creep causes the trailor park to fall into the open area, that will be needed to be excavated, all the way to the rear of the park.

The grade or slope of the hill, need not be steep, but can be at a relatively low angle of ascent. An angle of between ten to twenty five, to thirty degrees, in graduations, from front to back, can be accomplished, with little difficulty, and with no disturbment to the trailor park, or disturbment to the integrity of the trailor park.

We need not seek any permits for construction, as I do not recognize the Lesbianists' governments, on this planet, and if any person shows up who says he or she is a county or city planner, inspector, or whatever, you are to immediately kill the person, and deliver three fivers to the persons' head, as that person is a Lesbianist attempting to interfere in my religious activities.

All activities at the site are to be done, without any interference from any public or other authority, and all costs for all changes and alterations to the site are to be financed by the local construction companies, who are working on the hotels industry, and they will cease immediately their work on all construction, private housing construction, casino construction, and all other towers construction, or work construction, other than the basic infrastructure needed to support the present population of Las Vegas, Nevada.

We are taking over this town and you all will begin to prepare to vacate this town and hand over all of your construction equipment, now, or face your companies and your private persons destruction with my fracturable rocks bombs, begining with the New Orleans Hotel, and all related hotels, and casions, bars, and restaraunts. That means, every gambling establishment is to shut down, stop construction, and vacate this town, now, immediately, post haste, if you wish to live.

You will be destroyed if you refuse to follow orders. We are putting a stop to the non sense of the Lesbianists begining with Las Vegas, Nevada, Henderson, Pahrump, and all parts of Nevada and the Southwest.

You will disband your operations and hand over your companies, such as the water bureau, the power company, the gas utility company, and every other company, including all supermarkets, grocery stores, malls, and so forth, every last business in Nevada, and the south west, to the participants at the collecting site, to take over and then properly manage, until all residents of Las Vegas, remove themselves, to my kids facilities.

Is that understood? You are all resigning and moving into my kids place, underground, surrendering, and moving on for those who are not Lesbianists, but who wish to vacate this area, as this area is in whole, now, a religious grounds.

That means, that I will require the participants at the collection site to take over every thing, and to bring the news reporting stations to their knees, and force them to report the news, that every one is to retire to my kids underground, fortress, and they are all to remove them selves from Las Vegas, now, post haste, immediately, other wise, we will have a fractuable rock bombs throwing contest, to see who we destroy, first.

You must surrender all your holdings, owned property, equipments, and every thing else you call your own, and hand them over to the participants at the collection site.

Is that understood? "YES SIR!" had better be your answer, or you will find yourself on a one way ticket to my Epcot Center, with no return ticket, guaranteed, for however long it takes, to find you tummy mommies and tummy daddies.

I don't think there will be many volunteers, in the near future, as you are all abominant kids of mine, and the only kids people will ever bare, for some time to come, are abominant kids, and animals, and animal humans abominant kids, so I do not think you'll be leaveing my Epcot Center any time soon, if you resist and if you force us to kill you.

Is that understood every body? Good.

The penalty for not complying is death. Do you understand what I am saying? I hope so.

The Party Is Over In Las Vegas, And In The World

The party is now over, in Las Vegas, and at all casinos and gambling establishments, as we know you are all cheating, and we will kill every single last one of you to close you all down.

Who Is Staying And Who Is Leaving, Etc.

You will close down all of your establishments, world wide, and lock the doors on them, and then demolish them, post haste. Is that understood? I hope so. Either you do it, or we will do it. Do you understand that, now? I hope you do, because we are going to demolish every one of your establishments in this town, if you do not demolish them, yourselves. Every last one of them, all houseing, except for those noted in my children's compliance statements, which you are all to recieve, all trailor parks, with some exceptions, all every thing is to be removed, with only the basic infrastrastructure for heating, lighting, water, sewage, medical, hospitals, medical clinics, pharmacies, and so forth, food markets, services industry, HUD, Welfare, SSI, and other operations for the welfare of persons who are here, who can not leave, or who will be staying for some time, and who will be needing the services of those agences, construction companies, lighting companies, electric infrastructure installation and maintenance companies, as well as gasoline supply and distribution vendors, diesel fuels supply and distribution vendors, restaraunts, and telephone. That means, all humans are leaving, except for those person who are to stay on, as indicated in my childrens' compliance statements, and except for those who wish to stay on and participate in spilling their pure, holy, sacred, purifying juices, and those wishing to participate in purifying my area, all of Las Vegas, Nevada, the valley and beyond, in time.

Rules For Hospitals And Clinics, Etc.

There will be new rules for hospitals, and clinics, and my kids will see to it, that the new rules, are followed. There will be other rules, as well, and my kids will see to it, that they are followed, as well, or persons who wantonly disregard them, will end up in prison, underground. My kids have not only a living environment, they have prisons, as well, jail facilities, and many other things. Check with them for a fuller list, of what all they have in the way of facilities, as many are very nice, and there are great possibilities for improving your health, and rejuvenating your bodies, etc.

My kids have a full list of who is to be leaving, who is to be staying, and by when people are to be leaving, and where persons staying, are to be moving to, as we clean up this area.

All of you had better check with my kids, especially, you Lesbianists, but not only them, you religious fanatics, as well, and every one else, of course, or you, especially the Lesbianists and religious fanatics are at risk here, but not too much, the others who are to check in with my kids, risk dying, perhaps, prematurely, and then ending up in my Epcot Center.

My kids also have lists of who the people are who will be recieving all the properties for taking them over, which properties need to be demolished, who will be demolishing things, and how to remove those things that you must remove, and to where you will remove them, and dispose of them, and in what manner you will dispose of them.

You will hand over every thing, and you will all comply, and those who are required to hand over their properties, after complying with removal demands, will hand them over, and then will move out and into my kids place, in accordance with the time schedule that my children have for you to follow. You are required now to check in with my kids, get every thing sorted out, and learn all the details, and then comply.

Those who do not follow these orders risk an early and, fortunate for us, timely meeting with death, and entrance to my Epcot Center for a long stay.

Erecting A Partition Blind On West Tropicana Ave.

The roadway, West Tropicana Ave. runs east to west, and west to east, and it is advisable to erect a pertition blind, so as to not disturb traffic, that comes down the side of the road, the parcel of land sits on, at very fast speeds, with people rubbernecking to see what is going on, as many people will possibly end up flying into the area, with their automobile, truck, gravel carrier, or eighteen wheeler spinnning and turning over, out of control, and then sliding off the roadway and into the collection site.

The traffic is very fact on West Tropicana Ave., and with the interest of the local area residents, who will learn about the collection site, and the activities at the collection site, there will be many hazzards arrising as a result. Some persons may decide to stroll through the area, to steal purses, or wallets, or cameras, and so forth, as there are many poor, indigent, or hopelessly poor, persons, in the area, who do not have any work, and who can not feed themselves, and they need to steal things, to sell, to earn a living.

Such people should be spoken to, and fed, and then warned not to act in an unrighteous manner, which means, please do not steal things, or damage the property, or any thing on it, and please do not get into fist fights, over insults, and disagreements with participants, about who is GOD, and so forth. There are many impoverished persons from South America, and Central America, who only know their local area witch doctor's teachings on voodoo men and voodoo women, and who know nothing but folklorish stories about gouls and ghosts, and people, or ghostly gouls, i.e., people immitating 'gouls', or mean and rotten people, who go 'boo!', or try to scare and rob people, in the night.

Electricity, Lighting, Etc., To Be Supplied By Nevada Power Free Of Charge, Or Else

The partition blind should be sturdy, tall, and break proof, so that vandals can not break it down, or climb over it. Lights for use at night, with the proper permissions for an electrical hookup from the Power Company, Nevada Power Company, will be granted, and provided by Nevada Power, along with all other neccessary, needed, safety lighting hookups, to illuminate the area, fully, at night, so that it looks just like, or nearly like, daylight, or a well lit soccer areana at night, or a well lit professional baseball field, or football field, at night, and it will be given for free, lest we burn down Nevada Power, and kill all of their Lesbianists employees, and meter men, and all of their tawdry workers, who we do not wish to deal with. That means, we will blow up their buildings, and kill them all, unless they give us the electricity that we require. If we need to kill them all, we will then acquire all of their holdings, and we will operate all of them, ourselves. Fair Warning has been given, and consider that as a done deal, unless you wish to visit my Epcot Center.

Meat Vendors And Hispanics From Central And South America

An air of friendlyness, but caution, should be used. Men and boys are there to protect the women and girls. So, please work in teams, and do not let individuals, who might get kidnapped, and sold off to meat vendors, for a few dollars, or pesos, as it is, in Las Vegas, as the majority of such kidnappings and sales of human beings to meat vendors, the Lesbianists chain stores, such as Colonol Sander's Kentucky Fried Chicken, Burger King, MacDonalds, Jack 'n the Box, Wendy's, In-'n-Out, Fat Burger, Taco Bell, Dell Taco, and all the other, fast foods vendors, is by the locally landed hispanics from Central and South America, who need money, to stay alive.

Erecting A Partition Along South Decature Blud.

South Decature Blvd. also has much traffic on it, and there will be lots of people, rubber necking, to see what is going on, so a high, partition wall, made of lumber, should be erected down the side of South Decature Blvd. to prevent all such incidents of rubber necking, and reckess abandonment, from occuring.

The partition should be about ten to thirty feet high, and should be well constructed. Why so high? We do not want people climbing over it, to sneak into the area, to steal things, and to fight with people, and to cause trouble, and to come looking for young girls, and young boys, and helpless, elderly folks, and uneducated to the whims and ways of the downtrodden, brutal, abominant kids of mine, walking the streets of Las Vegas.

Yes. They are abominant kids of mine, and the proof of that is that their children come out as monkey people, and orangutan people, and chimpanzee people, and if possible, the hospital whisks the baby away from its mother, and disposes of it, in the prep rooms, used for killing incoming, abominant kids of mine.

Drawings On Demolition, Construction, Etc.

My kids have construction drawings for constructing all the facilities needed at the collection site for all the facilities that will be needed. They have electrical drawings for lighting, etc., health, fitness, and wellness facilities drawings, latrine facilities drawings, showers facilities drawings, food and beverage eating and drinking areas drawings, and all other drawings related to all things that will be needed to be constructed, or altered in any way, for our project to proceed, including but not limited to, demolition of the cliffs, leveling of the entire area out to Harmon Ave. and up to Flamingo, and back to Tropicana, as well as what is to be removed and leveled between Jones and Decature. There are a few minor exceptions, such as the building that I am living in. Who will move where, to consolidate staff at this project, and who will be moving out, at this project, and what will be leveled at this project, are all detailed in the program specifications, my children have. My present quarters, will be my place of residence, as things move along, and in time, in accordance with the schedule for construction, a temporary facility for me will be constructed near the area but between Flamingo and Tropicana, and somewhere between Jones and Decature. Please see them for details. After the area is purified sufficiently, and after all the areas to be purified, are purified, and my children will decide on when that is accomplished, my children will then activate the technologies, and acquire the resources they need, and then they will build a more permanent settlement arrangement for all people concerned, who are staying on, if they decide to stay on.

The partical dismissive technologies and remissive technologies, for foods, and medicines, and other items that are needed, for continued survival, and for all other required purposes according to the specifications for the sexaling for a living programs, will all be provided to the participants who wish to stay on, and houseing for them, as well, will also be included. Parks will go up, and so will many other locally needed facilities. Many things will disappear, as my kids will partical dismiss the things and structures they need to remove, as they construct the new area, for all persons staying on in Las Vegas. My kids have a list of all the names of all the persons who may, if they decide to, stay on in Las Vegas, and not all of them, are local people, so you should all check to find out whether you name is on the list or not. All other persons, who are to be moving on, and all persons who do not wish to stay on, here, will be required to move into my childrens' present facilities, which they will continue to expand as we continue our program on this planet. We will eventually clear every one out of the area, inside and outside of Las Vegas and the Valley, and surrounding areas, and the world over, except for the persons whose names appear on the list, as houseing can be provided above ground, for participants in the juices spilling and areas purifying operations, by my children, if those persons wish to stay on and participate.

All other people will be required to move into the facilities my children have, and are continuing to upgrade, and expand, in their encapuslated living environement, in which, many people currently live. Persons in the encapsulated living environment, may also attend the collection site area activities, and future clearing activities, for purifying the areas with their pure, holy, powerfully cleansing, purifying, cleericating [cle-er-i-cating], and GODLY energies filled, sexaling juices. Cleericating means, the same thing as clearifying. It is just a slightly different but related word from another a variant language of English, and to cleericate basically means the same thing as to clearify. When we get the areas, cleared enough, and purified enough, my kids will then start building things for the participants. All others will move below ground, and live in the encapsualted living environement, until they have earned enough money, with their friends, as talked about earlier, to purchase a lease on land, and acuire the lease on resources needed, to build a home, etc., for a large group of people, who will be living together, and working together in the sexaling for a living programs, and so forth.

When Will This All Begin?

As soon as people begin to comply, we will begin our efforts to clean up Las Vegas, to begin with, and then, the rest of the world, and then, the rest of our universe. It will take a long time, as we need to spill our juices, the lay persons, anyway, for some time, to come, as our universe is quite large, and so is the rest of it, that we are going to be recovering.

My Spilling Of My Purifying Sexaling Juices, And My Spilling Of My 'Prayer Time' Purifying Juices

I spill my juices, only for religious ceremonialing activities, during certain relgious ceremonies, and I don't spill my juices, on the properties, as I'm not set up to spill my juices, on the property, now, and will not be set up to spill juices, until I find an excuse for that, and an excuse for performing a religious hand prayer signaling ceremony that will require my spilling of my juices. It's pretty hard to spill juices, when there are no other persons working with me, and I do not work with lay persons, unless they are confirmed by me, and so there will be maybe, some confirmations, but not neccessarily so, as I do not know who is going to wish to be confirmed, and by the way, who ever it is I confirm, must realize that I am the Mother and Father of all human beings, animals, and living beings, and the Creator of my universe. There are not that many people who understand that, except for my kids, my working, unionized kids, and so it will be some time, yet, maybe a few hundred or more years, before some one realizes, 'Hey, he IS the Mother and Father of all human beings, etc., etc., etc.,"

Spilling 'Prayer Time' Spittle Generated While Praying

Until then, I'll use my spittle juices if I need to drop or drizzel any juices, that I generate while I am religious hand prayer signaling, as I don't like or care for the idea of jerking off in public, to spill purifying juices, in public, regardless of the fact, that I am GOD, so it ain't going to happen, any time soon. When I find a authentic 'believer' who realizes and understand that I am GOD, and so forth, I'll begin my public spilling of sexaling juices. I don't mind it in private, but it is not going to happen in public.

Monkey Babies, Jimmy Carter, Oliver North, And The Lesbianists' Conspiratorial Bullshit Stories Of Adam And Eve, And "Jesus Saves"

Most people do not know this, but many births end in tragic loss of the child, because Jerry Falwell, Oliver North, Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan, George Bush, Jr. George Bush, Sr., and the rest of them, order and expect all the Lesbianists doctors to kill all babies born to people which do not look human. Doctors at birthing hospitals also comply, quietly, as it is hospital policy they can not break. If they go against it, they risk losing their job, and possibly losing their life. This is not a joke, and it is the Lesbianistgs policy of having all birthings in hospitals exactly for this reason, for disposing of non human looking babies, at birth, so that their bullshit creation by God, of a 'pair' of people, Adam and Eve, and that "Jesus Saves all good Christians", can not be contested, by logical proof of non human births to human being couples, or single parent women or girls. Abominant kids are born every day to my kids, on this planet, and they are all executed, or killed off by the local citizens, by their fright and fear of 'ghouls and ghosts' and 'goblins' in the night that go, 'Boo!'. These idiots, both the abominant South Americans, Central Americana, and all my other abominant kids, North American, Europeans, Russians, Chinese, Japanese, Thai, Philipine, and so on, must ask them selves why they are blessed with babies which are either not human or are abominant humans, or part animal humans. If they ask them selves these questions, they will find out the only answers are that these people born to them, are my children, and my children are born to them for reasons that have not been disclosed to them, before, by the clergical societies, i.e, the religions of the world, and by the other societies, set up by the Lesbianists, or by societies nurtured along as part of the Lesbianists' 'tragic comedy' of their toying with your lives for their humoring themselves, and for their amusing themselves. Once we get rid of the Lesbianists, and their ways of doing things, we will begin to see babies that are either not human, or are only part human, in animal bodies, and they will be born to all of you who are tummy mommies, and tummy daddies, if you birth enough children, to find out. How many is enough? About one in forty or fifty by my estimation, but depending on the person, it may be between thirty to eighty, from one person to the next. Take that to your pastor, and tell him or her, to stick it up his or her ass. It is the truth that animals are born to humans, all the time. Not only that, but abominant kids of mine, usually of the apey kind, but not always, are born to the 'normal' looking humans on our planet, and in our universe. We need not be afraid of these children, as animals, can be collected and put into zoos, and animal humans can be raised by the parents, or parent, in the case of a single parent. In time, we will adjust to this reality, and we will raise fine children, abominant animal humans, or human appearing abominant children. That means you are all abominants, and the Lesbianists are laughing at you, and at themselves as well, as they go around and kill and cravenly torture every possible person they can. We will put an end to their craven ways, and we will make a wonderful universe for all of us to live in, in peace, and serenity, once we get started practicing my religion, and once we begin erasing, sufficiently, our karma and our karmic markups, with your purifying sexaling energies, prayers, and other activities, such as syncopated dance, syncopated excercise, syncopated sexaling, and so forth. You time it to the metronome at one thirty seventh, for now, and that will be fine. In time, we will get accurate metronomes, and then we will chance the pace, just ever so slightly, to push my kids along, as I explained about, for our wholesome and healthy universe, for all of us to live in, together with each other.

Punishment For People Who Practice Voodoo Religions Is Dismendment, I.E., Death

We will not be killing or executing children any more, at hospitals, or at homes, or in primitive, backwards towns and villages, or rural hideaway villages, where voodoo religions muster the people into peculiar states of mind, where they become entranced, and then begin mindlessly, acting like chickens, and birds, or fowls, or hippos, and so forth. There are too many of these types of so-called 'religions' in this world, and we are out lawing all of them, and punishment for adhering to them, will be a trip to my Epcot Center, as I have my children particle dismiss their bodies, and then dismend them, bit by bit, into their base components, and then have my children whisk them into my Epcot Center. We will bring every one up to the level of education every one needs to be at, to better understand my universe, and those who persist in abandoning their obligations, will be dismended with out further notice, after they are sent their last warning ticket, from my kids, in accordance with Gurkian Law. That also applies to the Lesbianists, and to every one else, who is unable to get the picture here, and get with the program. There will be no exceptions. And, this is not a joke. My kids have courses for you to educate your self in, to pull yourself out of the past Lesbianists' way of life and thinking, and into the new and current, reality, that we will be living in, for ever, from now on.

Local Businesses Will Have No Problems At All With The Collection Site And Will Have No Problems At All With The Activities Of The Faithful At The Collection Site

Walgreen's is across the street, on one corner, and Home Depot is on another corner. I don't think Walgreen's will have any problem with you using the site for your camping, for your meeting with others, for your sexaling with others, and for you and your friends' purifying sexaling activities in that park, i.e., the collection site. Home Depot, I don't think will have any problem with your use of the parcel of land, either, for those purposes.

What To Do If The Police Come?

Now, if the police come, and I'm there or not, I don't know what they'll say, but they have not got any right to say any thing to any one. Is that clear, Mr. Mayor of Las Vegas, and every one else in the area. I hope it is, as I am not going to stand for your interference or any one else's interference in my religion and in the relgious activities of people who wish to participate in my religion, sexaling to purify my universe. IS THAT UNDERSTOOD, MR. MAYOR AND EVERY BODY ELSE? I HOPE IT IS! AS A 'NO SIR' WOULD BE UNACCEPTABLE!

Now that we have an understanding, I think there will be no problems, and if there are, I will see what I can do about it, by calling my kids up, with my religious hand prayer signaling ceremonies, to see what they can do for you, to help you out, and to break the backs on law enforcement officers, and the Mayor of Las Vegas, and every other person, Lesbianist or not, who tries to interfere with me, or who tries to interfere with the people practicing my religion. I will not stand for any interference from any one, including Mr. George Bush, Jr., the current president of the United States, or any one else, such as the Mayor of Las Vegas, or the Governor of Nevada, or the Nevada Highway Patrol, or the Nevada Sherrifs Dept. or the Las Vegas Metro Dept. or with any other persons or parties, such as the Las Vegas Gaming Commission, or any other Lesbianists' or Lesbianistic organization set up by the Lesbianists, and that means all you church goers, parochial school teachers, and students, and others, and if any one interferes with any one who comes to my ministry's claimed parcel of land that I am purifying for setting up my ministry, and if any one hassels any one there, than who ever is visiting the collection site, to help to purify it, you have my permission to kill the persons attempting to interfere in any way at all, on sight, with what ever you have to kill them with. Please dispose of their bodies in the nearest trash dumpster.

DO YOU HEAR ME? MR. MAYOR. YOU ARE A DEAD MAN IF YOU EVEN TRY TO SEE WHAT MY RELIGIOUS FAITHFUL ARE DOING, AND SO IS EVERY OTHER PERSON ON EVERY SCHOOL BOARD AND CHURCH OR OTHER LESBIANISTS' COMMITTEE. IS THAT CLEAR, EVERY BODY? GOOD!

You will not interfere with my religion, and with my religious faithful, and they will come to Nevada, and they will come to Las Vegas, and they will start sexaling on that property as they see fit. Does every body understand that? I hope so. Now. Non responsive persons, who ignore my statements, will find themselves in trash cans, and trash dumpsters, every where in Las Vegas, and any where else, where there is a convenient trash can or trash dumpster. There are lots of them around, and people are throwing dead people into them, every day, across the country and around the world, and they all end up in landfill sites, and so there will be no added charges for our using the statewide Nevada Silver State trash retainers and containers, for however many others who need to be killed, and for my religious faithful to then place them into the trash cans and trash dumpsters. No charges should be levied by any other Lesbianists' trash collection company, around the world, as they are all owned and operated by the Lesbianists, and we will not support them, in any way, what so ever.

If Mr. Mayor would like to be the first guest inside of one of the Nevada Silver State trash dumpsters, then he will try to interfere, in person, and he will be shot, point blank, in the center of his head. You will then kill him with three fivers, to make certain he is on his way to my Epcot Center, for his next trip out as a tummy baby. If the Governor of Nevada wishes to interfere, then he does so at the risk of being shot, killed, and made certain he is dead, with three fivers, and then after that, he will be deposited into a local or state trash dumpster, either here, in Nevada, or in California, or Arizona, or where ever it is convenient to dump him into a trash can, trash container, or trash dumpster.

Lesbianists Enjoy Eating People, Who Are Alive, As Well As Eating The Bodies Of Those Who Are Dead

You should let the state's vice mayor of Las Vegas's office know, who was shot, killed, and confirmed dead, after depositing three fivers into his or her head, and then where the body is, and generally when the body was dumped, so that they can get an idea of how decomposed the body is, and whether or not the body is in a land fill site. They can then check on it, and verify that the body will make it to the land fill site, if it isn't already, there, where all the other bodies, are ending up, unless they have already happened to have beeb eaten up by the Mayor, or by the friggen Governor, or by the Sherrif, or by another Lesbianist.

All persons are free to travel to Las Vegas, and they are invited to stay at the parcel of land that I described, and they are invited to make it into a nice camper trailer area for recreational vehicles, or for what ever other types of outdoors camping vehicles, travel trailers, caravan buses, or any other types of camp site temporary stay, housing and living arrangements you would like to use the area for.

Every Game Of Chance, Gambling Machine, Or Slot Machine Is Rigged, In Every Casino Around The World, With Only A Few Exceptions

If you will all sexal, regularly, to the best of your abilities, and help me to purify the area with your sexaling, undisturbed by any one, and clean it up with your purifying energies, you are more than welcomed to come and enjoy the area, and see what fine attractions, will be leaving Las Vegas, in the not so distant future, including the gaming commission, with all their phoney, rigged gaming systems, that the Lesbianists control.

The Lesbianists' Articles Of Participation

The Lesbianists have every game that you can possibly rig, controlled by electronics devices, or by slight of hand, mechanics, who control the gaming rooms, and gaming halls, so that only Lesbianists win any money, that is worth mentioning about, and so that the Gaming Authorities, and the Mayor's office, and every other Lesbianist organization in Nevada, who has any one in their office, can then go and get the money the Lesbianist won, and get a percentage of it, given back to them, as they have arranged to do that, as that is part of their oath, and part of their sworn promises to do, as that is written out in their articles of participation, their rules for living upsite, not down below, in the labrynthine cities, and every Lesbianist must follow those rules, and when they win the Megabucks, and every Lottery in the world, they must give back money to the Lesbianists, as every game of chance that is run in this world, except for bingo, is rigged. However, even Bingo is rigged, in some ways, by people switching cards that look like winning cards, while players are not looking, and by other naughty tricks.

Every Lottery In The World Is Rigged

Every lottery in the world, performs the drawing out of the balls before a live audience, in most cases, before they actually air the show, and they have illusionary tricks they play, with the technologies they have, and they sucker people out of their money, daily, around the world. Las Vegas is no different, and they sucker every one out of their money, except for the Lesbianists, and they let some people, win now and then, small jackpots, on the gaming machines, and then after a winning streak, they set the machines the person uses, so that the person can not win a dime. They have the technologies for rigging every machine in Nevada, and across the country and around the world, so next time you visit one of their casinos, be sure and detonate one of our bombs, you can make, and destroy that casino. Is that understood? I hope so, as every day, millions of people are being suckered out of their hard earned money, they pay taxes on, through the nose, till they are practically choking, and the Lesbianists take it, and support their folley and games. They also support their folley and games with your revenues, that they make sure you lose, at every casion, and at every gas station, with a convience store, that has gambling machines in it, for you to deposit you money into. Every lottery in the world is rigged, and so if you spend money on it, if you are not a Lesbianist, you are just throwing your money away.

No Fair Play In Nevada, And No Fair Play In The World

There is no fair play, here in Nevada, or any where else, in the world, and I would like you all to know that, and become aware of that, and then I hope you will tell your friends about it, and then I hope you will destroy every single last one of their casinos, and gaming machines. We are not going to allow them to continue their frolicking at your expense, and we are going to destroy every last one of the Lesbianists, as soon as we can. If they prefer to surrender themselves to my kids, than we can allow them to live. However, if they do not surrender themselves to my kids, then we will kill them all. And there are no 'maybe's' about that.

Sniper Shooting, And Miscellaneous Information

You have my permission to sniper shoot any police officer, park ranger, sherrif, or other person, plain clothesed police officer or detective, with or without a gun, on sight with your scoped rifles, and targeting assistant who will determine range, from your bunkered in the hillside, shooting site. Any hotel in the area, which might harbor shooters from local police, sherrif, or SWAT team operations groups, you have my permissions, and blessing, or go ahead, and my 'okay, and 'approved for action' sight of appeal. Sight of appeal means, my blessings, based on your determination as per your good judgement.

One hotel that is clearly the most convenient, and the closest with in shooting range, at close range, is the New Orleans Hotel. Hotels within shooting range, at a distance, are the Palm's Hotel, The Rio Hotel and Casino and its seperate tower wing, and a few others, off in the distance. You'll have to come and look at them from the approximate location of the site after you determine where every thing is, to locate and determine for your self which hotels and towers need to come down, and what you will need to bring them down. There is a tower off in the distance, a new hotel, that is going up, that I do not know the name of, but is clearly within shooting range, and needs to come down, and people are on it, daily, welding, and you can't miss it, if you look in the north easterly direction from the site. There is the Stratosphere Hotel and Casino, which also needs to come down, which is further over to the west from the new hotel wing that is going up. There are many scaffoldings in the area, that also need to come down with explosives, fracturables rocks, fuels, chlorine, and high temperature minerals particles ignition, and particles burnings bombs. There are probably a number of other landmarks, hotels, casinos, bars, restaraunts, trailor parks, trailors, houses, apartments, condominiums, near or off in the distance, that also need to come down, and need to be demolished with my light weight explosives fuels, gunpowders, metals particles, and chlorine plastique explosives bombs.

You will destroy them all, and you will come prepared, or be prepared to acquire all the demolitions needed to destroy them all, as well as to destroy all the local police and sheriff's many Metro offices, SWAT Teams offices and units, Fire and Rescue Ambulance units, Lesbianists' Hospitals, and other Lesbianists facilities, throughout the Las Vegas Valley, Henderson Nevada, North Las Vegas, Pahrump, Mesquite and the whole Southern Nevada, westward to San Diego, California, northward to Los Angeles, northward to San Francisco, California, northward to Berkely, California to Oregon, and Washington State, and back down to Reno Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Albequerque, Houston Texas, Dallas Fort Worth Texas, and all areas where there are tactical SWAT team units, military units, militia units, as all militias are organized and operated by Lesbianists, despite popular beliefs that they are independent of the government, and anti government, as we often see on the "TV for the Brainless", as they are often refered to, i.e., the general public.

You will destroy all law enforcement offices, and personel, and all military and militias. All governments, their offices, and employees, are to be destroyed, and all personel are to be executed, except for those who take it upon themselves to execute the Lesbianists among them. My kids have a full list of all the places and structures that need to be destroyed, and demolished, and so please see them for that information.

Your Orders Are To Kill The President Of The United States And His Wife

And to repeat, your orders are to kill the president of the United States, George Walker Bush, Jr., his wife, Mrs. Barbara Bush, Jr., and all of his and his wifes' Lesbianists' associates, pretend relatives, and friends.

We are not going to let this stand, another moment, and if they do not surrender to my kids, you are to execute them all. My kids have a list of names, of those, who have not surrendered, as yet. Please see them for and ask them for that list of names of persons who have not as yet, surrendered, and who need to be executed, post haste, immediately, or, ASAP.

United States President George Walker Bush, Jr., is no exception to this, as he has not surrendered, as of yet, and that is confirmed. Neither has any of his colleages, or congressional office holders and diet or congress members, except for Ted Kennedy, and one or so others, and maybe a cabinet member, one or there abouts, but I haven't confirmed that, yet. There are some members of the congress who are not Lesbianists, and you can get their names, on a list from my kids, as well.

Texas's Lesbianists' Latest 'Vaccine' And Texas's Attempts To Destroy Women's And Girls Vaginal Lining And To Destroy Cervical Lining, Causeing Stillbirths To Increase, And To Prevent The Successful Birthing Of Children

The latest attempt by the Lesbianists' governments of the world, near by my computer window, on the internet news services, to destroy and toy with the human population of this planet, has been launched in Texas, and is targeted at women and girls, and their ability to have children.

See the article at the end of this post.

The new vaccine, which is mandated by Governor Rick Perry, who signed it into law, and is now obligatory, unless you protest it, and go to court, and spend years fighting it, as an individual or small group of claimants, will destroy the vaginal cervical collar and the lining that holds every thing in place, and supports the interior of the vagina, thus making it impossible to carry a fetus to term. The vaccine is also targeting the brains fibers throughout the human body, and the fibers of the brains in a woman's or girls' body will slowly rot, and decay as they are eaten up by tiny animals that eat these energies conducing fibers, synapses, relay switches, and other related energical brainal related things and dings thoughout the body.

Latest Lesbianists' Vaccine Will Cause Numerous Problems

It will also speed up the eating away of the enamel of the teeth, and of the bones in the woman's and girl's body, her fingernails, and her skin membranes NS membraneous tissues throughout the body, and on the exterior of a woman's and girls' body, making the women and girls grow older looking at ever more younger ages, and making women and girls susceptable to skin cancer, melanoma, herpes, genital warts, other infestations of animals in the skin, and other skin related membrane destructing colonies of animals, that they use from out of their Bio Chem War encyclopedia of how to destroy human beings, with poisonous and health problems causeing crystals cages animals of all kinds. Especially numerous are the Bio Chem Warfare crystals cages animals of the petroleum industry's based kind.

The vaccine is no different from any other of the Lesbianists vaccines aimed at destroying the health of the people who live on this planet. It is compared to the 'polio' vaccine, in the news article, and that was similarly an attempt at destroying the health of the human being, by making the human being incapable of haveing any sexual orgasming capabilities, by killing off all the sex related animals and bugies in the body, which make sexaling juices, that make eroteming and orgasming possible.

Thus, this latest attempt at destroying the health of the people who live on this planet, locally, in Texas, and that I know of, anyway, is nothing more than the Lesbianists toying with the people who they are here to amuse them selves with by destroying them, little by little, over a long period of time.

Execute United States Of America, State Of Texas, Governor Perry And Family

This will not stand, and you will all destroy the capital of Texas, and Governor Perry's mansion, and the Governor and his wife, and their family, pretend or otherwise with my fracturable rocks and fuels chlorine and explosives, etc., bombs, that you will make in your home's garage, or workshop, safely.

Underground Books Distributor's For Militia Types Folks

Use the delayed timer invention, that is a workable time delay detonator, that I've explained about, especially if you use black powder gun powder, mixed with axel grease, turpentine, benzine, chlorine, using also some Elmer's glue, prior to mixing with chlorine, and then set it in a warm cupboard, to ferment for a few days, to then turn into a nice plastic explosives mixture for detonating with the string of flash bulbs wired to the alarm clock trick, as described by Ragnar or by one of the other bombs making specialists, in their sub culture literature for militia types folks, who wish to destroy the government.

They find the list of names of all the people who request the literature, by mail, and then they go and watch them, with their surveilance technologies they have, and then they either capture and torture them, and then kill them, or they just make sure they are die, in a fatal car accident, or whatever.

Paladium Press is one of the Lesbianists' book publishers, and there are others, and this one is affiliated with the National Rifle Association, a Lesbianists organization.

This publisher has titles sold to underground books distributors, and you can find a number of underground book distributors on the internet, which carry more titles than Palladium press.

Delta Press, who publishes their books and paraphenalia distribution listings magazine, 'Delta Force' is one of these distributors of interesting underground literature.

http://www.deltaforce.com/catalog/page30dp.html

'Home Made Fireworks', is one web page to look at, if you have the time.

http://www.deltaforce.com/catalog/page28dp.html

'Booby Traps, Explosives and Black Medicine', is another useful page to look at, as well.

http://www.deltaforce.com/catalog/page30dp.html

There are a number of other distributors of underground literature, and some have better selections than does Delta Press.

In any case, with a little research, there are plenty of 'timed detonation devices' drawings, and explanations, for you to view, and learn from, that will help you to construct a timed detonator, that will allow you to safely set off one of your plastiques bombs made with my explosives formulas.

Paladin Press, you can find their books at Amazon Books on the web, another Lesbianists owned corporation, is another publisher of interesting underground literature, that can be useful for you to study and learn from.

Paladin Press can be found at, http://www.paladin-press.com/

Books for supposed 'Professionals' who are anti terrorists professionals, that allow them to detect the different types of bombs people can make, and then use to destroy others, is sort of a tounge in cheek joke of the Lesbianists, for luring in people who wish to find information on bombs and explosives.

There are many useful books published to help beginners understand the basics of bomb making. The idea is to use the information for professionals who wish to understand the craft of making bombs, and detonating devices, and then use that information to build your bombs and your detonating devices.

The flash bulbs wired to an alarm clock with matches and ignitable phosphates glued to a string of flashbulbs, wired properly together, then crushed, so as to expose their flash and heat ignition coils filaments, for your detonating heat energies ignition needs, is one of the basics and you can find it in one or another of the underground books on bombs making and detonation devices making for 'professional' anti terrorist's private investigator or bombs detection professionals types.

This is one of the ways the Lesbianists lure in persons who know nothing about weapons, and then they find out who they are, and then they make friends with them, and toy with them, and introduce them to their Lesbianists' friends, and hang out with them, and pretend they are all friends, then one day, they all attack the person, and torture the individual, and get their kicks, amusing them selves, by ripping the person up, or by hanging, and nailing the person to a wall, with a nail gun using, approximately, three inch nails, and then hammering in longer, seven inch to twelve inch nails, or larger ones, or other similar nonsensical, childish, but fiendish behavior.

The "BRUTAL ART OF RIPPING, POKING & PRESSING VITAL TARGETS"
"by Loren W. Christensen"
http://www.paladin-press.com/detail.aspx?ID=1441

Is a beginners guide to ripping people apart, one arm, or leg, at a time, or with team work, one half of a person can be ripped from the other half, if you hold the right bones in place, and then, using teamwork, rip the person into two or more pieces. This book gives a person a preliminary sense of what he or she can muster, as an individual who attempts to rip at a person, and tear the person apart, one limb at a time, or with friends, how to rip a person up, one piece or more, at a time. Ripping people up is accomplished best, if they are unconcious. If they can not fight back, or resist, it is easy to rip a person apart, if you have the needed strength. Since many people have ancestors who were monkeys, chimps, orangutangs, guerillas, and so forth, with tremendous muscles strength, there are lots of very tiny persons, with phenomenal strength, and they can easily rip a person in two, by them self, if they try.

Books on booby traps for law enforcement personel, are simple descriptions of bombs that they may or may not encounter, and there may be some useful information in some of them such as,

"BOOBY TRAP IDENTIFICATION AND RESPONSE GUIDE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT PERSONNEL"
"by Tony L. Jones"
"This manual teaches cops and other law enforcement personnel all they need to know to recognize a booby trap and respond properly. Find out where booby traps are most commonly employed; the 11 physical signs that most often signal a trap; what to do (andnot do) if a trap is suspected or found; how to safely search a building, outdoor site or vehicle; and the one indicator that practically guarantees that a building has been booby-trapped. Shows more than 90 different booby traps in place. For academic study only. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, softcover, photos, 80 pp."

There are others, which you can also find, that will provide schematics, and drawings of useable ambush related devices, and detonators for them.

"Contingency Cannibalism", sold through Paladin Press, and other 'underground' book distributors, is one of the Lesbianists' favorite books, that help them to track persons who they would like to later, cannibalize, themselves, as a joke on the person.

"CONTINGENCY CANNIBALISM"
"Superhardcore Survivalisms Dirty Little Secret"
"by Shiguro Takada"
"This twisted, tongue-in-cheek look at cannibalism as a last-resort survival option analyzes real-life case studies and historical episodes of cannibalism. Then it examines the hard-core decisions and gruesome details one must know in order to partake in this grisly practice. Recipes included. For entertainment purposes only. 5 1/2 x 8 1/2, softcover, 160 pp."

The Rusksack, "Survival Information Clearinghouse", is just one club of members of mainly Lesbianists, who have fun toying with the people who live on this planet.

Information On Bombs Making And Detonators On The Web

For information on making detonators, and other bomb related stuff, please see this web page as it costs nothing.

http://www.bombshock.com/archive/Homemade_Bombs/

Solar Flares And Flare Igniters

A solar igniter as talked about in the article on page, http://www.bombshock.com/file9/crtrmkr.txt-Crater_Makers-932.htm

'Crater Makers', is a solar flare igniter, a device that is used in solar flares, or night time distress signal flares, that ignite the flare, by sending an electric battery current into the flare phosphates holding tube, down a wire, on an ignition circuit, and then igniting the distress signal flare.

You can find solar igniters inside of distress signal flares that are used on boats, for shooting up into the air, with a flare gun for maritime use, that will send the distress signal flare up into the sky, if you have the flare gun pointing in that direction, and then at a certain altitude, a trip switch circuit is activated, due to air pressure, or due to timing from time of departure of the distress signal flare from the flare gun barrel.

You have to exhibit extreme caution, when taking a flare apart, as it can detonate, accidentally, and they are not made in a way so that people can safely take them apart, and people who try to take them apart, are accidentally injured, on a regular basis. Do not use this, if you do not know any thing about demining, as a professional mine deactivating specialist in the military, or with military training. This is best left up to the professionals, and is not meant as something the average house wife, business man or business woman, or chemistry or other studies, school student, should attempt.

You can use a flash bulb, and get the same results, if you glue some gun powder and phosphates to the flash bulb housing, and then crush the glass, and then wire it properly to a common house morning wake me up, alarm clock with a striker bell and a striker that moves back and forth. The circuit is simple, and you can figure it out with little difficulty.

The Lesbianists' Balooney On Minus Charges As Opposed To Positive Charges

Remember the minus sign on a battery is where all the activity of the little energies kids is going on, and the Lesbianists purposefully teach that the positive side is where the current is moving out of, and around towards the negative side of the battery. The Lesbianists teach that the active side of the battery is the plus or positive side, or the side with the plus sign on it, when you look at a common house hold nine volt battery, and that the non-active side is the negative side, or the side of the battery with a minus sign. This is false. The side with the minus sign on it, is the active side, and that is where you do not want to wire any thing to, unless you know what you are doing. The positive side has no activity going on, and is safe to touch, but the other side is not safe to touch, and the testing meters are wired to show you that the reverse is true. They have tampered with the design of testing meters, so as to support their allegation and falseity, that the minus side is where there is no activity, contrary to the truth.

That means, that, the flash bulb igniter system and the flash bulb itself should indicate that one side is the positive side, for the positive wire to be attached to. You had better check carefully, and make sure there is no mischief here, as you do not want to detonate your igniter, accidentally. Ask a qualified electronics specialist to do all your wiring of your detonators, as he or she is the only person qualified to wire these types of detonators.

The Lesbianists' Maps Of The Brains

It's rather confusing, the way the Lesbianists have reversed things, and have messed around, so as to thwart your attempts to make nice detonators that work every time, unless you have a normal set of brains, which unfortunately, I have not got a pair of, or triple set, or more of. That's sort of a joke. On a magazine, yesterday, I saw how the Lesbianists teach that one part of the brain is for speech, and one area of the brain is for speaking, and one area of the brain is for sight, and one area of the brain is for logical thinking, and one area of the brain is for signing, or one area of the brain is for artistic inventioning, and so forth, but that's a lot of hog wash.

The brain is not partitioned in that way, and they know it, and they are misleading every one, and laughing at all of you while they are doing it, with their 15th to 17th century style drawings, that they have plastered on all the Time magazines, or what ever magazine cover it was on, that I saw in the check out lane, at the super market, yesterday. You have kazillions, and more of parts to your brains, and there are so many, it is unlimited, nearly, and your brains are so complex, and you have got brains in lots of other places in your bodies, other than in your head, and I'm not going to go into that one, now, but the Lesbianists are lying through their teeth, when it comes to this type of pseudo historically backwards, archaic, or cave dwelling human's notions on science, that should insult a first grader, or kindergarden school student, or preschool student.

In any case, ask your local electronics' specialist or house hold electricians' specialist, or handy man repair persons, who work for house hold water heating devices installation companies, or other electrical home appliances sales and installation companies, who also get confused, from time to time, as I've witnessed them, personally, blow up breaker circuits.

Get a qualified, and that's hard to find in so far as I've witnessed them at work, electronics' specialist to wire your detonators, or go take a course with my kids, as they have courses available on wireing such devices.

There is no minus charge, and there is no positive charge, and that is what you should understand. There is a side to the battery where there is lots of activities going on, and that is the minus sign side on the battery. The positive sign side on the battery is where there is little to very little or nearly no activity, but no activity is not the truth, either, as there is activity, you just can not measure it with todays' electronics measuring devices, as they are not technologically sophisticated enough to be able to detect the activity, though I'm sure there have been intrepid scientists who discovered that both sides of the battery have activity, and then they were shot and killed, after that discovery, by a Lesbianist assasin, or by a hired assasin, assigned or paid to kill the scientist who discovered that there is activity at the 'minus' side of the battery as well as at the 'positive' side.

That means, that you need only concern your self with the 'minus' side, since you will not be able to detect any thing at the positive side, unless you use the reverse wired electronics and electrical energies detection devices that the Lesbianists market through Tandy, or Radio Shack, and at Sears, and so forth.

It gets confusing, a little bit, doesn't it. Anyway, go and take a course at one of my kids classes, after you sign in, and swear in as a jr. member to our new country, which I haven't sworn on to, as yet, or joined - but though I am the boss of, regardless - since my kids do not speak to me, on a daily, or weekly, or other basis, and I just happen to be able to know what they are doing as they tell me what they are doing, through some secret port hole in one of my brains some where, in my toes, or nose, or who knows where, as they telegraph or some how signal in, using semiphore signaling, or probably hand signaling, that my brain then catches, and then passes on to me, their messages that they signal in to me, and the news, as well, about what they are doing, and about what is going on with them, and about what is going on with some other things, as well.

Since I am GOD, I happen to have a right to know this stuff, what they and every body else is doing, on a daily basis, but they haven't told me how my brains catch their information, yet, or the other information that gets there, some where into my one or more of my brains, and I haven't figured it out, yet, myself, either, though I think I know something, a very little something, about how it works.

This does not mean, that my brains are unreliable - except for my memories areas of my brains, in particular - but that I am just waking up to what is going on, here, and I have a few kazillions of years to work out every thing, or some of the basics, any way.

In any case, you have all been snookered by them, with regards to their non sense sciences, and you are being laughed at, and toyed with, daily by them. That happens to be the truth, whether we find it pleasant or not.

Execute The Current President Of The United States Of America, George Walker Bush, Jr.

In any case, the Lesbianists are a twisted group of individuals, who toy with the people who live on this planet. Mrs. Hillary Clinton, Bill Clinton, George Walker Bush, Jr. President of the United States, his wife, Barbara Bush Jr., George Bush, Sr., former president, and his wife, Barbara Bush, Sr, are all gagsters, or jokesters, who wish to only toy with you, and eat you, or deprive you of your life, and of your rights, in fiendish and horribalistic ways and manners.

They are all to be executed, especially George Walker Bush, Jr., President of the United States of America, currently residing at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington DC, in what they call the White House. You are to kill them all, and send every last one of them to my Epcot Center, as soon as is convenient for you.

Lesbianists Who Decide To Sexal In My Religion With Lesbianists And Non-Lesbianists' Persons

If any Lesbianists decide to sexal in my religion, with their friends, and their friends may include other Lesbianists who decide to sexal, as well, as well as, other people they know, then they may begin sexaling with their friends in my religion, however, they must have a pentative attitude, and they must say they are sorry, and they must now and then, when they feel they wish to, and feel emotionally and mentally capable of speaking about it, they can talk with their friends who they are sexaling with, and with others who wish to listen as well, and they can denounce the Lesbianists by telling people about the things the Lesbianists do, and did.

If they decide to do this, this is the same as surrendering, and my kids will protect them from other Lesbianists who might want to harm them. They have not sworn in, as a citizen of my and my kids' country, and as citizens of our country that every one is swearing in to as citizens, but it is sort of a promise to swear in, informal gesture that they are committed to, once they begin sexaling with their friends, and with other Lesbianists, who also wish to sexal and in time, denounce the Lesbianists with them.

Citizens By Proxy

By denouncing the Lesbianists organization, and by telling people about what the Lesbianists do and did, they are essentially stating they are sorry for what has happened, and that is a pentative attitude, and with that pentative attitude, they are accepted as citizens, by proxy.

Temporary Full Time Citizens

Citizens by proxy means they are accepted by my kids as pentative persons, who wish to join our country, and who there with, qualify as citizens of our country, in an informal manner. Citizen by proxy means, they give up their old citizen ship, to whatever government they used to belong to, and they are taken in, as temporary full time citizens.

Temporary full time citizen is a term that means they are full time citizens, but on a temporary committal agreement, and that will be made permanent when they have the chance to meet with my children, and then can swear in, as a permanent full time citizen.

They can then participate at the collection site, in the activities that will be going on, with others, who wish to participate, as they spill their juices, and purify the area with their sexaling juices.

What To Do About Untimely Pregnancies, Health Issues, Medicines, And Regroverative Formulas

My kids will deliver to them, to the men and to the women who surrender and become citizens by proxy, and temporary full time citizens, the needed medications that will help to make their bodies, wholesome and well, and regroverated, as well as the medications that are needed to prevent untimely pregnancies.

Medical And Housing Benefits, And Other Health And Work Related Benefits

My kids will make certain that they will be given the right medications, and my kids will also provide all the same medications for each individual who participates in the collection site activities to purify the area where we will one day set up my ministry with my kids assistance. My kids will also set up other facilities, as well as the ministry facilities. The other facilities will be scattered through out the valley, and they will be the houseing units and other facilities for people to use to become physically fit, well, and well nourished, and healthy, such as gyms, aerobic studios for practicing aerobic dance, and aerobic excercises, as well as sauna and health spa, and swimming, tennis, badminton, cricket, and other sports facilities for baseball, rugby, foot ball, for those who wish to play a friendly game of foot ball, now and then, with the needed bleachers, lighting, and other supportive facilities for allowing persons to attend and watch the games that are going on, not only for foot ball, or for base ball, but also for tennis, soccer, rugby, and all out door sports facilities that will be needed.

When will my kids set up these facilities? They will set them up at the same time or shortly there after, as my kids begin to set up my ministry facilities, and the needed facilities for living and working in the valley area, sexaling for a living.

At that time, the citizens by proxy, and all other persons who have not yet sworn in, but wish to, will have the opportunity to swear in, and then they can enter and use the facilities full time, twenty four hours a day, without any further discussion about it.

All people who participate in the collection site activities, are also citizens by proxy, and as such, will automatically qualify for all medicines, all health supportive medical formulas, and all youthfulness prolonging, or regroverative formulas, that will feed all the amoebes, and other cells, or living beings in your bodies, and that will feed all the living beings in your bodies, that will then allow you to enjoy full regroveration of your body and rejuvenation of your youthfulness, youthful energies, and of all the other health benefits that accompany a youthful body, such as more energy, a stronger libido, a more healthful body, and so on.

When do people begin this participation in the collection site activities? As soon as they come out here, to Las Vegas, and arrive in their camper trailers, or caravan buses, or other vehicles, or with their camping gear such as tents, and cooking grills, and so forth.

When Can People Begin To Come So As To Be Able To Participate?

How soon can people begin coming to participate at the collection site in the activities that will be on going at the collection site for some time to come?

They can begin coming to participate any time. My kids will watch out for the safety of all the people who come to participate in the collection site activities. My kids will prevent accidents such as current Lesbianists shooting at people at the collection site, from high rise towers, scaffolding, tall cranes, or from hotel and casino properties owned by the Lesbianists, and from other tall condominium and also from tall apartments buildings and also from normal sized, two or three storey, to eight or so stories, apartment buildings, in the area. Of course, my kids will prevent accidents from happening such as shootings, from all possible locations, and not just from those named structures and locations.

Sniper Points, Places Where Snipers Shoot From

There is no need to blow or destroy them with explosives, in Las Vegas, as there will be no way any one can use those hotels, and other structures, as shooting or sniper points, places where snipers shoot from, to harm any one who is participating at the collection site, in the collection site activities.

In time, every thing will be worked out, and all the people who must hand over their companies, or disolve their companies, and sell or get rid of the assets of their companies, all of that will be in compliance with my childrens' instructions with regards to it, as I've stated about it, already, in brief.

Once the facilities are set up by my kids, and people swear in formally, then my kids can begin to pay people their earned income, for the work they did as they sexal for a living, and for their work, as they spill their fluids, to purify the collection site, the collection site area, and the general vicinity.

Pocket Knives, Construction Tools, And Miscellaneous Daily Life Management Tools And Equipment

No one needs to bring weapons to the collection site area, or to Las Vegas, as they will not be needed, and pocket knifes are okay, and construction tools are okay, but they will be for daily use activities, only. Daily life management tools are forks, knives, spoons, chopsticks, plates, dishes, glasses, coffee cups, can openers, bottle openers, cork pullers, and these types of things, as well as all the other types of kitchen use tools for cooking food, for eating food, for drinking beverages, and for the collection of garbage, and food wastes, and for cleaning up their eating and cooking utensils, such as portable wash basins, and portable gas stoves, or fixed stoves, fixed wash basins, fixed showers in camper trailors, and in caravan buses, and so forth.

Hookups For Travel Camping Vans And Similar Vehicles

We have no hookups at the site, for water supply, electricity, or sewage, as yet, but the instructions that my kids will make available to persons who come in to my kids' underground facilities - the protected and encapsulated living environment - those persons who go in to recieve the instructions, and other information they must recieve on companies and assets, and persons moving on, and on persons staying, and other information needed to successfully carry out the removal of hotels, and the demolition of buildings, etc. which my kids will handle with the technologies they have available to them for their use for these purposes, and for other purposes.

Cleaning Up The Area And Throwing Away The Garbage

My kids will also handle the required steps for clearing up of the litter and garbage in the area, all of Las Vegas, Pahrump, Henderson, Laughlin, Mesquite, North Las Vegas, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Utah, and beyond, above ground and below ground, and for cleaning up the areas, and for removing the underground and above ground garbage, or city buildings and Lesbianists' structures, and all structures that are no longer needed, train tracks, airports, roadways, bridges, parks, hospitals, medical clinics, and so on, all of which will no longer be needed.

Schedule For Leveling Of The Ground And Hills In The Area, Removal Of Unsightly And Smelly Garbage

Initial leveling of the grounds' areas, leveling of the uneven surface areas, and leveling of the sloping areas, and of the tiny hills, and other uneven and unuseful features to the area, such as hills, low cliffs, and removal of unsightly, smelly garbage, will be done by my kids, with the technologies they have available to them, according to the schedule for making these types of changes, and cleaning up of the area, so as to make the area, one hundred percent, useable for collection site activities, for people to then come in and use the area as a collection site.

Setting Up New Facilities

My kids will take care of all of that, and they will take care of all of the work and tasks for setting up a private collection site area - for spilling purifying sexaling juices, to purify the area - in accordance with my kids' schedule for these works and tasks for setting up a private collection site area, with tall side walls, and barricade walls, to prevent people from rubber necking as they drive by, so as to prevent car, truck, automobile, motorbike, and bicyle accidents. My kids will also set up the latrines, and other needed hygenics facilities, sleeping accomodations, eating facilities, rehydration facilities, co-opted bathing facilities, sports and excercises facilities, and other facilities.

Co-opted facilities means facilities used co-optively by men, boys, women and girls. Co-optively means, in cooperating measures with each other. Cooperating measures means, each of the four groups of people, men, boys, women, and girls, will work together, to keep the facilities sanitary, clean and healthful, neat and tidy, and safe for use, keeping young children from playing on the stairs for the elevated latrines, and keeping young children from getting in the way of asscending and descending users of the co-optively, or cooptively managed facilities.

Fountains And Showering Lamponeers

My kids will also use their high tech teletransportation technologies for removing toddlers from the stairs, and for placing them in a much safer location, such as in a near by sand garden, or play area, with sandy areas, and with toys to play with, and with cold showers, or showering fountains, people can refresh themselves under, and with fresh water to drink.

Lamponeers are showers that shoot up from sprinkler systems embedded in the paved surfaces, or concrete like surfaces, that shower water up and over the area, up and above and over persons who are there, to cool every one off.

Restaraunts, Clubs, Lounges, Eateries, Cafeterias, Bars, Pubs, Bicyle Paths, And So Forth

Bicycle paths, mini bike paths, walking paths, with rest stations, for refreshments and food, will be set up, and restaraunts and other facilities will be set up, nearby and they will be accessable by following these foot paths, bicyle paths, waling paths, and so forth.

All needed facilities for all parties, such as accomodations, living quarters, health clinics, excerize facilties, swimming pools, saunas, spas, and clubs for eating and mingling with persons, either in light weight evening wear and garments, or partially naked, or in the buff, will also be set up by my children for the use by all legitimate collection site participants. Gurkian Laws apply, and no other laws, such as local area laws, will be enforcable. Police and others will be turned away, and the rights of participants at the collection site area, will be protected one hundred percent, as we begin to change over to the new Gurkian Laws we will all be living by, from now on.

Dealing With Criminally Minded Persons

Any violators of the Gurkian Laws, codes, statutes, and so forth, my kids will arrest, and detain, and then place into prison cells, and then sentence them, in accordance with the sentencing requirements under Gurkian Laws, etc., and they may end up doing humiliatory punishments, or community clean up activities. In any case, they will be arrested by my children, who will use their high tech, biometrics and teletransportation technologies, and their other integrated technologies that they have, to swiftly remove the violators of Gurkian Laws, from the collection site and from the collection site area, and vicinity, and that will effectively cancel out their participation, until sentencing has been given, and until penalties have been leaned.

Penalties have been leaned, means, they have undergone sentencing, and the penalties have been enforced upon the violators, i.e., the guilty parties.

Alterations, Modifications, Changes, Clearing Up And Removal Of Garbage In The Areas, And Additions Time Schedules

These modifications, alterations, changes, and additions, etc., will occur over a period of time, as my kids have a schedule for all of these changes, modifications, alterations, clean up, and additions, etc., and they must stick to the schedule, so after you arrive, if you do not see some thing you feel should be there, by then, it is not there because it is not on the priorities facilities and priorities changes, etc., schedules lists.

Texas requires cancer vaccine for girls

By LIZ AUSTIN PETERSON, Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Texas - Bypassing the Legislature, Republican Gov. Rick Perry signed an order Friday making Texas the first state to require that schoolgirls get vaccinated against the sexually transmitted virus that causes cervical cancer.
ADVERTISEMENT

By issuing an executive order, Perry apparently sidesteps opposition in the Legislature from conservatives and parents' rights groups who fear such a requirement would condone premarital sex and interfere with the way parents raise their children.

Beginning in September 2008, girls entering the sixth grade - meaning, generally, girls ages 11 and 12 - will have to get Gardasil, Merck & Co.'s new vaccine against strains of the human papillomavirus, or HPV.

Perry, a conservative Christian who opposes abortion and stem-cell research using embryonic cells, counts on the religious right for his political base. But he has said the cervical cancer vaccine is no different from the one that protects children against polio.

"The HPV vaccine provides us with an incredible opportunity to effectively target and prevent cervical cancer," Perry said in announcing the order.

"If there are diseases in our society that are going to cost us large amounts of money, it just makes good economic sense, not to mention the health and well-being of these individuals to have those vaccines available," he said.

Merck is bankrolling efforts to pass state laws across the country mandating Gardasil for girls as young as 11 or 12. It doubled its lobbying budget in Texas and has funneled money through Women in Government, an advocacy group made up of female state legislators around the country.

Perry has several ties to Merck and Women in Government. One of the drug company's three lobbyists in Texas is Mike Toomey, Perry's former chief of staff. His current chief of staff's mother-in-law, Texas Republican state Rep. Dianne White Delisi, is a state director for Women in Government.

Perry also received $6,000 from Merck's political action committee during his re-election campaign.

Texas allows parents to opt out of inoculations by filing an affidavit objecting to the vaccine on religious or philosophical reasons. Even with such provisions, however, conservative groups say such requirements interfere with parents' rights to make medical decisions for their children.

The federal government approved Gardasil in June, and a government advisory panel has recommended that all girls get the shots at 11 and 12, before they are likely to be sexually active.

The New Jersey-based drug company could generate billions in sales if Gardasil - at $360 for the three-shot regimen - were made mandatory across the country. Most insurance companies now cover the vaccine, which has been shown to have no serious side effects.

Merck spokeswoman Janet Skidmore would not say how much the company is spending on lobbyists or how much it has donated to Women in Government. Susan Crosby, the group's president, also declined to specify how much the drug company gave.

A top official from Merck's vaccine division sits on Women in Government's business council, and many of the bills around the country have been introduced by members of Women in Government.

Morals For A Sane Society

To not fuck a person when you can fuck a person is a wicked act.

Not to fuck a man or a woman in the mouthal hole, or in the buttal hole, or to not fuck a woman in the vaginal hole, when you can, and when you are healthy, and when you have the time for it, by refusing, for what ever reason, other than mental illness, or 'gayist' reasons, you are committing a cheap and wicked act, when you refuse to fuck the other person, and use your dick, or your tounge to felate or kiss and tickle, and lick at the ladies' groinal area, and her vaginal cleavage, and vaginal flaps, or labial flaps, or labial tissue, and also her labial throes.

To not suckal a dick or a scrotum or tickle the males' groinal area, with your tounge, or with your fingers, and so forth, when you are able, and ready, and capable, is a cheap and wicked act, whether you are a woman or a man, girl or a boy.

You are given demerit points for not sexaling when you can and are able to sexal, and your time permits it.

To not participate in sexaling when you can participate in sexaling, is a wicked act. To prevent others from sexaling with you, or prevent a person from sexaling with you and your friends, these are both wicked acts.

A kindly and goodly person is a person who sexals all he or she can and who participates in sexaling with people, all he or she can, when ever he or she can to help those people, and one self, to erase the negative karmic markups each person has, and to help to create the wonderful energies that you can create by sexaling, and to change our universe into the nice place we need to change it into for us to live in, prospering with each other, in kindly loving embraces with each other.

If you stand or sit, talking, drinking, eating, with your clothes on, arguing, and discussing football, or baseball, or the local news on TV, or whatever, and you if you are not sexaling, as a result of your actions, when in fact, you could be sexaling, and helping to purify all the people around you, and yourself, as well, you are commiting an evil act, and an immoral act. It is immoral to behave in an uninterested manner, towards sexaling, and towards helping others by sexaling to purify their karmic markups. You are engaging in wicked, unkindly, and evil behavior, by non chalantly staring out the window, at a restaraunt, or in your car, with others around you, thinking about your miscellaneous thoughts, and by your not attempting to purify others, with every ounce of energy you have got, by sexaling with them, in a safe manner.

We do not want you to drive down the road, sexaling, and not paying attention to the traffic, and thereby causing accidents, and there be causeing harm and injury to self and to others, thereby preventing one self and others from their being able to freely mobilate, or move around freely, or ambulate, as they say in modern English, and then freely participate in sexalating activities of fucking, sucking, tounging, massaging the bodies, and the titties, and buttholes of women and girls, and massaging their kissing lips, and their vaginal lips, their facial cheeks, and their butt cheeks, and so forth. You must drive safely, and make it home, to a safe place, where you and your friends can freely sexalate with each other, without others interefereing with you.

A wicked or evil person is one who prevents a person from sexaling, and who destroys or ruins another person, physically, mentally, morally, emotionally, psychologically, or psychically, so that the other person can not participate freely and fully in holy and pure, GODLY sexaling activities.

This type of person who prevents others is a ruinous person, who will invite ruin and disaster to his or her doorsteps, and into his or her life.

There are many ruinous people, who execute others, and who torture, and cause pain, and suffering to others, and who disfigures others. These people who execute others, and who terminate their ability to sexal, prospering with others, making our universe into the kind of nice place we all want to be living in, together with each other, are wicked and evil people.

It Is Now Time To Destroy The Lesbianists

However, when we have a problem of the size and the magnitude of the Lesbianists, that we have, today, in this period of chaos, across my universe, and the Lesbianists' who are toying with humanity, and with all human beings who are not Lesbianists, it is time for us to take action, to prevent them from toying with us, and put a stop to their amusing themselves with their toying with us, any further, and it is now time to destroy them.

"I am Arjuna, a wickedly angry man, and I come to protect those who can not protect themselves. I will kill and thrust my sword and lance through the hearts of men and women who evilly try to prevent people from being prosperously good and bekindly to others."

This is a stanza or sentence from one of my writings, of old. 'Wickedly angry' in this sentence means, outraged, and furious, so much so, every one is scared and afraid of me.

I am 'wickedly angry' and I am here 'to destroy' those who would fuck us up, and ruin our lives, and make our lives miserable, as they toy with us.

My name is GOd, but in my Buddhist scriptures, I am referred to by many names. One of my many names, as I appear to people, in many and various personas, is Arjuna.

I have many sides to my character, as I am GOD, and I am here to protect my children, no matter what the name is people use to refer to me by, and that I am known by, and no matter how it is and no matter who it is among my many children, who I will protect from wicked and ruinous people.

Destroying The White House, Balitimore, Maryland, And Virginia, Killing The President Of The United States, Mr. George Walker Bush, Jr., And Sinking The Eastern Coastline Of The United States Into The Atlantic Ocean

There will not be any further Lesbianists living in Washington DC, or in Baltimore Maryland, or in Northern Virginia, and that vicinity, above ground, and below ground, if some one will be so kind as to place a very large explosives, fuels, chlorine, high heat burning metals fragments, and fracturable rocks bomb, outside the gates to the Washington DC White House, where the number one enemy, Mr. George Walker Bush, Jr., President of the United States, lives, and works, and then detonates that bomb, out side the gates of the White House, where the president lives, currently, and then destroys him, and his

White House, a lair for Lesbianists, with multitudes of torture rooms, i.e, lots of them, below and inside of the White House.

You will destroy and kill the President of the United States, Mr. George Walker Bush, Jr., and Mrs. Barbara Bush, Jr. and every one else who lives at 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. Washington DC.

Why are we going to throw all these people into my Epcot Center. Once in my Epcot Center, they can freely sexal with each other and they can earn merit points.

That will help them straighten out their karma, and it will help them to have a nicer life, when they are born as tummy babies. There are many tummy mommies who will match up with these people, and when they come out as tummy babies, they can start their life, with us, out here in my universe with us, again.

Am I a wicked wrongful person for terminating so many people's lifes? No. Why not? Because that is the only way we can over throw the vastly wicked and evil Lesbianists who practically rule my universe, with their perverse friends, and there are many groups of perverse friends, who we are going to get rid of, and send into my Epcot Center, one after another, as we move ahead, in our efforts to clean up our universe, and in our efforts to stop this nonsense of senseless killings and torturings of people, for amusement, and for game playing.

The Washington White House is one of the homes for these perverse people who game play and toy with all human beings who are not Lesbianists, who live on this planet.

We have many Lesbianists to trash, and to say good bye to, before we can begin to get our world, straightened out, and started up again, with a new culture, with new morals.

We will throw out their old cultures, their Lesbianistic cultures, and we will replace them with our new culture, and our new civilization, that is based on my religion, and on the sanctity of sexaling as a common sense value.

Sexaling is a sacred and holy act. Even if you sexal with a kangaroo, or a chimp, it is still a sacred and holy act.

Why is that? It is because every body is made of something, and that something comes from me, GOD. That something from me, is pure and holy, as I am pure and holy. I designed every person, and every animal, and every living being, with sexaling capabilities that allow that pure and holy GODLYNESS to come out once they begin sexaling.

That GODLYNESS begins to radiate out, as each person begins sexaing, and as each animal begins sexaling, and as each living being begins sexaling, eroteming, orgasming, and phlumetting, and it purifies each and every living being, and washes away the karmic markups every person, and every animal, and every living being, has in them, and has stored in the molecules that are stacked up in my universe, out side the boundarary walls that hold this universe up, and that keep us in side of the area we are in, and that keep the rest of my universe standing up, stable, making this a safe place to live, at least, safe in so far as nothing comes crashing down on us.

My kids are expert builders, and it is thanks to them, that we have such a nice and safe, and well built universe to live in. It is also thanks to them, that we have these bodies to live in, and to sexal with, since my kids put us together, one molecule at a time, as we need to have our parts put together, along with all the anmials, and living beings, who are inside of us, that my children also assemble for me, and for us.

What is this GODLYNESS? It is a purifying force, that is of me, and is me. It is inside of every one, and inside of every creature, animal, and living being, in my creation.

This is woven into the fabric of your being, and it is of me, and is always a part of me, and is always connected to me. Since I am always pure, and GODLY, you have a possibility of becomeing pure, and holy, like me.

Right now, we are filthy, and grimey, and all gunked up, with sludge, and residues of our karmic heritage. We have done many things that contribute to who we are, and to what we experience, day to day, and if we are not happy with our life, that is because we have the karmic records and markups that dictate that we must be in this miserable and suffering condition, that we are in, today.

There is always sufferring, and unwholesomeness, in our lives, and around us, every day. There are many wicked things that go on, every day. People perpetrate wicked acts, daily, and they go on, unpunished, for a long time, until their karmic markups begin to add up to sufferings coming out, in that person's life.

Sufferings are your payback for your wicked acts, and they help to keep our universe in balance, as I've spoken about, a little, before.

It may seem unwholesome that I ask you to kill my kids, and put them into my Epcot Center, where they can sexal, and where they can get retrained, and where they can be taught to be nice people, after they are retrained, but my asking you to kill my kids, this is merely an expedient, or a means to an end, and it is permissable, given the circumstances, and given the situation, and given that we are at the begining of our new Age of Gurkian Englightenment.

The result we wish to see by killing them, is an end to the activities of the Lesbianists, and and end to the activities of other people like them, in my universe. The Lesbianists are ruining my universe, and ruining the lives of every body in my universe, and though this was the way things were balanced out, prior to now, we are starting out, with a new method of 'payback' and a new means to balance out the karmic balance book. This is all to be governed by my rules and regulations, that my kids will enforce, in our new, Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, begining about now.

Our killing the Lesbianists, will help to control their ruinous and heinous behavior and activities, and it will help us to get them out of the picture for a while, until we are able to set up our new government, globally, or universal wide, across our universe, in a one universe government, over seeing the activities of all of my kids. It is the only way we have to begin to get our selves straightened out, and onto our new path, that we will follow, for the rest of eternity.

This marks the begining of the Gurkian Age of Engligtenment, and it marks the end of the previous period, or random, or just about nearly random, chaos.

We went through a very long period of decline, untill we got to the period of chaos that we are in, now. This period of chaos, we call, the 'melt down' period.

The 'melt down' period, came after the 'run amuck' period, when my kids began their severely ruinous activities that led to the period of chaos that we are now in.

Chaos Every Where In My Universe

We are going to begin to pull ourselves out of this period of chaos, with the help of my religion, and with our religious activities, and it is going to take us a very long time to pull ourselves out of it, as this 'chaos' is going on every where in my universe.

It will take us a long time to begin to be able to erase our karma enough, based on my religious principals, and the ethics of the Gurkian Age of Englightenment, and our religious activities of sexaling, dancing and excercising, and sexaling in syncopation with the metronome, at one thirty seventh and one fifth, or so, to then some day be able to have erased enough karma, to be rid of, completely, all these horribalistic people, my horribalistic kids, in my universe. When I say, be rid of them, I'm not saying, to trash them, completely. I am saying, we will put a stop to their activities, by changing our karma, and by purifying ourselves with my religion and our religious activities of sexaling, keeping time, in synch with my children, as we sexal, and as we activiate, playing basketball, tennis, or as we swim, or as we pray Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, and so forth.

Bringing An End To The Chaos In My Universe

We are going to bring an end to the chaos, and to the chaotic behavior, and abberant, ruinous behavior in our universe, as we bring this period of chaos to a close. We will, as we steadily move forward, open the way for the budding and flowering of the Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, and to the budding and flowering of the new age of friendship and loving care, among all of my children, who participate in my religious, social, economic, and karmic revolution, as we sexal with each other, lovingly, and strive to clearify and erase our karmic markups, sexaling, and synching our activities to one thirty seventh and one fifth on the metronome. Later we will fix our metronomes to keep exact pace in synch with my children, and after we fix and reset the timing scale of the metronome, the timing will be one thirty seventh, exactly, on the metronome.

Our sexaling will produce all types of wonderful, purifying energies, that will revive our universe, and that will revive us, and that will help us to reclaim our universe, and that will help us to live, prosperously, and prosperingly in our universe, together, with each other, and with every one of my children, as we reform the bad and naughty ones, who are wicked and unkind to others, and who prevent people from sexaling, together, with each other.

That means, we are going to kill all the bible thumpers, Pat Robertson, Orwell Roberts, Billy Grahm, Tammy Faye, Jim Faye, and all the other Lesbianists of every religious faction, or group, whether they are Lesbianists who are christians, islamists, judaists, shiites, hindus, buddhists, black moslems i.e., afro american black muslims, or whatever.

We are going to destroy them all, all who would try to prevent us from what we are attempting to accomplish, a global, universal wide, government, run by me, GOD/GOd, as I am the Captain of this ship, and then we are going to begin our new age of Enlightenment, hand in hand with each other, and when they come out of my Epcot Center, again, next time, to be born as tummy babies, to tummy mommies, and to tummy daddies, we will teach them the new rules, ethics, and morals of our new universal wide society, and then we will begin again with them, and raise them in accordance with the new rules, laws, regulations, ethics, and morals of our Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, led by me, GOD/GOd.

Surrendering And Repentance

Those who will surrender, will be allowed to be repentantent, and they will be forgiven for their misgiven, misbegotten, and ill minded ways, once they begin sexaling with the rest of us, and participating in our religious, economic, and social revolution, and once they begin following Gurkian laws, rules, ethics, the codes and norms of behavior, and our righteous, and correct morals, acting and exerting one's efforts for the sake of others, never sparing a moment of energies, wastefully on trivial and trite activities of gossipping, mischiefing, or other harmful, and potentially ruinous, wicked, and evil behavior.

Lesbianists With Non Repenentant Attitudes Who Will Not Surrender

Those who will not surrender, we will send to my Epcot Center, as that is the only way we can get them out of the picture, temporairily, so that we can then get things in order, before they return, once again, as tummy babies, into the lives of tummy mommies, and tummy daddies.

Orders To Kill All Presdential Candidates, Etc.

You are hereby authorized by me, GOD, John Francis Ayres, to kill all United States Presdential candidates, including but not limited to, Barack Obama, Hillary Clinton, and Mitt Romney. They are to be executed on sight. Also, you are ordered to kill all non repentent Lesbianists, such as, Vice President Dick Cheney, Tony Blair, Butros Gauley, Oliver North, Colin Powell, Oliver Poindexter, Casper Willard Weinberger, United States Supreme Court Chief Justice John Roberts, Associate Justices, John Paul Stevens, Anthony Kennedy, David Souter, Clarence Thomas, Ruth Bader Ginsburg, Stephen Breyer, Samuel Alito, Antonin Gregory Scalia, Arnold Swarzneggar, Sylvestor Stallone, Robert Deniro, Gary Busey, Kevin Sorbo, Timothy Dalton, Michael Jackson, Matt Damon, Bruce Willis, Mila Jovovich, Peter Jennings, all members of the United States Congress who are Lesbianists, and all other Lesbianists, whether in politics or not, and in whatever government you find them, around the world. There are many Lesbianists in local and metropolitan police departments, and in SWAT Team units, and in fire departments, and in the National Guard units throughout the United States, and Lesbianists own every news media organization, television corporation, cable television corporation, satelite television corporation, major radio station, transportation corporation, chemicals corporation, petroleum corporation, coal mining corporation, as well as every other major corporation around the world. You are to kill every last one of them, and spare no one. We will then destroy every underground city they are hiding in, and force them to surrender. If not, we will kill them all, and I authorize you to do exactly that, kill every last one of them, all thirteen billion plus Lesbianists, hiding under the surface of our planet, or out walking about, pretending to be an ordinary citizen on this planet. Nothing is further from the truth, and you are authorized to kill each and every one of them, and send them all to my Epcot Center, using what ever means available, including my tactical, powerful, home made radiological explosives bombs, i.e., nuclear explosives. Please study my notes on my web site for further details regarding radiological fracturable rocks, and my notes on how to make an explosive weapon to detonate nuclear materials, you can find along beach shorelines, in sediments deposits, and on old mountains, every where on our planet, if you have a geiger counter.

New Coins Ready And Are The Ever Useful To Us!

"New Dollar Coins Enter Circulation This Week"
"By WILL LESTER"

"WASHINGTON (Feb. 11) - Maybe Susan B. Anthony and Sacagawea should not take public rejection personally. It's not easy overcoming people's indifference to dollar coins, even those honoring such historic figures."

The new coins reportedly have many fracturable rocks in them, as the metals used, were mined from deposits of minerals that contain large amounts of fracturable rocks.

They also have high heats and high temperatures burning minerals in them, that will level up your thermal temperatures to near solar temperatures, if grinded up and mixed in, and allowed to ferment, in sour berry juices, slowly, with tiny amounts of salt, and large amounts of raw sugar.

The high heat temperatures, and the energies produced at these higher heat levels, will reach near solar heats energies temperatures, and that is very important for developing the energies needed to wake up every body, in the fracturable rocks - or 'fissile' materials, in Lesbianists' speak, or Lesbianists' mumbo jumbo language - to get them to begin making children and families.

Please see my notes on 'Radiological' crystals cages salts kiddies, and other related energical animals kiddies, of various, and hard to imagine, types, unless you're a kid and unless you have the mental flexibilities and typical mental gymnastics capabilities of a normal child, unhindered by brainwashed thinking and brainwashed patterns of thought the Lesbianists have caged, and closeted in the dark, our brains with.

Public Nudity And Public Sexaling

Public nudity and public sexaling is now a way of life for all, in our, now, Gurkian Age of Enlightenment. We will begin broadcasting live sexaling events, and other entertaining and informational, educational programming,, as soon as I get my new quarters, a unit to live in, where I can eat more properly, sleep more properly, recieve the medical health aides and regroverative formulas, that I need, and where I can practice my religious ceremonies, with others, daily.

The public broadcasting of various informational programing, educational programing, sexaling entertainment programing, sexical, hygenical i.e., sexaling hygene, and sexical educational programing as well as sexical training programing, as well as my religious ceremonial sexaling activities, and my general, more typical day to day, religious ceremonialing, for now, until I get my health up to a level of youthful vigor, and robust wellness, as I religiously interact with my students, and train them, the disciple priestesses, and disciple priests, will all help to set the basis of normative, and expected, social behavior, for all people in our universe, to learn about, now in our Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, so that we can all get along, with one primary set of customs and standard of behavior, and with one primary language for communication, as we will all be sexaling with each other - all of my children who are now just begining to get with the program, at least, anyway, will be sexaling with each other - from now on, and for all eternity.

We need this exposure, as well as alternative programing, for laundering up to, and for begining to expose ourselves to, and learn about, the reality of the universe, my universe, that we live in.

Laundering up to, means, exposing ourselves to the mischievous antics of the Lesbianists, to launder their filthy, garbagical, and tormentuous ways, so that all may learn about them.

This will be coming up, in the near future, possibly, as far as I can determine, any way, after we have the spilling of the sexaling fluids campaign under way for purifying the area where I will be setting up my religious ministry, on the parcel of land, on the north west corner of the intersection at West Tropicana Ave. and South Decature Blud., Las Vegas, Nevada, and possibly on confiscated properties to the north, as well as to the west, for now. This is a public service, informational bulletin, on what you are to expect, in the near future. Prepare yourselves, accordingly.

What Does The New Moralicity Mean, In Plain Language?

Our new moralicity means we are going to learn we can and should sexal with every person, and even with animals, when we have a chance or opportunity to sexal with people and animals, and that we can and should sexal with every person we see, so long as we have a mutual reciprocical understanding of the truth to sexaling, that it is a pure, blessed, and holy act, GOD, me, made possible, to purify you of your blemishes. It is the most significant and powerful way to purify you of your blemishes and karma

You can also clearify your blemishes, your karmic markups, by praying Nam Myeo Ho Ren Ge Kyeo, and by your keeping syncopated and in rythm with my children, helping my children to work smoothly, syncopated and in rythm with each other, perfectly fluxed, meshed perfectly with all my other children, working at different life spins, as I've mentioned about, as my kids will reward you by sprinkling faerie dusts, purifying energies, and other types of related, purifying things and dings, all over you, as a reward for your cooperation in keeping my universe, humming, and running, smoothly.

With your syncopated rythms, your syncopated pace of movement, and actions, as you time your motions, and stay in synch with one thirty seventh on the metronome, plus one fith of a mark on the metronome we currently have available to us, here, on our planet, during your activitiating, sexaling, playing sports, dancing, excercising, and so forth, you will purify your life, and you will purify the lives of those around you, with your actions, as you get rewarded by my children.

Our new moralicity means we can and should sexal with each and every person possible, in free association with each other, no matter what the age of the person, and no matter what the gender of the person, no matter what the tribal background is, no matter what the tribal heritage is, any place no matter where we are, any time no matter what the time of day or the time of night it is, in public spaces or in private living spaces any and all places, no matter who else is around us, as sexaling is a blessed act that my kids reward you for, any time, every time, no matter where you are sexaling, and no matter with who you are sexaling with, or even no matter what type of animal you are sexaling with.

It means there are no bullshit, propagandists' Lesbianists dreamed up taboos, any longer, regarding sexaling, and that sexaling is a blessed act, and not a 'forbidden' act, as the bullshit Lesbianistic Christians, Muslims, and other religious 'pious' bullshit assholes, who would want us to believe that sexaling is forbidden by 'God', which is complete and total bullshit, and a lie, as they base them selfs on their 'holier than thou' pious 'ignorance' of the truth.

So long as you and the person or persons you are with are equally, mutually, and reciprocally interested in purifying your lifes, and interested in clearifying your karmic markups, and interested in helping my children work in synch with each other, and interested in helping to push my children along, with your energies, and efforts, and so long as you can sexal together with one and each other, without damaging either or any of the participants, it is morally correct behavior, and any person or actions to prevent that morally correct behavior must be condemned, and punished.

Some people, especially young participants, do not have butt holes, mouthal holes, or vaginal holes that are large enough to swallow a dick, or mouthal holes that are large enough to swallow a tittie and suckle it fully, without straining.

You need to spend several hours phlooching out the butt hole, or phlooching out the mouthal hole and throat, and phlooching out the vaginal hole, with generous massage over several hours to the muscles and tendons in the neck, mouth, nose, eye ridges, ears, throat, face, chest, tummy, back, arms, hands, fingers, shoulders, titties, thighs, hips, waist, groinal area, labial folds, vaginal lips, facial lips, male genitals, and the entire torso, back and front, the legs and feet, ankles, and toes, as well, and all parts and areas from head to toes and in between, with continued efforts to massage all these places, until the body begins to respond, and until the body responds fully.

The butthole will loosen up, and the throat hole will loosen, and the mouthal hole will widen, and the vaginal cavity and vaginal mouth will widen and expand in size, and the groin in girls will spread apart, allowing for more room for access to the vagina, and for smoother access to the butthole, as the hips loosen up, and begin to spread apart in response to your efforts at massaging the body, to prepare it for sexaling.

No matter how old a girl is, and in the case of a boy, no matter how old the boy is, baby, child, adolescent, or adult, phlooching out the sexaling orifices, is easy, if you spend the needed time on preparatory and thorough massage, sufficiently enough.

That's how I designed your bodies to respond to massage efforts to loosen up the muscles, ligaments, sinews, cartiladges, so as to allow the bones of the body to move and spread apart, freely, and loosenly. Your body is like a rubber band, and if you massage it, well enough, it will begin to respond like a rubber band, and it will loosen up, and spread apart, where it needs to spread apart, so as to allow you to sexal, thoroughly, and continually, for as long as you continue your sexaling activities.

After you finish your sexaling activities, your body will begin to stiffen up, as all the ligaments, sinews, cartiladges, muscles, and fiberous threads throughout your body, begin to tighten up, for returning to daily life, working activities, where you need a hard, and tough body, to survive, as you work in the field, or work in the rice paddies, or work on the farms, to labor for producing crops for feeding you, your families, your children, relatives, tribal village friends and tribal villages neigbors, who are, or who used to be, traditionally, as life used to evolve for us, all related to all of those concerned in the area, or on the planet, for that matter, or in the entire galaxy, or spread out over many galaxies, and even spread out over even larger, and wider areas of my universe in the large, familiies that used to be the norm.

You may need to spend several hours, or even several days, or maybe even longer, a number of weeks, or even a number of months, before the body will begin to respond, and begin to flex, and bend, to help all the ligaments, sinews, cartiladges, tendons, muscles, and all the body parts, and supporting, interwoven parts of your bodies, as I've briefly talked about, before, as well as all the lubing stations, that will eject fluids to assist in the loosening up of your bodies' ligaments, sinews, cartiladges, tendons, muscles, and even the bones, to allow them to be more flexible, including the jaw bones, facial bones, neck bones, spinal bones, leg bones, thigh bones, hips bones, pelvic bones, buttal bones, groinal bones, back bones, and all the bones of the body. Every bone in your body will loosen up, and become more flexible, and pliant, durile, durable and tensilely strong, as you massage all the parts of your body, and the bodies of the people you are sexaling with, very young, young, adolescent, adult, middle aged, elderly, and even the ancient, or the extremely very old.

This is the truth to this matter, and you can find out for your selves, if you try and see how your bodies respond, to daily, rigorous, continued massage, over various lengths or periods of time.

This is part of the ancient and old art of sexaling, as I taught in my religious teachings, in every religion that I taught, and I have taught a lot of religions in my time, to lots of different peoples in my universe, from the begining of our time, here, together, in our universe, after we arrived, which I've talked a little about, before.

Sexaling Is An Absolute 'Good' And An Aboslute 'Right'

Even the veryest oldest and the veryest youngest have a right, duty, and obligation to sexal and produce holy, sacred, sanctifying, i.e., to make sacred, holy, and pure, harmonious, purifying energies.

It is an 'A B S O L U T E' RIGHT as in, a 'right' to free speech.

It is also an 'A B S O L U T E' RIGHT as in, 'this is right, correct, upstanding, laudable, commendable, proven to be always right, correct, true, holy, graceful or GODlYNESS and GOODLYNESS gracefilled, morally right, morally correct, morally absolutely right, and morally absolutely correct', as opposed to, right and wrong, i.e., as in the opposite of wrong, as in, that is wrong, that is incorrect, evil, hateful, sinful, morally inaccurate, morally wrong, morally defunct, undoable as it will not stand, and useless,'.

It is also an 'A B S O L U T E' GOOD and an 'A B S O L U T E' GOODNESS.

Free Action Sexaling

Anything that counters, or runs contrary to this, is an 'A B S O L U T E' WRONG, and an 'A B S O L U T E' EVIL. It is absolutely wrongful to deny or to prohibit or to interfere with, in any way, with any one who wishes to sexal, as THAT PERSON IS CLEANING UP MY UNIVERSE WITH HIS DICK, OR WITH HER VAGINA, BUTT, AND TITTIES, AND WITH HIS PURIFYING ENERGIES, OR WITH HER PURIFYING ENERGIES! DO YOU UNDERSTAND THAT?

Any body who even attempts to impede, to deny, to prevent, or to interfere with, in any way at all, with a person's absolute right to sexal runs counter to Gurkian laws, regulations, codes, ethics, morals, standards, and you will serve jail or prison time, for prohibiting, or interfering, or impeding, or violating in any way, a person's absolute right to free action sexaling, which is, the act of freely chooseing who one wishes to sexal with. DO YOU UNDERSTAND THAT, SOLDIER? GOOD! BECAUSE A "NO SIR!" WOULD BE INAPPROPRITATE AND UNACCEPTABLE!

To learn more on these subjects, swear in, and become a citizen of our country, and begin studying, and working in the many programs my children have for you to study and work in, to score earning points, and to earn a living in our new, Gurkian Age of Enligtenment, where and now that we work, and we pay as we go.

Those who refuse to work, in time, will be required to work, to pay off their debts and to pay off the fees that are owed for the use of my resources, all the molecules in my universe, and all the resources, energical, or otherwise.

Even though I am GOD, in our new system of working in my Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, even I have to pay for the resources that I use, as I work as chief priest of my religion, spiritual director of my universe, and boss of my universe.

I'm the mother and father, the creator of all humans, animals, and living beings, as I've explained, every thing in my creation, and people will begin to understand that, that I am GOD, as they practice my religion, over the years, and over the aeons, and over the millenias.

The people who refuse to work, will be required to work in prisons, sexaling with animals, to produce sexaling energies that will restore the supplies of energies in our universe, as I've mentioned about, before, as they work and learn their new trade of animal husbandry, and animal wifery, in the animal habitry industry, as I've also mentioned about, in earlier notes.

No matter what the age of the person, every person can participate in our Gurkian Age Of Enlightenment, sexaling, dancing, excercising, and syncopating their movements, in rythm, to assist my kids as my kids, work to keep my universe, strong, durile, flexible, safe, and a nice place for every one to live in.

DO YOU UNDERSTAND THAT? YOU HAD BETTER, AS A "NO SIR!" WOULD BE UNACCEPTABLE, SOLDIER! DO YOU HEAR ME? I HOPE YOU DO! NOW, GET TO WORK AND SEXAL TILL YOU DROP, SOLDIER, AND I'M NOT JOKING!

We will build a nice and comfortable, safe place for every one to live, now, in my universe, and we will follow the Gurkian Age of Enlightenment Rules and Regulations, Codes, Morals, Ethics, and behavioral norms, that you are required to live by, now that we are going to become, one, very big, happy, harmonious, in synch, prospering family.

You will not forget to wash out your butty butt holes, and to flush out your vaginas, and your mouths, and to practice proper and health promoting sexaling and love making hygene, with the medical formulas that my children will be providing to you, and that you will pay for, out of your earnings, and they are very reasonably priced, now that I am making every thing available to every one, at a set, yet, flexible, and low cost for the use of my resources, once you citizenize your selfs, and swear in, as a citizen of our new, global, i.e., universal wide, one universe, family of GOD's, that's me, children.

The costs are flexible, in the sense that you do not have to pay, yet, as you will be learning about the ways to work, and you will be learing and preparing your selfs for a new working life, in my universe, for some time, and so we have no hurry to have you pay for the resources you use. We can collect the fees, and costs for resources, in the future, when you are a big money earner, once you learn your new work requirements, for sexaling for a living, as that is the only job opportunity open to every one, and the only job opportunity, that you have a choice about.

My working children, though they do have many different jobs, they have basically the same set up, or arrangements as you now will have, and so you will be joining my children, and you will be working, i.e., sexaling, excercising, aerobically dancing, and so forth, in synch, and in rythm, for me, just as all of my children are doing, at least, those of my children who are able to work, and who are bright and intelligent enough to work for me, to keep my universe, healthy, safe, solid, durile, strong, wholesome, and a nice place to live in.

That means, I have a lot of burnouts kids, and rampant, vagarous, dangerous children, who are not really very bright, and they do not work for me, yet, but they will, in time, regardless of the fact that they may at the present, be abominants kids, or not.

As I've mentioned, all my up until now, non working children, are abominants. What does that mean? It means, they do not give a darn about killing another person. They kill for selfish reasons, and for fun and games, and so forth, and you are all guilty of that, though you may not remember that you killed for fun and games, and for selfish reasons, in previous lifes, in my universe, but you all have, and you are all abominants, of varying degrees.

So, welcome to the Gurkian Age of Enlightenment, and welcome to my workforce.

Well, he lost his cool yesterday and gave K4YZ a slap on the wrist with a wet noodle. He do dat 'bout twice a year (perhaps to show off his "manliness"?).

They 'borrow' one from another NASA agency. That was the one they rigged to test the Mars Rover's "bouncing balloon" deployment system. That was shown on a recent TV cable documentary.

While JPL started out with JATO bottle design in WW2, they drifted off into unmanned spacecraft by the 1960s and stayed in that field of work, divorced organizationally from California Institute of Technology (their origin) and established somewhat close to Pasadena's Rose Bowl.
Note: "Somewhat" is an Angeleno term and "somewhat close" could be several miles to us down here. :-)

Yes! :-) But Eckert and Mauchly DID crib ideas from Atanasof at Iowa State...as was proven in the federal copyright trial held in the US much after ENIAC had been sold off.

There was no "threat of action" by the FCC.

The FCC asked for documents.
I opted not to supply them.
FCC cancelled the callsigns.

Pretty simple.

At no time was there any "threat of action", i.e. a "warning notice" which would later become a "license revocation" or a "forfeiture proceeding". No matter how much you wish it true, it ain't gonna change history, available for anyone to google if they so wish.

Of course, there's an entire argument to be made that the documentation requested by the FCC in their correspondence to me (i.e. meeting minutes, meeting times) is not required under Part 97. 97.5(b)(2) only states that "The club must be composed of at least four persons and must have a name, a document of organization, management, and a primary purpose devoted to amateur service activities consistent with this part." There is no requirement stated in 97.5(b)(2) that an organization keep minutes or publish a schedule of meetings -- in fact, the way 97.5(b)(2) reads, you could have 1 meeting every 10 years and still be in compliance.

If I was so inclined, and if I was so "dishonest" as some people in this forum claim, I could have easily created such documents and supplied them.

So, you NOW work for the US government in the FCC?

Riiiiiiight..."may receive mail from FCC." Four, maybe six days to get to Hawaii, several days before Herman would pick it up and forward it to Deignan's real postal address, then four to six days to get back to DC with a needed reply. At least two weeks elapsed time. Real "quick" and "fast-moving" communications, right?

> After all, the FCC did accept and process the vanity call

Sweetums, you are indeed NAIVE. "Misunderstanding the intent of the rules" is total bullshit on your part.
Deignan saw what others were already doing and wanted a piece of the action, plus getting a spiffy Hawaiian call in the same process. He took advantage that few would notice it in Gettysburg (they didn't) and bingo, there was the spiffy "vanity call" denoting the state of Hawaii!

You never saw all the "club call" listings at www.ah0a.org?
Must not have (you turn a blind eye on many things).

Go and admonish some yokel who thinks you are some kind of ancient guru-figure official. We regulars know better.

> Besides - all that stuff about the club calls is more than six > years old.

Tsk, tsk! That's one year NEWER than your many-times-repeated "boast of mine" about getting "an extra out-of-the-box."

> Why are you living in the past?

...so asks the ancient guru of hamme raddio expounding on
"Bandplans of 1940" in www.eham.net AS IF they ever applied to His life experience.

> Is it because the > person who held all those calls was and is an advocate of > complete Morse Code test elimination?

Total bullshit, ancient guru. Deignan was always out for Deignan.
Yeah, he passed an extra test at one time in the past. He got an extra call. But...the ex-captain of the "Effluvia" WANTED MORE. So, with the aid of a buddie in Hawaii, he conspires to get a spiffy HAWAIIAN call (the "KH6" prefix) that would NOT be issued to a (then) Rhode Island resident. Not only that, he dreamed up a dozen FAKE "clubs" and got callsigns for them, too.

Why don't you go back to your private little corner of OLDE TYMES and memorize all the OLD rules so you can play the ancient guru "authority" on times long gone? Or go get laid. [have you lost your virginity yet?]

Better yet, why don't you arrange a 'sked' with K4YZ on "CW."
Then you can slap him directly over your very own raddio instead of pretending to be a tuff guy in here?

Mucho macho! Guess we need to add "putz" to the list of personal accolades that he's acquired here on the battlefield!

That kind of answers your question in an earlier post, though - why isn't he on the radio doing DX with CW? - or something along those lines. There's something here that keeps on drawing him in - something that is missing in his radio hobby. Otherwise, he's be there! He says that he spends quite a bit of time on the radio - but who knows? (he's always here on the NG's, furiously pounding the beejezus out of his keyboard!).

Wonder wassup wi' dat?

I didn't realize that JPL's first project was the JATO - thanks for

Got a chance to see some of the remaining parts of ENIAC at the Smithsonian a few years back. Amazing machine - and an incredible piece of engineering in the vacuum tube era.

After seeing what a BC-221 can do when properly modified, I have no doubt that Jim could have made a pretty nifty antenna switch out of it! :)

What does a beer enema have to do with sex? Unless of course YOU think of it as a sexual act.
And just as your name is not Markie, mine is not "dloyd".

Somebody once posted a slew of misspelled words gleaned from Roger's posts.
I think they called it Roger's Dictionary.
I'd like to see it again if it is available. Besides, posting it always drives Roger up a tree.

We will never know, I suppose, he be very close-mouthed about anything of his off-newsgroup life. So much so that he is close to the style of K4YZ of the "I've got it [document] in my wallet and it's nobody's business to see it..." school of 'referencing' what he says.

JPL's most-notable achievement (in my book) is the Deep Space Net (all located well outside of the Montrose-Pasadena area) with its stable PLLs and cryogenic front-ends plus the DSP and software to make all the received data as "clean" as possible. That and the really deep advance planning on design of the space probes and rovers...with knowledge that some of controls and instrumentation and probe computers might malfunction therefore lots and lots of safeguards have to be added.

Once in a great while, they do screw up...which gets a lot of negative publicity. Like their orbital mechanics folks mistakenly using a metric "wrench" instead of an English one. A rather expensive screw up but we humans are kind of noted for that. :-(

On the University of Pennsylvania self-promotion section about ENIAC they show an internal project of putting the entirety of the ENIAC architecture on a single IC! :-)

Humans be too impressed by physical bigness, I think, certainly when it comes to electronics. They don't, generally, appreciate the amazing amount of functionality that can be done with micro-circuits.

Of course, some like to do things just for the fun of it.
A professor up in Oregon state has built an all-RELAY microcomputer function-alike. Fills a half dozen tall, shallow glass-front cabinets in one room of his house.
Appears to be built of all-new parts. Rather slow, of course, but the "clock" can be slowed down to show human senses how the sequencing and logic paths behave when instructed to do certain tasks. Outside of being an instruction aid, it has no practical use except to entertain him and anyone getting a demo.

Cranky aside, I personally think that the BC-221 "Frequency Meter" was over-praised. Yes, it has a VERY stable tunable oscillator and the accompanying book of numbers allows one to "read" (heterodyne, really) out to five places, maybe six.
But, it never "metered" anything. Still, it was better than nothing back in WW2 times.

One had to wait until around 1955 (?) to get a true frequency meter that read out directly any input directly up to 10 MHz.
HP 524. BUFF...Big Ugly Fat <Fellow> of an oversized cabinet. Used to calibrate those things. :-(

Did you know the WW2 SCR-300 Walkie-Talkie (FM, low VHF range) was VFO-controlled? UK had a near copy but with a different nomenclature. Used an internal crystal oscillator to spot-check dial calibrations, allow mechanical corrections of the pointer on the dial. The post-war PRC-8 family did the same sort of thing, "channels" were VFO-ed and spot-checked with an internal crystal oscillator. No BC-221 needed to set frequencies with those, no box of crystals needed to set up a new network. Incredible engineering design for the terrible operating temperature ranges encountered..

The government can be defrauded as well as anyone, and there was no misunderstanding. It was poor amateur practice.

We're not talking about Kim, we're talking about Michael P. Deignan of the RF Commandos.

In ham years that was barely yesterday.

It's because the individual incessantly tells others how to live their ham-lives, then defrauds his friend and the FCC.

What? You just had "verbal" meeting minutes? You didn't get them in writing???

Like a cat covering up "something."

There were no clubs, there were no members, and there were no documents of organization.

There were no meetings, and there were no minutes recorded.

At best there were a couple of guys who wanted a bigger piece of the public pie than was reasonable. A much bigger piece.

You should be in politics.

My neighbor has a valid mailing address. It is not where I receive my mail. Neither is a PO Box 7,000 miles away.

Should my neighbor come to me with a letter for you from Riley, I'll be sure to let you know.

Jim will wail and cry about Haliburton giving a service in the most dangerous part of the world and expecting to be paid a high price for it. But if another Extra wants a bunch of "club" calls and gloms a KH6 personal call, then he rightly deserves them and is ENTITLED (RHIP).

You must have seen the awesome "Who's Morky?" remark.

Jim stood toe to toe with the Robesinner and didn't blink (Tom Petty playing "Won't Back Down" in the background).

Thanks for the memory jog. I always liked that song. Guess I'll have to fire up Limewire and see if I can d-load it.
Yup, Markie, before you jump, I am willfully violating copyright laws by downloading old songs such as this. Like you, who conveniently blames everybody else, I'll blame HH&C for putting me in mind of this great old song. He made me do it.

Thanks, HH&C. Have you any more songs to suggest?

Good try, Mark, but no go.

You at least attempted to spell correctly, but your third grade punctuation and run-on sentence gave you away.

Better luck next time, Mark. There are avenues of hope for even you...the various mental health associations quite often offer free services for folks such as yourself.
It would behoove you to take them up on their services.

Wiseman, AB8MQ, has long been the butt of derision by his mental superiors.
He can be laughed at by visiting the news group,

Roger runs, but he is not good at hiding.

I was not aware he had one. Perhaps you are privy to information I am not.

Now, if I was Mark, I'd take umbrage with your remark. I'd come out of the Stupid Chute and accuse you of making sexual innuendo aspersions, or at least would twist my definitions to accuse you of same.
Then, if I was Mark, I'd post thirty or forty posts minimum to rebut what you have said.

Markie (deresion intended) has issues. One cannot help but feel sorry for him. Conversing with Markie is not unlike talking to a pet dog. You look at the doggie with condescending patience and tell the little tyke, "Nice Boy". Mark is not unlike that. One can command a pet dog to Speak. The dog does so. One can also command Mark to Speak. He does so also, ad nauseum. The difference? My dog is far more capable of authoring cohesive sentences that Mark is.

Perfectly 100% legal within postal regulations.

Since you're the "expert" Brain, why don't you tell us?

Free clue: Be sure to refer to the pre-9/11 / Patriot Act postal regulations.

Neither the FCC nor my friend were defrauded, despite your repeated foot-stomping and tantrums to the contrary.

The FCC never cancelled a dozen callsigns. One has to wonder how you passed an amateur radio exam given you seem to fail basic math. Perhaps Riley should require you to be retested.

Nor were the callsigns "fraudulent". The cancelled callsigns were 100% valid callsigns issued by the FCC. A callsign issued by the FCC cannot be fraudulent by its very definition.

> What? You just had "verbal" meeting minutes? You didn't get them in

Where in 97.5(b)(2) does it state meeting minutes are a requirement?

> There were no clubs, there were no members, and there were no > documents of organization.

Define a "document of organization". Charter issed by the State? IRS recognition as a non-profit organization? A 1-sheet piece of paper that says "We're a club, this is what we do, and the club license trustee is manager ad infinitum"?

Guess what? That 97.5(b)(2) doesn't define what a 'document of organization' is, so a 1-page or 1-paragraph description suffices.

> There were no meetings, and there were no minutes recorded.

There is no definition in 97.5(b)(2) as to how often a club has to have meetings, how long those meetings have to be, how the meetings have to be publicized, or that the 'minutes' of any meetings held be maintained.

A group of 5 hams getting together informally several times a year, chatting over coffee, and participating in a DF "foxhunt", fully meets the requirements of 97.5(b)(2)

If you want to stomp your feet and jump up and down some more, be my guest. Doesn't change the facts -- which anyone can google and see for themselves.

Now, go take a quinapril, we don't want you to burst a blood vessel.

Robesin, I believe that you have a life outside of amateur radio -

Mike, it sure looks like you non-complied with everthing that wasn't in Part 97. You could be the example child for the next Part 97 update. It could be called the "Mad Dog Mike Deignan Clause."

I don't think he's your friend anymore, or at least he's not defending you. But now you have Jim.

The FCC? Riley takes care of that business like he took care of you.

not exactly the same where Robeson makes up his charges Rapist and and Childmolestor I took robeson own wordabout his daughter and the eating of a particular substance and feed them back to him, and I resorted to such only after somebody got hurt who not involved self defense is different than attacking everyone in sight

it took some carefull moral balancing and also unlike steve I aplogized for doing it as I did it

Why?

What matters is what the regulations were back then, not what they are now.

(1) a valid mailing address where the licensee may receive mail from FCC.

> What do the Postal Regulations say about it?

I don't know what they said about it in 2000. That's what matters.

There are a number of retired "RV" people nowadays who don't really have a "residence" in the classic sense. They live in their RVs, travelling the country as they see fit, and living wherever their travel leads them. At least some of them are radio amateurs.

Of course they have a "mailing address", which is often just a post office box. Someone checks their mail regularly, and deals with important items as needed. FCC and the post office have no problem with this, and no fraud is involved.

In some rural areas, people maintain post office boxes
"in town" and pick up their mail there when they get to town.
FCC and the post office have no problem with this, and no fraud is involved.

How are these cases any different from the use of a Hawaiian post office box?

That's true.

How do you know?

Obviously the vanity callsign applications met the letter of the law - otherwise FCC would not have processed them nor issued the callsigns. Whether the met the intent of the law is another issue, and intent is a matter of interpretation.

> It was poor amateur practice.

Why?

Were the callsigns that were cancelled ones that other amateurs wanted, but could not get?

Have any of the cancelled callsigns been reissued through the vanity callsign program?

The subject is the letter of the law regarding vanity callsigns versus the intent of that law. There's also the question of good vs. poor amateur practice.

Kim is not the only amateur, nor the first, to have a callsign that some consider inappropriate. Indeed, she was not the first to have a callsign with a certain particular suffix.

MD is not the only amateur to be trustee of multiple club callsigns.

There was lengthy discussion here about the appropriateness of certain Amateur Radio vanity callsigns. The defense was that if the FCC issued the callsigns, they were appropriate.
Although I was initially unconvinced, I changed my mind.

Is that not correct?

> > Besides - all that stuff about the club calls is more than six

If it is OK to discuss those old callsign events, then it's also OK to discuss other old events, such as boasts of getting an Extra out of the box, or of opposing real estate zoning changes. Etc.

> > Is it because the

Where?

The person involved hadn't posted here for years. His posts are rather few in number, and quite short and to-the-point.

Other individuals who post here, including one who isn't even a radio amateur, incessantly tell others how to live their ham-lives. Is that wrong?

> then defrauds his friend and the FCC.

How was anyone defrauded?

Was there some sort of penalty, such as a forfeiture of money or an operator license suspension/revocation?

What brought the whole issue to FCC's attention, anyway?
Did someone want one of those callsigns?

Exactly.

I've had a PO Box for years. Having a rural mainland address, there are times when my mail will collect for weeks at a time when I'm not home (having that ocean-going trawler based in WA takes a lot of my time...) I also don't like having clients mail me checks to my mainland home, so I use a PO Box.

From time to time, folks I work on projects with also receive mail at my PO box. Case in point: About a year ago I was working on a project with "Mark". We needed a piece of software to complete the job, so "Mark" ordered the software for us on my company credit card. Rather than it coming addressed to "My Company, My PO Box" (the correct ship-to address which is also my CC billing address) it was shipped to "Mark, My PO Box".

The USPS delivered it just fine. Now, from time to time, "Mark" gets mail at my PO Box. Apparently the company sold his name on a mailing list. Still haven't heard a peep from the Postmaster. I suspect "Mark" could also receive non-junk-mail at my PO box just fine. I suspect the Postmaster doesn't care. After all, if anything "bad" was ever associated with my PO Box, the Postmaster knows where to find me.

Brian doesn't have one?

Only 1 club callsign at the moment, which is used exclusively on our beacons used for DF foxhunts.

> What brought the whole issue to FCC's attention, anyway?

Riley's first letter to me references coorespondence from Jeff. Since there is no official coorespondence in the record to suggest otherwise, it is my personal opinion that Jeff did.

Riley Hollingsworth, Special Counsel to the FCC, has about 700,000 (give or take) licensees to "count" and "take care of." I doubt he would even blink twice at Mikey D's dozen. But he DID notice once and that got on the "notices."

Now if all this was so "legal" as Mikey D sez, why would it get into the "notices?" If it was so "legal" then it should never have been there.

No sweat, the Guru and Reknowned Historian is all for code-tested amateur extras...they can do no real wrong in his eyes. All "very legal." <barf>

Well, considering when it was designed (probably some time around 1940 or thereabouts), the name sounded good. There just wasn't any sort of "meter" device around except for an audio-range unit or so and it didn't have all that great and accuracy. The "frequency standards" of that time all involved stabilized crystal oscillators. Decimal or binary indicators on front panels just weren't there, no Dekatrons, no Nixies, no "thermometer" displays using neon bulbs. The flip-flop was known but there wasn't much call for support circuitry to drive it (Schmitt triggers, sharp rise-time drivers, etc.). It was difficult to get an oscilloscope to reach 1 MHz bandwidth through amplification; had to be direct to the deflection plates!

I'd like to find out the setup used to make the Tables in the little book that came with BC-221s. Obviously some form of automation involved from the type face and format in the book (typed in on printed blank pages). The "electric typewriters" were in existance and were no doubt used, plus servo motor systems to drive the tuning dial, but how did they coordinate the precise heterodynes to dial position and then type it on the book form pages? Must have been some clever engineering innovation to do that on a production basis back in the 1940s.

The early General Radio "Frequency Standards" (up to around 1960) were just very big work-alikes to the little BC-221 with more bells and whistles. A circa-1950 version was at Army station ADA's Receiver site and always checking Transmitter site carrier frequencies (reported on the TTY order-wire). A circa-1955 version was in the Ramo-Wooldridge Calibration Lab where I got a tiny bit of overtime to check the time-position of one-second ticks against WWV HF ticks on week-ends. Had to do that due to varying propagation delays from Maryland (? old WWV site) to southern California. Had a big set of marine wet cells to act as an uninterruptible power supply...BIG ones in a separate room. The stable 1 MHz output of that GR standard went to a secondary standard HP-524 Frequency Counter that was used for routine frequency checks of other RF gear. Much, much easier to measure frequencies on a routine basis that way!

An acquaintence down here made a little PIC micro version frequency counter in a tiny wood box that used a 9 V dry cell for a power supply...with a Hitachi LCD panel display, back-lit with an LED. I checked the TCXO against the 60 KHz WWVB carrier for him. Now, thinking about that, the progress in just a half century of my experience in electronics is nothing short of phenomenal. Back in 1950 the electronic counter was a NEW thing and couldn't reach more than about 1 MHz. Transistors were just a curiosity and not fully into any production...ICs hadn't been born and the Microprocessor was a science-fiction dream. There weren't any LCD display panels and no LEDs to back-light them then. "Digital" back then involved counting on fingers. Powering a "complex" counter and display by a small 9 VDC battery would have sent the claimant out of the room amidst the sound of raucous laughter...claims of operation up beyond 30 MHz would have added to the hooting and hollering.

And today some olde-tyme hammes insist that manual morse code is "essential" to radio communications! I shake my head in wonderment at these ancient radio dinosours of pursed, disapproving lips.

I heard it was something like K4DUD and the officer is a major in the CAP. That could be wrong, of course... :-)

I'm still waiting (as we all have for years) on Robesin's copies of documented PROOF of his mighty USMC career. Not even digitized photo of him in an 18-year period of "active duty." Maybe he never registered on photographic film? [horrors, we know what THAT means]

Come to think of it, none of us have seen a copy of Robesin's private pilot certificate yet he implies that he is a "pilot" with the TN CAP. Hmmm..."TN CAP" sounds like "tin cup." Nah...can't be!

All we get to see is a staged photo of a middle-aged male (?) in a worn flight suit with some patches and insignia on it, all of which could have been purchased privately. Yawn. That's about as "honest" as the dozen imaginary "club" calls in Hawaii once held by a former Rhode Island resident.

Anal sex or anal intercourse is a form of human sexual behavior. While there are many sexual acts involving the anus, anal cavity, sphincter valve and/or rectum, the term "anal sex" is often used to mean the insertion of the penis into the rectum. It is a form of sexual intercourse considered to be particularly risky, for a number of reasons related to the vulnerability of the tissues and the septic nature of the anus.[1]

Such relations have been documented in a wide range of cultures, from earliest times. Where they involved two males, they have also been controversial and sometimes condemned since antiquity.

1946. Morse to the rescue

From Media wires, solars flares could black out GPS in the next few. When GPS is down, it will be Morse to the rescue for emergency communications (as usual, the old work horse will pull us through!). Sea going navigators can ignore Morse at their own peril.

"Solar flare activity is expected to build for the next three years to a crescendo that some scientists say could be cataclysmic, causing a telecommunication blackout that would down mobile phones and navigational systems.
"The solar flares are expected to be at its maximum intensity by the year 2010," Markus Aschwanden, a solar physicist at the Solar and Astrophysics Laboratory, Lockheed Martin Advanced Technology Center, told the Hindu News.
"These solar flares and Coronoal Mass Ejections from the sun have the ability to travel all the way to the earth and create a black-out of cellular phone services and navigational systems like the GPS.

Solar flares and CMEs occur when magnetic energy built up in the Sun's atmosphere is suddenly released. The flares carrying high amount of energy, travel at high speeds and reach the Earth in a matter of hours. "

Doesn't affect the truth of it. Some people don't believe in evolution. Some people don't believe the earth is more than about 6000 years old. Some people don't believe in global climate change, peak oil, or the need to limit population growth. Their nonbelief doesn't change objective reality.

Back in 1990/91, the PO Boxes on Guam were for the person listed on the card for that box, not for friends, neighbors, and people who wish to defraud the US Governemnt. When you sign for the box, you sign an AGREEMENT. Hopefully, you read the agreement. Apparently Hermann did not. Hermann got a KH2 call because he was "interested" in a job on Guam. He had never been there.

The mailing address where the FCC can reach you. In this case, the FCC could reach Jeffrey Hermann at the listed address, not Michael Deignan.

Newsflash... That has nothing to do with Deignan's intent to defraud the FCC.

The intent was fraud, a KH6 callsign.

It's like having to use the least amount of power to accomplish the communication. One amateur callsign can't be used to accomplish the desired communication? Well, Riley saw a problem with it.

My friend Jim, KH2D posted a nice essay on his KH2 website about the greedy jerks that glom up all of the DX callsigns for no practical purpose.

No, not even close. We're not talking about now.

Deignan signed an agreement with the USPS back then. Jeffrey Hermann signed an agreement with the USPS back then.

That's certainly a legitimate use for a PO Box, but it is not Hermann's PO Box, and that is the box in question. BTW, there was a 12th callsign at your street address issued to a YL. Don't you trust her to keep your mail from stacking up or blowing away?

Again, "Mark" and your PO Box are not the subject of this discussion.
Hermann's box in Hawaii is.

So basically, until charges are filed, no crime has occurred. Nice diversion, nice defense.

Almost interesting. Most any other DF club seems to be able to get by with the callsign of the beacon owner with a "stroke B" to indicate that its a beacon.

Voice is not good enough. It cannot punch through when all else fails. It served us well for many years and can even get through during radio blackouts. Here is the history (one-sided as it is):
"The invention of radio by Guglielmo Marconi and the use of Morse Code was a significant development in saving lives at sea after an incident. However, Morse telegraphy required many years of training and practice. If something happened to the radio operator, it was unlikely that anyone else on board would be able to use the telegraphy equipment. GMDSS equipment still requires training - but systems can automatically send a ship's position, speed and call sign when a distress button is pressed and advances in technology mean normal voice communication can be used, for example to speak to a rescue coordination centre.

Morse Code is therefore not a mandatory requirement under the GMDSS and many Governments are phasing out Morse Code listening services, if they have not already done so. "

> whe GPS goes if it goes down the ships will be sailing more or less

No, not really. They have the stars to navigate with, and hopefully a bug and a ham on shore who can copy Morse should they get into trouble. Even you would know how to send SOS if you had a key.

Odd, I received all the licenses mailed to me at the Hawaii address. Thus, clearly, the FCC reached me at that address just fine.

Please play again soon!

The only thing you have in common with a judge, Lennie, is you drool and fall asleep in your chair.

It is funny (and yet, pathetic at the same time) to see how Brian's mental gyrations continuously concoct new conspiracy theories on how I got my callsign(s).

Pretty soon, he'll have me hacking into ULS or perhaps bribing government officials.to assign myself only the best, choice callsigns available. Maybe the PostMaster in Hawaii was in on it too! GASP! Horrors!

Yes, I do. A PO Box can be for an individual, a business, or a household. In the case of the latter do, multiple individuals may receive mail there.

There never has been "12" callsigns. Try counting again.

Nope. Living on a rural route, my mailbox gets destroyed at least twice a winter by snowplows.

> Again, "Mark" and your PO Box are not the subject of this discussion.
> Hermann's box in Hawaii is.

Irrelevant. You claim it is "illegal" and "fraudulent" to have multiple people use the same PO box. There was no such regulation codified in the regulations in the late 90's. Nor is there any such regulation, for that matter, codified today.

> So basically, until charges are filed, no crime has occurred.

If a "crime" was being committed, without a doubt the PostMaster would be the first to notice it, and, without a doubt, bring it to my attention (or, alert the appropriate authorities), since I see him at least twice a month.

I prefer to have a separate, dedicated callsign, for beacon transmissions.

You're privvy to our friendship too? Wow. You're really psychic. Can I have tonite's lotto #'s too while you're at it?

Although I'm sure you're sitting there fondling yourself at the thought, Morkie... The reality is that any group of people, related or not, can consist of a "household". For example, when I was in college, several of us shared an apartment. A "household".

If you were in the market for a watch in1880, would you know where to get one? You would go to a store, right? Well, of course you could do that; but if you wanted one that was cheaper and better than most of the store watches, you went to the train station! Sound a bit funny? Well, for about 500 towns across the northern United States, that's where the best watches were found. At the train station. But not for the reason you might think. The railroad company wasn't selling the watches, not at all. The telegraph operator was. And most of the time, the telegraph operator was located in the railroad station because the telegraph lines followed the railroad tracks from town to town. It was usually the shortest distance and the right-of-ways had already been secured for the rail line. Also, most of the station agents were skilled telegraph operators, and that was the primary way that they communicated with the railroad. They would know when trains left the previous station and when they were due at their station. And it was the telegraph operator who had the watches. As a matter of fact, they sold more of them than almost all of the stores combined for a period of about 9 years. And mostly, this was arranged by Richard, who was a telegraph operator himself. He was on duty in the North Redwood, Minnesota, train station one day, when a load of watches arrived from the east. A huge crate of pocket watches. No one ever came to claim them. So Richard sent a telegram to the manufacturer and asked them what they wanted to do with the watches. The manufacturer didn't want to pay the freight back, so they wired Richard to see if he could sell them. Richard did that. He sent a wire to every agent in the system, asking them if they wanted a cheap, but good pocket watch. He sold the entire case in less than two days and at a handsome profit. That started it. He ordered more watches from the watch company and encouraged the telegraph operators to set up a display case in the station and start offering high quality watches for a cheap price to all the travelers. That worked! It didn't take long for the word to spread to all kinds of people; and before long, people other than travelers came to the train station to buy watches. Richard got so busy he had to hire a professional watchmaker to help him with the orders. He did, and that person was Alvah. And the rest is history, as they say. The business took off and soon expanded to many other lines of dry goods. Richard and Alvah left the train station and moved their company to Chicago. And it's still there. IT'S A LITTLE KNOWN FACT that for a while in the1880's, the biggest watch retailer in the country was at the train station. It all started with a telegraph operator, Richard Sears, and his partner: Alvah Robuck!

And how is that sexual. Unless your bizarre behavior includes letting some guy wear your ass like a shoe.

Its not sexual, now if I created a blog that was www.markmorgansucksdicks.blogspot.com, then I could see the connection, but that you just plain suck. I don't see it. Have you ever sucked on a popsicle? Kids do in all the time. What's sexual about that? Haven't you ever heard anyone say "This place sucks, or the food sucks? I suppose if you have sex disorder, everything appears to be related to sex. You should seek professional help.

Thank you puppet, I just made $50 off of your predictable behavior. I knew I could count on you. I bet this guy in my user group meeting here at a caf'e that I could get you to respond to every post I make in a 10 minute period.

Now I just bet him $25 more that you will respond again to this post because you are so stupid.

Tsk. Another excellent representative of US amateur extras (code-tested variety) showing the world how "good" they are. No wonder the amateur licensee numbers have been dropping.

Unrepentant (or unrepentent) seems an apt descriptor. They feel they can do anything, say anything because they are code-tested extras.

However, in Mikey D's case, he doesn't have either the smarts or guts to hack into any government websites.

What he did was a simple confidence-game routine, little more than petty fraud, taking advantage of too many amateurs for the FCC to effectively monitor them on application. That, and snowing his co-conspirator in Hawaii, putting him at risk of his license.

Brian, he's just a little OJ-wannabe, but without the knife or glove. Lovely representative of professional football (OJ) or amateur radio (MD). Let him have his "glory" of putting something over on the government. His stain on the hobby will never be removed.

Those threats (if they were really threats) were made here, more than once. IIRC, you stood idly by when those threats were made.

It's not. Just write plainly, rather than trying word games.

I'm not diverting or deflecting. I'm asking straightforward questions and making direct observations, but you insist on avoiding honest, direct answers.

Where did I make such statements? I do not recall any such thing.

Show me, and all who read rrap. A link to the posting where I made such claims is the best way.

Otherwise, why should anyone believe you?

Why is it absurd?

If anything, it makes sense that a person who doesn't read much of rrap and who consciously steers away from many posts based on thread names would miss a lot of the things you refer to.

In the sense that the earth's population must stabilize at some point, yes, he was "right". Doesn't mean everything he said or wrote was "right", or that his methods were "right".

But he did have safety equipment onboard.

His torch (flashlight) was part of an emergency communications system, which he successfully used to signal for help.

> One wonders why someone that stupid knows Morse code. :-)

Indeed - Morse Code skill and stupidity are usually negatively correlated.....;-)

He was foolish and unprepared, yes, if the only emergency equipment he had was a flashlight.

Even smart people are sometimes foolish and caught unprepared.

Like that family that took a short cut in Oregon, made a wrong turn or two, and wound up lost for several days. Cost the father his life.

They had GPS and cell phones and all sorts of modern stuff but they still got lost. And it took a long time to find them.

You're right, Jim, he was equipped with an electro-from the average maritime mobile radio.

Jeff should never have loaned out his PO Box, and is probably all

For the entire time I lived overseas, my U.S. mailing address, as far as the FCC was concerned was that of WA8JOC in Cincinnati. I did not physically reside there. I was not an employee of WA8JOC. I am not related to WA8JOC. Despite these things, my providing the FCC that address did not constitute fraud and it broke no laws. It didn't attempt to circumvent any laws.

WA8JOC's address is still the FCC address of record for a number of Finnish radio amateurs who took and passed U.S. licensing exams. My own address is the FCC address of record for one Finnish radio amateur who took such an exam. The FCC says that applicants must have a U.S. address, not that the applicant must reside at that address. The applicant must either a U.S. Social Security number or a Taxpayer Identification Number. Those Finnish hams were able to obtain a TIN without ever having had a SSN. This was done after the FCC was contacted directly about the situation and asked what should be done.

For all other mailing purposes in the U.S., my parents addresses in Kentucky and in Georgia were used as my address of record in the United States. I had not resided with them for decades. I broke no laws nor did I commit fraud.

In 1993, I provided the Department of State a legal residence address which is the same as the address I now have. No mail was being sent here and there was not even a rural mailbox standing at this location. I didn't live here until 2000.

You may now chew on these statements and attempt to reconcile them.

There is no regulation which states I have to be an employee or relation --

Exactly, Cecil!

Not only that, but his EM wave generator was equipped with a high-gain directive antenna system. And he was equipped with a sophisticated diversity receiving system for those frequencies, too.

Sure you can, Len. There's no FCC requirement for a PO Box nor residence address. Just a valid mailing address. You could use your Lanark Street address or the address of your "northern house" if you can receive mail from FCC there.

No problem at all.

But I don't think you will ever be a radio amateur.
Just a hunch.

FCC rules do not limit the number of clubs that someone may be a trustee for.

"Enforcement letters".

It appears FCC wanted more information about the clubs.

> If it was so "legal" then it should >   never have been there.

Only if you assume guilt without proof. In the USA, there's a basic principle of "innocent until proven guilty".

>   No sweat, the Guru and Reknowned Historian is all for

Who is this "Guru and Renowned Historian"? I do not know the person.

Also, there are no non-code-tested Amateur Extras
at all. Not yet, anyway. That situation will soon change - just watch the thread "ARS License Numbers" for updates. Perhaps I will update the numbers there more frequently than twice-per-calendar-month. Perhaps not.

As for me, it appears that there was a misunderstanding about the intent of the Part 97 rules concerning vanity calls for clubs - particularly in what a group must do to meet FCC's defintion of a "club" and qualify for a club callsign.

> All "very legal." <barf>

Who was harmed by the assignment of those vanity callsigns?

It is clear that some callsigns, such as four-character ones, are considered more desirable by many amateurs. Were any of the disputed callsigns part of a desirable group?

Were other amateurs wanting the callsigns, but unable to get them because of the "clubs" having them?

Have any of those callsigns been reassigned under the vanity program?

It is interesting that you identify the trustee of those callsigns as a "code tested extra", but not as a no-code-test advocate.

This is the same type of stereotyping as saying that no-code Techs are CB hams. This stereotyping has no validity. Just as an FYI, one of the worst jammers on the west coast was a Technician.

These behaviours have nothing to do with one's license class and everything to do with the individual's already existing personality.

Also, there are no non-code-tested Amateur Extras
at all. Not yet, anyway. That situation will soon change - just watch the thread "ARS License Numbers" for updates. Perhaps I will update the numbers there more frequently than twice-per-calendar-month. Perhaps not.
UNQUOTE

I, particularly, would find it very interesting to see these numbers more frequently for about the first two months or so.

The first possible test sessions under the new rules will be February 23rd. That first rush of upgrades will probably show up in the FCC database within a week and the balance of those in less than two weeks. I would expect the big rush of upgrades to pretty much be done in two to three months. I wonder how many will stop at General and how many will go on to Extra.

My team is conducting a test session on February 23rd here in our area. So far, while the pre-registrations are up slightly, there's been no massive rush (so far).

Please post the "ARS License Numbers" as of the 22nd for the baseline for the pool.

Rules:

1) Predict amount of change in ARS numbers between the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O for elimination of code testing and one year from that date.
2) Calculation of the number of licenses will be done by N2EY under the same principals that he uses now to calculate the number of licenses.
3) You must select whole numbers for your percentage.
4) You may select positive or negative percentages.
5) You may select a range but that range may not exceed a total of 4%.
Note that your average will be used to determine who is closest. If the actual change is outside the range of everyone's guesses then the person whose limit is closest will be the winner.
6) You must submit your guess no later than six months after the
IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O.

Anyone else? Note if your guess doesn't show up on the list within a week, it may mean that my ISP is blocking it or that you are on my blocked senders list. You may still participate but you will have to have your guess submitted by someone who is not blocked.

Guesses submitted:

N8UZE: 1% less to 1% more
N2EY: 1% more to 2% more
KH6HZ: 1% less to 0% change
N3KIP: 2% more to 6% more
KH6O: 6% more to 10% more
KK6J: 12% more to 14% more

Rules:

1) Predict amount of change in ARS numbers between the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O for elimination of code testing and one year from that date.
2) Calculation of the number of licenses will be done by N2EY under the same principals that he uses now to calculate the number of licenses.
3) You must select whole numbers for your percentage.
4) You may select positive or negative percentages.
5) You may select a range but that range may not exceed a total of 4%.
Note that your average will be used to determine who is closest. If the actual change is outside the range of everyone's guesses then the person whose limit is closest will be the winner.
6) You must submit your guess no later than six months after the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O.

Anyone else? Note if your guess doesn't show up on the list within a week, it may mean that my ISP is blocking it or that you are on my blocked senders list. You may still participate but you will have to have your guess submitted by someone who is not blocked.

Guesses submitted:

N8UZE: 1% less to 1% more
N2EY: 1% more to 2% more
KH6HZ: 1% less to 0% change
N3KIP: 2% more to 6% more
KH6O: 6% more to 10% more
KK6J: 12% more to 14% more
KC2HMZ: 5% more
K8BSG: 2% to 3% more <--- Added 02/18/06

Were you, WA8JOC, any number of Finnish radio amateurs, or your parents using Jeffrey Hermann's PO Box on Hawaii?

You must have missed the part where this is about the use of Jeffrey Hermann's PO Box on Hawaii.

TEH WAY OF THE K00K
Never learn from your mistakes.
Always practice your mistakes; you may get them right.
Always pick on those smarter and tougher than you.
Always believe that only you know the TRVTH.
Never allow logic or reason get in the way of a good k00k.
When being overwhelmed by logic and reason: k00ksuit!
If you are going to be wrong, do it at the top of your lungs.
When caught in a lie: LIE!
When in doubt: Order the Crab Won Ton
Plagiarism is your friend. Use it.
Whenever contradicted; morph, start calling people names, and make false accusations. Include the children of your target in your allegations, even if they don't have any.

(06-Jun-05) When nobody else will listen, post to your own fan group.
(06-Jun-05) Obviously, since you have your own fan group, this must mean that you have fans. Post prolifically to your fan group - you wouldn't want to disappoint them!
(10-May-2005)Everyone reads usenet. Approval here means approval everywhere.
Post numerous blank posts, or posts containing only a message id.
Post numerous copy&paste web articles from crackerpot websites.
Never forget to call kookologists "k00ks."
If there are several, call them "sockpuppets" too
When all else fails, accuse various and sundry kookologists of e-mailing viruses to you. This is a sure-fire method of garnering sympathy and ensuring that the General Public will always see things your way. An especially effective sub-strategy here is to accuse them of infecting you with the 'Sasser' worm via e-mail.
Quote notorious scientists or writers - it makes it look as if they approve the drivel you are writing!
(9-Jul-05) Anytime your computer is infected with a virus, bogged down by spyware, attacked over your internet connection, or otherwise suffers from preventable problems, government agencies are responsible and are trying to silence you and are monitoring your computer files.
Ignore all traffic signs and feel free to trespass, you don't have to obey any rules.
Scare your enemies with lawsuits, police escorts and whines.
Always back up your empty (albeit noisy) threats with phony LARTs, false police reports, and harassing letters to the FBI and other gubbermint agencies.
Be vigilant in your redundancy. The more you repeat yourself, the more likely others will believe you!
If you can't find anyone as crazy as yourself to support you in the flamewars you start with the normal population, create sock puppets and use anonymous remailers that shamelessly hang on every word you write.
(17-Mar-05) When dealing with law enforcement, remember that it is they who have the problem, not you. Be sure to inform them of this at every available opportunity, as they will surely appreciate your constructive criticism. Be sure to make them aware that YOU KNOW YOUR RIGHTS! ("The cops like that, when people know their rights. That way they don't have to read them to you on the way to the station." - George Carlin)
The more your fake personalities adulate you, the more respect you'll get!
When confronted with a reality that you don't like: Announce loudly that you are departing, never to return as long as there's an Internet. Come back in three or four days and claim you were drunk, hacked, abducted by alience, or forged. Alternately you can just not even mention your prior departure, and if anyone asks you about it, either ignore them or respond with something along the lines of "YOUR NOT THE BOSS OF ME! PLONK!" People really know you mean business then.
Always remain clueproof.

(20-Mar-05) Anyone who does not believe that you are the reincarnation of [$DEITY_OR_PROPHET] is obviously an infidel lacking in faith whose soul in in peril of everlasting damnation.
When responding to one line challenges, post paragraphs of rants and screed in response.
Incoherency is not a roadblock to poasting.
Neither is illiteracy.
Delusions poasted often enough become fact.
Claim you will destroy <insert newsfroup> for attacking you.

Abuse women while telling how many hundreds you've loved. Nevermind that you're one ugly motherfucker and that there were 30,000 femininas that thought you were a scumbag with bad teeth.

Remember that your ko0ky klaims are 'facts', and that 'facts' do not require proof.
Do not neglect to poast your responses to forums that the originator doesn't read. This will make the people in that forum very impressed with how you tear him to shreds without him being able to respond. They like it even better if you are off-topic for that forum.

(04-Aug-2005) When spanked mercilessly for days on end, proving with each poast just what an illiterate and ignorant fool you are, ALWAYS claim ownership of [person(s),froup(s)]. This works on so many levels. It inspires dread in your opponents that they will no longer be able to poast in their home froup and that they will eventually have to pay rent, to name just two.
Any problems with your poasts are the fault of the konspirators, who are trying to stop you from preventing the extinction of humanity.
Konspiracies that are able to subvert whole governments are always unable to silence konspiracy ko0ks.
The entire United States government is willing to spend millions of dollars for the sole purpose of harassing you.

Do not consult psychiatrists or other mental health professionals. They are part of the konspiracy, and will sedate you and lock you away and keep you drugged if you tell them the truth.
Numerology and Astrology are respectable sciences and are useful for proving your case.
Everyone is Tim Hill, or David Green, or...
There is a fine line between trolling and kookery. Find that line and cross it repeatedly. When you are killfiled and/or LARTed for net.abuse as a result, claim victory. If you lose multiple accounts, this merely proves that you are indeed a world-class troll, with a black-belt in manipulation.
If you respond to every post someone else makes, they're obsessed. If they respond to less than 1% of your posts, they're even more obsessed.
Publishing people's real names, addresses, and phone numbers when there's no other way for you to come out of a flamewar with any dignity is cool, and proves that you are a master of secret internet information stores, and absolutely not to be fucked with.
Everyone is out to get you. You can put a stop to this by telling everyone that they're out to get you at every available opportunity.
You are the only sane one.
Those that give you a hard time about morally bankrupt things you yourself admit to are just persecutioners of the new inquisition.
Yelling in all caps and cursing at your detractors is debate. Your detractors laughing at you with sarcastic remarks is obvious anger and jealousy.

I am not the trustee of that callsign.

My quoted statement above is 100% accurate to this day. None of the club callsigns ever issued to me by the FCC have been vanity callsigns.

Very true!

However, if the flashlight was one of the new LED models, its DC-power-to-usable-EM-output) conversion efficiency could be very good.

The transmitting efficiency (DC-power-to-usable-EM-output) of the typical VHF FM voice radio is typically no better than about 50%.

All of that sounds very reasonable, but it's still a bunch of very educated guesses. The 2000 changes brought a flood of upgrades, but not a lot of new hams. But that was almost seven years ago.

We will soon know for sure what the effects of the Feb 23 2007 changes will be.

Since the written testing is not changing, the future
General-vs-Extra distribution may likely be about the same as it is now.

One data point - so far. I wonder what the overall picture

We will soon see the exact numbers.

Ooops - looks like I was mistaken about the vanity aspect.

If they were not vanity callsigns, then they were all sequentially issued, right?

I will reword my questions, then:

Who was harmed by the assignment of those sequentially-issued club callsigns?

If someone was harmed by the assignment of those sequentially-issued club callsigns, how were they harmed?

Have any of those callsigns been reissued, either sequentially or through the vanity system?

Hey, Roger! How are ya? Talked to Riley lately? Gotten any correspondence from him?

I have a five dollar bill that says Mark Morgan never received so much as a single letter from Riley. How many have you accumulated? Two? Three? Four?
Heck. I'll toss another five spot in the pot and bet that Mark has never been forced to retest, either.

Want to go for double or nothing? I submit that you are much higher on Riley Hollingsworth's radar screen than Mark will ever be, if at all.

Heck, Roger. I'll even toss in an extra sawbuck if you can show that Mark has lost as many ISPs as you have in the last five years alone. Could this be the reason you maintain so many dialup accounts?

And so far as Mark being banned from Nimbusters? Perhaps he should strive to have his very own Nimbusters board such as the one you have. What a badge of shame that must be...I mean...what with a little animated .gif of a little guy urinating on your photo and all. ( http://nimbusters.com/forum/forum.php?board=10)

If I do a Google search for Mark Morgan all I'll likely find is a list of comments he has made to Usenet groups over the years. Do the same search for YOU Roger, and there are literally hundreds, nay, thousands of "hits" that deal with your filthy comments, your infamous brushes with Riley Hollingsworth, and even your low-life and illegal attempts to implicate Lloyd Davies in kiddie porn sales by posting bogus messages over Lloyd's name and home address.

Oh, and let us not forget to mention the half-dozen news groups that have been created in your name. Score? Roger: 6. Mark Morgan: 0

Yes, nine (9) sequentially issued for Hawaii. Here's a query that I ran in 1998 or 1999. Note the PO Box #... no wonder Jeff was working hard to disassociate himself from the guy that hijacked his PO Box.

I was using your excuses above as to how you've loaned out your own PO Box. Why did you provide them if they are irrelevant?

That you're a fraud on numerous accounts doesn't mean that fraudulently using Jeff's PO Box was OK.

I'll take a piece of that action! Actually what happened was that Michael wanted a snazzy KH6 call for himself, plus some more KH6 calls for eight make-believe Hawaiian clubs, but he lived in RI. Bummer!
But he had a plan! He prevailed on his KH6-resident friend Jeffrey Herman, KH2PZ (yes, I know KH2PZ is a Guam callsign, but that's a whole-nother kettle of call-sign scam) to borrow his mailing address at Box 8282. In Oct 97 Michael has a brand new KH6HZ call sign replacing his non-descript KD1HZ. In December he changes his address back to RI and all is cool. Unfortunately for Jeffrey, Michael has left all his phoney club calls at Box 8282 so Jeffrey is probably under suspicion when Riley investigates all of Mikes hoarded club callsigns. Meanwhile, Jeffrey self-righteously bemoans the fact that mainlanders scarf up all the cool Hawaii calls, but he captures not one, but TWO rare 2x1 Hawaii calls as he abandons his undeserved KH2 call. Truth is stranger..... Now how much was that bet again? --

Actually what happened was that Michael wanted a snazzy

Truth is stranger.....

Now how much was that bet again?

Who cares? You're a Google sock for one or more lame, homophobic cowards who think harassment is funny. Your identity is unimportant, because you don't own your nym. You are whom I say you are, unless and until you decide you don't want someone else telling you who you are. Now tell me to go fuck myself, and then you may run away crying like a little girl.

One of the greatest gobblers of call signs on the west coast is very definitely a long-time (therefore 20 WPM tested) extra, Roy Tucker, N6TK. Up to 1 Jan 2001 he had no less than FORTY-ONE callsigns! He still has NINETEEN of them, all at the same Whiterock Drive, La Mirada, CA location.

Search for the history of the "W6NUT" repeater, always on 147.435 MHz. It has since gone through two ownership changes but Tucker is on that repeater regularly. You can also find it on the ARRL letter and the regular ham disobediance notices there. :-)

You could begin at www.435.org for a start.

Mikey D, take note, there's still hope for you gobbling up more than 19 calls and be "on top." :-)

>These behaviours have nothing to do with one's license class and everything >to do with the individual's already existing personality.

Yes, we've all seen that with Heil, Miccolis, Kelly, and, once in a while, Flint. Note the slip in your first paragraph of denigrating Technician class as "worst jammer."
Not to mention pointing out "west coast." Tsk, tsk.

"Six land" (meaning primarily California) already has an over-abundance of amateur radio licensees. I doubt that you care very much about that since few non-residents want to gobble up calls from YOUR call area.

Oh, and is "behaviour" anything similar to "endeavour?"
Does it have a "colour?" A "flavour?" :-)

You are not the only one to observe this behaviour. When Roger is banned from the Nim board, he absolutely, positively, has to post his filth somewhere lest he explode. He comes here to vent his pent up filth.

There are no "polite" inquiries from law enforcement. Simply being queried by Law Enforcement is intimidating enough and causes no small amount of discomfort. Roger knows full well the scope of such queries...he is far from being a stranger to his local Glendale police department in that he has been paid several visits by them and was once asked to go to their headquarters for an interview. It was during one such alleged interview that the Chief, Norm Stenger, became alarmed when Roger suffered some sort of seizure and an ambulance had to be summoned. According to the report, the Chief said, "I thought we were going to lose him there for a minute."

If you were queried by LE officials as you claim, then my money is on Mr. Wiseman being the culprit for same. And if you were NOT interviewed by LE officials, well, it makes for a nice story anyway, one in keeping with the mode of operation that Roger is infamous for.

Really? Well, perhaps I could "loan out" my mailing address. (Grin)

But of course I am "only" a 13wpm tested General and don't meet the criteria of a Malcontent Extra as defined by others. Maybe I should upgrade so as to be promoted to that category? Of course, becoming a 13wpm Extra may open me up for derision by some who earned it the old way....

Too bad that IR wavelengths and shorter are NO ASSIGNED by any radio regulating agency. No license required to use them. :-)

Cue Cranky Spanky who says, "Does this mean you are against licensing in general?"

Cue der Uberoberst who shouts, "You are a little redhatted monkey!"

Cue program ending theme: "Mission Impossible."

Ah, the Land Of Flatulence enters the fray yet again.

Flatulence occurs when a food does not break down completely in the stomach and small intestine. As a result, the food makes it into the large intestine in an undigested state. Most lower intestinal gas is produced when bacteria in your colon ferment carbohydrates that aren't digested in your small intestine. The body does not digest and absorb some carbohydrates (the sugar, starches, and fiber found in many foods) in the small intestine because of a shortage or absence of certain enzymes.

You disappoint me, Len. Surely you are capable of something more verbose and a bit less childish.

You know the drill. If you can't impress us with a few words of wit, then author a multi-paragraphed, 17kb response ad-nauseum.
Come on, Len. Dazzle us with yet another display of no-holds-barred and unfettered flatus.

I think you mean 'he reaps what he sows'.

I suggest to you that there's another way to look at the situation:

If Person A behaves like a jackass towards Person B, and Person B replies in kind,
```

then Person A has succeeded in dragging Person B down his (B's) level. Then, Person A can claim there is no difference between them, since the act identically.

Meanwhile, Persons C, D, E etc., throw up their hands and walk away, not wanting to be part of the mess.

Suppose - just suppose - that Person A's real goal is to drag others down to A's level.
If B responds in kind, then A has succeeded.

Or maybe it's even simpler than that. Perhaps all Person A wants is attention - of any kind. Like children who misbehave just to get a parental reaction. Any good parent knows that the proper response is to not respond to such behavior.

Childish behavior is not limited to children, btw.

For example, have you noticed how hard "Len" works to get a response from me? I make a short post or two, and he carries on for several error-laden posts, vying for my attention.
Heck, he's admitted to intentionally putting mistakes in his postings in order to get a response.

(Some would say that the insertion of intentional mistakes is a form of "lying"...)

Perhaps he needs better parenting......

Well, you call it one thing and I call it another.
But I think we are talking about the same thing, whatever it is called.

Why? What of his worls have you read?

btw, Mr. Vonnegut is a WW2 veteran. He was captured by the Germans in the Battle of the Bulge, and was a POW in Dresden when it was firebombed in February, 1945.

I really do suggest you read the short story
"Harrison Bergeron". It perfectly illustrates what you are describing. It was written in 1961
IIRC, but the ideas are not dated at all.

It can be found here:

What I'm actually trying to do is get to the basic facts. Like who "Morkie" really is.

Perhaps I missed the memo, but there seems to have arisen a custom here where some people are unable to refer to others by their first names or callsigns. In some cases people cannot even refer to themselves by their first name or callsign. For example. there's one person who has adopted the persona of a sandwich, and refers to others as "Lost Action Hero" and such. It all gets very confusing.

All I'm trying to do is figure out who is who.

In at least one case, it seems that one person is using at least three different screen names to post to rrap.

If all that is true (note the if)

why do you bother with him at all?

Nice snip and dodge, Deignan.

You're not the trustee of the "Michael P. Deignan Repeater Association?"

That's too bad, because you being given credit for it.

And the 11 others? Correct?

No wonder all this slipped past the FCC, so many to keep track of.

I manufactured none of that. Not my PO Box, not my addresses, not my callsigns. NOT MY LIES!

You can thank Michael P Deignan in collusion with Jeff for bringing this blight on amateur radio.

Thank you for your interest.

Is it the same type of stereotyping as saying that a 5WPM Technician

And I'm sure that one of the best jammers on the West Coast was an Extra.

RESULT
rec.radio.amateur.moderated will be created

The Last Call for Comments on 12 Feb 2007 initiated a five-day period for final comments. Following this comment period, the Big-8 Management Board has decided by consensus to create the newsgroup rec.radio.amateur.moderated.

This group will be created on 22 Feb 2007.

NEWSGROUPS LINE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc. (Moderated)

CHARTER:

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is for the discussion of amateur ("ham") radio, also known as the Amateur Radio Service, as defined in Federal Communications Commission Regulations and U.S. Law (47 CFR Part 97), and in similar laws and regulations in other countries, based on international treaty. It is not limited to the rules of any one country or time period. Possible topics include past, present, and future operating practices; events; contests; past, present, and potential-future rules; power limitations; authorized frequencies; allowed modes and band plans (or other gentlemen's agreements) that govern how we are to operate; what constitutes the acceptable operation of amateur stations.

The newsgroup is intended to be international in scope, not just for amateurs in the United States. It is, however, intended as an English-language forum, by custom and practice. As with General Aviation and other internationally-scoped endeavors, the Amateur Radio Service has a strong custom of the use of English and the Latin alphabet. Discussion of amateur radio in languages other than English also occurs in many country- and region-specific hierarchies, many of which have specific amateur radio newsgroups, including:

de.* (Germany)
dk.* (Denmark)
es.* (Spain)
fr.* (France)
nl.* (Netherlands)
pl.* (Poland)
pt.* (Portugal)
relcom.* (Russia)

This newsgroup is only intended to supplement, not supersede, any other amateur radio newsgroups.

General communications law or government policy of various government agencies is also on-topic, as long as the discussion relates to amateur radio. Examples would be emergency communications, local antenna restrictions, and property deed restrictions applying to operation of amateur radio stations.

Discussion of other types of radio, such as Citizens Band, Broadcast, other Personal Radio Services, Commercial or Private Land Mobile, and Marine or Aviation services are off-topic, except when directly related to amateur radio. Similarly, discussion of methods violating applicable communications law and regulations concerning radio equipment or operations are off-topic.

The following are prohibited:

* Personal advertisements (submitters of such articles will be referred to rec.radio.swap, instead).
* Commercial advertisements and money-making schemes.
* Chain letters.
* Posts in HTML.
* EMP spam.
* Binaries, apart from PGP signatures, X-Face headers, and other ancillary article meta-data.
* Forgery of valid e-mail addresses.
* Excessive morphing/nym-shifting.
* Copyright violations. Pointers to news articles, blogs, etc. on this topic are welcome but are required to comply with fair use standards.
* Personal attacks and flames, as defined by the moderation team.
* Advertising items and/or services for sale (also will be referred to rec.radio.swap).
* Links to "objectionable" web content, including pornographic sites, sites encouraging illegal activities, or sites deemed unacceptable by the moderation team. The moderation team will cursorily check the contents of specific links to confirm on-topic content, but acceptance for posting does not imply endorsement or approval of the entire present or future contents of that web site.
* Discussion of moderation decisions. See below for information on appealing moderator action.

MODERATION POLICY: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

A moderation robot will scan all submitted posts. Each post will be either automatically approved, rejected, or sent to the moderators for manual review. The moderator 'bot will enforce the following guidelines:

* Crossposting is generally not allowed, with the general exception of crossposts of bulletins, FAQ's, and other informational articles to rec.radio.info, rec.answers, and news.answers. Infrequent administrative crossposts may occasionally be allowed at the sole discretion of the moderator.

* Postings must be in plain text. In particular no HTML or mixed text and HTML posts will be allowed. Messages that are multipart/alternative will be automatically filtered to pass just
the text/plain version to the newsgroup.

* No binary postings of any sort will be accepted. Exceptions will be made for cryptographic signatures and such.

* Messages must not have a 'Followup-To' header that points out of rec.radio.amateur.moderated (other than to "poster").

* Messages must not continue a thread that has been "closed" by the moderators.

Individual posters may be temporarily banned for consistently violating the group charter. Posters who feel that their posts have been unfairly rejected or banned, either for specific content or by a specific moderator, may appeal the decision. They may do so by contacting the Appeals Board, consisting of a rotating group of 2 or more moderators, at the Administrative Contact address below. The Board will discuss and vote on the appeal and respond within 14 days if the appeal is successful. The Board will also reply within 14 days to unsuccessful submitters of any appeal that is on-topic, reasoned, civilly stated, and is not substantially an attempt to revisit the subject matter and arguments of a previous unsuccessful appeal.

Multiple temporary bans, attempting to circumvent the ban, or abuse of the appeal system may result in a permanent ban.

The generation of childish nicknames appears to be some kind of a contest on RRAP. You'll not find it on RRAPModerated. You'll find a bunch of clones slapping each other on the back for like-thinking.

Jim doesn't like word games? Have you brought the subject up with

You insist on playing dumb. Do it long enough and people might start

At present, I don't believe you.

I have. I'm on record for saying that it's not an acceptable topic for discussion on RRAP.

You are freely able to witness it as well, and I just don't believe

You miss absolutely nothing that Len says. Len is a rather prolific writer on RRAP, and Len is often responding to one of your cronies. Am I to believe that you are reading only Len's words, and not those of your cronies?

So I just don't believe you.

Jim, what is the point at which the population stabilizes? What did Malthus say?

It didn't provide a decent life for early man. Nature against Man. Later, we added Man against Man.

What is your solution?

What has any of this to do with Robesin's seven breaches of civility?

Many heros don't consider themselves to be heros.

Some say they were at the right place at the right time, others say they were just doing their jobs.

Many are just plain old dead and have nothing more to say.

Then there are guys like John Kerry who set out to become heros. He has medals, you know?

Jim, you so dearly want to have a discussion about it, but refuse to

Rules:

1) Predict amount of change in ARS numbers between the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O for elimination of code testing and one year from that date.
2) Calculation of the number of licenses will be done by N2EY under the same principals that he uses now to calculate the number of licenses.
3) You must select whole numbers for your percentage.
4) You may select positive or negative percentages.
5) You may select a range but that range may not exceed a total of 4%.
Note that your average will be used to determine who is closest. If the actual change is outside the range of everyone's guesses then the person whose limit is closest will be the winner.
6) You must submit your guess no later than six months after the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O.

Anyone else? Note if your guess doesn't show up on the list within a week, it may mean that my ISP is blocking it or that you are on my blocked senders list. You may still participate but you will have to have your guess submitted by someone who is not blocked.

Guesses submitted:

N8UZE: 1% less to 1% more
N2EY: 1% more to 2% more
KH6HZ: 1% less to 0% change
N3KIP: 2% more to 6% more
KH6O: 6% more to 10% more
KK6J: 12% more to 14% more
KC2HMZ: 5% more
K8BSG: 2.5% more <--- Added 02/18/06

"busted"? How? What was the penalty?

What support?

I am simply trying to get to the bottom of these alleged violations.
So far, it turns out that at least some of the information supplied here was incorrect. It turns out that:

- the disputed callsigns were not vanity callsigns,
- FCC requires a mailing address, not residence or station location
- there is no limit on the number of clubs that can name an individual as trustee
- the person in question was not an Extra when all this happened.

Nine callsigns, not a dozen. Are any of them current?

That one is current - and the trustee is not Mr. Deignan.

So what's the problem?

Thanks Mark, Woger, Slow Code, hot-ham-and-cheese, Billy Smith, and all of the other useful idiots who kept flooding rrap and rram. You helped enormously in convincing the Big 8 Management Board that a moderated newsgroup is necessary.

Those of us who want to get away from you idiots - especially the Mark idiot - now have a place where we can discuss amateur radio and be unmolested.

As a plus, Paul Schleck will stop sending out his annoying email to people who are silly enough to post here for the first time with a valid email address. Paul will now go away to his new sandbox and play with his pals in rec.radio.amateur.moderated. I expect an initial surge of interest, followed by its inevitable decline and slow abandonment. In general, the number of moderated groups has been steadily decreasing over the years (see news.groups), and I don't expect the new group to be able to successfully buck that trend in the long run.

Still, its creation is a wonderful thing. The new group will provide a new source of amusement amd massive lulz to those of us who will enjoy seeing Mark Morgan be excluded from posting to it.

Mark is sooooooo cute when he's puncing.

In message <1149094824.180528.105660@j55g2000cwa.googlegroups.com>, Mark Morgan autolamed himself when he said to Secwet Woger, "you arer [sic] everywhere like a cockroach"

In message <47ioj29tvo6o93smik8uccphb043jd9l7i@4ax.com>, Mark@kb9rqz.aprs autolamed himself with the question "you posted the same drivel twice?"

Mark:

Don't you think they should have things as they would like them?

I don't think you nor any have the right to refuse them, let 'em go to the good ole boys club. Amateur radio and the arrl will never be again, as it was in the past--let them dream the dream of death in peace ... it is as fitting a way for them to leave as any other.

Hmmm...just about ANYTHING said negative to an olde-tyme hamme amateur extra is perceived as a "threat." Yet those same olde-tymers are (hypocritically) "justified" in saying worse to "lesser" beings...naturally, those are "not" threats. Hypocrisy with federal authorization.

As am I. But, notice his technique. His straightforward
NON-answer is to issue a command, "then address it."

That steers wayyyy around any straightforward course and provides NO connection to himself as to HIS opinion.
He "commands," then (conveniently) "forgets about it."
[not his concern?]

>> You are the one who claims to have witnessed it,

He just doesn't WANT to see it. Internal mental blockage.
Ostrich syndrome...he can't "see it," therefore it does not exist.

That or the desperate efforts of NOT wanting to be a witness to anything, a trait known to east coasters and particularly citizens of Noo Yawk Sitty. Dey nevah saw Ahhh...the olde "selective amnesia" ploy! That leads up to Miccolis' #1 demand in here (for years):

>> Show me, and all who read rrap. A link to the posting >> where I made such claims is the best way.

Diversion. Distraction. Cries of "outrage" from the wounded of Word War 3.

An "endless summer" of constant pulling up of old postings from years back. All AS IF this were some court of law and terrible lawyers were prosecuting him "unjustly." An attempt to re-argue old, old arguments whereby the nth time around he might "win" message points?

No. It's just a distraction. A diversion. It avoids his highness (or is it 'holiness'?) of giving an "honest, straightforward" answer on the subject at hand. It's an old, old trick in computer-modem communications and most with experience in that will see it right away. However, those who write those distractions and diversions think they are "clever" and don't like to have such tricks pointed out...

He may have wind-up "crony-graphs." Every time I say something in opposition to him, he gets all wound up and takes it out by winding up those cronies.

Yet, he just can't help himself. The slightest yank on his chain will set off a chain reaction of "questions" that are designed/phrased/worded so as to imply some kind of nefarious impropriety on my part!
Gotta love it! It's as predictable as tomorrow...:-)

>So I just don't believe you.

I don't believe his "surface words," i.e., those he exclaims (when he does exclaim instead of asking all those phony 'questions') in here, all the while trying to hide an obvious personal agenda.

Actually, Miccolis seldom says anything about himself.
He works at something unknown, getting no more detailed than "being an engineer." Almost zero quantity in that.
He apparently lives at his FCC database address but has zero-dot-zero output on with whom or which. He has an ostensibly-kit-built Elecraft K2 limited-band HF transceiver and once "designed and built" a tube frankenbox rig back in the 1970s (but later scrapped it for parts).
When challenged to describe his rig, he asks the evasive question-statement "you'd be surprised at what I have!"
As I say, zero-dot-zero information. He is unwilling to share but demands much information of others.

Brian, you've been drawn in by Miccolis' distractions and diversions to some subject (Malthus) which has No real relation to amateur radio policy or even amateur radio. Neither is "creationism" that he mentions or "global climate change." Possibly "oil" since he is trying to "spread the old oil" around by diverting and distracting the thread.

His only "solution" is that the FCC should have KEPT the morse code test for US amateur radio! :-)

Malthus never met Robesin. :-) Or Miccolis! :->

Any REAL veteran WILL have doubt of him. We have all been exposed to liars and braggarts who claim military service but never served or served with some home unit that was never deployed. Civilians, those never having served, have NO baseline from which to judge the liars and braggarts who falsely claim military service.

Doubt CAN be erased with sufficient PROOF of having served.
I have several such documents, even carry around a small laminated copy of my DD-214 in my wallet (it really IS "in my wallet") as I have for 51 years. Brian, you have your papers. Hans Brakob and Frank Gilliland have shown theirs to the public. None of us have seen what Robesin has for a supposed 18-year "USMC career." No documents.

Not even a snapshot of him during that time. Eighteen years is a very long part of one's life experience yet we have zero-dot-zero references as to Robesin's... only his worthless word on it.

Brian, you know very well what Miccolis' "legwork" will be...running evasively. He will try to distract and divert by trying to counter-challenge through his (NON) straightforward "questions." SOP. Modus Operandi.
Quid pro quo. [and other good Latin phrases...]

Miccolis does NOT "make mistakes", Brian. It is always others who make mistakes. Neither does he "need" to research anything...that is what he wants OTHERS to do.

Unless there is no difference between them.

Person J ignores Person S's accustations of rape, pedophilia, homosexuality, bricks through windows, slashed tires, terrorized wives, and a "few ounces of pressure...," until "a few ounces of pressure" is repeated by person L. Then Person J wants to be a "part of the mess" with respect to person L.

Person B is responsible for his own behavio[u]r, regardless of Person S.

Person S is hard to ignore when it appears that he is a danger to society.

Person J may find mistakes irresistable. That is on Person J.

Person S engages others as an undisciplined punk who believes it is his right to slander, insult and demand...

My congrats are extended to Paul and the other members of the moderation team for their efforts, and I look forward to the creation and discussions which will ensue in the new newsgroup.

My thanks are extended to the members of the B8MB for their input during the RFD process, and for their ultimate support for this newsgroup, which is a much-needed addition to the rec.radio.amateur hierarchy.

Oh, oh, little red-hatted monkey's ox has been gored!

Stand by while the Schutzstaffel marches on (with hobnailed boots) to DEMAND explanations for such egregious negative commentary! [Zey tink dey haf vays of making
me cringe and beg for mercy? :-)]

If the ARRL is as open and above-board as they imply,
they should make everything known to their membership.
Of course, if they did that then they would have to
(by law) reveal the annual salaries of their highest-paid staff...some of whom have tried to "debate" things
in here AS IF they were jes' good ol' boys. :-)

>The League is governed by an elected board of directors who live all >over the United States. Those directors are elected by League members >from their geographical area.

Wah, wah, wah...AS IF the League "represented ALL amateur licensees" in a "democratic manner" AS LAWFUL as any federal government body. BS. They are a PRIVATE membership entity and the membership represents ONLY
a quarter of the total US amateur radio licensees.

>> ...AS IF it were an arm of the guvmint.
>I don't know of anyone saying that except for you.

Then you don't know much, are a BELIEVER in everything
the League says they are/do, and have an extremely POOR memory of what has been claimed by other Believers
in here in past years.

Of course YOU have FAILED to secure a Directorship, haven't you? :-)

Are you making brown-nose statements in here to gain a better image for another election? :-)

Name ALL of them besides the annual IRS Tax Returns.

Remember your organ grinder's pissy pedantry on EXACT figures and details. Do as he says and he might give you some of the pennies out of his tin cup you carry.

>If
>government finds a problem, do you think it will sweep it under the rug,
>or will it address the problem?

Let's just say it will NOT be national news carried in journalistic circles as Page 1 material. :-)

The ARRL is still very "small potatoes" as membership
organizations go.

>How are you involved?

Tsk, tsk. Your only "comment" here seems to be on a simple comment I made about the FCC. The FCC has definitely posted their proposed annual budget. I just pointed out that the ARRL never does that sort of thing...and that got your ox gored somehow.

I'm "not involved" with the FCC. I don't work there, nor for them. But, I am a citizen of the United States, was one long before you came into existance. I CAN speak to MY government without "being involved" IN the government.

>You aren't an ARRL member. You have no standing in the ARRL.
>You have no vote in ARRL matters.

Wah, wah, wah...there you go again with the "not involved"
routine. :-)

The ARRL loves to Talk Big and say it "represents all US
radio amateurs." They can't possibly represent all, not even close to a majority status. They are a MINORITY membership group.

But, their survival as a profit-making publisher DEPENDS on their PR image. THAT income keeps them going, pays their bills, pays their staff, the whole thing...with the possible exception of QST staff which depends on ad sales to break even. Simple economics. Praise themselves, build the image, draw in customers, get them to pay for things. Along the way they can build a core membership that becomes a devoted following of Believers. Like yourself.

Politically, the ARRL is a SPECIAL-INTEREST group. Not only does the ARRL have a professional lobbyist firm on retainer in DC but their "rep" allows government types to notice the pretty logotype on their papers and "important" titles of their officers. They have "no" influence, are altruistic in some kind of extreme? BS.

In the past three-decades-plus, the ARRL has, most definitely toadied to the brass-pounders, over-emphasized that singular skill over and above all other skills. Their skewed demographics (relative to the total amateur licensees in US) of their core membership (olde-tymers, life members, etc) shows that. Their "casual" mention of "CW" over all other modes in publications shows that...their core membership loves that sort of thing.

But, the ARRL's core membership is following normal human life attrition. That means their membership is dwindling. If the membership is dwindling, then the demographics of member numbers presented to advertisers twice a year shows a declining market space. Dues for membership are a very SMALL part of the ARRL's income. They've already shown their need for funding with repeated requests for donations of all kinds over and above their membership dues.

The ARRL's PR tune is being rewritten now. The small coterie of movers and shakers in/around Newington aren't stupid. FCC 06-178 marks one of the significant, if not most significant event in US amateur radio history of the past half century. Old-fashioned morse code mode is NO LONGER the featured epitome of amateur radio operating skills...if we are to read between the lines of their latest "midnight exams" news posting. But, at the same time, those that want to become one with the olde-tymers can take a code test before 23 Feb 07. That is a clear sign the ARRL is trying to please BOTH sides of the morse code testing issue. They need to be careful in straddling the opinion fence lest they do physical damage to themselves. Either way, it does not matter to me except for the PR they use to masquerade as a "representative of all [US] amateurs." Pfaughh.

I'm a Life Member of a professional association. Pros aren't amateurs...yet some pros like to also be amateurs when not involved in professional work. You revile that for some twisted personal reason. You don't understand that a professional radio operator license takes as much effort and knowledge (perhaps more) as any amateur radio operator license. Why? To reinforce your own PR image of an 'amateur expert' through morse code skill? To ACT

the "superior" by reviling all who do not respect your mighty amateur 'accomplishments?' Do you have an ACTOR's guild membership? Why do you wish to suppress all opinions against the only national amateur radio member organization in the United States? What are you hiding?

Some things are worth fighting for. It's so sad that almost half of our nation doesn't see it that way. I call 'em freeloaders.

He's a man, right? The FCC database doesn't give the sex of a person. I mean, I just assumed that a person with the first name of "Jim" and/or "James" was a man.

Welp, there sure are a lot of cronies in disguise on RRAP. They won't be able to get away with that on RRAMod, or will they?

I've read Malthus and that's where Jim was heading anyway. So I'd like to see what Jim might know of Malthus.

And I'd like to see if he wants a mass human die-off like some of the "Earth in the Balance" crowd.

This is an extra listing of the ARS license numbers,
in preparation for the rules changes of Feb 23, 2007.

These are the numbers of current,
unexpired FCC-issued amateur radio licenses held by individuals
on the stated dates, and the percentage of the total number of active licenses that class contains:

As of May 14, 2000:

Novice- 49,329 (7.3%)
Technician - 205,394 (30.4%)
Technician Plus - 128,860 (19.1%)
General - 112,677 (16.7%)
Advanced - 99,782 (14.8%)
Extra - 78,750 (11.7%)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 334,254 (49.5%)

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 291,209 (43.2%)

Total all classes - 674,792

As of February 18, 2007:

Novice - 22,995 (3.5%) [decrease of 26,334]
Technician - 293,233 (44.8%) [increase of 87,839]Technician Plus - 31,092 (4.7%) [decrease of 97,768]
General - 130,303 (19.9%) [increase of 17,626]
Advanced - 69,150 (10.6%) [decrease of 30,632]
Extra - 108,263 (16.5%) [increase of 29,513]

(percentages may not add up to exactly 100.0% due to rounding)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 324,325 (49.5%) [decrease of 9,929]

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 307,716 (47.0%) [increase of 16,507]

Total all classes - 655,036 (decrease of 19,756)

Note that these totals do not include licenses
that have expired but are in the grace period.

They also do not include club, military
or other station-only licenses.

Note also that effective April 15, 2000, new Novice,Technician Plus and Advanced licenses
are no longer issued.

Since April 15, 2000, FCC has renewed all existing Technician Plus licenses as Technician. By May of 2010, the number of Technician Plus licenses should drop to zero, because all of them will have been renewed asTechnicianor allowed to expire. It is therefore informative to consider the totals of the two classes,
since the Technician class includes a significant number of Technician Plus licenses renewed as Technician.

This must be some new definition of the word "won" with which I was

Or perhaps you just think Mark will never be able to post in a moderated

2204. CW Bands (was in Homebrew)

Oh, my, some SPITE was carried over to homebrew on Presidents Day just because "CW" was discussed. I am bringing it back to policy where it should go until the moderated newsgroup is open.

Be aware that this thread in RRAH started with a simple question by another asking if FCC 06-178 would "eliminate the CW bands" [in amateur radio operation] That was answered. After that it segued into discussion of early (pre-1900) use of morse code then it was triggered into modern times by those who feel that "CW" MUST be given ten kinds of attention than anything else. Miccolis HAD to make noise in his usual manner there even though he was not involved.

Incorrect quotation. I did not write those question marks.

Other than that, a 20-page photo essay describing what was done over a three-year period is a free download:

http://sujan.hallikainen.org/BroadcastHistory/uploads/My3Years.pdf

On a dial-up connection that will take about 18 minutes and is about 6 MB in size.

>A station that was maintained by several hundred Army personnel.

It was? Were you THERE? No, you were busy gestating at the time, hadn't emerged yet.

Sorry, but I don't have a COMPLETE T.O.& E. (Table of Organization and Equipment) of the Battalion and can only approximate the number of personnel by direct visual observation being IN that battalion.

>> ? ?added by 1955. ?NONE of the radio circuits of this 3rd
>> ? ?largest Army station used any OOK CW mode of modulation.

Incorrect quotation. I did not write those question marks.

>However, that was one station in one place.

Yes, amazing deduction, Sherlock Miccolis! :-)

The other stations of ACAN, the Army Command and Administrative Network (the acronym of that time) were at Ft. Detrick, MD, [WAR, the center point for this worldwide network], plus (to the circuits of ADA in ACAN) Anchorage, Alaska, Seattle, WA, San Francisco, CA (actually Davis, CA, outside of San Fran), Honolulu, Hawaii, Manila in the Phillippines, Okinawa, Pusan and Seoul, Korea, and Saigon, Vietnam. Once a month there was a test period of communications to Asmara, Eritrea to check predicted propagation from Asia into east Africa.
Another free upload:

http://sujan.hallikainen.org/BroadcastHistory/uploads/AlphabetSoup.pdf

Shows a map of the radio circuits as they were about 1963 for ADA into an enlarged ACAN...the network having changed its name. There and on the Links section for US Army in Europe (USAEUR) private historical site is the full TTY message routing paths over the world. Note that the TTY message address preamble would use the "Rxxx" designator, NOT the originating or final receiving Army radio station callsign. ADA in Tokyo was "RUAP" and WAR at Ft. Detrick was "RUEP."

>It was not necessarily >representative of all military radio communications at the time, nor >of amateur radio communications, then or now.

"Not necessarily representative of 'all military radio communications at the time?" Silly little man, this was a specific period of 1953 to 1956 when I was a PART of that operation, IN the US Army, a station that was under Central Command, US Army in Japan, supporting the Far East Command Headquarters then in Tokyo. I've not claimed otherwise.

However, the photo essay manuscript was sent to Mr.
James Brendage, a now-retired civilian engineer who was THERE and working IN that facility. Jim Brendage sent me in return supplementary material that was produced by that Signal Battalion after I left. That (digitzed) became the other document at Hal Hallikainen's site called "AlphabetSoup." I received other photos and documents from Jim Brendage and exchanged information about the late Walter Ross, an RCA (EASD, Van Nuys, CA) staff engineer (in my working group at RCA!) who had also worked at ADA as a civilian engineer before I was assigned there. Walt had seen some of the 600 color slides I had taken at ADA and didn't say they were incorrect or faulty.

In addition to that, I've been in e-contact with a retired USAF MSgt who had worked at the new ADA transmitter site after 1963 and the USAF having been assigned responsibility there. We shared much info, with him interested in "how it was in the beginning" meaning the 1954 time that I helped move the trans-mitter site up to Kashiwa, Japan. Worse yet (for you) is that I've maintained e-contact with a licensed radio amateur (and licensed radio professional) now retired from the FAA who was assigned to the SAME battalion, SAME company, SAME duties at the ADA transmitter site but on another of the four operating teams. Gene can verify as to my accuracy in the photo essay.

I've never claimed my military assignment involved amateur radio. At best, one radio circuit was available to the Tokyo MARS facility on a third-priority basis, RTTY only. MARS operations in Tokyo were divorced from the ACAN network administration some time in 1955. MARS does not, cannot operate IN USA amateur bands...it is under the directorate of the Department of Defense.

However, technology-wise, a vacuum tube power amplifier stage for HF range operates the SAME for amateur or commercial applications now in 2007. The rule of thumb in tuning tube power amplifiers is the same now as it was a half century ago, "peak the grid and dip the plate." [referring to currents]

>> ? ?In my subsequent career change after service into
>> ? ?electronics design engineer I've never had a requirement
>> ? ?to use OOK CW on radio. ?

INCORRECT quotation. I did not write those question marks. Try not to selectively EDIT quotations.

>You have also never been a radio amateur.

I've never claimed to be one.

> Nor a professional radio operator.

INCORRECT. WRONG. MISTAKE. BULLSHIT, little man.

I have three old First Class Radiotelephone (Commercial) certificates with handwritten signatures of officials at various stations attesting to my professional services rendered. Those signatures were done and dated when that First 'Phone license was in force. Some of those are for broadcasting stations but an equal number are for corporations involved in private radio communications.
One of the latter is by one of my partners in a private business...which may be a subject of a new Flame War by some self-styled amateur communications attornies.

In several years of working at private corporations involved with Department of Defense radio and radio-related contracts, that First 'Phone was NOT necessary.
DoD radio communications do not fall under FCC jurisdiction. The FCC is chartered by Congressional LAW to regulate USA civil communications.

"Professional" work is that which is compensated for monetarily. [one gets MONEY for services renedered]
I was paid money regularly and the IRS and Franchise Tax Board of California attesting to that.

Incorrect quotation AGAGIN! I did not write all those question marks that you apparently added.

>Of what relevance is that to amateur radio?

The keyless entry transmitter uses OOK CW mode!
Your favorite mode! They mode you are so inordinately proud of! The mode that enabled you to get an amateur extra class amateur radio license!

Aren't you more upset personally that we bought a NEW car in 2005? And paid CA$H for it? :-) It's a nice white exterior Chevrolet Malibu MAXX, very comfortable, has taken us from California to Wisconsin and back, to Washington state and back. My wife used the car today and transmitted OOK CW without any radio license via that keyless entry transmitter! Maybe you'd like to inform the FCC about this "illegal use" of radio by the unlicensed-in-any-radio-activity? :-)

INCORRECT QUOTATIONS AGAIN! Oh, my, still sticking your question mark where it doesn't belong?

>IOW, it's OK with you if someone uses it, as long as they don't >emphasize it.

"IOW?" Is that a morsemen's union? Oh, you mean "In Other Words!" Oh, my, if I wanted to write "other words," I would have written OTHER WORDS. Did I write "other words?" No, I didn't.

Why do you say I wrote "other words" when I didn't write other words?

Why are sticking those question marks all over my quotes?

>> ? ?Manual telegraphy IS a historic first but it has been

>Morse Code is also practical communications.

So are blinking lights, semaphore flags, ship signal pennants, Boy Scout wig-wag flags, railroad lights, traffic lights (that show "go" and "stop").

Show us MODERN-DAY COMMUNICATIONS services STILL USING morse codes...OTHER than amateur radio. Can you find any?

>And it is widely used in amateur radio today.

Not a quantitative statement. According to an ARRL poll, OOK CW is the SECOND-PLACE mode on amateur HF bands. It's an old poll. Maybe radio amateurs have suddenly taken up morsemanship and are busy, busy, busy dotting and dashing everywhere? How wonderful for you...you now have hopes for playmates on radio in the future!

>> ? ?I think we should be looking FORWARD to the future, not
>> ? ?back to the past. ?Others disagree. ?I leave it at that.
>
>What does "FORWARD to the future" really mean in that context?

Try NOT using Knotts Berry Farm "railway station" automated sounder in their REPRODUCTION of an old-time rail station. Hardly an "authoritative source."
Now you show us all a Non-Amateur radio service that regularly uses morse code mode for COMMUNICATIONS.
TODAY. This year. NOT an exhibit or reproduction.
A working service.

Better yet...bring out your WIFE, as a "witness" to some inaccuracies I'm supposed to have stated. You DO have a wife, don't you? And one with an amateur radio license, right? Good lad, I knew you could...

Tsk, Jimmie put two and two together and got ate...

Robesin was "making things out of whole cloth," therefore he tried to sew up everything with his lying brags.
He isn't tailor made for that sort of thing.

On the other hand, this is the Chinese Year of the Pig. A sow is a female pig. Oink, oink.

Shall I file a report with the police at the Missing Person desk?

Oh, oh, person R is picking up the phone and dialing!
He wants person L and person B picked up...before he throws things through windows, slashes tires, and assaults wives!

Tsk, tsk, person J ought to use first names and callsigns!

"Person-aly" I don't care. This is getting too "person-al." :-)

Some information in this article or section has not been verified and may not be reliable.
Please check for any inaccuracies, and modify and cite sources as needed.This article or section does not cite its references or sources.
You can help Wikipedia by introducing appropriate citations. This article has been tagged since November 2006.
The correct title of this article is alt.usenet.kooks. The initial letter is capitalized due to technical restrictions.
alt.usenet.kooks is a newsgroup established on 1993-12-20 as part of the alt hierarchy, its main focus is on discussing Usenet contributors who fit the definition of a "net.kook" as mentioned in its FAQ:[1]

Anyone who posts uniquely strange, preferably incomprehensible articles, or who manifests a persistent, extreme, and somewhat bizarre obsession, might be a net.kook.
The subscribers to the group regularly hold votes to label people as "recipients" of various mock awards. Past "winners" include people of Usenet notoriety such as Archimedes Plutonium, Sollog, Kenneth Robert Pangborn and Jack Sarfatti, and also people (or organizations) of greater fame such as Bill Gates, Bill Clinton, Gary Glitter and the Kansas Board of Education.[2] Awards of special distinction have been given to Edmond Wollmann (Kook of the Millennium), Earl Curley (Kook of the Century), John Grubor (Kook of the Century and Decade), Brad Jesness (Kook of the Decade) and Richard Bullis (Clueless Eternal Newbie).[2] See the external links below for a full list of award winners.

As its name implies, the main focus is on Usenet posters seen as kooks, though alleged kooks on the World Wide Web and in real life are also discussed, as are more general topics of what motivates posters perceived as kooks by the other subscribers, and what an appropriate response to them might be. Also, persons suffering from actual mental illness rather than mere kookdom are sometimes spared from receiving the award.[citation needed] See Formosa's Law.

The group receives many crossposts in the form of follow-ups to alleged kookery in other groups, as well as many posts from people who believe they have been falsely accused of being kooks.

The FAQ attempts to distinguish between "kooks" and other types of irritating people:[1]

It is important to note the subtle distinction between a net.kook, a net.cretin, a clueless newbie, troll, or garden-variety asshole. The newbie, one hopes, can acquire a clue on the installment plan even if he can't afford to buy one for cash. The cretin is merely stupid and/or irritating. The troll is purposely pulling your leg like it got caught in some heavy machinery. The @$$hole is, well, simply that. But a TRUE net.kook has a special fascination derived from his/her/its utter ineffability. Their behavior is irrational, if not downright weird, but they are seldom merely boring.

Controversy
Because the subscribers are typically anonymous (or pseudonymous) and the group is not moderated, those labeled "kooks" have little chance of redress. Those labeled "kooks" are banned for life from voting in awards on alt.usenet.kooks.[3]

Especially in the late 1990s and early 2000s, alt.usenet.kooks has been criticized by some[Please name specific person or group] as a soapbox for personal or political grudges.[citation needed] Critics[Please name specific person or group] claimed that regular users of the newsgroup displayed a "pack mentality" and were engaging in cyberbullying.[citation needed]

Regulars in alt.usenet.kooks also followed those labeled "kooks" into other newsgroups and posted messages attacking them.[citation needed]

Two days and I can become a no code VEC! Yep, passed the General and Amateur Extra and just waiting for the regs to catch up!

Remember your next VEC could be "code free!"

Since I've already taken all the code tests (and theory examinations) I'm going to take, it really doesn't matter to me or not if the VE is coded or not.

Heh heh, give it time. Some anony-mousie will take the bait and become "Katrina." :-)

That anony-mousie will have lots of hot air at first, then dissipate into nothingness...leaving only the League making loud noises of "having aided in rescue" and other blabs of PR.

Vita Specialty Foods, Inc. Issues an Allergy Alert on Undeclared Milk in Certain Vita Specialty Foods, Inc.'s Sauces Contact:
Chuck Curtis
312-738-4500 - Ext. 1345

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE -- Martinsburg, WV -- February 14, 2007 -- Vita Specialty Foods, Inc. of Martinsburg, West Virginia, is voluntarily recalling the following products because their labels do not disclose that the products contain a flavor ingredient derived from milk. People who have an allergy or severe sensitivity to milk run the risk of serious or life-threatening allergic reaction if they consume these products. Anyone who is allergic to milk should not consume these products. There is no risk to individuals who are not allergic to milk. Only these products are affected by this recall:

All date codes through 12/19/07

SPECIAL NOTES
No illnesses or adverse reactions have been reported to date in connection with this problem, and there is no risk to consumers who are not allergic to milk.

The recalled products were distributed nationwide in retail stores except for the Virginia Tech Hot Wing Sauce and the IU Hoosiers Varsity Wing Sauce that were distributed in Virginia and Indiana respectively.

Vita Specialty Foods, Inc., in review of its products and labels, discovered that these products were distributed with labels that did not disclose the presence of a flavor ingredient derived from milk. The labels are being corrected.

Consumers who have purchased these products are urged to dispose of them or contact Vita Specialty Foods, Inc. at 1-800-974-4778 for a refund. Consumers with questions may contact Vita Specialty Foods at 1-800-974-4778.

You may repost it until the cows come home, Leonard. A response to your post was made by me on 15 February at 0436Z. Neither my response nor the post to which I responded were under the subject "Re: Residence vs. Mailing Address".

> ten kinds of attention than anything else.

No, that's not true. Len just can't stand to see nice things written about Morse Code.

Here's what really happened:

Len made a lengthy post that contained comments
on the US railroad system, landline telegraph communications, Knott's Berry Farm and other tourist attractions, stagecoaches, wives-and-families, Len's lack of use of Morse Code in military communications, 50plus years ago, Len's parents watching the lunar landings on TV, keyless auto security systems and more.

I didn't see a single word from Len in his long posting about amateur radio homebrew.

It also contained this personal policy statement from Len:

"I have nothing against telegraphic skills nor anyone using those for personal pleasure. However, in the light of advancement of the electronic arts, communications, radio, methods that ALL of us can share, I think there is an over-much emphasis by radio hobbyists on telegraphic arts. Manual telegraphy IS a historic first but it has been supplanted in practical communications means at our disposal...on land, in the air, on the sea, and in space.

I think we should be looking FORWARD to the future, not back to the past. Others disagree. I leave it at that."

Sure sounds like a policy discussion to me!

Now there's nothing really wrong with a little thread drift and getting a bit off topic.

So I replied with a post of my own, commenting on some of what Len wrote. Free speech and all that:

http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.amateur.homebrew/msg/0a454d9bcb3edce4?dmode=source&hl=en

But then Len got all upset and acted like a moderator:

http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.amateur.homebrew/msg/8eaf125c42f323e1?dmode=source&hl=en

Sure looks like Len has a double standard about who can post to rrah and what they can post. It's OK for him to wander off topic and make policy and opinion statements there, but when someone rebuts his commentary, that's not OK with him.

Textbook case of Len's double standard.

How do you know, Len?

You've never had any class of amateur radio license.
So you don't really know what it takes to get one.

In fact, you've told us here that you once studied for an amateur license, but gave up. And your boasts of "going for Extra right out of the box" and that you could pass the Extra with the code test have proven to be empty words.

I've earned both commercial and amateur radio licenses.
I found the commercial license tests to be easier than the amateur license tests. Just my life experience.

The FCC operator license you did get was a commercial license, not a professional license, too.

As always, you are exactly technically correct.

If the nice ladies in my Catholic Altar Society, the ones who do all the nice bake sales, wine tasting organizing, flowers, etc.--they would make a good example of what would constitute a good VEC, for just "another example."

Oh, you will become a Volunteer Exam Coordinator? So a person who passes elements 3 and 4 can actually become a VEC, like ARRL and WY5I? I would like to know the name of the coordinating VEC organization responsible for issuing element 4 CSCE's to someone who doesn't even know the difference between a VE and a VEC. If one discusses the history of telegraphy using wire, that same history becomes relevant to telegraphy by radio, the common thread being telegraphy itself. One can hardly discuss telegraphy at all without the content being related to radio, either for historical of technical reasons.

Brad Jesness Memorial Kook Appraisal Test (KAT or KAT Index) v. 5.1 by Cipher and the a.u.k crew

So, you think you've got a contender, eh? Hard to separate the Kooks from the mere pains in the ass though. Hopefully this will help you.

Instructions :
In this section give your Prospective Kook ONE point for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

Grading scale follows questions.

Have they ever :

1. Been the first to go ad-hominem in a newsgroup debate.

2. Accused someone of breaking a non-existent Federal Law.

3. Called a properly formatted cancel of a BI>20 article a forged cancel

4. Ranted about Free Speech when a moderator rejected their article. Two points if it's spelled "FREE SPEACH".

5. Tried to censor others, yet scream when others suggest that they killfile them or create a moderated newsgroup.

6. Complained to someone's ISP when they got spanked in a flame war.

7. Been complained about to their ISP deservedly.

8. Flamed someone from an anonymous account.

9. Made a spelling flame. (*)

10. Used RANT-CAPS & manic punctuation.

11. Claimed to be qualified to make a legal determination or medical diagnosis with no justification - bonus points if the kook is obviously projecting her/his own condition/behavior. ()

12. Claimed an academic or professional degree they obviously do not have.

13. Claimed that because of a degree or research topic, another poster cannot know anything about any other subject.

In this section give your Prospective Kook TWO points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

1. Called someone a pedophile or drug pusher without proof.

2. Bonus if they called anyone a "Republican Nazi Pedophile"

3. Ranted about Free Speech when an anti-spammer canceled their article.

4. Posted to a newsgroup via sock-puppet.

5. Thought about becoming a Freedom Knight.

6. Voted via sock-puppet in a Big Eight vote.

7. Defended a well known kook.

8. Been Nominated for a Kook award.

9. Invented Usenet 'rules' & 'laws', particularly coming up with creative definitions for what constitutes spam & spamming.

10. Implied that she/he has powerful allies who will deal with his/her enemies, due to having affiliations with Microsoft, the CIA or some other powerful organization - no matter how flimsy the association.

11. Claimed an academic or professional degree after having stated they are a high school dropout or otherwise indicated their actual level of achievement, or claim multiple PhD's, MD's, etc.

12. 'Removed' an academic or professional degree or title from another more clueful poster. (Includes scare quotes such as 'Esq.', or 'Dr.')

13. Claimed one of the well known regulars of AUK is using a remailer to impersonate them, when all kook sign points to them.

In this section give your Prospective Kook THREE points for every YES answer. Give your Prospective Kook additional points for multiple occurrences.

1. Threatened to kill or cause bodily harm to another via mail or post.

2. Told someone they have caused the kook to harm himself.

3. Stalked/harassed an opponent off-line.

4. Mail-bombed anyone.

5. Spammed a newsgroup.

6. Posted a forged or altered newsgroup article.

7. Lost an account due to abuse.

8. Won a kook award.

9. Threatened a groundless lawsuit via mail or post. LA Law bonus: Additional point if a TV lawyer is used.)

(Grubor bonus: If they claim John Grubor/Law Systems Institoot as counsel)

10. Threatened to have their "agents" come after someone.

11. Had a FAQ posted about their kookiness.

12. Pretended to be a sysadmin or ISP owner.

13. CC'ed emailed complaints to irrelevant or non-existent organizations email addresses, such as the DOJ, AG, CIA, FBI etc.

14. Been TOSsed and then claimed to have canceled it, her/it/himself?

(*) PalmJob Exception Rule. Cannot be applied to a mere troll's points.

() Brad Jesness Factor. Not applicable to BJ, it is expected.

Scale/Rank :
1 - 10 points : Kook Wannabe. Needs to read Grubor's posting history on dejanews. Your Prospective Kook has much to learn. They may have just screwed up once or twice.

11 - 25 points : Journeyman Kook. Needs to Continue to mimic the real kooks. Your Prospective Kook could be a contender.

26 - 36 points : Kook First Class. Still a lesser light, but Your Prospective Kook HAS arrived! People killfile him/her.

36 - 50 points : Kook cum Laude. Someone is considering writing a FAQ about your Prospective Kook. Has been nominated for at least one a.u.k award.

51 + points : Kook Magna cum Laude. Your Prospective Kook has a FAQ. Your Prospective Kook will eventually win all the big awards. Your Prospective Kook can leap tall newbies with a single bound.

In addition, it would be very difficult to get the FCC to grant VEC status to any group or individual. According to something I read awhile back, they believe that there are enough VECs to do the job and so are not inclined to allow any more.

However, the number of VEs is limited only by the number of licensees who are eligible to become VEs.

Hey, genius... Get a grip on the terms... You could be a VE, not a VEC.. A VEC is a Volunteer Examiner Coordinator. W5YI and the ARRL
(among other organizations) are VEC's. The individuals are VE's.

FACTUAL ERROR. IT IS VERY TRUE...with or without the "?"
additions YOU made to the quote.

>Here's what really happened:

PERSON J MAKES ANOTHER FACTUAL ERROR...

HERE is what happened, visible by anyone at RRAH:

On Feb 12 'Julian814' asked about CW use in ham bands after 23 Feb 07.
On the same date about an hour later Michael Black stated that this subject was not one for rec.radio.amateur.homebrew.
'Caveat Lector' made a comment next about 3 hours later.
On 13 Feb, 'GKB', Scott, John Siegel all made comments.
On 14 Feb, Geoffrey S. Mendelson made a comment from Israel.
About 3 hours later 'Julian814' posts again, followed by Dee Flint two hours after that.
On 15 Feb Ken Scarf made a comment.
On 16 Feb Geoffrey Mendelson made another post and I replied to that (about 3 hours later) stating some difference of opinion on early telegraphy methods prior to 1900...based on information obtained from several sources, including the website of the descendents of Alfred Vail.

On 17 Feb Ken Scarf made a short comment about modern day morse code use.
On 18 Feb I replied to that and stated that the commentary between myself and Mendelson was about pre-1900 telegraphy.
About 2 hours later, Ian White made a long post objecting to my comments about morse code being supplanted by other modes and used his father-in-law and wife as "witnesses." According to White, his father had taken his wife (and presumably the rest of her family) to Knotts Berry Farm near Anaheim, CA, where the father-in-law described an old railroad station telegram station with its sounder tapping out "eat chicken dinners" continually.
Also on 18 Feb 'Highland Ham' made a short comment.

In two posts that I made, 4 and 6 days after the first one,
the SUBJECT was addressed in some detail. There was no overt expression of "dislike for 'CW'" by myself.

Seven days after the first post in the thread, Miccolis just HAD to say something negative about my posting. :-)
What he 'read' is stated as follows:

>Len made a lengthy post that contained comments
>on the US railroad system, landline telegraph communications, >Knott's Berry Farm and other tourist attractions, stagecoaches, >wives-and-families, Len's lack of use of Morse Code in military >communications, 50plus years ago, Len's parents watching the >lunar landings on TV, keyless auto security systems and more.

The US railroad system, Knotts Berry Farm, wife and father-in-law were first mentioned by Ian White. White's posting made NO mention about "amateur radio homebrew" but focussed on post-1900 telegraphy, particularly on the railroads, and World War 2 where his father-in-law "pounded brass" while in the military. Actually, NONE of the postings up to 18 Feb mentioned "amateur radio homebrew" except for the second posting by Michael Black. Black correctly stated that 'Julian814's' posting didn't belong in that newsgroup.

But, as stated, Miccolis HAD to vent his spite and make noise while denigrating another WITHOUT addressing any
"homebrew" subjects.

>I didn't see a single word from Len in his long posting
>about amateur radio homebrew.

Awwww...you wanted PRAISE and HONOR just for morse code?
That's all you've been doing in the Policy newsgroup for years, expressing your displeasure (ultimately) at the FCC's elimination of the code test for an amateur radio license.

Miccolis made a FACTUAL ERROR!

>It also contained this personal policy statement from Len:

ANOTHER FACTUAL ERROR!

That is NOT a "personal policy statement." It is simply a PERSONAL OPINION. Apparently NONE may have personal OPINIONS with vetting them with Miccolis first? :-)

>"I have nothing against telegraphic skills nor anyone using >those for personal pleasure. However, in the light of >advancement of the electronic arts, communications, >radio, methods that ALL of us can share, I think there >is an over-much emphasis by radio hobbyists on >telegraphic arts. Manual telegraphy IS a historic first >but it has been supplanted in practical communications >means at our disposal...on land, in the air, on the sea,
>and in space.

Tsk, tsk, Miccolis "objects" to that. Unfortunately for him it is all TRUE. The communications arts HAVE advanced far from the pre-1900 times and technology.
Yes, manual telegraphy was the first electrical-means communication mode over land. On wires. Using relatively PRIMITIVE electrical technology. Yes, manual telegraphy was the first mode for the public demonstrations of "radio" as a communications medium in 1896...it was still as PRIMITIVE as the technology of early radio...using no active devices such as tubes or transistors (neither had been invented in the first decade of "radio").

Radio is about 111 years old as a communications means.
No other radio service except amateur radio uses it for communications, requires it to be used, and most US radio services never bothered to require morse code when that service was begun! Every day more than a hundred million Americans are using some form of radio communications or radio relay or radio telecommand that is NOT morse code.

The very last day of license testing requiring cognition of low-rate morse code is 22 February 2007...only two more days. After that, NO US amateur radio license exams will require any morse code tests. Yes, US amateurs may still USE morse code according to FCC regulations. That will help ease their personal burdens of anger, rage, spite, and other personal defects of behavior. They can re-enact their dreams of "pioneering the airwaves" and "progressing the state of the art of OOK CW" even though that had been reached decades ago by predecessors. Let those poor soul morsemen sweat and itch over the rightness of a federal decision...something done not to ease THEIR self-important delusions, but to benefit ALL. Morse code apparently means more than life itself to some of those OOK CW dreamers.

Miccolis, take your aggreived soul and mighty self-importance and go somewhere where the code hive-mind is desired. There you can bitch and moan about all the upstarts, "error-making" persons who were doing actual radio operating BEFORE you were born, the so-called "moderators" who are upstaging YOUR constant attempts at moderating them. Enjoy the company among the hive-minds. It will be a comfort to you, a safety place where you can be as pissily pedantic as you were in here. You will be applauded for such state-of-the-art policy discussions such as "bandplans of 1940."

I don't expect you to correct all your own FACTUAL ERRORS you made in your recent post. After all, you will "deny" you EVER made an error! :-) That is iron-clad, predictable. :-)

Where did I say I was going to QRM you, fatboy?

I said I'd be MONITORING all HF for you.

Idiot...Still haven't taken that remedial English course, I see.

BTW...I forgot I have plans for Saturday, so I will be looking

You can't reason with Mark, in his world everybody is afraid of him, yet he won't QSO with you, everybody is a coward, yet he won't show up for a sked, every post contains sexual references, Mark's Sexlexia, and most of all, everything is always somebody eles's fault.

You were already banned from the test group. Doesn't that give you a bloody clue? The same moderators and the same robot moderator will be handling the new group, and they WON'T allow you to followup to every post or to attempt a thread hijacking as you did just now. You'll be banned again in no time.

My bad. I should have typed "Feb 22nd." That's when r.r.a.moderated is scheduled to be created.

P.S. I'll bet that Paul doesn't like his posts to be called "diatribes." He's the leader of the moderators, remember? Yep: You'll be banned again in no time.

Don't make accuations Mark. I only post under one name Dloyd Lavies, and I only have one blog. I am not Woger, I don't post under Len Slanderson or Deb_GavC...@yahoo.com. Unlike you I don't need four or Good luck with your upgrade, should be easy since most six year olds

...to PAST definitions...which are NOT quite definitions in the official sense but rather "CW" (Conventional Wisdom).

In the FUTURE (which happens right after everyone reads this) there may very well be whole VECs which do NOT (gasp!) have morsemen requirements!

Ahem...FCC 06-178 is the revolutionary decision which is bound to upset many applecarts, rending of garments, applications of soot, gnashing of teeth, etc. Woe! (sort of rhymes with "sow") Skies falling, etc.

The FCC created both VECs and COLEMs...just as they UN-created code testing for amateur radio licenses in the very, very near future...like Friday. :-)

A "No Code VEC" in the future? Why not?

To those who say "NAY! NEVER!" I award the venerable "cat-ass-trophy."

I think all whos' only purpose is for the continuation of amateur radio in a relevant and up-to-date manner will agree, logical questions, exams, examiners, methods and procedures need to be established, followed, and upheld--and, especially in regards to realignment with present rules and regulations.

Attrition should continue on at its' accelerating pace and shortly remove any doubt as to the death of morse. CW is a problem which has fittingly supplied its' own fix and is now engaged in implementing that fix (death.)

All new hams need only be aware of the past sins of arrl and the fanatic devotion to CW and personalities as opposed to principals which has caused cat-ass-trophy-type-damage to amateur radio and to steer clear of the arrl or any movements to re-establish some pseudo-class system amongst amateurs and thereby replace the "CW class system" with a new and equally insane and damaging one.

We need history to help us avoid making the same old mistakes anew ...

The old-timers need to be avoided like the plague. The old failed methods and tactics need to be avoided. The future needs to meet up with amateur radio and bring it to life in the new millennium.

Well, "present" as to the period on and after 23 Feb 07. :-)

Easy go there, Stocktonite. Some of us are a bit advanced on the "attrition list." :-)

No sweat, I come from long livers on both sides. ["how long" he asked..."oh, about this long" was the answer, indicating a span of about three feet...:-) ba-dum-bump <rimshot>]

"The Cylons were created by man. They rebelled. There are many copies. They have a Plan!" :-)

[voice-over to beginning of each "Battlestar Gallactica" episode on Sci-Fi channel...it MAY just be applicable to the newer generations of radio amateurs]

> We need history to help us avoid making the same old mistakes anew ...

NOT as told to us by the League. There ARE many sources, though few are as kind and glowing and sinning-by-omission as the League.

> The old-timers need to be avoided like the plague.

Yes and no. My friends are (mostly) old-timers. However, being friends we do respect one another. Therein is the difference of the olde-tymer morsemen who respect NO ONE but those who are also morseodists. It is almost a religious thing. :-(

> The old failed > methods and tactics need to be avoided. The future needs to meet up > with amateur radio and bring it to life in the new millennium.

Yes. But, there IS some "life." "Life" does not begin and end with the code key and monotonic assymetric rhythms of beeping morse. This is very hard to get across to the olde-tymers who've never really ventured outside of "working DX with CW on HF."

"Life" has already breathed its way into the Big 3 of modern amateur radio design-innovation-manufacture: Icom, Yaesu, and Kenwood. Those radios have all the possible "bells-andwhistles" any licensed amateur needs. The Big 3 make radios for many radio services, do NOT depend on amateurs for their sole market penetration as do a few USA makers.
[Icom needs to look at its Aviation product line harder, IMHO]

One thing for damn sure: The organizations have to GET OUT to others much more. They must stop singing to the chorus of like-minded amateurs and speak at the PUBLIC. The League has some resources but all they do is babble at other amateurs...and the more vocal amateurs only babble at other amateurs and exchange high-fives in gratuitous
"congratulations" which aren't deserved. Comedy breaks on the Jay Leno "Tonight" show aren't "informing the public."
Those are just comedic spots and some adult sarcasm at the fad of adolescents "text messaging." It's nice that Walter Cronkite can do some video narration, but let's face it, Walt is getting on in years. He is fine for the annual Vienna Philharmonic music thing on TV, but he is NO LONGER on regular news or many other specials.

Down here the TV cable service has some lovely free HD programs on many different subjects. Three channels worth, all for HDTV. HDTV is here, among us, will soon be the only TV that is broadcast. Wonderful picture, great sound. But, can you imagine even a half hour of olde-tyme
"CW" showing the modern generations the "joy and rapture" of "radio" of the 1930s? I think that would severly test the ability of the best producers of TV and film down here.

If radio amateurs REALLY wanted to "spread the word" of their hobby, they could. But, the olde-tymers keep intimating that only They "know what is best" and that "best" way got cancelled long ago.

Ya know, on retrospect, I should have become an MD, one with an orthopedic specialty. I could have cleaned up financially treating all those olde-tymers who got injured patting themselves on the back for so long. :-)

Frankly, I don't care what you believe, but your thinking that everyone is using multiple names seems to lessen your view of the number of individuals that you seem to think dislike your behavior in the NGs, which by your on admission you believe is only four or five,

I think the number of individuals is much greater than that.

You should be able to pass the extra now that the code is gone, you or anyone else should have no excuses. For me the Extra was easier than the General but the Advanced was the most difficult. Nevertheless, aced them all 100% including 20 wpm code. You have no excuse not to come back with a CSCE for all elements.

And your specific proposals are? Just saying that one needs to avoid the old and come up with something new is useless. Concrete ideas and specific

Thank you for that little submission, it just reassures my thinking that nobody can reason with you and any attempt to have a normal exchange ends up with you acting like an disgruntled asshole.

>you want me to think your online existance revolves around me but I know better

I hope you know better, because certainlly I do not want you to think that my "online exsistence" (whatever that means) revolves around you.
While I am on here. I am usually typing with one hand and working 2286. Re: ARS License Numbers

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy

From: N2EY@AOL.COM
Message-ID: <1172102718.494888.81170@t69g2000cwt.googlegroups.com>
Source record: 184543

This is an extra listing of the ARS license numbers,
in preparation for the rules changes of Feb 23, 2007.

These are the numbers of current,
unexpired FCC-issued amateur radio licenses held by individuals
on the stated dates, and the percentage of the total number of active licenses that class contains:

As of May 14, 2000:

Novice- 49,329 (7.3%)
Technician - 205,394 (30.4%)
Technician Plus - 128,860 (19.1%)
General - 112,677 (16.7%)
Advanced - 99,782 (14.8%)
Extra - 78,750 (11.7%)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 334,254 (49.5%)

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 291,209 (43.2%)

Total all classes - 674,792

As of February 20, 2007:

Novice - 22,893 (3.5%) [decrease of 26,436]
Technician - 293,177 (44.8%) [increase of 87,783]
Technician Plus - 30,881 (4.7%) [decrease of 97,979]
General - 130,092 (19.9%) [increase of 17,415]
Advanced - 69,040 (10.6%) [decrease of 30,742]
Extra - 108,205 (16.5%) [increase of 29,455]

(percentages may not add up to exactly 100.0% due to rounding)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 324,058 (49.5%) [decrease of 10,196]

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 307,337 (47.0%) [increase of 16,128]

Total all classes - 654,288 (decrease of 20,504)

Note that these totals do not include licenses
that have expired but are in the grace period.

They also do not include club, military
or other station-only licenses.

Note also that effective April 15, 2000, new Novice, Technician Plus and Advanced licenses are no longer issued.

Since April 15, 2000, FCC has renewed all existing Technician Plus licenses as Technician. By May of 2010, the number of Technician Plus licenses
should drop to zero, because all of them will have been renewed as Technician or allowed to expire. It is therefore informative to consider the totals of the two classes,
since the Technician class includes a significant number of Technician Plus licenses renewed as Technician.

Dee wants Absolute, Detailed, Worked-Out, Vetted and Verified (officially) NEW plans. Otherwise, the old system is good enough for her. Why not? She "earned" her rank-status-title-privileges under the old system. A new system would put that beloved rank-status-title-privileges in jeopardy.

A "NEW" thing can be worked out democratically by simply submitting a Proposal to the FCC. Naturally the ARRL will be opposed to that...unless They submitted
it. :-)

Evolution will happen, like it or not. Old species (such as morseodists) will become extinct. Such is the way of evolution. However, Dino-sours bones are sort-of interesting to study...as are old fossils.

Do you call yourself an amateur operator? Do you have problems with loyalty?
Interesting how you have no problem smearing the very people who have kept the service alive. So, maybe you're not even loyal to your own mother. Who cares?

Ha ha, yes, like a written test. And do you think your buddy LA could even hope to pass today's element 4? I don't think this alleged IEEE illuminati could pass extra anymore. He's too retired...been out of the business for too long. He still calls a capacitor a condenser and a tube a valve. The test has become a better filter than morse code, (for extra only). Let's move on to fixing the general class test.

Len is stuck in the past, recirting the history of radio science and denigrating the use of morse code which has long become a moot issue (science the institution of 5 wpm no code).

I find it interesting that you and Len want to trash the old yet you both still communicate via usenet. I mean, isn't there something newer you could go to, like blogs?

>

Hahahaha...good one.

>

Yes, out with the old, in with the new, from the very same people who brought you jobs outsourcing and illegal immigration, Al Gore and global warming. Those old paradigms ain't no good anymore. Time to ruin the culture.

>The old failed methods and tactics need to be avoided. The future needs to >meet up with amateur radio and bring it to life in the new millennium.

Unfortunately, today's EE graduate learn nothing about analog design. They cannot even design a linear power supply much less a switch mode. And to think of them trying to design an SSB transmitter or even a linear amp! If it's not prepackaged on a chip, throw it away. Digital rules.

Apparently none if you're a 20wpm code-tested Extra.

Yes. Yes I am loyal to amateur radio.

However, I am not loyal to antique radio gear, nor antiquated methods, beliefs and practices. I am NOT loyal to personalities, but DAMN LOYAL to principals, advancement and progress.

My interests in electronics and things relating to electronics have also held my interests and "loyalties." However, electronics have evolved. Most of the electronic "gear" I now work with is never meant to be built, maintained nor repaired by human hands. It is meant to grow obsolete in a matter of years and be replaced. When amateur radio becomes current, its' gear will be of a likewise state.

Things change. Amateur radio does not exist in a vacuum, it must adapt also. It has been held hostage by a relative few who have stalled its' advancement. However, it always has been subject to the same rules which govern all: Adapt and evolve or become extinct.

Now, at this brink of extinction, it is time for change ... and no one likes change but a wet baby--and even they often cry when the change is implemented ...

All of us will die, let amateur radio live on and eventually reach a state where none alive today would ever recognize it, but most of all, let it become relevant and important and of valid use to those of the future who we will never meet. Let us leave them something they can thank us for.

Concrete and specific?

OK. Let us persuade manufactures to create more transceivers which plug into our computer buses (pci/usb/etc.) Let the standard amateur amp be a 1mhz-12ghz laboratory amp.

Let us see these mass produced in china and the cost drop by magnitudes.
Let us see high school electronic classes assisting students get ham tickets.

Let us put the focus of amateur radio where it rightly belongs, equipment and licenses in the hands of those who are making the future while living towards the future.

I teach GED classes in the local cisd system. The web server firewall blocks access to anything associated with amateur radio because it is "entertainment".
www.arrl.org access is blocked right along with all the other undesirable web sites. My protestations have fallen on deaf ears.

In typical Len Anderson/Major Hoople style, you made numerous windy, pontificating, condescending and rambling statements which were not directed toward homebrewing anything, much less amateur radio homebrewing.

Your posts were made long after Micheal Black advised the original poster that the SUBJECT was off-topic for the newsgroup. What you did was address a SUBJECT which didn't belong. That didn't stop Leonard H.
Anderson.

How will you ease your personal burdens of anger, rage, spite and other personal defects of behavior as described in the N2EY profile of your actions?

I'll be able to use Morse, FM, SSB, AM, RTTY and other digital modes on the amateur radio bands today, on Friday and at any time after that date. What will you be doing on the amateur radio bands after Friday, Len? I assume it will be what you did last week or more than ten years back--zip, zilch, nuthin'.

The decision may or may not have been "right". History will reveal whether it was right or wrong. You may sweat, itch, live and die without ever having been a part of amateur radio, Len.

There has never been a fellow with more self-important delusions participating in this newsgroup than Leonard H. Anderson, non-participant in amateur radio.

That isn't apparent at all, Len. The only person to make such a statement is you.

You don't give orders here, Leonard.

You weren't a radio amateur before Jim was born and you haven't become one since Jim was born. You've not upstaged anyone, Len. You're irrelevant to amateur radio.

Along comes Major Hoople to stand on the sidewalk and tell us how amateur radio should be regulated. Your comfort is usenet, Leonard. You've found a place where you can tell those upstart radio amateurs about your glory days of fifty-plus years ago. You can expound on your past working years, describe your northern and southern homes, tell folks about your car and prescribe sage advice about horizontally mounted loops, shielded with Reynolds Wrap (coaxial cable must have been in short supply).

The method you are describing here is usually considered a violation of an ISP's terms of service so you may loose your Internet connection when they find out. I would count on having somebody complain to your ISP if you try to circumvent the moderation so they will find out.

But.. You knew that..

Besides, why bother? You all have unrestricted access to rram and rrap.. (and if you play nice, rec.radio.amateur.moderated for that matter)

Cecil:

I was lucky, we got the college to purchase "sheriff cards" for ALL the PCs in our computer labs.

Each time a new student logs on, the OS is complete reinstalled in memory and rebooted--NO TROJANS, NO KEY-LOGGERS, NO VIRUSES, ETC. And, this is QUICK!!!

There is not a site on the planet we have to "shield" our computers and/or labs from, free speech and free access to information is the foundation of our labs. The students at our institution are privileged to the most democratic form of data sharing I can possibly imagine, the value of this is demonstrated by the caliber and quality of our CS grads.

However, this was a hard fought fight. With the IT management and security fighting every move towards open access ...

Ignorance, control and "secrets" are the most evil of evils ...

Ah, but you have to differentiate between an NSP and an ISP. Mark's NSP is currently Tera News, and his ISP is Direcpc (HughesNet). As it turns out, Direcpc doesn't act on Usenet complaints. They apparently feel that it's Tera News' problem and not theirs. Many of the larger ISPs are also common carriers (Verizon, AT&T, etc.), and they don't want to jeopardize their common carrier status by taking responsibility for the contents of the packets which traverse their systems. They too usually tell complainers to take it up with the News Service Provider.

As it turns out, Tera News is infamous for ignoring Usenet abuse complaints. You can complain all you want, but some very influential Usenet admins have complained to them with no effect. Tera News and Google Groups are both well known for ignoring abuse complaints. If hell froze over and Tera News actually did boot Mark, he could move back to Google Groups again.

But.. You knew that..

Oh, I'm not likely to post there, but since Mark says he's being discriminated against because of his sexual preferences, I thought I'd give him some pointers so that he could join you whenever he wished.

By the way, HipCrime's programmers worked through all of the traceback possibilities quite some time ago. Combine HipCrime's NewsAgent (http://newsagent.p7.org.uk) with the Electronic Frontier Foundation's free Onion Router (http://tor.eff.org), and there simply isn't any way to figure out the poster's true ISP. NewsAgent can make use of the numerous open NNTP servers which are scattered across Europe, Russia, and the Far East, so you can't even pin him down to a single NSP either.

Isn't that special?

Enjoy Mark's company.

Tsk, I've never claimed to be either an amateur radio radio organizations. Don't even play one on TV.

You are confused and think I am someone else...

Now, now, don't put yourself and Miccolis down so much.
Either one of you are much more self-important than I.
It is and has been repeated by you two in here for years.

Did you know that "radio" is used in OTHER radio services and by the military and government of the USA? Really.
"Amateur radio" isn't the sole user of radio. Really.

>You don't give orders here, Leonard.

So you keep saying! Well, say it enough times and maybe someone besides this "Jim" will believe you. That's the spirit of using the "Big Lie" technique of propaganda.

>Along comes Major Hoople to stand on the sidewalk and tell us how >amateur radio should be regulated.

Who is this "Major Hoople?" I don't know any "Major Hoople." You say he was in the newspaper comic strips?
I never saw that strip. Did you have it mixed up with Hal Foster's "Prince Valiant?" Or Milton Caniff's
"Terry and the Pirates?" "The Katzenjammer Kids?"

I know of a "Major Bowes" who used to host an old, old radio broadcast show called "Major Bowes' Amateur Hour."
The few times I heard that did not include anything about radio amateurs. I didn't listen to it much, so maybe other airings of that program had something about amateur radio?

>Your comfort is usenet, Leonard.

It is? I don't think so. My comfort is my wife, a nice home (two of them, debt free), good food, good health, and a nice collection of money earned at a profession I've chosen and enjoyed in my working career. Others' mileage obviously varies...

>You've found a place where you can tell those upstart radio amateurs

"Glory days?" Nah. Just a citizen volunteering for military service, serving and doing what he was told to do. Your organ grinding master never did that.

Anyone can see it at:

http://sujan.hallikainen.org/BroadcastHistory/uploads/My3Years.pdf

About 6 MB file size, may take 18 minutes download on a ones I took.

>You can expound on your >past working years, describe your northern and southern homes, tell >folks about your car and prescribe sage advice about horizontally >mounted loops, shielded with Reynolds Wrap (coaxial cable must have been >in short supply).

I can? Oh, my, you said at the beginning that I COULDN'T!

Please make up your mind.

The late-1960s horizontal loop was an experiment that didn't work out too well. Too much inductance, too many turns of wire...with too much inductance the resonating capacity was too small to allow fixed tuning at 60 KHz. A later version used 55 turns of #14 THHN insulation electric power wire (solid) on a 2 1/2-foot circular form (again for 60 KHz, the carrier frequency of WWVB out of Ft. Collins, CO), wrapped with twine and varnished. That was wrapped with aluminum foil for an electrostatic shield, not a continuous connection. That was wrapped in more twine and varnished three times. Two 10-foot 75 Ohm "TV cable" sections were connected to it in balanced configuration, the two coax cables' ground at the center-tap. The cable capacity makes up part of the 60 KHz resonant tuning, final trimming done by a 2-section "BC band" variable capacitor. Input below the vertically-oriented loop is to a differential FET source-follower pair to a voltage-controlled-gain differential amplifier. Oriented NE towards Ft. Collins, it provides a good signal from WWVB which is then limited as well as mildly bandpass filtered. The limiter output provides a fairly steady carrier at 60 KHz which feeds a phase-frequency-detector comparing a 60 KHz quartz-crystal oscillator which is electronically trimmed through the PLL loop filter (time-constant about 2 seconds) so that the crystal oscillator remains in phase with the WWVB carrier.
Overall receiving bandwidth is narrower than 0.5 Hz so the equivalent signal-to-noise ratio is high. A second PLL uses the 60 KHz crystal oscillator as reference to compare the 10 MHz time-base oscillator of a frequency counter, both divided down to 1 Second period for the second phase-frequency detector. That way I am always assured of an accurate frequency counter reading good to better than 100 Parts Per Billion (not Million).

Note: The "receiver" (a basic TRF configuration) is held stabilized in a slow-speed AGC loop with a small meter readout of carrier level. Limiter action is about 55 db compression so the AGC loop turned out to be redundant. The observed maximum-to-minimum signal strength from WWVB (about 1 KMile distant) has been less than 10 db (in power) during about two years of use. This is less than the predicted variations published by NIST on their time-frequency pages at www.nist.gov. Observed transients and noise at the limiter output from all other electrical sources in the household are no more than about -30 dbm of minimum received carrier level. Internal DC supply is double and triple series-regulated to obtain +12 and +5 VDC operating voltages. I may add a battery-backup inside the 1/10th cubic foot enclosure later to replace the external small UPS. It would be nice to compare the 10 KHz internal divider signal agains a rubidium oscillator standard in the future. Right now I am satisfied with the accuracy checked in several other ways, no need for doing an Allan Variance.

Thanks for asking...

OK so far - as long as there's room for the old as well

What used to be called "planned obsolescence".
Not a new idea at all the term has been around more than 50 years.

Is planned obsolescence a good thing?

Ever hear of a fish called the coelecanth?

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Coelecanth

The oldest fossil coelecanths date back 410 million years. Coelecanths were though to have gone extinct more than 65 million years ago - until living specimens were found...

How did they survive so long without changing?

There are lots of other examples. Evolution is more complex than "Adapt and evolve or become extinct."

What brink of extinction?

There are over 650,000 hams in the USA alone.

And I, for one, do like change - if it's change for the better.

IF it is any consolation - the commercial radio services went to hell too. The FCC took the bite out of the FCC Commercial licenses and the need for them. There have been systems installed by those not knowledgeable in the field and well - havoc runs amuck. There was at least last year - a push to have the FCC put the bite back into the licensure process. Will they? WHO KNOWS! Strangely enough - it seems big brother has been implementing all sorts of rules and laws since 911 - which has made life a short stroke away from pure hell - but the Communications industry one day will implode due to loss of control.

THIS along with the CB/HAM - is closing the barn door after all the horses have escaped.

Yea, but it's the same ISP as the moderation team uses to insert messages and we had alerted them in advance that this was comming.

I'm working on verizon as I'm a customer of theirs, and hopefully Google will add it shortly. I may be considered a "customer" of a few other ISP's by virtue of the various ways I can access the internet, so I'm looking into those as well.

Of course. We'll need to develop some strategy for accommodating untested for code hams who may want to give CW a try. To help them learn the code by using it. Maybe some form of cross mode QSOs, where the beginner and an elmer can use phone, and switch to CW either on the same frequency, or onto another freq in the CW segment. Like a code class, but on the air.

The FCC, in our Democratic society, asked for input on the code/no-code issue for quite awhile from the ham radio community. The MAJORITY of hams voted to do away with Morse Code so that's why it's now gone. Additionally, after the World Radio Conference (WRC) of 2005, 99.9% of the other countries decided to eliminate the code as well, with only the U.S. and a couple of others hanging on to this antiquated mode. Incidently, the ham bands NEVER became "CB-like" in the countries who have already dropped the code years ago. Hams in places like Canada, Mexico, Europe, Africa, and Austrailia noticed no change to the bands whatsoever. So...you, and others like you, can quit crying 'Wolf' now.

Do you have evidence to support your claim, Bob, or are you just mucking about?

I find it odd that you showed up here bitching about this newsgroup and now you've returned to tell us that you won't post to a kinder, gentler newsgroup. What gives?

Most of the new transceivvers do plug into our computers so that one is already done.
How are you going to convince manufacturers to produce these amps. Goods live and die by supply and demand. Such an amp will be expensive no matter where or by whom it is produced.

> Let us see these mass produced in china and the cost drop by magnitudes.

Again goods live and die by supply and demand. There demand isn't high enough for this to happen.

> Let us see high school electronic classes assisting students get ham

This is a goal that needs more detailed thought. Who is going to lead the effort to convince the states and local school boards to add this to electronics classes?
Who is going to lead the effort to have high schools even have electronics classes. None of the schools my children attended even had a classe.
Who is going to lead the effort to make such a class a requirement for all high school students? Afterall you do want to reach everyone.

You can't just throw the idea out there and expect some one else to pick up the ball and run with it.

These days it's difficult to find people really interested in pursuing technology of any kinds. Most people fall into the user category and simply expect technology to be available for whatever it is they want to do. They are not interested in creating the technology. We are becoming a society of consumers not creators.

If your figure of 99.9% is correct, and there are approximately 250 soveriegn countries in the world, this would mean that (1.000 - 0.999) X (250) countries still have the code requirement. That would be 0.25 countries that retained code. Since this number must be an integer, we must round it down to 0. Is zero correct?

I've got a pool going on guessing the percent change in the number of licensed amateurs at the one year point after the change. Want to join in?

Here's the rules and current status:
Rules:

1) Predict amount of change in ARS numbers between the IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O for elimination of code testing and one year from that date.
2) Calculation of the number of licenses will be done by N2EY under the same principals that he uses now to calculate the number of licenses.
3) You must select whole numbers for your percentage.
4) You may select positive or negative percentages.
5) You may select a range but that range may not exceed a total of 4%.
Note that your average will be used to determine who is closest. If the actual change is outside the range of everyone's guesses then the person whose limit is closest will be the winner.
6) You must submit your guess no later than six months after the
IMPLEMENTATION date of the R&O.

Anyone else? Note if your guess doesn't show up on the list within a week, it may mean that my ISP is blocking it or that you are on my blocked senders list. You may still participate but you will have to have your guess submitted by someone who is not blocked.

Guesses submitted:

N8UZE: 1% less to 1% more
N2EY: 1% more to 2% more

KH6HZ: 1% less to 0% change
N3KIP: 2% more to 6% more
KH6O: 6% more to 10% more
KK6J: 12% more to 14% more
KC2HMZ: 5% more
K8BSG: 2% more to 3% more <--- Added 02/18/06

You're the old organ grinder. Brian is your little red-hatted monkey.
In fact, you're the fellow who likes using the Germanic lingo and who

I made no error, Len. I frequently ask my friend John, "what's on the Numerous folks already believe it. They do so because it is the truth.

Okay, I understand that your problem was that you didn't know much about shielded loops.

You could have easily made the loop from coaxial cable. All you'd have needed to do was leave about a one-inch gap in the shield. A single turn "sense" loop may or may not be placed inside the windings of the shielded loop. As the loop is a loss antenna, it is very likely that a preamp would have been needed. I have a two-turn 5 foot diameter version mounted about a foot off the ground. It is resonant at 1.850 MHz. With a preamp it does a good job of minimizing local noise. It is not as good at providing readable copy as a 565 foot long terminated beverage without a preamp. At no time was the use of any Reynolds Wrap required.

We don't live in a democracy, but in a republic. The FCC repeatedly told radio amateurs that it would wait for a consensus of opinion from radio amateurs.

> The MAJORITY of hams > voted to do away with Morse Code so that's why it's now gone.

There was no vote. The MAJORITY of commenters desired some sort of continued Morse testing. Despite that, the FCC chose to do away with Morse testing in amateur radio licensing. The FCC is not required to conduct a vote or to accept the MAJORITY view.

It is quite obvious, isn't it? Only sheer fools must miss the irony of trailer trash escaping the mess they brought on themselves. Then add in the nuts acting like "cb antagonists" to reinforce their own arguments about "rude and un-civilized cb'ers" and the insanity is nothing less than the greatest I have ever been witness to. I think the funniest are those which are beginning to believe their own deceptions.

Then they call out "prove it!", as if they actually think they are in a court of law, makes you wonder what type of backgrounds they had to get that expectation in the first place--well, their actions here pretty much describe that picture. But don't be fooled--they are guilty of the vilest of deceptions and bad acting I have ever seen, where ever they go, they take their problems with 'em. Reminds me of past alcoholics I have known, they keep thinking everyone else is their problem and running away from those problems, funny how they can't run far enough ... be the same here I suspect.

I am just anxious for 'em to get set up in their new club house and get the "circle YES!" going on, (or, every man "yes'es" the man to his right--or is it to his left? Well, you get my meaning.) should provide for some excellent future entertainment. I am going to especially enjoy them sitting around enjoying the atmosphere of a moderated room free of "rude people." (need I point out that in their case "thought control" would be much more accurate description.)

This circus has been gut busting funny up to this point! I suspect more will follow in the future. <grin>

It takes time for the newgroup control messages to propagate thru the USENET newsstream, much the same way a message takes time to propagate. Oftentimes newgroup messages are manually 'approved' by each site's administrator prior to their accepting the messages for that group. It'll probably be a week or so before things really iron themselves out.

The planned special event operation this weekend by the American Radio relay League to celebrate the "end of Morse code" is insulting and indicates the organization's desire to divide the amateur community. As such we are calling for amateurs worldwide to boycott ALL PRODUCTS advertised in QST and email the manufacturers that you are doing so and why you are doing so.

I don't find anything odd at all about your inability to read. Better be careful though. Such inflamatory language should get your posts deleted from the moderated ng you know. I'm perfectly content to post here where discussions can be open. In a moderated ng, I'd probably have never even

The are not celebrating the end of morse code. Instead they are welcoming the new HF operators. They are trying to get people to enjoy radio. The new operators will be coming in at a difficult time since the sunspot cycle is at a low. If we want to keep them interested in HF, we're going to need to actively encourage and help the new HF operators so they don't get discouraged and quit altogether.

It would behoove us all to get on the air and welcome them this way. It would behoove us all to get on the air and show by example what correct operating techniques are. It would behoove us all to elmer all who want it.

It is our personal responsibility to be the best operators we can be and to help ALL newcomers do the same.

If you think it is insulting, you got your head screwed on wrong. I most assuredly will NOT boycott the ARRL. I will encourage all to join both local clubs and the ARRL.

I will encourage all to learn code for the fun of it and the usefulness of it. I will gladly sit with anyone attempting to make their first contacts in anymode and help them through it if they ask.

I have a VE session scheduled this evening for those who CSCE's to "cash in" and for those who want to take upgrade tests.

In my book, anyone willing to learn and participate is welcome.

FYI, I still believe that the basic, minimal code test should have been kept. However, it's water under the bridge and now it's time to help the new HF operators that were created at 12:01am today, all new operators, and any existing operators that may need help.

This is a good argument to strongly tighten up the technical requirements for the license, not an argument in favor of CW requirements.

And I do agree that we need to strongly tighten up the technical part of the tests.

I've been in favor of this stance for almost a decade.

In my Y2K restructuring comments, I argued for a reduction in the number of license classes to only 2 (One >50MHZ only, one all privileges), ultimate elimination of the code test (I favored a 5wpm reduction with eventual 'sunset clause' once the treaty requirement was changed), and strengthing the theory examinations.

The problem I see with the theory examinations, as currently structured, is they do not require applicants to demonstrate a full understanding of the topical material.

For example, the way the current examinations are structured, you could get wrong each and every question on rules and regulations -- yet still pass the examination because you have good math skills.

Instead, I feel each applicant should be required to pass every sub-element, with a score of 70% or higher. So, you would have to get 70%+ on the rules and regs, 70%+ on antenna theory, etc. I made many of these points in my Y2K restructuring comments.

However, it is highly unlikely that the FCC will ever adopt such a strategy. The trend is to make licensing easier and easier. I suspect over the next 2 decades you'll see a further push to weaken the theory examinations. Probably not for the next 5 years or so, but eventually some people will start to make the claim that the "hard" theory exams are keeping "potential" people away from the ARS.

This is unfortunate, because in the long term I do not think it helps the amateur radio service. Our knowledge of things "radio" -- propagation, electronics, etc. -- is what has set us apart from other "consumer"-type radio services.

Baaaa hahahahahahaha!!!

You know pay, you are one sorry-assed sack of shit.
I guess you whole miniscule world is going to colapse and burn now that ham radio no longer is burdened with the code.
Hams like you make me want to QRM a NTS traffic net on 75 meters

Agree 100% - Moderated newsgroups are almost as boring as going to model railroad train shows, listening to NTS traffic nets or watching NASCAR.

About a dozen people waiting to take tests or file for upgrades. All male, age range 16 to 70. Mostly engineering types with a few IT folks. Not a CBer to be found. About a 50-50 split between those getting General and Amateur Extra. Everyone going for General passed.

Pizza, Cookies for all.

They offered "old rules" tests before midnight, no takers.

How many NEW hams did you get? In other words were those who were waiting to test taking upgrade tests or getting new licenses?

I have a test session scheduled for this evening here in Oak Park, Michigan, which is part of the metropolitan area surrounding Detroit.
As far as I have been able to determine, we are the only ones having a test session on the 23rd in this area. There are other sessions in Michigan on this day but they are several hours away. There are some not too far away on the 24th and 26th also.

So far I have had 18 pre-registrations. All of them are for upgrades (both ones taking test and others doing paper upgrades). So far there is no one who preregistered for a new license exam. I expect some walk-ins also and we'll see what that brings.

After the test session, I'll post the results.

2380. ANNOUNCE: rec.radio.amateur.moderated has been created

Newsgroup: rec.radio.amateur.policy

On 19 Feb 2007, the Big-8 Management Board decided to create the moderated group rec.radio.amateur.moderated. The group was created on 22 Feb 2007.

For more information on the proposal and history, please refer to the archives:

ftp://ftp.isc.org/usenet/news.announce.newgroups/rec/rec.radio.amateur.moderated

For your newsgroups file:
rec.radio.amateur.moderated Amateur radio practices, rules, etc. (Moderated)

rec.radio.amateur.moderated is for the discussion of amateur ("ham") radio, also known as the Amateur Radio Service, as defined in Federal Communications Commission Regulations and U.S. Law (47 CFR Part 97), and in similar laws and regulations in other countries, based on international treaty. It is not limited to the rules of any one country or time period. Possible topics include past, present, and future operating practices; events; contests; past, present, and potential-future rules; power limitations; authorized frequencies; allowed modes and band plans (or other gentlemen's agreements) that govern how we are to operate; what constitutes the acceptable operation of amateur stations.

The newsgroup is intended to be international in scope, not just for amateurs in the United States. It is, however, intended as an English-language forum, by custom and practice. As with General Aviation and other internationally-scoped endeavors, the Amateur Radio Service has a strong custom of the use of English and the Latin alphabet. Discussion of amateur radio in languages other than English also occurs in many country- and region-specific hierarchies, many of which have specific amateur radio newsgroups, including:

de.* (Germany)
dk.* (Denmark)
es.* (Spain)
fr.* (France)
nl.* (Netherlands)
pl.* (Poland)
pt.* (Portugal)
relcom.* (Russia)

This newsgroup is only intended to supplement, not supersede, any other amateur radio newsgroups.

General communications law or government policy of various government agencies is also on-topic, as long as the discussion relates to amateur radio. Examples would be emergency communications, local antenna restrictions, and property deed restrictions applying to operation of amateur radio stations.

Discussion of other types of radio, such as Citizens Band, Broadcast, other Personal Radio Services, Commercial or Private Land Mobile, and Marine or Aviation services are off-topic, except when directly related to amateur radio. Similarly, discussion of methods violating applicable communications law and regulations concerning radio equipment or operations are off-topic.

The following are prohibited:

* Personal advertisements (submitters of such articles will be referred to rec.radio.swap, instead).
* Commercial advertisements and money-making schemes.
* Chain letters.
* Posts in HTML.
* EMP spam.
* Binaries, apart from PGP signatures, X-Face headers, and other ancillary article meta-data.
* Forgery of valid e-mail addresses.
* Excessive morphing/nym-shifting.
* Copyright violations. Pointers to news articles, blogs, etc. on this topic are welcome but are required to comply with fair use standards.
* Personal attacks and flames, as defined by the moderation team.
* Advertising items and/or services for sale (also will be referred to rec.radio.swap).
* Links to "objectionable" web content, including pornographic sites, sites encouraging illegal activities, or sites deemed unacceptable by the moderation team. The moderation team will cursorily check the contents of specific links to confirm on-topic content, but acceptance for posting does not imply endorsement or approval of the entire present or future contents of that web site.
* Discussion of moderation decisions. See below for information on appealing moderator action.

MODERATION POLICY: rec.radio.amateur.moderated

A moderation robot will scan all submitted posts. Each post will be either automatically approved, rejected, or sent to the moderators for manual review. The moderator 'bot will enforce the following guidelines:

* Crossposting is generally not allowed, with the general exception of crossposts of bulletins, FAQ's, and other informational articles to rec.radio.info, rec.answers, and news.answers. Infrequent administrative crossposts may occasionally be allowed at the sole discretion of the moderator.

* Postings must be in plain text. In particular no HTML or mixed text and HTML posts will be allowed. Messages that are multipart/alternative will be automatically filtered to pass just
the text/plain version to the newsgroup.

* No binary postings of any sort will be accepted. Exceptions will be made for cryptographic signatures and such.

* Messages must not have a 'Followup-To' header that points out of rec.radio.amateur.moderated (other than to "poster").

* Messages must not continue a thread that has been "closed" by the moderators.

Individual posters may be temporarily banned for consistently violating the group charter. Posters who feel that their posts have been unfairly rejected or banned, either for specific content or by a specific moderator, may appeal the decision. They may do so by contacting the Appeals Board, consisting of a rotating group of 2 or more moderators, at the Administrative Contact address below. The Board will discuss and vote on the appeal and respond within 14 days if the appeal is successful. The Board will also reply within 14 days to unsuccessful submitters of any appeal that is on-topic, reasoned, civilly stated, and is not substantially an attempt to revisit the subject matter and arguments of a previous unsuccessful appeal.

Multiple temporary bans, attempting to circumvent the ban, or abuse of the appeal system may result in a permanent ban.

However, the FCC has DFed some jamming to your qth.

I don't think the loss of code is going to be a band breaker.
If you want to see a busy morse newsgroup, go join the SKCC group.
Straight Key Century Club.
I was trying to study for a General ticket but will start out with Tech. Up to 28 characters on Just Learn Morse Code at 18/24 speed.
Just taking my time. Built some simple radios I fire up into a dummy load and listen to on a SW.

These Q&A manuals don't do dick for "teaching". All they do is give the possible answers, the right answer and a hair off a nats ass of an explanation as to WHY it is the answer. I've got FCC study guides that were VAGUE to say the least - one sheet of paper - front and back. They didn't give you the "exact" questions which "might" be found - only samples of the types of questions. Years ago - when you took the FCC exams, if you didn't know electronics - either from school OR some decent "Heathkit" Ham Prep Courses, you were pretty much destined to fail. Many today are just studying these Q&A guides to get their license and letting the ball drop there - UNLESS they want to move up - then they buy the next Q&A and repeat the same process - not really learning the ins and outs. YES - they learn what a resistor looks like - what it is supposed to do and so on - but NOT in depth as they should. Same with many other parts. And even at that - they learn only a small fraction of what any "electronics tech" is in need to know to try to function at least half way decent.

I welcome new hams - but they really SHOULD learn the ropes to get maximum benefit out of their hobby.
Only THEN can they enjoy many of the things ham radio affords the hobby.

Just my 2 cents.

Oh, they are prefectly CLEAR, humorless pedantic prussian.

You have only ONE "intent" in your postings "to" me... that of attempting to assassinate my personal character any way you can. No sweat to me. Others have attempted that...and FAILED, just like you are FAILING.

>You're the old organ grinder.

I'm not a musician. Don't even play one on TV.

AFTRA, the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists, does not require "organ grinding" as a membership skill.

>Brian is your little red-hatted monkey.

No. FACTUAL ERROR. Brian Burke, N0IMD, is a husband, father, USAF veteran and very much his own person. That we think similarly on many subjects is because we share those similarities with thousands of others who do not post in here regularly. We do have differences of opinion on many things without incurring any rancor or visible displeasure expressed one to the other.

You insist on making caricatures of those who disagree with you...on the slightest provocation. That is part of YOUR behavior pattern that has been visible in this newsgroup since the first person disagreed with you. [actually, several persons...I was not the first]

One problem for caricaturists is that they bitterly resent being used as a subject for such caricatures. You are one such.

>In fact, you're the fellow who likes using the Germanic lingo and who

Not "Germanic lingo," simply old German Army terms. "Heil" is a salute-greeting in the German language. You desire respect-admiration all the time, then bitterly object when you cannot recognize someone saluting you. Do you think ALL salute you with a single finger?

It isn't even 'humerous' nor does it break my bones.

The "N2EY profile" is just an example of a common, one-sided, self-righteous olde-tymer amateur morseman who desperately desires to be some kind of 'chieftan' in a newsgroup yet has NO qualifications nor anything but layman's quaint ideas of basic psychology. His "profile" is nothing more than a disguised personal character assassination statement. Not rare in this newsgroup, only worded so as to APPEAR civil and "informed."

You have a friend who is a john? Most unusual fetish...

I can get ON any radio. I can't get INTO them except for very large ones such as the Channel 13 transmitter up on Mount Wilson (serving the LA area). I have literally and physically stepped INTO that transmitter to examine its aural-visual diplexer.

But, you say you can get INTO "the bands." That requires a physical transformation that is unknown to modern science.
Perhaps you wish to share this unique paranormal ability with the rest of us normals? Is it like an "out of body experience?"

>> The AAA 500 is on at the California Speedway in Fontana on

>Is that a plan or an event?

Both. Obviously you are unaquainted with NASCAR. There's no requirement that anyone in here be familiar with auto racing. NASCAR drivers and crew are able to use two-way radios before, during, and after a race, all without having to take any amateur radio license tests. They don't even have to know morse code!

Step away from working Frenchmen out of band on 6 meters and imagine you are driving 180+ MPH on any big track such as Daytona or Talladega...AND using "CW" to communicate with the pits. Do you think you could finish one short transmission on "CW" during any straight-away section of the track? Avoiding crashes all the way, of course. :-)

>I wrote "make-believe", Len. I know you aren't a real radio amateur.

Amazing! After all these years Heil FINALLY realizes that!

Well, you are still in "make-believe" in here thinking you can CONTROL and order-around anyone you wish. I doubt that will ever go away. :-)

>> THEY are always telling everyone what they should think!

FACTUAL ERROR.

Advocacy of consideration for others and their differing opinions is in regards to DISCUSSION behavior. There is NO REQUIREMENT that all be of like mind ("hive mind" intellectual clone-coupling of thoughts) such as obeying
ALL that the League has said-dictated about amateur radio activity in the United States.

>Let's examine that idea: You believe that it bothers me that you won't >be a part of amateur radio?

Irrelevant. What you continue to think is predictable based on previous archived behavior in here. That behavior is indicated by the usual denigration of personal character of anyone disagreeing with you about any subject. QED.

You seem to be adamant about your undemonstrated prescient abilities. You can no more predict the future with any accuracy than some back-of-the-newspaper "astrologer." :-)

One can only "drink" toast if it has been dissolved in

Your belief system needs an over-haul. That you IMAGINE behavior.

I "shouldn't?" Are you one of the usual advocates of Tsk, your theory of voltage induction of an electromagnetic LONG wavelength to a physically SMALL loop is FAULTY.

The induced RF voltage amplitude is dependent on the NUMBER OF TURNS in the loop. Hello? That's very basic data. The electrostatic shield was NOT any absolute necessity but serves to reduce transients induced from nearby wideband RFI impulses; i.e., it helps the signal-to-noise ratio.

Example: Of two radio clocks in this southern house, both have "antennas" similar to an AM BC band receiver "loopstick." [ferrite-core solenoidal coil, resonant with a fixed capacity at 60 KHz] Neither one has a shielded "antenna," yet all operate very well, correcting their time after midnight each 24-hour period according to received NIST data.

You have failed to grasp the INTENT of my 60 KHz loop and receiver: To lock onto the CARRIER frequency of WWVB and to maintain that phase lock stably, despite external transients common in households. Note: The carrier frequency stability is given at the NIST time-frequency pages on the 'web and it is to "atomic" references.

> As the loop is a loss antenna, it is very likely that a >preamp would have been needed.

NO KIDDING?!? :-)

Tsk, you've not presented any factual data, calculations or measured, to support your theory, let alone provided anything in the way of guesses as to induced RF power in your 160m loop from any known emitter power level and distance.

>I have a two-turn 5 foot diameter >version mounted about a foot off the ground. It is resonant at 1.850 >MHz.

...which has a wavelength about 1/31st that of 60 KHz.

>With a preamp it does a good job of minimizing local noise.

Must be one of those MAGIC preamplifiers that can automatically discriminate between desired and non-desired signals! I've seen such claims before and have never seen it proven. :-)

Tsk, tsk, to provide the better signal-to-noise ratio in a receiving loop antenna, several steps are necessary in the real world. In order of importance:
1. Increase the loop plane area as much as practical.
2. Increase the number of conductor turns in the loop.*
3. Mount the loop plane vertically to reduce omni-directional wideband transient impulse pickup, plane in the direction of distant emitter ("edge-on").
4. Resonate the loop inductance at the carrier frequency to minimize adjacent-frequency response.
5. Add electrostatic shielding to reduce omni-directional transient/wideband impulse response.

* Increasing the number of turns also increases the loop inductance. That inductance will dictate the resonating capacitance of item (5). Increasing the number of turns will increase the series resistance of the total conducting material which, in turn, will decrease the resonant Q and adjacent-frequency response. That is a compromise situation which is dictated by the application and site.

>It is >not as good at providing readable copy as a 565 foot long terminated >beverage without a preamp.

How do you terminate your beverages? Using a cork or conventional bottle cap? Or do you drink all of it at once? Do you do that when "drinking toast?"

Can you provide "readable copy" of anything after all that beveraging? Do you know your state's DUI regulation blood alcohol levels?

Is an amateur radio licensee residence REQUIRED to have a 565-foot length of their property? What will they do when and if amateur bands are allocated below 550 KHz?

>At no time was the use of any Reynolds Wrap required.

You express antipathy about aluminum foil. Why? Are you still an amateur at cooking food? Have you analyzed the monetary difference between "kitchen" foil and coaxial cable? Or haven't you been following advice over on Jack Stone's Antennex web site?

Oh, yes, you once passed a 20-WPM code test for your amateur radio license, became an amateur extra, and are now the ne-plus-ultra EXPERT on ALL RADIO-ELECTRONICS THEORY! Yes, that must be your "qualifications." :-)

You may be "over-qualified?" In your mind at least. :-)

I have to agree.... I am surprised at the wholly naive (and incredibly basic) questions I get from not a few newly licensed Extras. Of course, I give the best info I can and try to help. But, I am still surprised and maybe a bit disappointed.... Hopefully, and with time, they'll assimilate the requisite knowledge. Dunno... maybe I'm expecting too much?

Retard,

You've got to be kidding.

If the experience of the other countries that have done away with the CW requirement is any indication, there will be a boom in new CW operators.

The five WPM test was almost designed to make sure no one would ever learn code. Now that people are freed from that insanity, they can learn CW properly - by starting out at 20 or more WPM. They can use G4FON, Just Learn Morse Code, Super Morse or any other good program.

And if they want to learn American Morse, they can download MorseKOB <http://home.earthlink.net/~n7rz/morse/download.htm> or The Instructograph <http://mtc-tw.dyndns.org/files/InstructographFull-v.1.0.zip>.

Or if they want to learn both they can download W4FOK's "The Mill." <http://home.comcast.net/~w4fok/mstr04a_.exe>

As far as lids, they are generally short timers, as they are usually shunned by the older, more courteous, and considerate ops. And if they're really bad, Uncle Charlie will get 'em.

Please, Retard, go sell your negativity elsewhere.

Well, here's an opportunity. Let's take up a collection and buy a QST ad advertising USENET, and magically make dolts like this disappear.

Are you saying that code kept retards off of HF? I've heard lots of bozos on the bands.

Here is an even better idea:

I learned Farnsworth code in 1992. I found that, for some reason, if you learn Farnsworth, many people find that they can also understand Morse code! Additionally, people who send Farnsworth often can be understood by people trained only in Morse code. This is a little-known secret: Just learn Farnsworth and you can do Morse code.

When I took the General Class exam in 1953, I didn't know anything except high school algebra. I memorized the ARRL License Manual in order to pass the exam and I just memorized the new frequency allocations 54 years later. Human memory should not be underestimated.

HAM has its factions just like any hobby. People feel free to come here and complain, but this is something you will rarely ever hear on the air.
Usually it gets a person banned from repeaters or licenses taken by the FCC.
But its so rare that one never really hears about it unless they go looking for info on it.

A friendly community it is, far more so than I expected when I got into HAM in 2001. Ignore the jerk-offs you see here in usenet and contact your local HAM club. You will find as I did just how friendly they really are.

Nope.... I don't think I'm forgetting anything (regarding this discussion, of course). In past times, the Extra did, indeed, connote something more than the passing ability to zero the ohms scale on a Simpson 260 or use of a U-Test-Em tube checker at the local drug store.

It is only through education that we can eliminate bozophobia from this newsgroup. Now with Morse code a thing of the past, we should forget past differences and welcome all new hams, including our bozo brothers and sisters, into the Service. Power to the Bozo's!

Right, but the original notion was that someone would get a Novice, operate for a while, get a General, operate for a while, and gradually work their way up the ladder while taking an "entrance exam" at each one. This no longer really happens... we get folks coming in as Generals or Extras.

This is an extra listing of the ARS license numbers,
in preparation for the rules changes of Feb 23, 2007.
These numbers are the last ones before the FCC rules change dropping all Morse Code testing went into effect.

These are the number of current,
unexpired FCC-issued amateur radio licenses held by individuals
on the stated dates, and the percentage of the total number of active licenses that class contains:

As of May 14, 2000:

Novice- 49,329 (7.3%)
Technician - 205,394 (30.4%)
Technician Plus - 128,860 (19.1%)
General - 112,677 (16.7%)
Advanced - 99,782 (14.8%)
Extra - 78,750 (11.7%)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 334,254 (49.5%)

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 291,209 (43.2%)

Total all classes - 674,792

As of February 22, 2007:

Novice - 22,896 (3.5%) [decrease of 26,433]
Technician - 293,508 (44.8%) [increase of 88,114]
Technician Plus - 30,818 (4.7%) [decrease of 98,042]
General - 130,138 (19.9%) [increase of 17,461]
Advanced - 69,050 (10.5%) [decrease of 30,732]Extra - 108,270 (16.5%)
[increase of 29,520]

(percentages may not add up to exactly 100.0% due to rounding)

Total Tech/TechPlus - 324,326 (49.5%) [decrease of 9,928]

Total General/Advanced/Extra - 307,458 (47.0%) [increase of 16,249]

Total all classes - 654,680 (decrease of 20,112)

Note that these totals do not include licenses
that have expired but are in the grace period.

They also do not include club, military
or other station-only licenses.

Note also that effective April 15, 2000, new Novice, Technician Plus and Advanced licenses are no longer issued.

Since April 15, 2000, FCC has renewed all existing Technician Plus licenses as Technician. By May of 2010, the number of Technician Plus licenses
should drop to zero, because all of them will have been renewed as Technician or allowed to expire. It is therefore informative to consider the totals of the two classes,
since the Technician class includes a significant number of Technician Plus licenses renewed as Technician.

Well boys, now that you have three newsgroups to discuss policy and miscellaneous, can't you at least keep the junk contained with those three newsgroups?

It's bad enough that some feel compelled to start such threads with cross-posting, but that doesn't give license to the rest to reply as if they are blameless.

INstead of blindly replying to posts like this have the decency to check where it's cross-posted, and keep the legit newsgroups of the rec.radio.amateur.* hierarchy out of it.

If you yourselves did some self-policing instead jumping into the brawls, then the silly issue of moderating would never have had to come up.

Are you familiar with the current 4b question pool? There are 500 questions selected for a 50 question test. I am a BSEE and I believe that the questions are by and large very good and not particularly easy considering that one is not trying the get a degree or pass a PE exam. I scored 100% on the test the first time I took it; however, I put in several hours of study because it covered several areas that I needed to review and/or catch up on. I would not characterize it as trivial. In theory the 500 questions could be memorized by I think that would be much more difficult than learning the material as a way to pass the test.Also, rote memorizing will cause one to learn more than one might think. In College chemistry I had to memorize the activity series of the periodic table, something that has benefitted me greatly during my EE career (because many EE's get invoved in so many other areas than EE). Either method is valid but I would think that most learn the real material these days and the questions are not insignificant. They don't compare to operating a tube tester or zeroing an ohm meter. Element 3b is another story and that one does need a little work

Nah. The number of question marks is immaterial and avoids the contentious and intolerant (rant?) of the OP. Such comments very divisive to the the Amateur Radio hobby; IMHO.

Might one not think such an intolerant (possibly also an elitist?) attitude by a serving (already licensed) radio amateur does not augur well for the future of the hobby. Not sure as a newcomer I'd want to join a group with members who have that 'unkind' attitude!

Previously noticing some other intolerant (even vituperative) comments would not be surprised they may tend to give outsiders a view of an outdated, closed knit clan/society. Old codgers still using spark transmitters and coherer receivers, pounding away in their dimly lit shacks late at night and boasting about how many countries they have contacted for 500 milliseconds per contact; and please QSL.

QSLs via the Internet these days I presume?

Total four (4) question marks; used one at a time!

Rather than portray Amateur Radio as open, welcoming to younger newcomers and new modes of communication/trends.

No wonder the hobby is, in the opinion of some, dying?

The hobby is alive and well, though offshooting into private little cliques here and there.
Paul W. Schleck is a bit delusional what with his new, exclusionary new newsgroup, but like all fads, this one, too, will pass.

Paul's new moderated group, I predict, will see a modicum of new users at the outset, but after, say, 60 days his moderated group will wither on the vine and become history. His new moderated group was doomed for failure well before it reached fruition.

I wonder if BlowGut Paul will send his "welcome" messages to the new users of his self-serving moderated group? He, Paul, has a knack for being an insufferable blowhard. Come to think of it, he is not too far removed from the gasseous emissions of Lennie, the California Cryaby who still has issues with old zoning matters.

Oops! Tsk! Tsk!. Did I poke politically incorrect fun at a poor, disgruntled oldster whose colostomy bag runneth over?

Tell those Hams to gather around this newsgroup and make posts. Within seconds, Mark Morgan will respond not once, not twice, but several times and he will, while doing, change the topic headers several times to suit his purposes. Mark lives to pounce on posts and change the topic line.

Next? Change the topic line back to your original post and watch Mark whine that you "hijacked" the post.

Or, as Mark is known to do, he will goad you with an absuridty such as, "I Punce". Mark eschews proper spelling in that he is incapable of doing same.

He is lazy.

The announcement on the 18th was sufficient notice of the creation of this group. Continued announcements to RRAP are not amateur policy

I predict the number of posts in this group whining about RRAModerated will far exceed the number of posts in the group itself.

The current Extra exam is simply Element 4 and encompasses the material from the old Advanced and Extra. There are over 800 questions in the current Extra question pool.

Sure.

"laughing at" is what those excluded claim they are doing.

"whining about" is what those who are excluded are actually doing.

Are you guys now claiming that the moderated ng is excluding people already? Odd, that's not how it was promoted to the big 8 when it was approved. Why wasn't it promoted as an exclusive newsgroup from the beginning?

No skin off my nose. Can one really be excluded from a neighborhood that one wouldn't have gone to anyway?

It is highly unlikely anyone "rote memorizes" the question pool.

When people use the term "memorize", they more than likely mean "word associate".

Via word association, they are able to recognize the correct answer to the question simply out of habit... much the same way you "memorize" the way to travel to different places, even though you may not know all the street names along the route of travel.

Increasing the size of the question pool does not eliminate this. All it does is increase the amount of time someone has to spend reading thru the question pool before they become adequately familiar with the material.

Furthermore, with the way the exams are structured (70% overall grade), someone could simply opt to skip an entire sub-element, because there are only 2 or 3 questions from it on the exam, and it isn't worth the effort to even review that material.

However, that said...

Based on the behaviour of people in this newsgroup, it is safe to conclude that if these same people posted the same messages to RRAModerated, those postings would be excluded.

I believe the newsgroup's charter was outlined very well, and to date I have no reason to believe that Paul or any of the other moderators have violated that charter.

If you feel they have, why not bring it to the attention of the B8MB?

Well I've had a chance to tally the test results for my Feb 23rd session in Oak Park, MI

24 candidates total. 21 for upgrades, 3 for new licenses

2 failed on the upgrade exam
1 failed on new license exam

2 achieved General as their 1st license by passing both elements 2 and 3 at this session.
14 upgraded to General from Tech via test or CSCE
5 upgraded to Extra from Tech via test and/or CSCEs

Previous sessions average about 4 candidates for the total. Sometimes all

The big question is what happens in the long term.

Any time there is a change that reduces the "price" of something, you can expect a surge of "customers". Sometimes the surge becomes a long term trend, sometimes not.

ONce again, look before you reply. And keep the junk in .misc and .policy

The problem is not just the "problem posters" it's the people who should know better but don't bother looking to see where the messages are posted to.

A little self-policing would have gone a long way to keeping the junk down, something the proponents of the moderated newsgroup couldn't grasp.

OK, I disagree. Try this:

E4C14: If a receiver tuned to 146.70 MHz receives an intermodulation-product signal whenever a nearby transmitter transmits on 146.52MHz, what are the two most likely frequencies for the other modulating signal?

A. 146.34 and 146.61 MHz
B. 146.88 and 146.34 MHz
C. 146.10 and 147.30
D. 73.35 and 239.40 MHz

To answer this question, you either rote-memorize the answer, which would be unlikely due to the size of the question pool, or you aquire at least a basic understanding of 3rd order IMD to be able to answer the question.

I dind it amusing that insisting that the coments on my Blog be on topic is such a hardship to people that they coment on RRAP about it one is since the topic is radio the coment needs to be radio related IOW calling my wife a shemale in response to a post about my new radio or the

That's because morse code is a "skill". It does not take much intelligence to learn the code but, after one memorizes the code alphabet, it does take skill to send and receive at, say, 20 wpm. The skill is acquired by practice, not intelligence. The MENSA test, as I understand it, requires the ability to use logic and deductive reasoning. I think there is no relationship that associates the skill to perform repetitive actions at high speed and the intelligence necessary to perform in the 98th percentile of an intelligence test that measures one's ability to use logic and reason.

> That's because morse code is a "skill".

Exactly my point! From Webster's: "moron - a feeble-minded person or mental defective who has a potential mental age of between 8 and 12 years and is capable of doing routine work under supervision.".

I don't know many words that describe learning Morse code skill better than "routine work". :-) I suspect that morons are just as capable of acquiring Morse code skill as are more intelligent persons. In fact, many of those coded morons reside on 75m.

If the "problem poster" has posted incorrect information that goes into the rest of the heirarchy, then the correct information needs to go to those newsgroups also. Otherwise the incorrect information will get passed on by word of mouth or repeat posts or whatever. Using incorrect information can cause problems.
```

TRUE!! Moderated Usenet newsgroups are just about as exciting as listening in on your average 75M NTS Traffic Net with the same tired senile old farts passing on "Happy Birthday" NTS messages for the same cheap-assed old joos who send them to each other year-after-year because their too goddammed cheap to buy 2-for-$1 birthday cards at the local Dollar General Store.

Thank glub however we have freqs like 14.275 with that kooky Kanadian Karl and his suck-boys who play all day long and provide us with alternative radio-fun when the usual stuff in RRAP slows down at times.

Hey...I hear that Pauls'Party is "clothing optional" and all the invites are allowed into his hot tub!! OMG can you imagine that???
All those OBESE FAT CHEAP HAMS sitting NAKED in the hot tub and talking about how ham radio used to be??? Jeezus H Fricken XMAS I'd bet you the hot tub water looked like EGG DROP SOUP after those dirty old men got out! Prolly the first BATH they've all had in a long time!

PFHBLTTTTTTTT !!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

ps: Don't forget to drop by www.nimbusters.com and say hello to Lloyd

Dee ~ These three are the meat & potatoes of the matter, the 21 upgraders being no-counters as far as the growth or shrinkage of the hobby is concerned. Supposedly the idea behind the elimination of the code tests is to draw new blood into the hobby, folk who would otherwise not bother with becoming licensed yes?

The way I see it there's a market research opportunity here which needs to be explored and exploited. It strikes me that it's data from the VE sessions which at least in part point the way to growth strategies.

Not that only three individuals at one VE session on the first day out-of-the-box is statistically significant and indicative of any kind of long-term trend of course. All that aside I'm interested in knowing what compelled these three individuals to go for ham tickets yesterday - if you happen to have that info. Former hams "coming back in"? CBers "moving over"? SWLs? Kids? Geezers . . . ?

Can you imagine that? People could communicate around the world simply by constructing a simple transmitter salvaged from a Model T ignition coil and a receiver contructed of metal filings in a glass tube between antenna and ground and a battery powered relay.

Amazing. Absolutely amazing.

Nope, never said that.

"you guys" is plural. I'm one guy.

Hence

"I'm not sure who 'you guys' are."

Can you tell me who the "other" guys are that are "claiming the moderated ng is excluding people already"?

I just want to make sure who the others are I'm alledgedly speaking for.

Not sure if this made it the first time since I never got it back...

Radio Enthusiasts,

This posting is to invite radio entusiasts to investigate Internet Relay Chat (IRC), a free realtime multi-user chat medium that allows users to connect to a network of servers and chat in realtime with other users connected to any of the servers on the same network.

IRC uses "channels" similar to the chat rooms on AOL for those familiar with those. Anyone who connects to any server in an IRC network can join any channel on that network and chat with any and all other users in that channel regardless of what server in the network they have connected to.

Using IRC, it is possible (for example) for radio clubs, ARES/RACES or other EmComm groups, etc. to have a realtime online chat forum where members can connect and have sort of an online clubhouse or meeting.
This is great for groups with members in widely separated geographical areas who can't otherwise have a "meeting" in the usual sense.

The IRC network IRC-GLOBAL is one example of an IRC network, and it happens to be operated by radio hobbyists. Feel free to check out the network's website at http://proxemic.net - this network is now inviting radio enthusiasts of all stripes to use the IRC-GLOBAL network as a forum for realtime multiuser chat with other like-minded individuals. Hams, CB operators, scanner and shortwave listeners, whether individuals or clubs, are welcome to use this network.

IRC-GLOBAL offers five open public IRC servers using active connection ports 6661-6669 (and also, 6697 for SSL connections). running full modern services (ChanServ/NickServ/MemoServ/BotServ/HostServ). Secure client connections are available using SSL. Channel owners have full founder control of services tools and security options. All of this is free, there is no charge of any kind for the use of any IRC-GLOBAL servers or services.

There are already some radio-related channels formed (#monitor, cross-linked to the #monitor channels on four other IRC networks as well, is the busiest right now), or you may of course form your own channels - about radio, or anything else as long as it's not illegal or just for the purpose of harassing others.

I hope nobody will consider this "spam" or be offended by it, if so, I apologize - I'm posting this as a network administrator on the IRC-GLOBAL network, I have no financial axe to grind since the use of the network is totally free to any and all who wish to use it. I'm one of the radio hobbyists who has helped put this network together and just want to invite other radio people like myself to make use of it.

Hope to see you on IRC-GLOBAL soon!

73 de John Kasupski, KC2HMZ
IRC-GLOBAL Network Administrator

Well, now that I found out that he isn't able to post to it or read

I have no interest in using Google to post messages to USENET. When Cox gets around to adding the group to their servers, and there's a topic I wish to comment on, I will.

I suspect I'll see more of my own postings in that forum that I will of yours.

Yes, with the most basic materials; little more than a battery and some wire, in an emergency or primitive conditions you can communicate via wireless. But you must have one more thing; gotta have code

The 3 testing for new licenses is, for all intents and purposes, what I have had at test sessions before the rules changed. Although one datum is not sufficient to really draw any conclusions, this does not bode well for growth.

Unfortunately with such a large group and limited time for use of the facility, there was no time for chit chat. We administered 27 written tests in addition to those who were just doing paper upgrades. I do know that one of the three was a former ham (Tech+) as he mentioned it when he pre-registered. He is one of the individuals who passed both Element 2 and 3, thereby earning his General ticket.

The individual reporting from Manitoc, WI (?) gave similar results, heavy on upgraders and very light on new licensees. We'll have to wait and see what the future brings but "early returns" would suggest simply a change in upgrading patterns and no change in new licensees.

Increased numbers were not the reason for eliminating the Code test, IIRC.

And I certainly won't draw any conclusions about how many "new" hams will be drawn in after one day. Indeed I would expect almost all upgrades for the first few months.

No I do not. It's like elections, it isn't complete until all the returns are in. It's also why I have a "guessing game" pool on the percent change in licensed hams at the one year mark. Would you like to add a guess to the pool?

Well, that's good advice that should be followed before you even connect to the Internet, even to download your e-mail. I do know, however, that I've used IRC regularly since 1996 and have never, ever gotten any kind of virus or other infection as a result of my IRC activities. Thoigh I suppose other people's mileage may vary.

I think that is the proper way to do it. The catholics make fun of the mormons, and we do so OUTSIDE their church ... I don't know for certain, but I would suspect they do the exact opposite--and obviously, outside the catholic church.

No surprises there at all, it's just one more example of history repeating itself.

My contention is that while they're few in numbers the newbies are a good if not the best source for finding out what actually drives folk toward ham radio. The way I see it we're not mining the VE sessions for the hard data which could be used to more rationally target the efforts currently underway to bring folk into the hobby. Which strike me as a collection of committee-designed hipshots in the dark which would never in this world fly out in commercial reality.

Given my druthers I'd cobble together some sort of questionnaire to be passed out to the newbies at VE sessions which asks the pointed questions which I think need to be answered. Over a period of say a couple years of compiling their inputs we'd have some of the hard data we don't have now. Shouldn't be much additional workload involved at the VE sessions. Pass out the questionnaires at the registration desk, collect 'em on the newbie's way out and forward 'em to The Committee for analysis and the reality checks they need.

Odd you mention that. My brother married a Bozo. She used to punch up the button on the phone answering machine and talk back to the voice messages.
She could never understand why they didn't talk back to her.
After all, she'd say, "they told me to call them back."
When I explained to her that she was supposed to pick up the phone and call them back, she'd hit the replay button and pick up the phone and say, "Hello?" Then she'd tell me that nobody was there. Hello? Is anybody home?
She certainly wasn't.
She is a no-code Tech, by the way.

There is a saying we teach statistics students: "one observation does not equal a trend".

I believe that in the "what effect will this have on licensing numbers" thread, I stated we would see a 0 to -1% growth as a result of these changes.

I believe in that thread I stated I felt we would see a huge number of increases from the lower licenses classes to the higher classes (i.e. lots of techs upgrading to extra). I believe it was Jim (N2EY, but I may have the attribution wrong) who stated for the first time in the past 15 years since the creation of the no-code tech license, we might see an actual DECREASE in the number of licensed hams in that license class.

Your data point supports both those points.

Ho Hum. Paul's new moderated group will most likely end up being relegated

Once the Upitty-Up Hams tire of being censored by Paul, they will return to Tell him to put it in his pipe and smoke it. If they don't like it, tell them to deal with it. Maybe the first suggestion would be for the sour grapes to hit the road.

The end result of the 2000 restructuring was exactly that. A lot of existing hams upgraded, and for a few years we saw some growth. But the long term result has been a decrease in the number of US hams.

>I believe it was Jim (N2EY, but I may have the > attribution wrong) who stated for the first time in the past 15 years since > the creation of the no-code tech license, we might see an actual DECREASE > in the number of licensed hams in that license class.

I don't remember writing anything like that. But I could be mistaken about it.

I will say this: Simply looking at the number of Technicians can lead to wrong conclusions.
Since 4/15/2000, FCC has been renewing all Technician Pluses as Technicians. Also, a Novice who passes Element 2 after 4/15/2000 gets a Technician, not a Tech Plus. So the Technician totals actually include both code-tested and non-code-tested hams. Assuming that all hams listed as Technicians after 4/15/2000 are not code tested is/was just plain wrong.

In about three years there should be no more Tech Pluses at all, as they will all have either upgraded, expired, or been renewed as Technician.

Kinda like what happened to Conditionals 30 years ago.

When you look at the total number of Technicians and Tech Pluses combined, there are fewer today than on May 14, 2000.

It should also be remembered that since 4/15/2000
all licensed hams who had ever passed a code test could upgrade to Extra without any more code testing - just written testing. Also, anyone who could provide documents showing they had ever held a Novice or code-tested Technician got credit for Element 1, even of the license had expired decades ago.

What all this boils down to is that we will soon see how much of a "barrier to growth" Morse Code testing actually was. If it were really a barrier, we will see big jumps in both the number of new hams and the number of upgraders. The ARS License Numbers thread will tell the tale.

IMHO, the real "barrier to growth" wasn't the license test requirements at all. Rather, it is simple lack of publicity about amateur radio.

Amateur radio is fundamentally "radio for its own sake". Radio as an end in itself, rather than a means to some other end like avoiding long distance telephone charges or the cost of a cell phone.

Most people are simply not interested in "radio for its own sake" no matter what the requirements. That's been true since radio was invented.

But a small percentage of people are interested.
The challenge is to find them and inform them of the existence of amateur radio - because many of them don't even know it exists, or have a very distorted idea of what amateur radio is.

IMHO

Consider this: When's the last time you saw Amateur Radio portrayed in the movies or on TV in a positive and accurate manner, and in such a way that a nonham could understand that amateur radio exists today and they could be a ham if interested?

They'll still post here anonymously. They need a reason to live.

I appreciate what Paul has done. For example, he helped us recapture some old Air Force AR Club calls and keep them in Air Force their respective communities.

I tried to find the attribution on Google, but there is so much noise in this group it made wading thru hundreds of messages impossible. Perhaps it was Dee or another regular poster who alluded to the fact. I wasn't attempting to put words in your mouth -- I remember someone making the comment, but cannot find the post.

Right. And my own anecdotal observations show me that the code test was never a real barrier to entry. It isn't the code test that has turned people away, it is simply that "radio" isn't "sexy".

This is why I predicted that the result from these changes will be 0 to -1% growth. What the changes may do is tap a few new people into the ARS and slow the rate of decline for a year -- but I really suspect what we'll see over the next 6 months is a huge number of upgrades, and very little in the way of "growth" in new hams (over the rate they're already added to the ARS).

That could be be. Remember the explosion of CB radio after "Smokey and the Bandit" and similar movies in the 70's?

Even if they did put it in a movie, what would it show? Someone talking to another dude 1/2way across the world? Most people would say "what's the big deal, I can do that too" as they pull their credit-card-sized cell phone out of their shirt pocket.

I was just trying to figure out what people K6HZ was saying were being excluded from RRAM. Now I find out that he is one of them.

Laughing at is not equivalent to participating in. Sorry, I couldn't help myself. This post made the number of replies to this thread equal to the total number of posts to RRAM since inception.

I notice that this group has settled down nicely now that they have a home base. I like it. I will however be happier when those who feel excluded have access to the group. Then their excuse for whining will be gone.

This is FEDERAL not just some state or city. It applies to all personnel on all federal installations (military posts, VA hospitals, national parks, national forests, any other federal property with its own roads). It also applies to all military personnel on and off post, on and off duty.

A revision to the Code of Federal Regulations mandates that all federal installations prohibit the use of cellular phones, PDAs, and similar communication devices by persons operating motor vehicles, unless used with a hands-free device. Effective 1 March 2007, the use of such devices without hands-free devices will be prohibited on [this installation]. This regulation applies to all devices using cellular technology. Cellular systems built into the vehicle and activated by voice or push-button (On-Star) are considered hands-free. An earpieces used in one ear or headphones are the only other approved hands-free devices for motor vehicle operators.

Radio communication devices (hand sets or "mikes") may only be used by operators if the radio device is mounted (wired) to the vehicle. Use of walkie-talkies or phones in the direct connect mode is not authorized. This includes the use of Motorola or other "Brick" type radios in GOVs and POVs. The use of tactical radios in tactical vehicles is not subject to this regulation.

The use of video technology in any playback mode, by the driver, is prohibited. The only exception is the use of vehicular-mounted navigation systems.

Any vehicle operator desiring to use cellular phones, PDAs, and similar communication devices without a hands-free device may do so only after safely exiting the roadway and placing the vehicle in park. The wearing of portable headphones, earphones or other listening devices while operating a motor vehicle is prohibited.

Operators found in violation of this policy during the grace period of March 1, 2007 through April 1, 2007 will receive a warning ticket. Beginning 2 April 2007, violators will be ticketed. Violation of the above stated policy may result in suspension or revocation of post driving privileges, the assessment of points, and/or a fine.

These restrictions apply to all personnel on post and to military personnel both on and off post regardless of their duty status.

Jim, you're severely neglecting the temporal aspects of the barrier.
Back when there was a lot of interest in amateur radio, there was a lot of people turned off and/or turned away by the Morse Code requirement.

Many of those people have moved on.

Do you have an ARRL "Hello" bumper sticker on your vehicle? "Hello" was to be a campaign about inviting people into amateur radio.

I disagree. Extremely few people are interested in amateur radio these days. Those who were and were turned off or turned away by the Morse Code exam have found other interests satisfied by the web or massive amounts of cable/satellite television.

Who's going to tell them to give it another try? The ARRLs "Hello" campaign just ended.

Mike, it turns people off and it turns people away. Besides, amateur radio isn't sexy.

Assuming for the moment that what you say is true (and I completely disagree), then what would have presented those people from simply losing interest and moving on to those other things anyway? Isn't that pretty much what happened with the "Honey Do" hams in the mid-to-late 90's?

30 years ago radio had more "magic" to it. Today, with the huge number of wireless devices in society, it simply doesn't seem as 'high tech' as it used to.

Mark was at the American Elasmobranch Society trying to obtain his Ichthyologist Endorsement. Unfortunately, he couldn't get past the part of the test where he had to spell "ichthyologist," and he'll still not be allowed to post to rec.ichthyologist.elasmobranch.moderated.

Maybe now he'll finally turn to HipCrime's NewsAgent for assistance.

Mark is still enjoying the orgasmic afterglow of being able to get a disjointed post through to the new moderated group. He said:
"while not exactly human powered I have several smaller backpackable solar unit the charge my NiCads well (I bought a huge supply of NiCads cheaps) and rarely use NiMH) they would run my HT eeasy or a short wave receiver might even mange the QRP level Ft 817 my wife has me

Like I stated before Marcus, You are a sick Fuck

To even encourage people like that shows you are more than mentally challanged
Then again, tsince you used your name, maybe he'll make the first example out of your skin

you deserve everything you bring upon yourself.

Hey..a though occurred, maybe you should send him some money After all, a Jew sending a Nazi money so taht he can advocate your murder what a concept

Fair enough.

Did you take an upgrade exam?

I'm encouraged by the turn-outs reported. I think I'll go take an upgrade exam, too.

Were they?

Remember, even people who have passed code exams have let their licenses expire and moved on, so who is to say that those who passed a no code exam really weren't interested?

The CB equipment stores in those truck stops wouldn't particularly appreciate that.

Instead go to a truck stop, buy a CB rig, get on 27Mhz and talk up ham radio.

Not for most people. To most, it's a means to an end, not an end in itself. Hams are the exception.

I think it's the major factor. I have met far too many people who, before they met me, had all sorts of inaccurate ideas about amateur radio.
Fortunately, I've been able to correct a lot of misconceptions, and the result has been a few new hams.

But the usual reaction I encounter isn't that people don't want to learn Morse Code, or think the theory is too hard. Rather, most people just aren't interested in "radio for its own sake".

>Remember the explosion of CB radio >after "Smokey and the > Bandit" and similar movies in the 70's?

Sure. cb was all over the popular media, in movies, on TV and in music. Heck, it got to the point where "First Mama" Betty Ford had one in a White House limo.

How many active cbers are there now?

What percentage of those who were cbers in the '70s are still active cbers now?

What percentage of those who were hams in the '70s are still active hams now?

It could be done in a way that would emphasize the things which make Amateur Radio unique.

For example, did you see the movie "Contact"?
Opening sequence is a pretty good demo of amateur radio, except for two omissions:

1) The fact that amateur/ham radio is being portrayed is never mentioned.

2) The fact that amateur/ham radio exists today,
not just in the past, is never mentioned.

> Most people would say "what's the big > deal, I can do that too" as they pull their credit-> card-sized cell phone out

Of course - because they aren't interested in "radio for its own sake".

Heck, way back 40 years ago, when I was first licensed, what was the big deal to work a ham across the continent? Long distance telephones weren't new in 1967.

The best explanation I can give is an analogy to transportation. If you just want to get from A to B, the main concern is which way is easiest/fastest/less expensive, depending on the particular situation.

But if the journey itself is important, everything changes. Driving a minivan is definitely not the same experience as riding a Harley, even if both take the same route and go the same speed.
There are far more people in minivans than on Harleys, too - but that's completely irrelevant to the journey and the experience.

Those stores shouldn't mind, they already sell "ham" rigs for 10m....

Of course, as long as the truckers do take and pass the written exams and get ham licenses, and they don't do any "pecuniary interest" traffic on the ham bands, why not...

Coded, or not coded, if someone lets their license lapse, I would say they really were not interested in radio (or, lost interest over time for whatever reason.)

Well you're the one claiming there are all these extras who want the Extra exam to be the equivalent of an MSEE. Perhaps you could provide an example of a few? 2 or 3 perhaps? Certainly 2 or 3 should be easy out of the "so many" that are out there.

Which means nothing. Their tech licenses may have expired for any number of reasons.

Frankly, most people I meet have no idea what amateur radio is, period. The few that do associate us with the ugly radio towers and huge antennas that reduce their property values, or the neighbor who ruins their nightly episode of CSI by coming thru their "expensive home entertainment system".

Exactly what I run into as well.

Good questions which I couldn't answer.

My guess would be more hams, because the ham license requires more effort, and people generally tend to hold more value in something they have to work harder to obtain.

I'm not sure how that would be done.

No, but long-distance phone calls were expensive. And the technology was mysterious and unknown to many people.

How is giving you a signal report harassment. I didn't say I was going to QSO with you, I was just going to give you a reception report as you called CQ. Unlike most of these codeless and codelite hams, I had to work to get my ticket, and I am certainly not going to bring this internet bullshit onto the band and put my ticket in peril. What is the issue???

i am a uk ham ,and the morse test was done away with some 3 years ago i am 99% cw ,and operate mainly dx 20 mtrs ,the countries like ja were code free from 1983 but yet it boasts alot of vy gud cw ops .
Dont rubbish it just yet nobody is asking you to throw away your key .
The sheer number of cw ops who ragchew have declined over the past few years driven from the bands by contest organisers ,who dont understand contests are also outdated but for the paper chasers who cant send any more than 5nn and progressive numbers with there computers ,and are ignorant to other hams who want to ragchew .
Keep cw alive let me hear you on the bands in cw there is always a good ragchew available 20mtrs most am state side time or afternoon europe time .
As long as there are cw ops with brass to bang ham radio will survive.

Yanno, that question, "Would you buy a used car from this man?" got kicked off in the 1970's, I believe. My first acquaintance with that question was when it was on a t-shirt with the image of "Richard Milhouse Nixon" above that question.

I suppose there are quite a few people still left around which would purchase a car from old "tricky dick." Maybe mostly his cohorts, friends, partners and other random fools.

Of course tricky dick made another statement rather famous, "The people what to know if their president is a crook or not ..." (paraphrased here) But of course, as history has proven--he was ...

It has to do with the unwritten policy which has been a thorn in the side of many amateurs and others with interests in the public amateur bands.

It has do with stealth and deception (or, disinformation--as the ruskies term it)--you know, say one thing--do another. It has to do with the POLICY surrounding amateur radio. Did you miss the title of this newsgroup? rec.radio.amateur.POLICY

However, we are willing to answer imbecilic questions such as yours also, I mean, who wants to split hairs.

But that is a different NG; it has nothing to do with this NG and is off topic. kb9rqz and len anderson are often off topic, thus they support a fellow troublemaker (John Smith) when he posts off topic.

Any post which mentions any newsgroup(s) and/or moderator(s) of such newsgroups who might influence POLICY for their own benefit, wants, and desires and need to be watched is RIGHT ON TOPIC in my humble opinion ...

The british viewed out forefathers as "troublemakers", Martin Luther King was viewed as a troublemaker, Caesar Chavez was viewed as a troublemaker, Ghandi was viewed as a troublemaker, those ending child labor were viewed a troublemakers--yanno, the term "troublemaker" just does NOT offend me in the least, indeed, I'll take that as a complement.

The thread you started was an unprovoked, ad nominem attack on several good people, not all of whom I have always agreed with but all of whom demand a lot more respect than your and your buddies do, based on your (mis) behaviour on this NG.

It is my understanding that "public figures" (and, public newsgroup moderators) are not granted the same expectation of privacy as common everyday joes. Indeed, the position they seek to place themselves in, where they can affect common/everyday joes, demands they have no such consideration.

Public figures are meant to be watched, criticized, and their motives examined in microscopic detail. Their character, caliber, actions, speech, etc. is wide open to review and re-review. They are open to dress and redress by the public who they wish to serve. Such is democratic republic. Such responsibility they willing accept when they attempt to gain a position of influence ...

If they wish to be unknown hermits, that demands another course be followed ...

Nobody is going to put up with RRAP bull____ here any more than they have in any other group you've tried to invade. You and your stupid blog and your PHONY perseceution are beneath recognition but for the acknowledgement that YOU are the sole progenitor, the ONLY player.

The biggest CLOWN. The real LOSER.

The only reason the crusade you lead continues is because it is YOUR SHOW!

You are no man. You are a self-serving disease. I truly hate you yet you are not worth it. If you might quietly go to hell by yourself I still won't care nor feel remorse.

You are a poisonous moment that is over.

It may take a few weeks for the NG to be picked up by the majority of news servers.

Not that you cannot post from Google.. You just have to go direct to the submission address with an E-mail which is a lot more trouble.

That's alright, Morkie...I didn't really think you were man enough to live up to your own rhetoric about "what a man" you are.

I just keep hoping that you'll actually be man enough to BE the man you claim to be, Morkie.

More of your abuse of the English language in an attempt to humiliate yourself.

Consider it a job well done.

Then we've caught you in yet ANOTHER lie, Morkie, because you've previously claimed to already have antennas up for HF.

Tisk, tisk, tisk!

Not showing up doesn't make you honest, Morkie...it makes you a coward.

You've claimed that you're the better man, braver, etc etc etc, yet you haven't got the guts to exchange signal reports on the air.

Oh..And speaking of "honesty", fatboy...You changed the subject line claiming I am a "bad ham", yet you brag about NOT getting on the air to even find out.

Ergo...Yet ANOTHER Morkie Moron lie.

Sigh.

I`ve been a Ham since 1975 and seen this kind of talk before. You 2 are the ones destroying Ham Radio. Yes ham radio is alive but not well. The numbers are dropping and the age of us Hams are getting older. Soon if we don`t attract younger people in it will be a dying hobby. Code is important yes but not totally necessary. There are other ways of encouraging young people to become hams. Code can be part of it as well as the computer end. Why not be like the Boy Scouts have HAm Radio clubs in schools from grades 1 and up and in churches or the YMCA/YWCA with volunteers.

Rather than bash each others heads and stoop so low as calling each other names why not put your heads together and think of positive ways to bring new people into the fold !

I don't think he did...probably because he can't control the subject being argued, especially the comparisons he insists on using. :-)

Just in looking at www.hamdata.com figures from 22 Feb to 25 Feb, the barest trend might be showing up.

Overall USA totals went from 721,781 (22nd) to 721,745 (25th), a loss of 42. That was despite a tiny peak on the 24th to 721,839. Club calls increased by 6 from 10,349 (22nd) to 10,355 (25th)...so thats a small stabilizing influence. :-)

The number of no-code-test Techs went from 311,851 (22nd) to 311,948 (25th) for a gain of 97. That despite a drop of 30 between 311,978 (24th) to 311,048 (25th) which may explain the slight rise in General class: 142,031 (22nd) to 142,043 (25th) for an increase of 12. Extra class went from 111,464 (22nd) to 111,497 (25th) for a gain of 33.
That raises a question of just WHERE did those increases come from?

His (apparent) home-made software just doesn't tell him from where. He keeps implying that "no-code-test Techs are all dropping out after 12 years" but yet those same numbers are RISING. Since that is apparent, then the number of new licensees coming in that way must be LARGER than the 97 gain indicated by raw hamdata.com numbers!

At present data on the 25th, the total of no-code-test Techs to Tech-Plus is 352,210 (40,262 Tech Plus). The number of INDIVIDUAL licensees (less Club calls) on the 25th is 711,390. Combined, Tech and Tech-Plus are 49.51% of the total. Yes, that is NOT 50.01% but it is so damn close to 50% that only an unreasonable pedant would make a case for it "not being larger!" :-)

What hasn't been made clear is EXACTLY where and with what Miccolis gets his data, data that he posts with implied "accuracy." I just go to www.hamdata.com and get their raw numbers...no sweat, no bother tying up a line (one needs DSL or equivalent to handle multi-MB files daily) and there is inherent TRUST with their numbers. On the other hand, there ain't no "trust" with Miccolis data. Does he use raw FCC database files and do sorting/tabulating from that? Or does he crib from some other, as yet unidentified source?

Miccolis claims to "know" which and how many licensees are still within the 10-year license period. If he can "know" that, then a few days of raw data comparison can show "upgrades" from a "lower" class to a "newer." That would be a good indicator of WHERE the changes come from. He doesn't do that. He just makes noises implying that "all the decreases" are coming from the no-code-test class "dropouts." Yet the raw hamdata numbers show increases in that class. He hasn't been able to explain that yet.

Miccolis keeps talking about the "not counting" those in the 2-year grace period. He hasn't explained HOW he determines this. It is possible to determine since the data fields ARE there in the database...just as there are indicators of not having been licensed before, thus are newbie entries. The once-newbies in no-code-test Tech who actually drop out after 12 years can be determined but all we get from him is the unquantified general-case ambiguous stuff about "they are just dropping out." :-(

I think that your proposal is mis-guided and based on misinformation.

As I understand it, the purpose of the event was to welcome newcomers to HF, not to "celebrate the end of Morse code."

Clearly, welcoming newcomers to our ranks is something that we need to do if we want ham radio to survive into the future. If newcomers are shunned, the future of ham radio will be dismal.

Just as clearly, some present hams will not welcome any newcomers even if they have a PhD in EE and can do 50 wpm Morse code. They took the present exams and that is enough to condemn them to the untouchable class of amateur radio operators. It's a pity that my grandsons will be exposed to such nonsense.

My gawd Carl, you are sounding like a professional politician more and more each and every day! Except for the words, the format of your text might be stolen from the arrl itself!

Get real. The "new comers" need to clean house--ignore and remove the kooks, self-serving, protectionist, good-ole-boys, brain dead, etc. and make a new start!

This "Wolfe" is one of the ultra-conservative in a hobby activity who desires the status-quo abnormally much.
They abhor CHANGE as some equivalent work of the devil.
Naturally They will classify ANY change as "making trouble."

There IS something to be said in favor of such non-change conservatism. Considering the state of the art in all electronics (including "radio") is in constant evolution, it is difficult to keep up with it...that takes time away from playing with their radios. Or, it may be a "survival trait" in that sticking with the KNOWN is comforting and gives the illusion of security; i.e., "tribal safety."

Or, it may be just plain EGO demanding that others do as the conservatives do it...because they "know what is best for amateur radio." :-)

I'll take as both compliment and "complement.' :-)

'Complement' because there are OTHER valid conditions that exist besides those of the uber-conservative.

BTW, Martin Luther (probable namesake of Rev. King) was one of the more ardent "troublemakers" to the Catholic church of his time. The established Catholic clergy of that time were far from perfect and the church itself was forced to reform (and to re-form) itself.

In a way, the above is what is happening to the Church of St. Hiram in the holy city of Newington. The elders of that sect are being dragged (kicking a screaming in protest) into the 21st Century of radio hobby-dom.

In case you missed it, the manual Morse Code

Too bad he never got the chance to discover RRAP - he never knew how

Regardless of the source of the numbers, the results would be more

There appears to be a belief amongst some here that the removal of code testing will open the floodgates, resulting in an influx of new hobbyists who saw code as a barrier, and up to now stayed out of Amateur Radio.

I don't believe that this is likely to happen. Of course, there are some who may have been held back by Morse code testing alone (which may have been true in 1960, but not in communications rich 2007) - but I'd say that the vast majority of people interested in becoming hams have already done so.

Considering the paradoxical manner in which Morse code testing was dropped in the US, new wannabe hams still have the hurdle of two exams to pass before they hit the General level and have significant access to the HF voice subbands. The Tech and Tech Plus licensees gained very little when code was dropped - a small voice allotment on 10m (not worth the expense of setting up an HF station for...), and (here's the paradox...) access to three HF CW subbands, which are useless to them without the ability to use Morse code! For this reason alone, I would expect to see a decrease in the Tech categories, and a proportionate increase in the General category (and to a lesser degree, Extra), representing the Techs who wish to take advantage of the Morse-free HF access at that level. After this correction, it should level off - then it's dead guys and decreases for the forseeable future, unless the younger members of society get r-e-a-l-l-y bored with the Internet, cellphones, text messaging and IM!

Well, John, it's like this: I CHANGED MY MIND ABOUT POSTING IN HERE! :-)

In fact, I mentioned that in another thread earlier.

Self-styled guru cum "moderator" Miccolis seems to be of the belief system that, once some statement is posted, the stater MUST HOLD TO THAT "PROMISE!"

Pissy pedantry of Miccolis overlooked, there will be more from me in the near future. :-)

But, Miccolis is going to do the "Cause Celebre'" with that and spend weeks or months (perhaps years) on some imagined "promise" made by me. Miccolis MUST RULE in here, at least in his mind. Gets annoying but that's how it is with the little people...

Why not? They are certainly cheap enough... :-)

On second thought, I would trust Hans Brakob and Phil Kane for a fair shake. I've agreed and disagree with both in here and doubt there is the terrible enmity as demonstrated by Miccolis, Heil, and Kelly in public.

Need I mention that "consulting moderator" Phil Kane is a communications attorney? On Billings from him
I might need to hire a CPA but on other matters, none.

Hey Carl,

Our club is taking on a effort to get the new folk up to speed in matters relevent to Amateur Radio.

We're having classes, projects and general mentoring for them. We've recently enjoyed a rush of newbies who want to do stuff, and we're going to run with it as the new folk come on board.

One of the by-products of the new testing regimen is that there will almost certainly be New people, even at the Extra level, who have not ever operated a radio. This could have even happened with the 2000 restructuring. But one thing that the old system did was made it more likely that a person would have a lot of experience before becoming an Extra.

What the new guys and gals will need is a lot of Elmering time. No Problem. We're planning on having classes in basic techniques, some antenna classes, and even "how to ooperate that HF rig".

Everyone has to start somewhere. If they come into the fold with a lot of experience - great! If not, we're going to be there to help them get it.

If this project works out, maybe I'll write a little something for QST about it.

Yeah, tough stuff alright.

How about handing 'em a crayon and a piece of paper, have 'em draw a rig first.

Then, hook two styrofoam cups together with a string, have 'em chat with one another.

Next, have 'em build a model of an antenna with coat hangers.

CONTROL is everything in this medium. :-)

Miccolis has the annoying habit of trying to solidify his comparisons of His making, then saying another's comparison are "wrong" or "mistaken" or some such.

For example, he keeps OMITTING all USA licensees from totals if they are in the US 2-year grace period. Since he hasn't presented HOW he determines this (it can be done from FCC database data fields), everyone has to take his data on face value. I mean how many have the time and high-speed connections to grab a daily 80 MB+ data file and sort it? :-)

Now, on this "grace period:" Contrary to implied belief, the FCC still considers those licensees to be licensees. Why would they hold the callsigns in abbeyance until they are renewed? US Regulations state that licensees cannot operate when in the grace period until renewed, but they are still "hams" otherwise. Over a long period of licensing, one can simply take 5/6th of the totals for a class and say those are "in the grace period" and not be far off the actual, exact, uber-pedantic grace period.

In looking at the www.hamdata.com figures by class for 26th February and comparing it with the 22nd (day before the sky fell on morsemen), there's the barest smidgen of a trend.

Overall US individual licensee totals fell by 44 (711,432 minus 711,388). Technician class (the evil no-code-test one that is 'supposed' to be causing all the drop-outs) went from 311,851 on the 22nd to 311,966 on the 26th.
That's a gain of 115! Except for that short one-day drop (24th to 25th) of 30, no-code-test Technician class has been steadily INCREASING. Extras went from 111,464 on the 22nd to 111,500 on the 26th, a gain of 36 and Generals went from 142,031 on the 22nd to 142,051 on the 26th, another gain, of 20. ALL the other classes showed losses.

By the way, the combined Tech and Tech-Plus classes (352,199) now make up 49.51% of all USA individual amateur radio licensees. Slow but inexorable growth trend (albeit very small) despite Tech-Plus losses of 147 from 22nd to 26th. There's a higher-than-even probability that many Tech-Plusses upgraded to other classes since the 22nd. Just the same, individual licensee grand-sum total shows a small decrease in just five days.

VERY - unfortunately - familiar pattern. :-(

That's the PRO-code-testing rationale. It is wrong, of course, but if that is repeated often enough by lots of morsemen, it will become "CW" (Conventional Wisdom).

I agree with you there. But it's almost impossible to convince the olde-tymers that. :-(

Having observed US amateur radio since the late 1940s until now, the amount of "real" publicity given about amateur radio OUTSIDE of the amateur radio community is limited to the occasional "filler" piece in the newspapers on weekends or slow news days. It is a quaint hobby thing done by either kids or retirees from the general newspaper stories. That overlooks some REAL efforts done by experimenters (such as a home-made, precision Vector Network Analyzer) or the emergency communicators (a group in Arizona having modified RVs ready-to-roll in very quick notice).

The USA ARRL has simply failed to get any substantive network and newspaper attention about amateur radio for YEARS. If they do, it will prominently feature 'officers' of the League...which is itself indicative of what They seem to have wanted all along. :-(

It is nice that respected newsman Walter Cronkhite has narrated a special video. Big problem is that such a video is USELESS to the purpose of attracting anyone in the general public to ham radio if it airs in the wee small hours of morning or on "community channel" cable.

I know, but I wasn't going to fight that after trying to drop code testing for over 15 years...

So, the newbies get some (however slight) "action space" for "CW"...which is really a sop or compromise to the stridency of olde-tyme hamme morsemen. Maybe some try it out and do it for a while. It's a safe bet that the 'establishment' (hard-core morsemen) aren't going to be kind to them. :-(

I disagree a bit based on my observations in one corner of a large urban area of the southwestern USA. The interest of newbies here seems to be for the Technician class.
Given an urban population of roughly 8 million in a 120 by 60 mile area, VHF and up works out very well for contacts that they can actually meet in-person. Of course, the Greater L.A. Area is one where the auto rules what happens and that may not apply to other USA locations.
Again, by direct observation, Techs seem to be younger in age than the other classes (discounting Novice) and prefer the company of those nearer their own age. One could see the same thing two decades ago on the "social" BBSs (those that had regular in-person gatherings of members). The "age" group is NOT necessarily just chronological...those who are bright, lively, alert, flexible with differing mores and opinions have a "younger" mental age.

The stodgy olde-tymer will take umbrage to that since they maintain They are bright, lively, etc., but they overlook the fact that They are holding to thoughts of a bygone era, three to four decades ago when They were chronologically young. Social mores CHANGE and They can't always adapt to that, preferring the company of those with like minds (or 'hive minds').

> After this correction, it should level off - >then it's dead guys and decreases for the forseeable future, unless >the younger members of society get r-e-a-l-l-y bored with the >Internet, cellphones, text messaging and IM!

I agree with the "dead guys and decreases." I don't quite agree with the others. Yes, the Internet and cell phone has become the new phenomenon of NOW. Folks of now ARE affluent enough to afford cell phones and unlimited-service 'Net accounts. NOW is NOT the wind-coils-on-round-oatmeal-containers style of pre-WW2 times or futzing with "crystal sets" and pi-net two-tube MOPAs in the "most economical manner." NOW is NOT the 1960s or the 1950s with attendant monetary values.

The USA pushed a "radio panic button" with 11m CB back in 1958. A decade later the off-shore makers of inexpensive but fully-functional, all-channel mobile or fixed transceivers for the UNlicensed was the lift-off for communicating. The DESIRE to communicate was always there. The growth of the BBS and BBS networks is a different thing but still indicative of a desire to communicate. That worked until the Internet went public just 16 years ago...competition in means, a way that forced most BBSs to just give up. Cell phones are slightly older but not much...again the DESIRE to communicate is there and evident from supermarkets to sidewalks.

Amateur radio CAN help that DESIRE to communicate. But, it will just shoot itself down if it stays mired in what was "gee-whiz technology" four decades ago...or the competition to collect as much wallpaper as possible (which isn't real communication, just an odd contest). Amateur radio just can't get anywhere if all the cheering sections just spend all their time giving each other high-fives on "how good we are" or "we are the pioneers of radio" (very, very past tense). Self-praise is something done here in moom pitchas (see Sunday's Oscar Awards). The difference is that the motion picture industry THRIVES on publicity; amateur radio publicity outside of itself is almost nil.

Oh, my, JS, you've been listening to CB traffic on I-5 again, ain'tcha? :-)

Got two old, ancient CBs but no "leen-yar," the old mobile whips (two) are in the garage. Got no farther in "truckin" since 1954 and a military vehicle "license" to drive a 3/4-ton and 2 1/2-ton truck. :-)

But, there's truckin' and then there's "truckin." When the Johnson Viking was in my '53 Austin-Healey sports car, THAT was "truckin." Once in a while I turned the radio on,
too... :-)

Catch ya on the flipflop,

ROFL!!! :-)

Ahem...two HARD-PLASTIC containers such as Emerald-brand nuts. The "elmers" can get their nuts off (the containers) and help with the string... [support California tree fruit]

But, siriusly speaking, NOTHING has been said about GETTING OUTSIDERS in THE CLUB in the first place.

THAT is the first step. Nobody seems to have done anything about that very important FIRST STEP.
Muy importante, that.

Mercy sakes alive, get the Austin-Healey back and fired up with the Johnson Viking and a 8 ft. whip, I'll stick a an old Gonset 11m tube rig on my Harley with a 4 ft. helical wound fiberglass antenna and it looks like we'll have ourselves a convoy!

Don't worry about the leen-yar, if I drive on yer bumper there'll be no problem ... but do have a couple of 300 watt motorola 2-30mhz xistor amps here ... I don't think the alternator on the harley will run the amp though, I'll probably have to ride yer bumper. <evil grin>

Now, now, JS, let's not get the adrenaline pumping.

Carl is right this time, politico's words or not.

The problem still exists of GETTING "outsiders" who don't read newsgroups or QST or even Popular Communications.
If they don't know that member organizations exist, they can't be expected to show up and "be informed."

If the member organization tries to brainwash the newcomers into 1950s style hamming, then THAT is wrong. Times have changed and so has amateur radio activity...except for the stodgy olde-tymers who insist the world of radio comms is still SEE-DUBBLE-YOU.

No joy, JS. The Austin-Healey got traded in on the unwise demands of a lady who got very attached to me back in '61.
It DID work surprisingly well with a base-loaded shorty whip.
The A-H had an all-aluminum body with great conductivity in body panel seams. Mobile-wise, a 20-mile shoot was clear and distinct with the puny 3 W of AMed RF, even with some QRM. The single-conversion receiver (direct to 455 KHz, not good) didn't like close-in signals like on the 101 and would cross-modulate anyone within 10 car lengths on the freeway.

Len:

DON'T LAUGH!

I was just a gittin' to the part of grabbin' up their wallet and ordering the gear, coax and antenna off the net, or ebay. Following the manuals and gittin' the rig on the air.

However, all the previous takes for granted the licensee can read, and didn't qualify under some hidden illegal alien clause which gives 'em a ticket with their green card.

One could take the garage door opener manufacturer to small claims court...and win...unless the manufacturer specifically warned that their system could be rendered useless anytime at the discretion of the military (which I highly doubt they did). A good attorney might even consider a class action lawsuit on this one and make lots of money. The manufacturers knew the risk and gambled. Their customers lost.

That's an easy one, Jim. Len's claim of only being here to eliminate Morse Code testing in amateur radio licensing was a falsehood as evidenced by his posts over better than a decade. It follows that his claim that he'd leave after the elimination of Morse testing was also false.

He has decided to go on with peculiar tales of some mythical "Church of St. Hiram" and the goofy idea of mounting a low frequency loop antenna horizontally when mounted near (in terms of wavelength) to the ground.

Funny, but the whole reason I became a Ham was so I could use 2 meter and 440 where all the local chit chat and fun was, not 10 meters....

Yep, tons of activity and fun on the bands when No-code first started, now its dead out here... Wonder if it is because No-codes were not treated with enough respect??

sheesh

It sounds to me like the ham radio operators are the retards

1
A BUNCH of Ham radio operators were complaining that there's already a bunch of people operating illegally on family radio service channels one through seven with illegal excessively high power of five watts instread of the maximum two and a half watts allowed and with five khz deviation instead of two khz deviation and illegally pretending to be ham radio operators by illegally using fraudelent ham callsigns like WXY2457, WBT5632, WZ2345 instead of real ham callsigns like KG5RTU, WG4RTU, WE3GTE (how they knew they weren't really real ham operators like they were trying to pose as). and that these people should be reported, fined, and put in jail for doing these illegal activities.

Listen up you hambos. I got news for you. Those AREN'T illegal radio operators andd they AREN'T doing anything illegal. Those ARE GMRS radio operators who ARE ALLOWED to operate on family raadio service channels one through seven which ARE also GMRS channels.

And they're NOT pretending to be ham raddio operators. Those
callsigns
that they're using ARE legal GMRS callsigns.

You would THINK that ham radio operators would knoow this stuff.

I don't even have a ham liscence and here I am having to explain to ham radio operators that GMRS radio operators ARE allowed to operate on GMRS radio frequencies WITH GMRS power levels, WITH GRS deviation, and ARE also allowed to use GMRS callsigns on those GMRS frequencies.

Sheesh!!!

What is amazing that some of these coded hams act worse than any of the newbies. Scheissman was a grand example but also the ones around the middle part of 20 meters 14.275 and 14.313 over the years. If you want to talk about bad hams you should look there. Not to mention some of the attitudes you get from the allegedly higher class hams. You know, the ones who get mad because someone is operating on their frequency when they havent talked on it for ten minutes yet get pissed when a newbie operates.

They are pissed because the FCC changed the rules for their own reasons.
The FCC was the ones who changed the rules and made the changes, not the no-coders. But the people on the bands who dont like it will have to deal with it because the no-coders are here to stay there isn't a damn thing the old fogies can say about it.

Frankly, I've had quite a few good comments from Extras with 20WPM and all that too so some of the hams are pretty cool about things. You have to realize that you have a lot of attiude problems in ham radio because they did it and things changed. Like I told one critic, I guess they will have to deal with it. If they respect me, then I will respect them and I will respect them as well. But when they start their little fights over the code, then I say they need to grow up.

I dealt with one anti social jerk the other day that wasn't even using a frequency for 5 minutes and all of a sudden they got their underwear in a wad about it when someone asks twice if anyone is using the frequency. No mention of that so call CQ and they throw a fit. Claimed to be operating a mobile net on 40 but even a dipole and loop couldn't hear them.

No, not too stupid. It's just that the hams find ways ro screw over anyone they want to, just because they want only them and their friends on the frequencies and no one else.

I stuudies for my ham test and I KNEW rhe correct answers and gave the correct answers.(for the most part). But the hams also gave me phony questions, which I also answered correctly. And still refused to give me my ham liscence, saying that I flunked the ham test. Then the hams told me what they said the "correct answers" were. However, all of their so-called "correct answers" were wrong answers.

And they never did give me a refund of my fifty dollars that I had to pay them in order to take their phony ham test, so they're thieves also.

In addition to the multiple choice questions cheets, they also gave me sheets with just questions on it that they said I had to answer correctly to pass the ham test.

Some of these questions were "What does ATV stand for as related to ham radio?". I answered "amateur tv, also known as ham tv".

After the test was over, the hams marked it wrong and told me that the correcr answer is "ATV stands for an all-terrain vehivcle equipped with an ham radio" and that "there isn't any such thing as amateur tv or ham tv"

.They also told me that to get upgrades to my ham liscence if I got it, that I have to communicate with non-ham radio services by operating at the very edge of the ham band so that my transmissions can be heard by the non-ham service so that I can communicate with the non-ham service with my ham radio. And tat to get a ham liscence upgrade, that I also have to perform community service at the parade/ festival and have to say the name of te fffffestival over the ham radio several times.

By the way, the name of that parade/festival is The "Mayday"

Other questions on the test were to name all of the (then-current) ham bands.

That question was also mnarked wrong since the hams said that I forgot the 11 meter ham band known as cb radio.

By the way, this was all in the early to mid 1980's.

My answer on a similar question that was also on the test was also marked wrong as the hams tol.d me that 11 meters is too a ham band and that the cb'ers stole it away from them.

After that, By all rights, I should have had my ham liscence back then, but the hams were very very very very very deyermined to prevent that from happening.

They just want certain people in there. They let in people who don't know anything about radio and they prevent people from getting in who do know about radio. The hams just want it to be their own little, private exclusive club.

They sure turned me oiff of ham radio (which was their intention to do).

Before that, I was looking forward to it.

But not anymore.

I don't want to get involved with a bunch of people, thieves, and criminals like that.

Give me good old cb anyday.

I haven't heard them on 10 meters yet, but if they're there, then I wonder if they're really truck drivers.

There was a buch of interference to GMRS repeaters in northern California.

Both the GMRS operators and the ham radio operators complained about the family radio service users interfering eith the GMRS repeaters.
Although the hams went on to say how it's proof that family radio service is turning into the exact same thing cb has and should be given to the hams instead.

The GMRS operators by theirselves went direction finding to track down the sources of interference to their GMRS repeaters.

And guess what they found?

They found out that ALL of the interference to their GMRS trpeaters were ALL ham radio operators purposely interfereing with their GMRS repeaters.

A BUNCH of hams.doing so.

And I wouldn't doubt it if thoise ham radio operators who were purposely interfering were the same ones complaining about that very same interference and about family radio service operators and about cb operators.

When I took the First Class, there were a huge number of people who had basically word-associated the question pool, and who were passing the test with basically no technical knowledge at all. I am told that at some point there was an oral examination as well required of First Class operators.

(The First Class is _not_ an entrance examination, the way the ham radio license tests are... it is... well, it WAS an attempt to make sure commercial radio engineers met a certain standard.)

I do not think a pure multiple-choice test is ever all that effective, in part because it's possible to pass it that way.

This happens on a daily basis in the ARS too, unfortunately.

Multiple choice exams are not a bad thing.

Imagine what your GPA would have been in college if all your professors gave multiple-choice examinations AND gave you the question pool from which the exams would be derived, at the beginning of the semester.

Multiple choice tests are ok, but I understand the point being made. Yes it is possible to do word association - I've done it on exams I was taking with NO WAY to study for. It does help tremendously though - to have a clue about the content. I studied for every test other than that one. I like to give myself the best possible chance to pass. I for one - don't like handing my cash over on a whim. IF I have to pay to take a damned test, I want to make sure I get my monies worth. As a VE team leader for both Amateur Radio and Commercial exams (almost useless) - I've seen lots of people come and go. You can usually tell who knows their stuff or at least are trying.

I had a professor, the late great Dave Simons, who would make EE tests that were multiple choice, and had partial credit.

He had taught for so long, that he knew virtually all of the mistakes that the kids would make, and would put the answers that would result from the different wrong paths as the different choices.

That's what the hams get for trying to keep everyone else out of it for so long, even when they knew radio theory, and for trying to keep it their own little exclusive club wher only a very few people are members, even though they don't know a thing about radio theory.

Keep people out for decades. Now there's a huge gap between the "old" hams" and the "new" hams.

which means the die-off is coming, as you say.

No one was kept out. They kept themselves out through their refusal to learn the however, Congress can abolish the FCC anytime they want to, if enough

hey,
any reason why dual-band mobiles sometimes have cross-band repeater or same-band repeater capability, but even the fancy top-of-the-line IC-7000 and FT-857D don't? Is this some legal issue with HF cross-band? seems like one could simply limit the radio to 2m and 70cm crossband.

I doubt that, Stefan, but you never know.

Having read your item here I turned over a couple of radios (broadcast types) that I have here in the house, and both of them had the usual Part 15 caveat about "may not cause harm" and "must accept interference from" paragraphs, so the manufcturers ARE "warning" people about such uses.

Granted, John Q Public probably never reads those warnings, and if they did, has no idea what they mean.

This isn't a new event, either. There was a similar rash of consumer device failures in and around MCAS El Toro, CA, MCAS(H) Tustin, CA, and Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton in the mid-80's.

True enough - the only time that I have seen that video is when I downloaded it from the ARRL website.

You wrote that you were here for one reason, and would leave. But you didn't, Len.

It seems that you are reliably unreliable, Len.
When you write about what you will do, the opposite is pretty much true.

Or maybe you're just lying.

Not very likely. Len usually says what he means and means what he says.

I'm sure the Government warning is there but I would sue anyway. They probably would not bother to show up in court and I would win by default. If they were so inclined to show up, they would have to pay attorney's fees higher than the manufacturer's cost of the probably so they might even go for a settlement or allow a default judgement against them. This is not occaisional interference; what it means is that one day your product simply ceases to function.

Naw, it's a lie. He used a certain proclamation at one time to make his point more profound. Now we know it was BS. Once a BS'er, always a BS'er, a BS'er can't hide forever.

His post admitting to lieing his done irreparable damage to his credibility.
People who read these articles size up a man for his word and Len now sizes up as a miniature poodle in RRAP.

If telling one lie committed one to a life of perpetual lack of credibility, I could trust no one here--and that would be including myself!

To abolish the FCC, Congress would have to recende the Communications
```

Act of 1934 as amended. Then they would have to create a replacement. Do you really want a bunch of political hacks doing that? Do you?

wrong. I studied for the code and written test. They kept me and others out by giving required to get your ham liscence phony ham tests in addition to the real test, claiming it was also part of the real test, marking correct answers wrong, and then claiming that wrong answers were the correct answers.

question "What does ATV stand for as relating to amateur radio?"

My answer: "ATV stands for amateur tv, also known as ham tv"

They marked it wrong and then told me that "the correct answer is an All-Terrain Vehhicle that is equipped with an amateur radio set. There is't any such thing as amateur tv or ham tv.

THAT IS purposely keeping people out.

A decade or so ago, I heard of what you are describing occurring in NY.
Even made some papers, never did hear how it all worked out, got busy with some important aspect of life I guess.

But yes, I have heard of that happening ... I suspect it has happened somewhere at sometime. Be interesting to see what can be found on the net relating to such practices.

If that was the case (though I doubt it), all you had to do was test elsewhere.

Personally, I think you're just a crybaby.

That's pretty much it, JS. <wink, wink, nudge, nudge> :-)

But, we can't spoil Miccolis' "fun" in here, can we? :-)

No SIR, we have to "mind our manners" and be respectful to them olde-tyme extry brass-pounders, uncover, and never look 'em in the eye about anything...

But, Miccolis just hasn't posted in here HOW he gets all those "statistics" on ham numbers. He be busy, busy over in Moderated giving everyone the lowdown on them numbers. None can say nay to those, lest they be called "liars." :-)

Nope. If you tried to take the test in the neighboring counties where you didn't live, they would refer you back to your local county.

Nope. I'm not crying about it and never have. Just getting the truth out.

I've been quiet about it for over twenty years. It's about time that the truth about them finally comes out to the public.

However, with the CW requirement now eliminated, I'm sure enough good people will finally get into ham radio and be able to keep an eye on those old bozo hams (who did pass the cw test since it was required back then).

JS, Steppinwolfe done made several Class-A (with oak leaf clusters) boo-boos in here and HE is "reliable?" :-)

Let's see...oh, yeah, SEVEN YEARS AGO I was supposed to have made some kind of "Solemn Promise" about something in one newsgroup! Egad! The way Miccolo and this Steppin character have it, I lay face down in the nave, my body in the shape of an ARRL logo diamond and took a LIFE OATH?!? :-) I don't think so. :-)

Wow, this group of olde-tyme brass-pounding weirdos is sure solemn about things, ain't they? Yup, they be the "Elders" of the Church of St. Hiram all right...complete with some transgendered Sisterhood Auxilliary busy

It's sorta like that old folk-saying: "Give a ham an inch

However, THIS lie was particularly iniquitous because it was used as the basis of providing a rationale that was highly significant to his very reason for participating here.

So innocuous was the morse code requirement that he would champion a righteous cause to bring down the highly inequitable morse code requirement and bring truth, justice and synchronicity of the amateur radio service with contemporary technology. So committed was he that he would cease all future activity on this group one his dream was realized.

Now we know that the commitment was bogus. He has unfurled the flag of his true colors.

There's a parallel with the Clubs...usually a bit more than fraternalism...some actually interested in learning about new things. In my observation of the local scene, the old Lockheed ARC tended to be a general downer...mostly because the members were employed by Lockheed (in Burbank, CA) and rather 'disturbed' because Lockheed was abandoning Burbank, its home since the 1930s.

Several other ARCs in this area are of better attitudes and actually go out and DO things...besides Field Day and the "official" things. :-)

Think also of how the individual practices his/her amateur radio: One control operator alone, connected only by some electromagnetic thread to other similar creatures, also alone in their "ham shack." In one way that is a "lonely" hobby whose social intercourse is limited to reading about it. In the beginning of BBSs it was that way with personal computer users. Until some more aggressive BBS owners got busy and had Gatherings of subscribers on a regular basis. Those of us who went to those things got a MUCH greater connection to their personnas on the screen and could now communicate more comfortably with others.

The same is true of hams who go regularly to ARCs and speak with others in-person; one can hear that on their radio communications indicating a familiarity beyond the usual formality of strangers.

So after N number of legit postings, a person could slide in an Hmmmm.

Well, you gotta admit, keep the pervs and potty mouths out is NOT a bad idea. Even though we only have one female that can hang with us, Dee, smut, sick behavior and perversion in mixed company troubles me. Those guys over in moderated DON'T have it all wrong.

Personally, I live for argument, debate and conflict. Let's face it, every good book, movie, etc. needs a good protagonist and an good antagonist--makes the story interesting. Some of the people who make this newsgroup the most interesting and entertaining for me do NOT agree with me!

--but--

Personally, I frequent both a church and a bar. I have one manner of behavior for the church and yet another for the bar--so far, this has seemed to work ... and then of course, there is the bedroom.
<evil grin>

I support a good "family news group." But, I love free speech and conflict in an adult forum--one where we can "let the fur fly" and then all shake hands and agree to disagree in the end ...

We'll see ... <wink>

Robesin might be capable of posting 20 or so legit postings, just waiting to slide in a zinger. And he fully capable posting smut, sick behavio[u]r, and perversion... witness his infamous "eat my excrement" post.

We'll see.

BTW, there's a post over there about WWII line-of-sight communications.

Now, that is when those boys over there in moderated can have some fun and earn their keep--squash his booty (and posts) like a fly for that nonsense! <grin>

Yep, I always kinda favored either the underdog or the antagonist in the story. LOL.

My grandfather brought back some small (well, small for that time) german transceivers (walkie-talkie predecessors) from the war. 110 Mc units (absolutely line of sight at that freq and power!) which used little peanut acorn tubes (kinda tubes they used in ancient hearing aids), sure could eat up those expensive old square batteries, had a blast with 'em as a kid ... I'll check out the post, thanks ...

That says it all. CW is green. Hams interested in reducing global warming will convert to QRP which operates much better under CW. Sure, I have no problem with those AM 1.5KW power hogs as long as they can spend the money but even affluent Hams with a conscience will convert to CW QRP to reduce energy. All hams should be given a carbon ration. Then, those who use tiny amounts of it on 5W CW QRP can sell their extra credits to allow the new and old uncoded 20m phone SSB blasters to continue their wasteful ways. Ham carbon credits could be traded and sold as a commodity at the ARRL site as a service.

Solar, biodesil, ethanol, human powered generators and other carbon neutral energy sources would not need to accout for carbon ration questions. FCC would define an equitable ration for each ham. This might also inspire the creation of new off grid station power sources which would have several logistical advantages. How do you like my idea? :-)

Sigh...I just wish some of the article writers and, especially, the EDITORS, would GET WITH IT. :-(

A two-transistor transmitter is cute in a tuna can but, good grief, what is to be gained by it besides a momentary novelty.

Hmmm...let's face it, that little sliver of a band was underutilized at the time. <shrug>

I doubt that anyone in North America could have predicted the onslaught of offshore CB sets a decade later. No evidence of it...outside some "knowitall" claims much, much later. :-(

OK.

I thought it interesting to mention the first sign of the 23 Feb changeover appeared on this morning's tally of class totals at www.hamdata.com:

No-code-test Technician class totals DROPPED by 165 between 26th and 27th, now down to 311,801. The General class here GAINED a sudden 248 (!) to reach 142,299. Extra class also gained by 74 to make it 111,574. Considering all the others but Clubs (gained 4), LOST numbers, that certainly seems to point to Techs upgrading and some newbies (maybe) coming in to the middle and high class licenses.

For the first time in a lonnnng while, the individual licensee grand total spiked upward by 94 from the 26th to hit 711,526 on the 27th. Not a biggie and may turn out to be a statistical anomaly. On the other hand, it could be the first batch of exams making it through the VEC-FCC processing. We'll have to keep watching.

We will also be treated to Micollis Tesla saying "he predicted it all along" or words to that effect. :-)

Heh heh heh heh. Tsk, that Myth hung on forever and ever from 50 years ago until just a couple months ago.

What is interesting is that - MAYBE - US amateur radio MIGHT have actually LED radio operations a half century ago by going to voice. Note: 50 years ago was BEFORE 11m CB was created. :-)

But...nnnooo...it had to continue and continue and continue with SEE-DUBBLE-YOU as the Epitome, the ne plus ultra of methods of communication by radio.

Mebbe Seppinwolfe got suckered by OOK CW? We don't know.

When I hear Algore communicating with CW, I'll give it a second look.
It just didn't impress me the first time around.

Algore's too busy inventing the Internet and paying his $3000/mo electric

Since 1995 the hand writing on the wall spelled out the doom of CW.

However, the sheer momentum which was built up by the dyed-in-wool hardcore CW'ers carried it on. Time and time again resurrected it from its' tomb and breathed life anew in CWs' brittle bones.

The arrl, being the professional politicians (or, as I like to refer to ALL politicians--public butt lickers) they are, make the proper noises and finally let lose the grip they had on the dead and bony fingers of CW. However, don't be fooled. They only do so because even they have woken to the fact there will be no resurrecting CW another time and do not wish their true motives to be seen in the light of day. Now they seek to shore up the old and ancient myths and class systems which has made amateur radio a good ole boys club and placed it under their control.

Beware, the future will only bring more stealth, deception and disinformation from the arrl as they seek to maintain the status quo on what is left of their control freak, class system and good ole boys club which they have established for amateur radio. They need to have their dead old fingers pried from its' death grip they maintain on amateur radio.

If that's the case, you only had to file a complaint. You clearly didn't take your test with an FCC examiner. More likely a VE, or at an ARRL event, or hamfest.

FCC takes testing irregularities seriously. What your suggesting, here, is a crime. If taken with an FCC examiner, your experience would have been highly public, at a testing event, and there would be many witnesses. Witnesses to not only support your claim but to file complaints of their own. FCC examiners at the event would have been summarily terminated. And you'd be permitted to retest again. At no cost to you.

If you took your test with a VE, at a hamfest, a single complaint can get a VE summarily decertified while the merit of your complaint is evaluated. Again, there would be witnesses, and supporting complaints.
And you would have been redirected to another VE for retesting.

That said, your complaint, here, is quite difficult to swallow.
First of all, all government issued tests, and that includes FCC and even FAA tests, which should give us all pause, are required to publish and maike available both the pool of questions AND their answers to anyone interested in testing. Non published questions are NOT permitted on the tests. This has the force of law. That means your phoney ham tests is an allegation of a criminal act. Believe me when I tell you, anyone observing this would raise holy hell if anyone were turned away based on a 'phoney' test. In this litigious society, the lawsuits would far outlive your interest in amateur radio.

And finally, there has been amateur TV since before there was TV. If you have really studied your theory and legal elements, you would know that a portion of many of the bands are set aside for slow-scan TV on HF and fast scan TV VHF and above. There IS amateur TV. And any study materials you'd have access to would include it.

So your story is false on its face. And you've neither studied code in earnest (outside of the Cub Scout and Boy Scout merit badges) nor any of the elements.

And one other thing...if you really expect us to believe your complaint, it may be useful to not go to such lengths to remain anonymous. Many, here, use handles and nicknames, we've come to correspond with them privately, many have done business with some of them, bought and sold radios, shared schematics...You're clearly not willing to participate in any of that. And as such seem to be only about the bitch, and not about the hobby, as your absurd anecdote attests.

If you'd like to try again, and if you're genuinely interested in pursuing amateur radio, try being more of a participant. And a little more genuine. You'll find that amateurs, as a whole, are a pretty inclusive bunch. And any obstacles you face will be non-issues in the wake of the juggernaut of knowledge and experience that will come your way.

"Sorry, Hans, MARS >>>IS<<< ham radio." :-)

It is very doubtful he was ever an 18-year-active-duty USMC person. There has been NO, repeat >>>NO<<< PROOF of that available to anyone in here. No document copies, not even a snapshot of him IN the service.

But who are you going to sue?

This has gone around-and-around before and the "consumer" always comes up on the short end of the stick simply because the manufacturer DOES show up with a copy of the law under their arm, demonstrates that their device IS in compliance, and that is, as they say, that.

It's a simple matter to engineer in additional filtering, but with extra filtering comes extra cost. However with the transmitting unit restricted to the radiation limits of Part 15, it still won't take much in a strong field to overcome even rudimentary filtering.

Good luck with the case, though...Do let us know how it goes.

What's your problem, fatboy? Oh..wait...THAT'S the PROBLEM...FATboy!

Sheeeesh...It would take a lot more than 3 feet of snow to keep me from gettng a useful antenna up for brand new privileges.

Of course there's still the small issue of your having been caught in the lie from this past summer wherein you stated you ALREADY HAD AN HF ANTENNA UP!

Here's a hint, fatboy...

Tie one end of a 100ft length of non-metallic clothesline onto an old wrench. Making sure you have firm hold on the trailing end of the line, heave the running end as hard as you can into a tree.

Now tie the trailing end onto one end of a random wire and go to the base of the tree and pull the whole thing up.

Connect the trailing end of the wire into a cheap MFJ tuner and an adequate ground.

You're now on the air on almost any Amateur HF band for less than 30 minutes effort.

Or don't...Amateur Radio is better off without you.

Witness Brian P Burke once again misrepresenting the truth in a

And coming from someone who has himself mastered the "20 or so

QRZ is laden with all sorts of brand new licensees, yet none of them are the "right out of the box 6 years ago" Leonard H Anderson.

Like I said...he's gonna be a no-show.

Hmmm, I have this friend who has been unable to pass the code test because his hearing was ruined in the service of our country, yet he has been unable to get an exemption. He is an electronic technician but he's probably FORGOTTEN more theory than most hams will ever know. I worked with him for a bunch of years and was amazed at how many engineers were always stopping by to "pick his brain". In reality he was doing their designs for them, and he knew what they were up to, but he helped them anyway because that's just the way that he is. I'm sure he could solve TVI or ANY other problem in a heartbeat. But it sounds like you'd lump him into this one category because he couldn't copy code. What a pity that you would deny him use of the HF bands just because he can't hear the frequencies that morse code typically comes out of the speaker as. What's more of a pity is that you would label him with the name that you used to title this string. But what I find a real shame is that you aren't able to tell him what you think of people who can't pass the code test to his face because he would "adjust" your attitude and when you regained conciousness maybe you'd be a little more tolerant of people and their handicaps.

Oh, he is licensed as a codeless tech and he does get a LOT of enjoyment out of ham radio. He's been busting his hump for years trying to work out a way to hear enough of the code to pass the test but hasn't been able to. Now he can finally work HF phone, or RTTY or PSK31 and I'm sure he must be thrilled. In fact I may have to touch base with him this weekend and see if he's using his new priveleges yet. When he tested, he took and passed the tests all the way to I think it was Extra, but couldn't do the code to back it up so he stayed a Tech.

It really is a shame he couldn't get his personal physician to sign a code-waiver request for him. That must really suck having a doctor who is unwilling to accomodate his patients. I know when I've encountered those types of doctors in the past I simply change doctors to someone who is more accomodating of my needs. I guess folks who live above the arctic circle or in other remote areas really are S-O-L and can't change physicians when they encounter problems like these. Thanks for sharing his plight with us. It is comforting to know that there is at least one person out there who will directly benefit from the recent changes in the licensing structure.

Odd. The last time I filled out a Form 605 there was a "Physician's Certificate" on the reverse which could be filled out.

I guess the FCC did away with that due to rampant abuse of the disability waiver process by people too lazy to take a code test.

JS, that evolved in ALL radio services from a much earlier period. In general the experiences of and with radio communications during World War 2 was the "Great Awakener."

>However, the sheer momentum which was built up by the dyed-in-wool >hardcore CW'ers carried it on. Time and time again resurrected it from

In amateur radio that may be exaggerated but true.

The built-in fact of amateur radio being basically a hobby makes it ultra-conservative insofar as actual innovation and experimentation is concerned. Hobbies are a pasttime for most and thus there is less time available for participants to either learn more, keep up with, or actually do operating. As a result, many prefer the "tried-and-true" methods and modes they are used to, or feel comfortable with.

Underneath all of that amateur radio activity is the long-term but subtle emotional influence of amateur-radio-oriented media, namely the enormous quantity of publications of the ARRL. The ARRL has kept the Mythos of Morse alive for decades, decades longer than it deserves as a communications means. The enormity of their publications base has been in existance for so many decades that few members are aware of their (insidious) influence on their thinking.

In all fairness and logic, SURVIVAL of anything is the most important human motivator. Politicians, organizations, and corporations all have a basic need to SURVIVE. They must cater to their constituency or target market to do this.

The ARRL can be summed up as having two basic components:
A publishing house (prime) and a membership organization (secondary). ARRL's annual reportable income exceeds the million-dollar value by at least an order of magnitude;
they reported higher-than-ten-million dollars income to the IRS four years ago. They could NOT have achieved that just from annual member dues.

An oft-used argument is that the ARRL offers "so many 'free' services." The ARRL VEC exam fees are the top of the limit yet some of the other seven (?) VECs charge less. The ARRL offers "help" on license renewals and paperwork to the FCC.
That is just lip-gloss since: (1) There is NO charge to any licensed amateur at the FCC except for Vanity call applications; (2) Paperwork handling AT the FCC for license adminstrative matters is no more difficult to do on the Internet OR by mail than through the ARRL (as an intermediary).

Back before the Internet went public in 1991, it was very convenient to have the ARRL "represent all radio amateurs" in lobbying and legal-speaking to the FCC. Most citizens tend to shirk direct talking/communicating with their government (although some have done so and effectively so).
Having a legal firm on retainer IN Washington, DC, is more effective than individual citizens writing letters from Montana, Arizona, Hawaii, or Oregon, all several time zones away from DC and days of postal delivery away. [CT is in the same time zone as DC and physically much closer than, say, most-populous California] Radio amateurs tended to prefer someone "speaking for them" so that they would have more time to play with their radios.

Another argument of those championing the ARRL is that they "have a democratic-principled representation" through their own established Districts and "elections." Actually, there are NO similarities to our federal government's democratic principles and practices; the only similarity is to several national fraternal orders, all private organizations. Supposedly there is a "third-party observer" to ARRL elections, but that is NOT anything similar to the built-in Checks and Balances of the real federal government. Those federal (and local) Checks and Balances DO NOT APPLY to private membership organizations. Yet the IMPLICATION of similarity is so often done that it has become just-another-urban-myth, emotional sustenance for its membership.

The ARRL remains a MINORITY special-interest-group in US amateur radio...yet they imply (often) that they "represent all [US] amateurs." The ARRL only publishes a CLUE as to their membership totals twice a year; In the "publishers sworn statement" about QST, the member-ship magazine of the ARRL. ARRL membership is still only a quarter of all US amateur radio licensees. QST survives as a periodical on its advertisers ad purchases. QST is the major periodical target for manufacturers and service-providers of the amateur radio market. QST has a virtual (if not de facto) monopoly as an amateur radio advertising medium in the USA. Note: Three other INDEPENDENT amateur radio interest periodicals have survived for over a double decade of existance of each yet two have had to close or sell. Their incomes depended on advertising space sales. When the ad monies diminished those independents did not have the demographics to attract enough advertisers as compared to the ARRL. The number of members keeps QST demographics high, thus it serves to keep its survival intact...and serve as a free advertising medium for its OWN products and services.

>Beware, the future will only bring more stealth, deception and >disinformation from the arrl as they seek to maintain the status quo on >what is left of their control freak, class system and good ole boys club >which they have established for amateur radio. They need to have their >dead old fingers pried from its' death grip they maintain on amateur radio.

Human life expectancy will take care of that. Eventually the core membership of the ARRL and its chieftans will understand that this new millennium is NOT the same as it was in the 1930 to 1960 period when They were young (and supposedly vibrant). Times and tecnology have changed enormously yet the Mythos persist on the "necessity" to hold to the old, old standards. However, to retain their CONTROL ("they know what is good for ham radio") while they still live (and rule) they must insure that the Big Publishing House survives. That income is what gives them the perquisites and power of quasi-rule over others. They MUST acquiesce their quaint old ideas and mythos however much that hurts their psyches. WE still have time to see the Change happening...but I am not optimistic about it.

Is LA saying that in order to be a recognized entity, one's name must exist in the FCC ULS database?

Quote: "He no exist in the FCC ULS".

Such sentence structure sounds like that of an illegal immigrant, which he essentially is, insofar as amateur radio is concerned.

Indeed one must wonder who the real "Big Zero" really is, given his highly embarrassing flip-flop that has recently been publicly exposed. We are awaiting for an explanation with more substance than his simple "I lied".
